"Stepping Up To Supervisor" Set For Wednesdays

The Garrett College Continuing Education and Workforce Development division will offer "Stepping Up to Supervisor" on Wednesdays, beginning Feb. 20, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at the McHenry campus.

This six-week course is designed to help up-and-coming supervisors, or those being considered for management positions, to "smoothly" transition into their new roles, according to a division spokesperson.

"Potential or new supervisors will learn techniques that will better prepare them for dealing with stress, how to plan projects and activities, time management, training, staffing, and much more," she said.

For more information or to register, persons may contact Kista Wilt at 301-387-3069 or kwilt@garrettcollege.edu.

MAYOR ESSAY CONTEST UNDER WAY – Paul Edwards, mayor of Grantsville, recently spoke to Grantsville Elementary School fourth graders from Kim Paul's and Penny Lapp's classes. He spoke about Maryland government and the "If I were Mayor I would..." essay contest, which is open to fourth grade students across the state.

Md. Teacher Of The Year Nominations Now Being Accepted

Nominations for the Maryland 2007-08 Teacher of the Year are being accepted through April 30. The announcement came from TOTY award sponsor Teachers' Insurance Plan, a car insurance program exclusively for members of the educational community.

The award will include $1,000 to the winning teacher and a $500 grant to that teacher's school. The Maryland TOTY award winner will also be eligible for the National Teacher of the Year award, which includes special recognition and a $2,500 travel certificate.

Teachers, students, and/or parents can nominate any of the state's 65,000+ accredited teachers. Nomination forms are available online at www.teachers.com/toty.

To nominate an educator, or oneself, an essay of 250 words or less must be submitted explaining why this teacher should be chosen for the award. Nominees will be judged on their ability to motivate students, special talents, and contribution to their school, students, and/or communities.

Winners will then be announced at the start of the next school year.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED AND NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED – The Oakland Assembly #8 International Order of Rainbow for Girls (IORG) recently held a meeting at which they group installed new officers and welcomed new members. Presiding over the meeting was Worthy Advisor Bethany Stevens, and the meeting was opened in regular form with drill leader Julianna Sharpless presenting the flag. Six new members, above, were initiated into the group. In the front row, from left, are Raine Baker and Mattia Schrock. Second row: Holly Wotring, Tiffany Moats, Montana Moats, and Brianna Callis. Installing officer Jackie Baker, from the Cumberland Assembly #6, was present for the ceremony. Debbie Raynovich, Lillian Reckner, Lisa Drummand, Arthur Coddington, and Dora Hanlin were the five new members of the advisory board installed. Below in the front is Sarah Hanlin, crowned the new worthy advisor by her parents, Art and Dora Hanlin. In the second row, from left, are Hope Otto, Service; Tiffany Everett, Patriotism; Carrie Herman, confidential observer; Clarissa Lloyd, Love; Kelsey Geer, outer observer; Paige Carr, Charity; Alex Cortez, chaplain, and Bethany Stevens, Faith. Second row: Raynovich, Mother Advisor; Myka Guthrie, Nature; Kaitlyn Cook, Immortality; Alora Taylor, Fidelity; and Julianna Sharpless, drill leader. Third row: Sierra Cook, Religion; and Christina Cortez, worthy associate advisor. Any girl between the ages of 11 and 20 interested in more information about IORG may contact Debbie Raynovich at 301-387-4545, Ardra Sharpless at 301-334-8618, or Charee Reckner at 301-616-2807.

CDL Training To be Offered At Grantsville

Garrett College is accepting applications for its next series of courses geared toward training individuals to obtain a commercial driver's license (CDL). Weekday classes will begin March 3, with weekend classes set to begin March 29.

The course is all inclusive, offering classroom, yard skills, and over-the-road training. The program consists of 320 hours of training over a 15-week period for weekday students and a 20-week time frame for those choosing the weekend option.

"This training will qualify students for entry level positions as a driver in over-the-road or local driving vehicles," said a college spokesperson. "Government grants, tuition reimbursement and student loans may be available to qualifying individuals."

Training will be held at Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute, Grantsville.

For more information or to register for this course, persons may contact Terry Beachy, institute director, at 301-895-4700 or tbeachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Telephone Skills Class Scheduled At Garrett Coll.

"On the Frontline: Professional Telephone Skills" will be held at Garrett College on Tuesday, Feb. 19, from 9 a.m. until 12:15 p.m.

"This session, to be held on the McHenry campus, is designed for 'frontline' staff, from receptionists to first level managers, and may be especially helpful to those entering or returning to the workforce," said a spokesperson for the college's Continuing Education and Workforce Development division.

The goal of "Professional Telephone Skills" is to enhance skills in speaking with both internal and external customers via the telephone.

"Participants can look forward to exploring the five parts of a telephone call, managing multiple calls, and establishing priorities," said the spokesperson. "The all-important techniques of using voice mail and taking effective messages will also be covered. Being able to build a rapport with callers and managing difficult calls, the two most challenging aspects of telephone communications, will be discussed in depth."

For more information or to register, persons may contact Kista Wilt at 301-387-3069 or kwilt@garrettcollege.edu.

The Body's Most Abundant Amino Acid

Glutamine is the amino acid that is most abundant in the body. It is made by most body tissues and is also found in certain foods, such as spinach, parsley, corn, wheat, peanuts, soy, milk, and egg whites. This amino acid is the main source of fuel for cells in the intestine, and is necessary for normal function of the gut. It is also necessary for proper function of the immune system since it is an important fuel source for immune system cells.

One recent study showed that very-low-birth weight infants who received special glutamine supplements at birth had a lower risk of developing eczema during the first year of life. Eczema is an inflammatory condition of the skin characterized by redness, itching, and oozing lesions which become scaly, crusted, or hardened, and involves the body's immune system. Glutamine's role in modulating the immune system may be responsible for its effects on eczema in very-low-birth weight infants. Long-term studies involving infants are being conducted to evaluate the long-term effects of glutamine supplementation.

WHAT IS INTEGRITY?

There are those in the business world whose word is trusted; their handshake is a binding contract, their integrity is accepted without question. Honor, honesty, reliability are all synonyms for integrity. Webster's Dictionary defines integrity as "firm adherence to a code or standard of values."

Where does integrity come from? The Bible provides a "code of values" in Deuteronomy 5:6-21 -- God's Ten Commandments. "And if we are careful to obey all this law before the Lord our God, as he has commanded us, that will be our righteousness" (Deuteronomy 6:25).

If we obey God's law we can feel the strength of His Word in every handshake. We can learn and instill His values at our house of worship. Join together with family and friends and find new spiritual opportunity and hope in God's Word!

Integrity

The word "integrity" comes from the Latin word "integritas," meaning soundness or wholeness, and this is the same word from which we get the word "integer." A person of integrity, like and integer, is complete and whole. the American Heritage Dictionary defines integrity as: "n. 1. Steadfast adherence to a strict ethical code. 2. The state of being unimpaired; soundness. 3. The quality or condition of being whole or undivided; completeness." The first definition, steadfast adherence to a strict ethical code, is what we usually think of when we think of a person with integrity. That is, we think of someone who will not compromise their principles for some temporary gain or advantage. Ans although this definition seems to suggest that a person of integrity might be overly rigid in adhering to their ethical code, the third definition, the quality or condition of being whole or undivided, more aptly suggests that the person of integrity is someone who is of one mind and has an undivided spirit. You cannot be a person of integrity and serve both God and mammon. The calmness and composure that is the hallmark of the person of integrity comes naturally from having an undivided spirit and being wholly dedicated to right conduct.

Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one; and you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength.

'Medium' matter for Arquette

By J&y Bobbin

Patricia Arquette

Q: Isn't Patricia Arquette of "Medium" married to another actor? –Julie Pryor, Baltimore

A: Her husband is Thomas Jane, who guest starred in a two-part episode of her NBC series in 2006. Seen recently in the movie "The Mist," he played baseball legend Mickey Mantle in the Billy Crystal-directed 2001 HBO drama "61*."

Q: I just adored "Tin Man" and watched it three times when it was on Sci Fi Channel. Are there any plans to put it on DVD? –Shawn White, Pittsfield Township, Ohio

A: You don't have much longer to wait. Genius Products will release the miniseries in a two-disc set March 11, with such extras as outtakes and interviews with cast members including Zooey Deschanel, Richard Dreyfuss and Alan Cumming.

Q: For how many seasons did the series "Gunsmoke" air? –Lynne Schaefer, Sunriver, Ore.

A: Twenty, making it one of the longest-running shows in television history. Paramount Home Entertainment recently released "The Second Season, Volume 1" of the classic series, which featured Dennis Weaver alongside top-billed star James Arness in its early years.

Q: I would like to know the name of a movie that came out around 1994. Scott Bakula played the pilot of a small plane flying from San Francisco to Australia; along the way, he got lost, and it was up to the captain of a jetliner to guide him to safety. Also, I would like to know if it's available on video. –John Johnson, Lawton, Okla.

A: You were pretty close on the year. "Mercy Mission: The Rescue of Flight 771" was made for television in 1993, and Robert Loggia played the jet's pilot. A VHS edition has been available since 1996, and the drama was released on DVD last year as half of a double feature with a picture with a mildly similar theme, "Nowhere to Land" with Jack Wagner.

Q: I would like to know the name of a show George Clooney and Lee Horsley were in. –Joann Torrence, Sterling Heights, Mich.

A: Former "Matt Houston" star Horsley was the bigger television name when the two actors made the 1992-93 CBS show "Bodies of Evidence." From there, Clooney went on to play another police detective on NBC's "Sisters," then that network signed him up for a series called "ER." You know the rest.

Solution to last week's Super Crossword

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• Good news for the not-so-neat among us: Making your bed could be bad for you. A study done in the United Kingdom at Kingston University showed that the linens of an unmade bed retain less moisture, therefore making them less attractive to dust mites.

• Those who measure such things claim that a champagne cork at Woodbury Vineyards in New York State once flew nearly 178 feet, making that the longest recorded flight of a champagne cork.

• It was American science-fiction author John Sladek who made the following sage observation: "The future, according to some scientists, will be exactly like the past, only far more expensive."

• If you've ever lived on a farm, or even had a backyard garden, you've probably seen the delicate, feathery greens that sprout from the top of a carrot. Believe it or not, there was a time several hundred years ago when it was the fashion for women to wear those greens in their hair.

• Have you ever suffered from logorrhea? Don't worry; it's not as unpleasant as it may sound. The word "logorrhea" is used to describe incessant and often incoherent speech. It comes from the Greek roots "logo," meaning "word," and "rrhea," meaning "flow." (You may recognize the suffix "-rrhea" from another word, too.)

• When you think of fiberglass insulation, chances are you think pink, right? Ever wonder why that is? Here's the scoop: In 1987, industry leader Owens Corning trademarked its insulation's signature color. (Which, by the way, made it the first company to trademark a color.)

• In Sweden, it's not unusual to run across an apple that weighs two pounds.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 10, 1920, "Kathleen Mavourneen," starring Theda Bara, provokes a riot when it opens in San Francisco. Rioters sacked the Sun Theater in protest of the film's portrayal of the Irish poor.

• On Feb. 4, 1941, the United Service Organization is founded to offer support for U.S. service members and their families. The USO sent many actors, musicians and other performers to entertain the troops. Comedian Bob Hope made annual trips to entertain overseas troops from World War II through Desert Storm in 1991.

• On Feb. 6, 1952, King George VI of Great Britain and Northern Ireland dies at the royal estate at Sandringham. Princess Elizabeth, the oldest of the king's two daughters, was crowned Queen Elizabeth II on June 2, 1953, at age 27.

• On Feb. 7, 1964, the Beatles arrive in New York from London on their first visit to the United States. Two days later, an estimated 40 percent of the U.S. population tuned in to watch the band's appearance on "The Ed Sullivan Show."

• On Feb 9, 1973, Max Yasgur, owner of the 600-acre farm where the Woodstock music festival took place in August 1969, dies in Florida at age 53. More than 400,000 people attended the three-day festival in upstate New York. Concert organizers had expected only 50,000 to show up.

• On Feb 8, 1983, gunmen steal the champion Irish race horse Shergar from a stud farm owned by the Aga Khan in County Kildare, Ireland. The 5-year-old thoroughbred stallion was worth $13.5 million. The kidnappers demanded a ransom of more than $2 million. Despite a highly publicized search by authorities, Shergar was never seen again and no ransom was paid.

• On Feb. 5, 1994, Byron de la Beckwith is convicted of the assassination of civil-rights leader Medger Evers 31 years earlier in Jackson, Miss. Beckwith, widely recognized as the killer, was prosecuted for murder in 1964. However, two all-white juries deadlocked and refused to convict.

Pet Sitter vs. Kennel

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: Which is better for pets when their owners go on vacation: pet sitters in the home or a stay at the kennel? — Joyce in Texas

DEAR JOYCE: That depends on several factors, including the duration of the trip, the quality of available sitters or kennels, the animal's general health and the overall cost.

I've used both services over the years, in addition to bringing my pets to stay with family members (when they could take them). While my experience with both sides has generally been good, I've had the occasional problem.

For example, I had a sitter watch my cat over a weekend who simply dumped two days' worth of food into his dish at once and played video games during her visits. I also reserved space for a longer stay at a pet kennel that advertised roomy cages and daily playtime in a large space — it had neither.

However, I've also had wonderful experiences with sitters and kennels. My advice would be to plan well ahead of the vacation, decide whether to use a sitter or a kennel, and start researching options. Find at least three sitters/kennels that look promising and visit each one. Ask to see the living spaces at the kennels, play areas, and so on. If you use a sitter, have each prospect come over to meet your pet (and you). See if the sitter develops a good rapport with the pet, and whether you get along with him or her, too.

Additionally, most quality kennels (and sitting services) book up during the holiday and vacation season. Try to make your choice and reserve a spot at least a month before your trip, so your pet can get the best care possible while you're away.

Collecting

Q. I have a plate depicting the Lord's Supper. It has two stamps on the back, one from the "Pearl China Company" and the other "Taylor Smith Taylor." I have no interest in its value, but am curious why two marks from two different companies are on this plate? — Carol, Willmar, Minn.

A. The Taylor, Smith and Taylor Company operated in Chester, W.Va., from 1899 to about 1981. During its last decade, the firm was owned by Anchor Hocking and Company. The Pearl China Company began operations in 1931 in East Liverpool, Ohio. Your plate has two stamps because it was made by one company for the other. This was not uncommon. Some British ceramics have two and three marks that can indicate maker, distributor and even retailer.

Q. While attending college in Tennessee, I had an opportunity to travel many of the state's back roads and small towns. I began purchasing advertising signs during the 1970s when they were still fairly inexpensive. I would like to sell my collection, but am at a loss of how to go about it. — Carl, Venice, Fla.

It is important to know the Facts about Wind Power

WIND OPPONENT MYTH #2

"They will clear cut hundreds of acres"

Wind Has Real Benefits

Green Energy – Maryland has demanded cleaner energy with state policies that require renewable power and limit emissions that are linked to global warming.

Jobs – Western Maryland labor leaders support wind because it will create good-paying union jobs for our workforce.

Revenue – Garrett County, Allegany County and the State of Maryland stand to gain significant revenue from wind projects that can be used to reduce taxes, provide additional services or preserve additional land.

Facts:

1. The actual disturbance by any potential wind energy project would involve less than 0.3% of the two state forests.
2. The land is already being used for industrial purposes – generally logging, and has suffered significant tree loss due to gypsy moth infestation.
3. For each turbine only about 1.5 to 2 acres will be disturbed during construction.
4. After construction, less than one acre per turbine will remain without vegetation.
5. Revenues from the project could allow state forest managers and conservationists to preserve hundreds of acres of important, pristine forest habitat.
6. Other sensitive lands not subject to logging could be acquired by the wind energy developer in coordination with DNR and set aside to the state for conservation.

MAKING A CHOICE FOR OUR FUTURE

Given the choice between the responsible use of two tracts of pubiic land that are already being logged and the potential impacts of climate change, the majority of Marylanders will make the choice to support wind in Western Maryland.

Lenten Season Schedule Set At St. Paul's UMC

St. Paul's United Methodist Church will be observing the Lenten season with special services and community Lenten luncheons and meditations. Regular Sunday worship services at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. will be offered as well.

An Ash Wednesday worship service will be held at 7 p.m., Feb. 6, signifying the beginning of Lent. In addition to worship, communion will be offered, and the congregation members' foreheads will be marked with ashes. The chancel choir will sing "For a Moment."

Community Lenten luncheons and meditations will be offered for five consecutive Wednesdays from 12:05 to 12:45 p.m. in the fellowship hall of St. Paul's, beginning Feb. 13. Following light lunches, various pastors from the community will offer short meditations.

Pastors presenting meditation will be as follows:

Feb 13 – Rev Steve Sauder, Gortner Union Church of the Brethren-Mennonite;

Feb. 20 – Rev. Marjorie Lauver, St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House, and St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Aurora, W Va.;

Feb. 27 – Pastor Ross Glotfelty, Mtn. Challenge Academy at Camp Dawson;

March 5 Dr. Don Forrester, director of hospital chaplains, Garrett County Memorial Hospital; and March 12 – Rev. Randy Nairn, Accident Evangelical Parrish.

The community is invited to attend any/all of these services.

The pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist Church is Dr. T. Patrick Kerr. The director of music and organist of the 10:45 worship service is Pat Shelton, and the director of the chancel choir is Tom Shelton. Doris Gaskill is the organist for the 8:30 worship service, and Donna Lee Shogren directs the Early Singers choir.

Nursery and Children's Church are available at both services each Sunday. Herbert Lambert directs the hand bell choir. Sunday school is also available for all ages at 9:15 a.m. for children and at 9:30 for adults.

Thanks from Warm the Children 2007

The 10th year of Warm the Children, sponsored by The Republican newspaper and the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, was again a resounding success, thanks to the generosity of so many and the hard work of willing volunteers. Raising nearly $30,000, we were able to serve about 300 local young people this year, providing new winter clothing and footwear for them to brave the cold Garrett County winter. Thanks to all who helped, listed here on this page, and special thanks to Wal-Mart staff members Gloria Dodge, Fran Bosley, Connie Sines, Ruth Ann Hinebaugh, and Helen Graham; and thanks to First United Bank & Trust for continuing to provide fee-free banking for the program. May you all have a wonderful 2008! See you in October!

Buckwheat Fest. Pulls In Third Place Awards

A recent visit to the West Virginia Association of Fairs and Festivals annual convention netted the Preston County Buckwheat Festival three 3rd place communication awards. The awards are given to both recognize and encourage effective communications about West Virginia fairs and festivals. Over 80 fairs and festivals belong to the organization.

"These awards reflect the outstanding talent and dedication that our volunteers bring to the festival year after year," said Chuck Miller, general chairman of the 2007 Buckwheat Festival.

The third place prize winners were the 2007 Buckwheat Festival Program Book, the Royalty Pageant Program Booklet, and the Advertising Placemat.

Mildred Lindley and Cathy Robinson, festival volunteers from Kingwood, were responsible for obtaining the advertising, laying out the pages, drafting much of the copy, and arranging for numerous photos used in the annual program book. Mike Shaffer, secretary of the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department, transformed the 96-page program book into computer printing format, edited copy and photos, and assisted Chuck and Carolyn Miller in the front and back covers of the book.

Joan Jenkins, volunteer director of the Buckwheat Festival Royalty Pageant, was responsible for preparing the Pageant Program Booklet, which consisted of a listing of pageant rules, contestants, judges, and festival officials, in addition to an easy-to-follow guide for the pageant itself. Costs of printing the pageant booklet were offset by donations from WesBanco and BFS.

Shaffer also designed the award-winning Advertising Placemat. It is used at the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department monthly breakfasts leading up to the Buckwheat Festival, and is also distributed to restaurants in the area. The placemat includes several photos of festival highlights as well as a detailed day-by-day schedule of festival events.

"We use the placemats to generate interest in the upcoming festival and to remind folks of the dates and schedule," Shaffer said. Shaw and Sons Amusements, the carnival company used for the festival, covered the cost of printing for the placemats.

AURORA/EGLON

"SOUP"ER BOWL DINNER SET

A "soup"er bowl of soup, sandwiches, desserts, and beverage will be served at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Aurora, this Sunday, Feb. 3, from noon until 2 p.m. There will be a variety of soups to choose from. Donations for the meal are not set, but donations will go toward a fund to be divided between the Terra Alta Food Pantry and local needy families.

The public is welcome to attend.

LENT BEGINS FEB. 6

With Ash Wednesday services on Feb. 6, the Union District begins its observance of the Lenten season. The service will be at St. John's Lutheran, Red house, and will begin at 7 p.m. Pastor Marjorie Lauver will be the minister, and the theme selected for this year's series of services is "Encounter With Christ."

Services the week following will be at the Aurora United Methodist Church, with Rev. Robert Klier bringing the message. Again, time of services is 7 p.m.

MULLENAX RECOGNIZED

The Georgia State Association of Science Teachers has named local native, Donna Mullenax, as College Science Teacher of the Year for 2008. She is a daughter of Alan and Carolyn Mullenax of Horse Shoe Run and is an instructor in science at Armstrong-Atlantic University. Ms. Mullenax is also a graduate of East Preston High School and West Virginia University.

WINTERS BIRTH

Kevin and Carrie Winters of Crellin announce the birth of their second child and son. Born Jan. 24 in a Morgantown hospital, the baby has been named Preston Cole. He was six pounds, one ounce at birth.

Paternal grandparents are Neil and Bonnie Winters of Hutton and Jessie Winters of Eglon is a paternal great-grandmother.

BOLYARD NUPTIALS

Catherine Reall and Jeremy Bolyard of Bayard were married Jan. 23 at the Pleasant View Baptist Church by Pastor Wally Weeks. Jeremy is the son of Dayton and Betty Bolyard, Eglon.

PERSONAL MENTION

Tom and Jennifer Teets of Alexandria, Va., visited recently with his parents, Mark and LaDeana Teets, Amboy.

Pastor Debbie Friend is reportedly making some improvement since her transfer from Ruby Memorial to Health South Rehab at Morgantown.

Brent, Marsha, Jenna, and Blake Hauser visited Sunday with Jerry and Barbara Hauser, and Terry, Jill, Andrew, and Jacob Hauser.

Ronnie and Angie Spaid of Eglon and Brian and Teresa Vandevender of Aurora traveled to Las Vegas, Nev., last week for further information and education in pre-formed concrete used for basements or houses.

DEATHS NOTED

Williams

The Rev. Dorman Williams, 70, of East Grafton Rd., Fairmont, died Jan. 19 following a lengthy illness. He was an ordained minister in the Church of the Brethren and served the Pleasant Hill Church for 25 years as pastor. He was also active in his community, was a member of U.S. Army Reserves, served as general manager of Valley Falls Public Service District, and was a trustee at Camp Hope. He has also been employed at various businesses including a 13-year stint at the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank.

Pastor Williams is survived by his wife of 48 years, JoAnn Abel Williams; three children Janetta W. Green and husband Craig, Sherman Dale, Pa., Michael Williams and wife Lou Ann, North Bethlehem, Pa., and John Williams, Fairmont; six grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; two brothers, Forrest Williams of Florida, and Dorsey Williams of Grafton; three sisters, Sylvia (and John) Abel, Fairmont; Alice Lucas, Grafton; and Della Jean (and Robert) Lambert, Suitland, Md.

Services were conducted from Carpenter and Ford Funeral Home in Fairmont on Jan. 22 by the Rev. David Rittenhouse and Brent Williams. Interment followed in Lawler Cemetery in Taylor County. Memorials may be made to Camp Hope, c/o Grenda Smallwood, Treasurer, 2 Clark St., Fairmont, WV 23554.

Bittinger

Friends and relatives from this area attended visitation for Carl Bittinger of Oakland who died at his home Friday, Jan. 25. He was a son of the late William and Virginia Cosner Bittinger. Services were held Sunday, Jan. 27, at the Fairview Church of the Brethren.

Gnegy

Relatives in this area also attended visitation and services at the Hinkle Funeral Home, Davis, for Jack Thomas Gnegy, 77, who died Jan. 23 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Born at Davis, Jack was a son of the late Walter Cline and Annie Hill Forsyth Gnegy.

Survivors include one brother, Donald (and Bernetti) Gnegy of Mackeyville, and two sisters, Jean and Daniel Illari of Finksburg, Md., and Ruth and Victor Ujcic of Glen Rock, Pa.; two half brothers, Robert and Edwin, and one half-sister, Lenora Spiggle, preceded him in death.

Jack was a millwright for Bethlehem Steel and served in the U.S. Air Force.

TERRA ALTA NEWS

LIBRARY

New volumes of juvenile paperbacks from the following sets were donated to the Terra Alta Public Library recently: Dolphin Diaries, McGrowl, Puppy Patrol, Pet Finders Club, and Animal Ark were given by Jenny Verbonitz. The Newest American Girl Series; Meet Jill by Megan McDonald is now in the juvenile section along with different titles of Mary Kate and Ashley Olsen.

The Harvey Smith Collection, a new form of cataloging, has been added to the shelves.

Mayor Charles Feather has given envelopes full of pictures and older newspapers to the library. Several of these pictures have been added to the Terra Alta display at the library. The pictures that were not identified or used in the display, along with the newspaper copies, will be set up early next month for the public to view and see if they would like to have any of the above-mentioned.

Library hours are Monday, 4 to 8 p.m., and Tuesday through Friday, 8:30 to 5:30 p.m.

VFW FOOD DRIVE

The VFW is collecting non-perishable foods for its Aurora/Terra Alta food drive, which will go to the Terra Alta Food Pantry during the month of February. Persons may drop off food items at the VFW or Arrowhead Machine Shop, both located along Washington Street, or may call 789-2672 or 789-6490 for Saturday pick-ups.

TERRA ALTA BETTERMENT INC.

The VFW and Terra Alta Betterment Inc. (TABI) will soon be starting work on the Veterans Memorial Park. All donations are tax deductible. Donations can be made at the Veterans Memorial Fund account at the Clear Mountain Bank.

WRANGLERS 4-H

The Wranglers 4-H meeting will be on Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the Community Building in the park at 2:45 p.m. 4-H project books will be handed out. This program is strictly a 4-H horse project. Anyone is welcome to join.

Persons who might be able to donate hay for this project (which would be a tax-deductible donation) are encouraged to do so. Information about this may be obtained from Amy at 789-2177. 4-H Club questions may be directed to Lisa at 789-6515.

TOWN NEWSLETTER

Persons who would like to receive the Terra Alta town newsletter by e-mail may do so by e-mailing Carol Burdick at tachato@hotmail.com and requesting to be added to the address list.

RECYCLING

Residents are encouraged to recycle. The town's recycling center takes number 1 and 2 plastics and paper. The hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

It is important to know the Facts about Wind Power

WIND OPPONENT MYTH #3

"These things either don't produce any power when we need it, or don't produce enough power to make a difference"

Facts:

1. The state says by 2011 we will be facing rolling blackouts without additional power resources. Wind energy can be a part of the solution.

2. Global warming is one of the biggest challenges facing our generation. Wind energy is making a difference, and Maryland can help do its part.

3. Wind turbines in our region generate electricity almost 90 percent of the time.

4. Locally, proposed western Maryland projects would generate enough power to supply the average annual electricity needs of more than 138,000 homes.

5. Grid Managers in our region say integrating wind will not be a challenge – given the power needs and flexibility of the system.

6. Every MWh of wind power put into the system displaces energy that would have been made from a more polluting source.

7. Electricity generated from wind isn't subject to fuel price fluctuations. Maryland's ratepayers can benefit from reduced volatility in power prices if wind power is part of the fuel mix. Energy from these projects can be sold to Maryland utilities at a fixed price for twenty or more years.

8. Nationally, wind projects are already generating enough electricity to supply the annual consumption of 4 million U.S. households.

Wind Has Real Benefits

Green Energy – Maryland has demanded cleaner energy with state policies that require renewable power and limit emissions that are linked to global warming.

Jobs – Western Maryland labor leaders support wind because it will create good-paying union jobs for our workforce.

Revenue – Garrett County, Allegany County and the State of Maryland stand to gain significant revenue from wind projects that can be used to reduce taxes, provide additional services or preserve additional land.

MAKING A CHOICE FOR OUR FUTURE

Wind is not the sole solution, but it is a big part of our answer to a cleaner future. Given the choice between responsible use of two tracts of public land that are already being logged and the potential impacts of climate change, the majority of Marylanders will make the choice to support wind in Western Maryland.

Farming On The Mountaintop

USDA Accepts Applications For 2007 Ag. Losses

Eligible farmers and ranchers who suffered livestock, livestock feed, and crop losses that occurred before Dec. 31, 2007, can currently apply to receive disaster payments. According to Michael R. Kozier, executive director for USDA Farm Service Agency in Garrett and Allegany counties, applications were accepted beginning this past Tuesday, Jan. 29.

On Dec. 26, President Bush signed the Consolidated Appropriations Act 2008 (2008 Act). The 2008 Act amends certain sections of the U.S. Troop Readiness, Veterans' Care, Katrina Recovery, and Iraq Accountability Appropriations Act 2007, which allows agricultural producers who suffered losses for crops planted before Feb. 28, 2007, or eligible livestock or livestock feed losses between Jan. 1, 2005, and Feb. 28, 2007, to apply for disaster payments under the Crop Disaster Program (CDP), Livestock Compensation Program (LCP), and Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP).

The 2008 Act extends CDP, LCP, and LIP payments to eligible farmers and ranchers who suffered 2007 crop, livestock, and livestock feed losses throughout the 2007 crop year before Dec. 31, 2007.

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) is now accepting applications and making payments for quantity losses before Dec. 31, 2007, under CDP. FSA is currently issuing LCP and LIP payments for losses up to Feb. 28, 2007, and will soon issue payments for losses incurred during the remainder of 2007. FSA will conduct sign-up and begin making payments for quality losses under CDP this spring. More information about CDP, LCP, and LIP is available online at http://disaster.fsa.usda.gov.

The Dairy Disaster Assistance Payment (DDAP III) Program, which provides benefits to eligible dairy producers for production losses suffered as a result of natural disasters since Jan. 1, 2005, has also been extended by the 2008 Act to cover, in addition, any 2007 disaster occurring before Dec. 31, 2007. As a result, DDAP-III sign-up, which began on Dec. 3, 2007, was temporarily suspended until automation, policy, procedure, and other administrative items could be updated accordingly. DDAP-III program sign-up will resume on Monday, Feb. 4, 2008.

The 2008 Act also extends FSA's authority to administer the Conservation Reserve Program and marketing loan benefits for wool and mohair through Saturday, March 15, 2008. It also allows the Milk Price Support Program to continue operating at current price support levels through March 15, 2008. Under the 2002 Farm Bill, USDA's authority to administer these three programs expired on Dec. 31, 2007.

Additionally, the 2008 Act provides $3.3 billion in direct and guaranteed loan funds for FSA's Farm Loan Programs.

COUNTY FSA COMMITTEE ELECTION RESULTS ANNOUNCED

The 2007 Preston County FSA Committee election was held in Local Administrative Area (LAA) 2 (Kingwood, Valley, and Portland districts).

Rebecca Montgomery was elected by farmers in LAA 2 to represent them on the committee and will serve a three-year term. Montgomery operates a beef cattle farm and had previously served as the committee advisor.

Hoy Wiles was elected first alternate, and Benjamin Walsh was elected second alternate by the farmers of LAA 2 for the committee.

The three took office on January 1.

At the January 16 committee organizational meeting, Carl Larew was elected chairperson, and William Whetsell, vice-chair.

The committee has the responsibility of administering the USDA-FSA programs for the coming year. The regular committee meeting day has been established as the Wednesday of the second full week of each month, beginning at 9 a.m. All regular sessions are open to the public.

Persons with disabilities who require accommodations to attend or participate in these meetings may telephone Eric McCartney on voice number 304-329-1923 or Federal Relay Service at 1-800-877-8339, or e-mail eric.mccartney@wv.usda.gov no later than one week prior to the regular monthly meeting.

For further information regarding the role of the county committee in administering USDA-FSA programs, persons may either visit the FSA office located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza or telephone 304-329-1923.

2007 LOSSES ELIGIBLE UNDER FSA DISASTER PROGRAMS

The president signed into law on Dec. 26 the Department of State, Foreign Operations, and Related Appropriations Act of 2008 that extended the date of eligible disasters to December 31, 2007. This extension provides the following:

Under the Crop Disaster Program (CDP), all crops planted or prevented from being planted for 2007 harvest are now eligible for CDP. If the producer has already been paid for crop years 2005 or 2006, and 2007 is determined to be most beneficial for the producer, an additional payment will be issued by FSA.

CDP provides benefits to farmers who suffered quantity and quality losses to 2005, 2006, or 2007 crops from natural disasters if the crop was planted or, in the case of prevented plantings, for crops that would have been planted. Only producers who obtained crop insurance coverage or coverage under the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) for the year of loss will be eligible for Crop Disaster Program benefits. Producers must have suffered quantity losses in excess of 35 percent to be eligible for CDP.

Under the Livestock Compensation Program (LCP), counties with a 2007 disaster declaration or designation approved in 2007 will now be eligible for 2007 losses under LCP. Preston County received a 2007 Secretarial designation for drought; therefore, livestock producers who suffered feed losses in the county are eligible to enroll in the 2007 LCP. Producers who have received payment under the 2005 LCP will have to apply for the 2007 LCP and any additional payment due producers will be issued.

LCP compensates livestock producers for feed losses occurring between January 1, 2005, and December 31, 2007, caused by a natural disaster. Producers in primary counties declared secretarial disaster areas or certain counties declared presidential disaster areas during the disaster period are eligible as are producers located in counties contiguous to those counties.

Ending dates for the sign-up periods for CDP and LCP have not yet been established, but it is important for producers to get their applications in the FSA office as soon as possible. Timely applications will ensure producers receive timely payments.

For further information regarding the above Disaster Assistance Programs or to enroll, persons may visit the Farm Service Agency located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza or telephone 304-329-1923.

FSA Programs Open To Area Disadvantaged

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) is currently reaching out to women, ethnic, and minority farmers in the state in an effort to get more of them involved in its programs, according to Elizabeth Anderson, executive director for the FSA in Maryland.

"FSA programs are available to all producers, but we would like to increase participation by traditionally underrepresented groups in all program areas," Anderson said.

FSA defines a socially disadvantaged (SDA) farmer, rancher, or agricultural producer as one of a group whose members have been subjected to racial, ethnic, or gender prejudice because of his or her identity as a member of the group without regard to his or her individual qualities. SDA groups are women, African Americans, American Indians, Alaskan natives, Hispanics, Asian Americans, and Pacific Islanders.

According to Anderson, FSA also reserves a portion of its direct and guaranteed loan funds each year for SDA loans for eligible participants. These loan programs are designed to help farmers purchase and operate family farms.

"With these loan programs, FSA hopes to help reverse the declining number of farmers and ranchers across the United States and especially here in Allegany and Garrett counties, Maryland," she said. "These loans help to encourage and assist them in owning and operating their own farms and ranches, participate in agricultural programs, and become integral parts of the agricultural community."

Applicants must meet the eligibility requirements for a given program before FSA can extend program benefits.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Trustee's Sale of valuable fee simple property improved by premises known as 285 WILHELM FARM ROAD, Lonaconing, MD 21539. By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from MICHAEL E. WILHELM AND JOYCE L. WILLIAMS, dated May 26, 2005, and recorded in Liber 1129 at Page 0173 among the land records of the COUNTY OF GARRETT, in the original principal amount of $148,824.00 with an interest rate of 5.875%. Upon default and request for sale, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction at the front of the Courthouse for the COUNTY OF GARRETT, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on February 13, 2008, at 4:32 PM, all that property described in said Deed of Trust as follows:

BEING KNOWN AND DESIGNATED AS LOT 2, SUBDIVISION 5250, IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, RECORDED IN LIBER 1129, FOLIO 168. THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON BEING KNOWN AS 285 WILHELM FARM ROAD.

Said property is in fee simple and is improved by a dwelling and is sold in "as is condition" and subject to all superior covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easement, rights-of-way, as may affect same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $14,800.00 cash or certified funds shall be required at the time of sale. The balance of the purchase price with interest at 5.875% per annum from the date of sale to the date of payment will be paid within TEN DAYS after the final ratification of the sale. Adjustments on all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Title examination, conveyancing, state revenue stamps, transfer taxes, title insurance, and all other costs incident to settlement are to be paid by the purchaser. Time is of the essence for the purchaser, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property may be resold at risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. If the sale is not ratified or if the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey marketable title in accord with these terms of sale, the purchaser's only remedy is return of the deposit. TOWSON, MARYLAND 21204
SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Mary L. Varner and Alan F. Varner dated December 15, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1277, Folio 250 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $166,000.00, and an original interest rate of 8.750, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on February 15, 2008 AT 1:00 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $17,500.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of sale. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of sale. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorney's fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of sale. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Trustee's Sale of valuable fee simple property improved by premises known as 1563 PLEASANT VALLEY ROAD, Oakland, MD 21550. By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from RAY E. MILLER AND RACHEL A. MILLER, dated April 26, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1225 at Page 0157 among the land records of the COUNTY OF GARRETT, in the original principal amount of $105,000.00 with an interest rate of 10.59%. Upon default and request for sale, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction at the front of the Courthouse for the COUNTY OF GARRETT, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on February 13, 2008, at 4:30 PM, all that property described in said Deed of Trust as follows:

BEING KNOWN AND DESIGNATED AS MAP 91, PARCEL 18, IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, RECORDED IN LIBER 1225, FOLIO 151. THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON BEING KNOWN AS 1563 PLEASANT VALLEY ROAD.

Said property is in fee simple and is improved by a dwelling and is sold in "as is condition" and subject to all superior covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easement, rights-of-way, as may affect same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $10,500.00 cash or certified funds shall be required at the time of sale. The balance of the purchase price with interest at 10.59% per annum from the date of sale to the date of payment will be paid within TEN DAYS after the final ratification of the sale. Adjustments on all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Title examination, conveyancing, state revenue stamps, transfer taxes, title insurance, and all other costs incident to settlement are to be paid by the purchaser. Time is of the essence for the purchaser, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property may be resold at risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. If the sale is not ratified or if the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey marketable title in accord with these terms of sale, the purchaser's only remedy is return of the deposit. Trustee's File No. 07-116598. LOAN TYPE = Conventional.

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I got the most amazing phone call on Jan. 22 from Mike Hall, who told me that he saw a robin. I said to him, "Are you sure you know what a robin looks like?" I saw robins in the snow, but it was in early April after a late snow shower coated the grass near Brenneman's Store. That was a normal robin's snow, but it was something different in the winter snow with the thermometer hovering around the single digits. I believe Mike. He also saw a white buck near his home between McHenry and Accident before.

Right now it seems like we will get an early spring, but will wait until what the groundhog says. We usually get a snow around Easter Sunday, but to see a robin so early is so unusual. We usually have to wait for the service trees to bloom to see spring arrive.

Speaking of wildlife, it is very rare to see a squirrel around my house, but one was on top of my new bird feeder. My mother sees them frequently at her bird feeders, which is just up the road, but across from the woods.

Some days we have real Garrett County winter, but I didn't see anything like it until last Thursday, the 24th, when I was on my way home from Accident. The snow came so hard and fast that I could hardly see the road. Everything was just a big blur of white.

Scott Bass's roommate from Montgomery County was up to experience Garrett County weather. He did experience the worst of Garrett County because when he and Scotty were on the way home from Accident they hit a patch of black ice and put their car across the road into a sharp drop off the road. Luckily no one was hurt, but it was quite an experience for them. I am not surprised, as it was pretty bad. When I was driving home from Accident I passed a scraggly tree where many years ago I saw a rough-legged hawk, which had migrated here from the Arctic. I hoped to see it again, but alas, the tree was empty. At least it was empty as far as I could see, which was not that far because of the whiteout.

It was a beautiful day for the 4-H Ski Day last week. A couple years ago it was raining. It is a great idea to embrace the fun of skiing at a reasonable price. I believe the Wisp should lower their price for local residents. I got hooked on skiing the first time I hit the slopes of Wisp. During high school and college I went there every day that I could.

I had a bad feeling that Duke would spell trouble for the University of Maryland. Even though the Terps were riding high after a victory over number one North Carolina, they lost in a hard fought game against the Blue Devils.

Monday was a perfect winter day, with blue sky and sparkling snow in the bright sunshine. Actually, any winter day is beautiful unless the snow is flying. I am happy to watch my icicles dripping. However, we are expecting really falling temperatures Tuesday night, and we are supposed to get more snow.

The Glotfelty kids have all gone back to their respective colleges. Robbie and Blakely left last Sunday a week ago and Darryl and Elliot, to Towson this past Sunday.

Torrey Poholsky returned to college by catching a ride back to North Carolina with a friend in Hagerstown.

Matthew and Scott Bass also returned on Sunday after their semester break.

Ruth DiPaolo visited last week with Betty Sacra in Winchester, Va. Betty is on her way to Texas for three weeks. I saw on TV where temperatures are to be really cold in Texas, as the cold front moves in over the country. The weatherman also says we are to get thunderstorms, and that usually does mean we get lots of snow. Every time I have heard thunder in the winter it has brought a whole bunch of snow. One time during my college days I was home for the weekend and, while a thunderstorm was going on, it was not inches, but feet. The three feet of snow was tinted blue.

I need to get back to painting for a show this coming October at the Garrett College Gallery. The biggest obstacle is the process of framing my art.

Most of the Bittinger branch of the Democratic Party is leaning to Obama. They think he is like John F. Kennedy, who had fresh ideas and youthful energy. I am still a little inclined toward Hillary. People think John McCain is too old, but I am not among that group. It seems he would be a good president since he was a former Democrat and now Republican. He should be able to see issues from two points of view. However, I would rather he be a former Republican. In any case, this is a milestone election, with a black man and a woman running for president. It shows the progress in America. The progress in America of the civil rights movement and the women's movement during the seventies appears not to have been in vain. It is not the legal standing of women and African Americans; instead it is more people getting a piece of the American pie.

Speaking of pie, I baked a "health pie." I didn't peel the apples and added oatmeal and cranberry juice. It is somewhat high in fiber, and the cranberries are supposed to be high in anti-oxidants.

Many Bittinger folks attended the viewing and funeral for Edna Beitzel, 98 years old, who is the mother of Leora Yaste and various other of the Beitzels of Bittinger. According to the family, she lived a long happy life and was ready to go to another life. She was a resident of Goodwill Nursing Home.

Ruth DiPaolo visited her friend of 70 years, Shirley Johnson, Cumberland, at Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland on Monday afternoon.

LOCAL REALTORS ATTEND LEGISLATIVE DAY – Representative for the Garrett County Board of Realtors recently attended the Maryland Association of Realtors Legislative Day in Annapolis. "The highlight of the Legislative Day Program was a question-and-answer period with Gov. Martin O'Malley," said a spokesperson for the local board. That event was followed by a legislative reception, in which the entire General Assembly was invited as well as elected and appointed state officials. Pictured in the front is Barbara Butler, GC Board of Realtors executive officer. In the back, left to right, are Rich Orr, GC board president; Sen. George Edwards; and Paul Durham, government affairs director for the GC board.

Garrett County Jobless Rate Up In December

Maryland Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation secretary Thomas E. Perez announced last week that Maryland's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was little changed in December, rising by just 0.1 percentage point to 3.8 percent. The upturn, not an atypical occurrence during this time of year, was much less pronounced than that of the nation, where the rate rose by 0.3 percentage points to 5.0 percent.

Meanwhile, Garrett County's jobless rate jumped from 3.8 percent in November to 5.0 percent in December, but the December rate was slightly better than the December 2006 rate of 5.1 percent.

Garrett County's rate typically spikes from November to December because of seasonal economics. However, the average jobless rate for the county in 2007 was 4.7 percent, slightly better than the 4.8 percent recorded for 2006.

"Maryland seems to be weathering the market churnings much more favorably than the nation," Secretary Perez said. "With troubles in the housing market and a national economic downturn, these are trying times for many working families."

Maryland's business payrolls added 4,600 jobs during December, resulting in a gain of 1.4 percent since December 2006. The expansion rate was more than three times the national rate of 0.4 percent.

During December, eight of Maryland's 10 major business sectors reported higher job totals. The most noteworthy gains were in the education and health services, and professional and business services sectors. Combined, these two industry groups accounted for about 56 percent of the current monthly upturn.

Downsizing in weather-related industries, the wind-down in retail trade, and temporary holiday furloughs contributed to employment declines and labor force reductions in a number of jurisdictions.

Worcester County's rate of 8.7 percent represented a statewide high in December. Balancing out the unemployment scale were rates as low as 2.4 percent in Howard County and 2.5 percent in Montgomery.

Wanted Person Arrested At GC Scale House

An unauthorized passenger in a commercial vehicle was revealed to be wanted by New Jersey authorities Monday morning at the Finzel Scale House.

Amanda Lee Skinner, 20, Hopatcong, N.J., was reportedly unauthorized to be riding in the vehicle by the driver's company. Further investigation incident to her arrest by Maryland State Police officers revealed a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and CDS paraphernalia. MSP reports did not specify to whom the contraband belonged.

Norris Rush Trial Will Not Be Held In Garrett County

Allegany County Circuit Court judge Gary Leasure on Tuesday granted a change of venue motion for the second-degree murder trial of Norris Wayne Rush. His public defender, Stephan Moylan of Oakland, had requested the case be moved from Garrett County because of pretrial publicity.

Rush, 52, also faces charges of reckless endangerment and use of a handgun in a violent crime. The charges stem from the shooting death of David Lancaster, 29, at Rush's Accident-Friendsville Road home in the early morning hours of Dec. 3, 2006.

When emergency personnel arrived on the scene, they reportedly found Lancaster lying on the kitchen floor with three gunshot wounds to his upper body from a .22-caliber handgun. He was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Rush has claimed he shot Lancaster in self-defense. Lancaster was a resident of Saltzburg, Pa., but had lived in Garrett County.

During this week's motion hearing, Moylan referred to numerous news articles, letters to the editor, and radio spots about the case that had been published or broadcast by area media. Judge Leasure said the change of venue motion was "true and reasonable."

State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch also agreed with the motion, noting that the pervasiveness of media coverage would limit the size of the jury pool and affect the nature of the case, including the rights of the state and the victim, if the trial occurred in Garrett County.

Earlier this month, Rush pleaded not guilty to second-degree murder before

Two-Car Collision Results In Fatality Of W.Va. Woman

A motor vehicle accident occurred last week that resulted in one fatality and the transfer of several people to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sheriff's deputies responded to the intersection of Maryland Highway and Oakland Drive Thursday, just after 5 p.m., in reference to the accident.

Investigation revealed a 1995 Buick Skylark, driven by Delpha L., Shafer, 82, Grafton, W.Va., had been traveling eastbound on Maryland Highway, and attempted a left turn onto the Oakland Drive spur. A 2002 Ford Explorer was traveling westbound at the same location, driven by Diana Lee Sharpless, 50, Oakland, and Shafer drove into the path of the Explorer

Sharpless drove onto the westbound shoulder in an attempt to avoid striking Shafer's vehicle, however she was unable to prevent the collision. All individuals involved in the accident were restrained by seatbelts, but Shafer was pronounced dead at the scene

Sharpless and her 15-year-old daughter were transported to Garrett Memorial, where they are currently being treated for their injuries

PERFORMING HER CIVIC DUTY ONCE AGAIN – Garrett County's most senior resident, 107-year-old Elva Tasker, signed an absentee ballot on Wednesday for Maryland's primary election, set for next Tuesday, Feb. 12. Elva and about 12 other Oakland Nursing and Rehabilitation Center residents filled out the ballots because they will not be able to get to polling sites. But they still wanted to play a role in determining the next president of the United States. Helping them achieve that goal were Bob Boal, Garrett County Board of Elections registration clerk, pictured at left, and Mary Martin, Oakland Rehab activities director, right. A Walnut Bottom area native, Elva was born on April 12, 1900, and voted in her first presidential election in November 1920 – when women were first allowed to do so – and in every election cycle after that. Warren G. Harding and his running mate, Calvin Coolidge, ran against James M. Cox and his running mate, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Harding, a Republican, won the presidential election with 60.3 percent of the popular votes. Elva would not disclose who she voted for in 1920 (but she did indicate that it was not Harding). She also had no comment about whom she preferred in this year's race. Registered Democrats and Republicans who are undecided about whom they want to represent their parties in the general election in November may find the "Voters Guide" in this issue helpful. The guide was provided by the Garrett County League of Women Voters. Polls will be open throughout Maryland on Tuesday from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. For more information, persons may call the GC Board of Elections at 301-334-6985. Photo by John McEwen.

Slain Browning Family Visited Area Regularly

A 15-year-old boy who has been accused of murdering his two younger brothers and his parents in Cockeysville Friday night was a frequent visitor to Garrett County, according to reports.

Nicholas Browning, who will turn 16 on Saturday, is accused of shooting his father, John W. Browning, 45; his mother, Tamara, 44; and his brothers Gregory, 13, and Benjamin, 11.

The Brownings owned property in Garrett County and visited regularly. There are other family members in the local area, according to reports.

The police said their investigation revealed that the teenager had not been getting along with his father. On Friday night, he is alleged to have gone into the house after other family members were asleep, and shot each of them using one of his father's guns, which has since been recovered, police said.

Reports indicate that the family's friends and neighbors are completely stunned by the event, and mostly describe the Brownings as a happy, well-adjusted family. Counseling is being offered in the schools where the three boys were students. A vigil was held in Cockeysville Tuesday for the family, with more than 1,000 people in attendance.

Nicholas Browning faces four counts of first-degree murder. He is currently being held at the Baltimore County Detention Center without bail.

Local Democrats Want Legislation To Protect Forests

The Garrett County Democratic Central Committee has requested Senator George Edwards and Delegate Wendell Beitzel to introduce local emergency legislation in the current General Assembly to prevent inappropriate use of state forests.

Letters sent Feb. 3 and Feb. 6 specifically requested each to introduce the legislation before Feb. 7 to prohibit development, construction, or placement of wind turbines in state forests or parks in Garrett County. Bills introduced by Feb. 7 are guaranteed a hearing in the General Assembly.

"In public hearings at Garrett College and in Annapolis, some 700 people attended to overwhelmingly express disapproval of using state forestland for industrial wind turbines," said James R. "Smokey" Stanton, chairman of the GCDCC. "Both of you (Edwards and Beitzel) attended these hearings and both of you have stated your opposition to wind turbines in state forests.

"The information, data, and comments provided by farmers, lumbermen, foresters, environmentalists, businesses, realtors, property owners, and interested citizens clearly established the inappropriateness of this use in state forests and state lands. It is imperative that you use your legislative power to permanently block this type of exploitation in order to protect both our state forest land and our local economy and tourist industry"

Stanton said that by introducing local emergency legislation, two objectives can be achieved. "First, you will be extended the courtesy of hearings in both the Senate and the House," he said. "Second, by making the bills emergency, the effective date of the legislation will be July 1, 2008 instead of Oct. 1, 2008. With the General Assembly

School Administrator Victim Of Homicide; Stepson Charged

An Allegany school faculty member was fatally injured Friday eveniag by his adopted son in their shared residence in the 400 block of Laurel Wood Drive, Avilton, according to the Maryland State Police McHenry Barrack.

MSP troopers found Andrew Roy Clever, 49, a school psychologist and vice principal at Beall Elementary School, dead after his son, 22-year-old Christopher Andrew Thompson, told police he believed he had killed someone in the home, according to police reports.

"I need to go to jail," Thompson told 911 dispatchers. "I just killed my father."

Officers were dispatched to the scene around 5 p.m. while Thompson remained on the phone with police communications at the barrack. After officers arrived and secured the surrounding area, Thompson voluntarily exited the house and was immediately taken into police custody.

Clever was found deceased in a reclining chair with what appeared to be trauma injuries to the head, Det. Sgt. Steve Vincent said.

Thompson was transported to the McHenry Barrack, where he was charged with first degree murder. He is being held at the Garrett County Detention Center without bond.

Deputies from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, the Maryland State Police Homicide Unit, and MSP Forensic Unit assisted in the incident.

According to court records released Wednesday, Thompson told police he heard voices telling him to kill.

Thomson told police he had been prescribed medication for obsessive-compulsive disorder, according

Hearings Slated For Sunday Sales Referendum Bills

Hearings are scheduled in Annapolis by Senate and House committees for a Garrett County Sunday sales referendum. Senate Bill 292 and House Bill 276 would enable Sunday sales of certain alcoholic beverages in districts in which a majority of voters approve.

The Senate Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee will hear public comment on SB 292, introduced by Sen. George Edwards, on Thursday, Feb. 14, at 1 p.m.

The House Economic Matters Committee will hold its hearing for HB 276, introduced by Del. Wendell Beitzel, on Monday, Feb. 18, at 1 p.m.

Currently, only two of the county's 19 election districts, the Elbow and Avilton, have limited Sunday alcohol sales. Voters in those areas approved the issue in 1996.

Sunday alcohol sales are only permitted in those two districts from 1 until 10 p.m., and may be made only when a restaurant patron places an order for a meal simultaneously or prior to placing an order for an alcoholic beverages. Bars, liquor stores, and other businesses may not sell alcohol on Sundays in the two districts.

Should the General Assembly and governor approve SB 292/HB 276, the referendum will be presented to voters in the county's 17 other election districts on Nov. 4, during the general election.

If a majority of the votes cast in an election district are for the referred law, it will become effective in that election district on Dec. 15.

The same sales restrictions that are in place in Avilton and the Elbow would also apply to any new districts.

The Senate Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee will also hold a public hearing on SB 221 on Feb. 14. The bill would establish a Class B beer and light wine license in Garrett County, which could be issued to certain bona fide hotels, motels, inns, or restaurants.

Additionally, the House Environmental Matters Committee has scheduled a hearing for HB 314 on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 1 p.m. This proposed legislation would enable the Garrett County commissioners to establish agricultural districts, and it outlines rules, regulations, and procedures of establishing those districts.

Persons wishing to testify on any bill must sign the

GC Commissioners Oppose Placing Wind Turbines On State Property

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners issued an official statement on Tuesday opposing the placement of wind turbines on state land in the county. The vote was unanimous.

Pennsylvania-based U.S. Wind Force recently asked Gov. Martin O'Malley for leases on about 400 acres in the Savage River and Potomac state forests. The private company wants to construct about 100 40-story tall wind turbines.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg said the board's vote was based on the public's strong outpouring of opposition to the proposal.

"Personally, I feel it's an inappropriate use of public lands," he added.

The county commissioners had deferred any official comment on the issue until the Department of Natural Resources conducted two public hearings, which were held last week in McHenry and Annapolis.

About 500 people attended the local event, and more than 200 were at the Annapolis hearing. The vast majority of those who spoke at both hearings were opposed to using public lands for private energy projects.

"I still support wind power, on the whole," said Commissioner Fred Holliday. "Nothing has changed my opinion on that."

But, he noted, public lands were for recreational use. He added that he supports management of state forests and did not feel that current logging practices would have the same effect as turbines.

Commissioner Denny Glotfelty said it was important to preserve public lands for the enjoyment of future

GC Planning Commission Asks For Legislation, Moratorium On Turbines

By unanimous vote, the Garrett County Planning Commission has decided to remove wording of county support for wind power from its comprehensive plan draft. In an 6-2 vote, the group also recommends that legislation be introduced that would give the county authority to regulate wind turbine.

Additionally, the commission members want the county commissioners to place a moratorium on wind turbine development in Garrett County.

Those decisions took place yesterday during the Planning Commission's regular monthly meeting at the courthouse. About 25 people attended the event, with several voicing concerns about how the proposed plan deals with wind turbines.

Some of the those same residents discussed the issue last week with the Garrett County commissioners, questioning why a paragraph about wind power needed to be included in the plan. They noted that the wording conflicted with the local Heritage Plan, which designates the entire county as a heritage resource.

The original paragraph in the comprehensive plan refers to a turbine project that has been proposed along the southern end of Backbone Mountain.

"While the county acknowledges the potential negative impacts of wind power facilities, it also recognizes the benefits, especially those related to clean, sustainable power generation, and the socioeconomic and fiscal benefits to the county," the paragraph reads. "On balance, the county supports wind power at appropriate locations, provided any site-specific negative impacts can be mitigated."

The Planning Commission wants to remove that last line.

At their meeting last week, the county commissioners told the residents that the passage was needed because wind energy is a potential issue that needed to addressed. The commissioners were in Annapolis on Wednesday and were not able to attend the Planning Commission meeting.

The commissioners, however, issued the following statement this morning:

"The Board of County Commissioners has considered the public comments and recommendations of the Garrett County Planning Commission, specifically in relationship to the regulation of and a potential moratorium on windmills in the county. The Board of County Commissioners appreciates the role of the Planning Commission in addressing important planning functions and appreci-

Primary Figure In Lake Purchase Victim Of Cancer

A person who played an integral role in the state of Maryland's acquisition of Deep Creek Lake has died.

Eugene "Gene" Raymond Lynch III, 50, Rockville, succumbed to cancer last Friday at Casey House, a Rockville hospice.

Lynch was a member of Gov. Parris N. Glendening's cabinet who orchestrated the preservation of Deep Creek Lake in 2000 by coordinating the state purchase of the land under the water and the surrounding shoreline. He also worked with county officials toward the establishment of the buy-down program and the Deep Creek Lake Policy and Review Board.

Born at a U.S. naval hospital in Naples, Italy, he was a son of Eugene R. Lynch Jr. and Elena Lynch of Louisville, Ky., where he grew up.

Lynch graduated from the University of Maryland, summa cum laude in 1983 with an economics degree while running a small construction company. He became chief administrative officer in Neal Potter's administration before he was tapped by Glendening to serve as acting secretary of general services in 1995, and was named secretary the next year. He was later appointed deputy chief of staff in 1998 and became chief of staff in 2002, the last full year of Glendening's administration.

After the governor's term concluded, Lynch founded Smart Growth Investments, a company dedicated to funding sustainable projects. He was also part of the Montgomery County Planning Commission.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his wife, Mary Ellen Lynch, Silver Spring, three daughters, one son, two sisters, and one brother.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held Tuesday at St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic Church, Silver Spring.

Last week's feature article, Oakland Mechanic Writes Book To Educate Drivers About Car Trouble, misidentified the owner of Shaffer Ford Sales. It is Kathy Shaffer who owns the company, not Karen Shaffer, as stated in the article. The error is regretted.

Four Pounds Of Marijuana Seized By MSP

A 22-year-old West Virginia man is currently awaiting a bond review after being arrested on Saturday for possessing a sizable quantity of drugs in his vehicle.

Tfc. M.W. DeValk of the McHenry Barrack stopped a 2002 Toyota SUV late Saturday night for traveling 82 mph in a 65 zone on westbound I-68 at Old Frostburg Road.

Upon making contact with the driver, Tfc. DeValk detected the odor of burnt marijuana coming from inside the vehicle. The driver, Daniel T. Hoff-Hayles of Kearneysville exited the vehicle and was ultimately arrested for possession of marijuana.

A search of the vehicle's interior revealed slightly more than four pounds of marijuana. Hoff-Hayles was charged with possession of marijuana and possession with intent to distribute. Tfc. DeValk was assisted on the stop by Sgt. M.W. Jones. The Garrett County Narcotics Task Force also provided assistance in the case.

Oakland Woman Hospitalized After Car Crash

Fog and decreased visibility were said to be factors in a Monday afternoon vehicle collision on Route 219.

Loretta V. Bailie, 81, Oakland, was headed south on Route 219 at 1:30 p.m., and attempted to turn left onto Sand Flat Road when she reportedly failed to yield to oncoming traffic. Bailie's vehicle was hit by a vehicle driven by Charles Fiala, 63, Addison, Pa., according to Maryland State Police reports.

Fiala was driving north and attempted to avoid Bailie's car when she reportedly turned in front of him. After hitting Bailie's vehicle, Fiala then crashed into a utility pole, police said.

Bailie is currently being treated for injuries sustained in the accident at Garrett Memorial Hospital. Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, Allegheny Power, and Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to the scene.

Bailie was cited by Maryland State Police for failure to yield the right of way.

Funding Under Way For Friendsville's New Sewer System

Friendsville's mayor, Spencer R. Schlosnagle, and Linda Lindsey, director of Garrett County Public Utilities, recently met with state and federal agencies in Annapolis to shore up grant monies for Friendsville's sewer system.

The town needs to rehabilitate five areas of main lines to eliminate infiltration and also eliminate the inflow in the lateral connections. Additionally, there is a need for an extension of the sewer collection system to serve properties that are in the corporate limits but are not currently served by the town's system.

"Currently our sewer system has a high infiltration, and that in effect has caused our town to be placed under a moratorium for sewer taps affecting our residents and businesses," stated Scholsnagle. "This in effect has caused a major burden on our town's expansion for growth in the community. Garrett County Public Utilities director Linda Lindsey has been working with various state and federal agencies to correct these problems and we, the town government officials, have a very good rapport with this agency and whole-heartedly support them in these endeavors."

Funding secured at this point totals $1,495,000 and consists of grants from the Appalachian Regional Commission, Maryland Department of the Environment, and United States Department of Agriculture. Approximately $450,000 will be applied for through a Community Development Block Grant to complete the job in its entirety.

Pedestrian Bridge Funding Granted To Friendsville

The town of Friendsville recently got word that it will be receiving grant funding to build a much-needed pedestrian bridge over Bear Creek on Rt. 53 and Second Ave. The mayor and town council have been trying for several years to obtain grant money to construct this bridge.

"This pedestrian bridge will provide a safe crossing for Friendsville residents and visitors of all ages," stated Mayor Spencer R. Schlosnagle. The mayor attended the recent Positive Attitudes Change Everything (PACE) program in Annapolis, where those in attendance met with legislators, and representatives from various state agencies, as well as Governor Martin O'Malley and members of his staff. Garrett County's elected officials met Friday morning with state and federal agencies to discuss various projects.

The funding agencies that have agreed to fully fund this project are United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), the Maryland State Highway Administration (SHA), and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), along with support from the Garrett County commissioners, who are providing engineering services.

"The proposed pedestrian walkway bridge over Bear Creek is not only a safety issue for the town residents, but for other county residents as well," Schlosnagle explained. "The children participating in the Head Start program will be able to safely cross Bear Creek as they make their way to the library. Citizens living in Guardian Apartments, many of whom are senior citizens, will be able to use this bridge to safely travel to the post office, bank, and other town amenities."

The park is also designated in the event that when the school emergency evacuation plan is activated, students are walked over to the community park from the school. At present when a drill is scheduled for an evacuation for the school, the state or county police must be contacted to stop traffic so students can make their way safely to the park.

"Once again, support from concerned citizens and various groups who provided letters of support helped us to receive these grants," said Schlosnagle. "Federal and state agencies have shown their support through these grants, which will greatly enhance and help those who wish to go to and from our community park, Head Start, and senior/community center."

GOP Committee Opposes Wind Turbine Project

The Garrett County Republican Central Committee joined the county's state Republican leadership last Friday in opposition to the proposal to construct wind turbines on state property in Garrett County.

"Gov. O'Malley's proposed plan not only will destroy one of Maryland's last untouched treasures, but it also seeks to cut out the public's input into the matter," said Brandon Butler, Central Committee chair.

In a recently published newsletter released by the committee, Butler stated, "The debate on Gov. O'Malley's move for wind mills in western Maryland does not hinge on the merits of wind-generated electricity or energy self-sufficiency. The issue should, however, be a discussion on the giving away of public property to private corporations."

"The Republican Party has always stood for property rights," said committee member Ed Clemons. "What the governor is trying to do is just wrong."

Just Change the Code...

The heat is intensifying to stop wind turbines from being built on state forestlands in Garrett County, with the Garrett County commissioners voting this week to oppose the proposal, and the Garrett County Plannmg Commission agreeing yesterday to recommend imposition of a moratorium on the placement of wind turbines in the county anywhere, on private and public lands.

However, the commissioners responded that, under current county regulations, any such moratorium would have to be on all building construction in the county, not just on construction pertaining to wind turbines.

The planning commission also recommended additional legislation to address the situation; however, this would have to be done by today in order to meet the General Assembly deadline for local emergency legislation. The commissioners state, and probably rightly so, that much more time will be needed to consider such a complicated matter prior to drafting legislation.

County-wide zoning authority, in some form, is what is being suggested, something that every other county in the state already has; something that this column has called for on a number of occasions. Certainly preparing legislation for any form of county-wide zoning would necessitate extensive research and therefore a lot of time, a dimension that is not plentiful in the case of wind turbines.

It seems, however, that a change in the county's building code limiting the height of structures would be a much simpler, and obviously much quicker, way to go. The county does have a building code, one that is relatively strict. Adding a height-restriction ordinance to an already established code would directly address the concern about wind turbines without creating a blanket regulation that might adversely affect other forms of desirable construction.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Super Tuesday has now come and gone, but Maryland voters will cast their ballots next Tuesday, Feb. 12. To aid in the choices voters will make at the polls, the League of Women Voters of Garrett County and The Republican newspaper have published a Voters Guide for the primary election in Section A of this issue. The league urges voters to consult this guide, plus the Garrett County Board of Elections' sample ballot from the Jan. 24 issue, before going to the polls.

The field of candidates for president has narrowed considerably, so the information in the guide doesn't include all the names on the ballot. The names of the candidates for the 6th Congressional District are also included.

This promises to be an exciting election year. Please make informed decisions in the voting process.

To the Editor:

DNR officials announced that industrial wind development seemed appropriate for state land in Garrett County because so much private land will soon be planted with massive wind turbines. Given last year's legislative wind deregulation bill, so rife with cronyism, they're right. Now all a limited liability wind corporation need do to set up shop in western Maryland is apply to the PSC, negotiate in secret with the grid for transmission line access, and get the PSC to hold a public hearing in the area. Even if 500 residents came to the hearing to oppose the project, with only a few approving, this outpouring would have no outcome on the permit. The hearing is simply window dressing to let the people know what is happening, not to allow them to affect the outcome. This is how democracy works these days, if you live in western Maryland.

The first of these applications has surfaced from our old nemesis Clipper, now calling itself Criterion. It plans to put 28 430-foot turbines along Backbone Mountain. It will likely be joined by others in the next year, seeking to place around hundreds of turbines around the area on private land atop Four-Mile Ridge, the Big Savage, Meadow, Backbone, and Dan's mountains. And no one will be able to do a thing about it. The state's DNR is a formal business partner for these initiatives.

Cheerleading for this development are the commissioners of Allegany and Garrett counties, their staff, and most members of the respective planning commissions. When private land is covered with windscrapers, the state surely will return to make our public land compatible with the new wind terrain. Because our local officials have resisted all efforts to protect the counties from this outrageous development (and in Allegany County even reversed what protection did exist), they have turned them into a vineyard growing the lowest hanging fruit for wind developers.

The Allegany/Garrett Sportsmen's Association has the issue right. Let's join with them to protect western Maryland from these wind hustlers, keeping their looming, sprawling machines away from the region. The main reason they aren't threatening to infest the Chesapeake Bay is that local government there has height and setback requirements to protect the public. Let's insist that our leaders do the same here before it's too late. Our mountains and quality of life deserve a better fate.

To the Editor:

From both ends of the state, the message is the same – No to the use of public lands for industrial wind generation. The attendance by the citizens at the public hearing held at Garrett College on Wednesday evening was extraordinary, both in the number of citizens that attended and the testimony given. In fact, I heard the comment made that it was the largest citizen turnout ever for a public hearing in Garrett County.

Let me just say, as citizens, friends, and neighbors of this wonderful county, you pulled together to let Governor O'Malley know how impassioned you are that it is not an appropriate use of public lands for industrial wind generation. For that, I say thank you to all those showing your support.

I also traveled to Annapolis to attend the public hearing on Thursday. No fewer than 50 of your friends and neighbors took the time to travel to Annapolis to attend the hearing. The message to Governor O'Malley was the same, a resounding no to the use of public lands for industrial wind generation.

The word windmill conjures up images of a tall three-legged metal tower, with a gentle turning pinwheel pumping water from my grandfather's well on the farm. Make no mistake, the turbines for wind generation are not windmills. They are 440-foot-tall massive whirling three-blade monstrosities that produce very little power, and what power is produced will be shipped out of state into other power grids.

The people have spoken! Special thanks to all for your support. I wish to personally thank Secretary Griffin and all others who have listened and are now charged with the duty of delivering the message to Governor O'Malley. We oppose, we oppose, we oppose! The answer is NO!

On Tuesday, February 12, voters in Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Virginia will have the historic opportunity (and challenge) of helping to nominate either a black man or a woman as the Democratic Party's candidate for president of the United States.

After considerable research and internal soul-searching, I whole-heartedly support Barack Obama as the Democratic candidate for president. I will vote for him and encourage all others to do so.

If you have doubts about what this candidate stands for, please read (or listen to on tape/CD) either, or both, of his books. The books and tapes/CDs are available at area libraries and book stores.

Through the honesty of his books, Sen. Obama has placed his "heart and soul" out there for all of us to view, and the findings are truly worthy of our votes.

Sincerely,
John Neubert

To the Editor:

What a beautiful sight last week! Our own community standing up in the face of money-hungry wind companies, paid lobbyist (Cas Taylor Jr.), and a reckless governor. At Garrett College, I personally witnessed our county residents one by one stand up to give personal testimony denouncing any plans to place 400-foot wind turbines on our beloved state forests.

The first county resident to speak was Delegate Wendell Beitzel, who stated that this was personal for him to inappropriately place wind turbines on state lands in beautiful Garrett County. Del. Beitzel did not just get a standing ovation as stated in the papers. I personally saw the Garrett College auditorium come alive as the massive crowd arose to their feet, instantly cheering and applauding Del. Beitzel's comments, which set the tone for the night.

There were many testimonies as to how wind turbines would ruin beautiful Garrett County's rural landscape. But more importantly pointed out were all the misconceptions and mistruths that the wind companies have been advertising and lobbying. Wind turbines provide meaningless energy because there is no capacity. This means that the wind turbines can produce energy only when the wind is blowing and not provide meaningful energy when it is needed the most, with no possible way of storing the energy for later usage when it could actually help. Therefore, not a single coal-fired plant could ever be replaced or kept from being built by constructing wind turbines.

It was clear to me and almost everyone present that the many cons of wind turbine installation on state lands far outweigh the very few pros. It was also crystal clear to me that Garrett County does not want wind turbines.

I also witnessed at least 50 Garrett County residents go to Annapolis to give their personal testimonies at the DNR public hearing, where Del. Beitzel received another standing ovation after his speech. Again in Annapolis, at least 90% in attendance were very much in opposition to wind turbines on state lands.

I have never witnessed so much unity in Garrett County in all my life. Not a single Garrett County organization has come out in favor of wind turbines thus far. This all makes me truly proud to be a Garrett Countian. I would like to say it again, "Gov. O'Malley, can you hear us now? We oppose!"

To the Editor:

Your readers may not have realized that the death last week of Eugene Lynch was a significant loss not just for the state, but also for Garrett County and Deep Creek Lake. Gene died of bladder cancer last week at the age of 50. At the time of his death, he was president of Smart Growth Investments and had been appointed last year to a seat on the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission. He served as chief administrative officer for Montgomery County until 1994 and then was named secretary of the Maryland Department of General Services. He left that post to become deputy chief of staff, and later chief of staff, to Governor Parris Glendening.

During his service in these three state positions, Gene was heavily involved in the state's purchase of Deep Creek Lake, establishment of the buy-down program, and the development of legislation to establish the Deep Creek Lake Policy and Review Board. Without Gene's steady devotion to these tasks, I doubt that we would have the vitally important legal structure underpinning the lake that we have today. Gene spent countless hours with a variety of persons, including the governor, the Board of Public Works, state legislators and the county commissioners in addressing and resolving a number of thorny issues.

As then-president of the Property Owners' Association of Deep Creek Lake, I had extensive dealings with Gene, as did my successor, Judge Fred Thayer, and we could count on a friendly and thoughtful reception from Gene, who was always a gentleman and a true problem-solver. He made major contributions in his public service career, and they will have a lasting imprint on Garrett County for the present and all future generations. He was not just a great public official, but also my friend. He will be sorely missed.

To the Editor:

People living near wind turbines in Meyersdale, Pa., as well as near the Mountaineer Wind Energy Center, W.Va., have reported a number of health and quality of life issues stemming from noise and light pollution. Health problems include sleep deprivation, headaches, dizziness, unsteadiness, nausea, exhaustion, anxiety, anger, irritability, depression, problems with concentration and learning, and ringing in the ears.

Noises produced by turbines are present all the time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and can vary with the time of day and year, atmospheric conditions, wind direction and velocity, and lay of the land, as well as wind facility size. Audible sounds include rhythmic "thumping" or continual "droning" and a "screeching" or "banging." Low-frequency sound can actually be felt by particular people rather than being heard, manifesting itself as a low-frequency vibration that is more a sensation than a noise. Residents in Appalachian valleys have reported sleep-disturbing noise levels from turbines 1.5 miles away, while others reported noise pollution up to 3-5 miles away. Noise is especially noticeable in quiet rural areas, where a 10-decibel increase over ambient levels represents a subjective doubling of noise levels.

Another problem affecting residents living near turbines is the "light or shadow flicker" caused by the sun shining behind the rotating turbine blades. This situation can occur at different times of the day and year, depending on orientation of the sun, turbine, and home, and is comparable to turning room lights on and off repeatedly. This visual pollution can range from merely annoying to some people getting dizzy, losing their balance, or even becoming nauseated. People who suffer from migraines or who are epileptic often have their condition made worse by this strobe effect.

In summary, there is high potential for noise and visual effects adversely affecting the health and quality of life of residents near wind turbines. To prevent this occurrence, realistic setbacks or buffer zones need to be established by health and government agencies. Setback recommendations have ranged up to 1.5 miles between industrial wind turbines and homes, schools, and hospitals. There may still be health and quality of life problems caused by wind turbines beyond this radius, even 1.5 to 3 miles away. These people should be compensated for any infringement on their human rights attributed to industrial wind turbines affecting "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

To the Editor:

We are deeply concerned about a reckless injustice that we believe has been committed against the citizens supporting Mr. Larry Smith's candidacy for the Democratic nomination in Maryland's 6th Congressional District. Teachers, school personnel, students and parents have had their trust violated by the leadership of the Maryland State Teachers Association in its decision to endorse Mr. Andrew Duck.

We were shocked, dismayed, and yes, outraged, when we learned of this irresponsible and reprehensible decision.

Initially, when we contacted MSTA about this endorsement we were told that Larry Smith was not endorsed because "he did not return his questionnaire." After repeated calls, we were finally offered a truthful explanation: "MSTA made a mistake, as they only sent one questionnaire to one candidate and that was Andrew Duck."

Think about this... Andrew Duck on education says he will "vote to eliminate No Child Left Behind." Larry Smith, on the other hand, passionately believes in accountability and high standards for teachers and students. He supports reauthorizing and improving the No Child Left Behind Act.

It was Larry Smith who received national attention in a story by WUSA news correspondent J.C. Hayward, on his extraordinary contributions and accomplishments as an educator. You need only to speak to any one of the many students whose lives have been enriched during Mr. Smith's tenure in public education. They will tell you that "he is an advocate for all children and a champion for equity and fairness." In all our years in public education, we have not seen a more sincere, honest, caring, and motivational leader. Mr. Smith is also a decorated veteran, as is Mr. Duck. However, unlike Mr. Smith, Mr. Duck has never once "walked in the shoes of a teacher."

Mr. Larry Smith is one of a kind who inspires us all to give our best for kids. Please make it a point to support this remarkable man on Tuesday, February 12. Thank you for your spirit of journalism in the public interest.

Sincerely,
Washington County teachers Chlorous Little, Linda Kendo, and Jon Blake; Allegany County teachers Nancy Smith and Paula Swayne; Frederick County teachers Charles Davis, Kathleen Zimmerman, Lisa Garvey, and Sandy Zimmerman; and retired Washington County principal Robert T. Myers

To the Editor:

As I watched the results of the Super Tuesday voting, I was amazed at the fact that many Americans feel the way they do. I am not sure if we are going to elect a president or appoint a dictator in November. One candidate is quoted as saying that if the people do not pay for government issued health care, they are not above garnishing wages for that money. Is this not the tip of the iceberg called Socialism? If it is, please let me know where the line for government bread and potatoes is going to form. It's best to be first!

In Maryland alone we have a governor who clearly represents the symbol of his party – a donkey, for lack of a better word. He has decided to tax and spend 'til who knows when and to shaft the people of Garrett County at will. Sure hope we can invite him to another Autumn Glory Festival.

I can't understand why our commissioners needed to wait to hear what the DNR had to say before commenting on the windmills on state ground. It's wrong and they know it, so stand up against it. Do these leaders not get it? They are our representatives, not there to represent themselves. We know the governor is in bed with the windmill company; I just wonder how big that bed is?

This type of leadership is ridiculous and runs all the way down to the smallest of government, including the town. This phase of government (other than a select few) seems to be run like a "good old boys club" verses a government that works with the people and their interests. I am pretty sure it starts out "We the People" not "We the government."

A lot of presidential candidates have been talking about change, and I agree we need change at all levels in government. I just hope that we can bring about change and elect for once people who remember why they where elected and what they are there to protect.

The February 2008 issue of Reader's Digest contains an article regarding reading in America. The article stated Americans are reading for pleasure less than ever before. It was noted that this is troubling for several reasons. Those who do not read are less likely to succeed at work, and they are less likely to participate in civic life, It was also found that 38% of employers consider high school graduates to be deficient as readers.

Landon's Library is at the forefront trying to reverse this trend and make positive changes in the lives of parents and children. This is being done at the Play-Dates, which promote the importance of books.

The theme for the Play-Date held last Saturday was "Multi-Cultural Tea Party." The children explored books and activities related to countries around the world. Some of the highlights were bagpipe music by Paul Browning, an African safari, and the Chinese New Year.

If you have children 2 to 5 years of age, they can attend the free Landon's Library Play-Dates. There are no special criteria families need to meet. All you need is love for your child and the desire to help him or her succeed in life. Visit www.landonslibrary.org to sign up. The Play-Dates fill quickly, so you need to sign up early.

If you would like to support early childhood reading, you can mail a donation to 704 Red Oak Circle, Mtn. Lake Park, MD 21550. If you are a business and would like to be a corporate sponsor of a Play-Date, please call or write. Many children want to participate, but currently space is more limited than would be ideal. Your support will help to expand this program and get our children off to a good start in life.

Rush Trial

Judge Jim Sherbin in Garrett County Circuit Court. To avoid any conflict of interest, Sherbin recused himself from the case. Rush is a brother-in-law of Garrett County sheriff Gary Berkebile.

Judge Frederick C. Wright then appointed Leasure to the case. Frederick is the administrative judge for the Fourth Circuit Court, which comprises Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties, and will assign the trial to another jurisdiction.

The state's attorney charged Rush with first-degree murder in Garrett County District Court in October 2007. That charge was later amended to second-degree murder when the case was moved to Circuit Court.

Following his arrest in October 2007 on the charge, Rush was released from the Garrett County Jail after posting a $50,000 bond. Sherbin retained that bond during the plea hearing.

Flu Activity Increasing In Garrett Co.; Vaccine Still Available At Health Dept.

The local area is experiencing a sharp increase in influenza activity, according a Garrett County Health Department spokesperson.

"As predicted, local flu cases are being seen in February and are expected to continue," she said. "Activity so far this flu season appears to be increased compared to this time last year."

She added that that is not too late to receive a flu vaccine; injectable flu vaccine is still available at the Health Department.

"Generally, it takes about two weeks for the vaccine to be fully effective after receiving a flu shot," the spokesperson said.

Other ways to decrease the risk of getting or giving the flu are to practice proper and frequent hand washing and reducing social contact by avoiding large gatherings.

"Stay home if you are sick," said the spokesperson. "Cover your mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing. Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth."

Persons interested in receiving flu vaccine may call the Health Department at 301-334-7770 or 301-895-5355. Flu vaccine is available on a walk-in basis on Tuesdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Oakland office, or by appointment only at the Grantsville office.

ending in April, the Department of Natural Resources will know the legislative intent of preserving our state forests."

The letters further stated: "By introducing bills in both the Senate and the House, the excellent information that has been gathered and presented by people testifying at the DNR hearings can be made available to all members of the legislature, and future decisions can be based on facts rather than distortions and exaggerations concerning Maryland State Forests and Parks."

The committee noted that the Western Maryland Delegation recently withdrew its October 2007 letter to Governor O'Malley supporting US Wind Force's proposal, and the Garrett County commissioners unanimously voted Tuesday to oppose the proposal to allow state forestland in Garrett County to be used for wind farms.

The births of three local babies were announced this week, all girls.

A daughter, Gabriella Noel Sines, was born to Anna Checkes and Charles Sines, Grantsville, on Jan. 15 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

A daughter, Kinsey Elizabeth, was born to Robbie and Crystal (Reckart) Wiles, Aurora, W.Va., on Jan. 31 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

A daughter was born to Amanda L. Brown and Steven L. Bush, Oakland, on Jan. 29 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Wind Throws Trees Onto Car; Woman Injured

A Friendsville woman was injured last evening, Feb. 6, when high winds ripping through the western part of Garrett County caused trees to strike her car.

April Savage, 27, was driving her 2003 Hyundai south along Oakland-Sang Run Road when several trees fell directly on her vehicle, according to a report from the Maryland State Police.

Savage, who is reportedly several months pregnant, was then transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries.

The accident took place at about 7 p.m., according to the report. This was the time during which a suspected tornado may have come through the area where Savage was driving. An official determination on whether or not a tornado actually touched down was not announced by press time today.

to court records. It has also been reported that Thompson had been diagnosed as bipolar, according to Clever's mother, Dorothy Clever.

Thompson told police that on the afternoon of the murder, he had been having thoughts about killing someone, and couldn't talk himself out of it.

"He stated that he heard the television tell him to 'do it.' He also stated that he heard a song that told him to 'kill him.'" Maryland State Police Tfc. Brad Williams wrote in charging documents.

Thompson was adopted by Clever at the age of 9. Mrs. Clever said Thompson had been abandoned at a young age and had been in five foster homes before Clever took him in.

She also said Thompson, a forestry student at Allegany College of Maryland, had been discharged from the Navy about a year ago. Mrs. Clever said she has never known Thompson to be violent, but that he was easily angered when he felt he was mistreated.

Comm. Asks

ates the advice that it receives from that commission.

"The Planning Commission has recommended the imposition of a moratorium on the location of windmills in Garrett County. A moratorium, under current county regulations, would require a moratorium on all building construction not simply the one area, wind power. The moratorium on all construction and the issuance of all building permits is, in the opinion of the Board of County Commissioners, not an appropriate remedy in these circumstances.

"The regulation of land use is a product of the power of the Board of County Commissioners to adopt and implement zoning regulations as a power delegated to the county by the state under the provisions of Article 66B of the Annotated Code of Maryland. Garrett County has accepted the delegation of power and regulates land use through the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance in those areas within the watershed of Deep Creek Lake. Outside of that watershed and that zoning district, the county has not adopted comprehensive land use regulations through zoning.

"Land use in the state of Maryland has generally been administered on a local level. The Planning Commission fills one of the vital roles in the process of land use regulation. The implementation of or recommendation for additional legislation, as the Planning Commission has recommended, is a matter that requires greater study before requesting action by the legislature. As the Planning Commission understands, the regulation of land use under authority of Article 66B necessarily requires a comprehensive approach to all land use, not simply a single form of use such as wind power. It may be appropriate for the Planning Commission to consider the issue of comprehensive land use (countywide zoning) as a part of their role in local land regulations."

PROPERTY OWNERS,
HAVE YOU BEEN APPROACHED TO LEASE OR SELL YOUR GAS, OIL OR MINERAL RIGHTS?
The terms and conditions contained in the leases are drafted by Oil and Gas Leasing Companies and are drafted to protect their interests. You may be giving up important property rights by signing these agreements as presented. The sale of your gas, oil and mineral rights should be carefully considered.
Provisions in the leases are negotiable and include:
•Terms and conditions for drilling
•Location of wells, roads and pipelines
•Protection of ground water
•Storage of oil or gas
•Liability to third parties
•The amount of the lease payment
The Law Offices of Gary C. Harriger, LLC, has had experience in reviewing and negotiating the terms of leases and the sale of oil, gas and mineral rights. We work with the property owner and the leasing company to craft an agreement that protects the interests of the land owner and still permits the land owner to reap the benefits of any oil or gas wells

Understanding Home Health Care
by Kristine Graber, RN
HELPING VETERANS IN HOSPICE CARE
If you're helping an older person who is at the end of his or her life, and that person is a veteran, you may have more options than you think. Only 4% of veterans spend their final days in Veterans Administration facilities. Instead, veterans across America are experiencing the dignity and comfort of being in their own homes and communities at the end of their lives. The VA Hospice and Palliative Care Initiative is helping health care providers in the community learn about veterans' needs and will assist in outreach efforts in states that secured grants. Hospice care plays an important role in helping veterans come to terms with their unique issues at the end of their lives.
This informative column is presented as a public service. TENDER LOVING HOME CARE, INC., invites you to get acquainted with us. We are here to aid the elderly in need of help with their daily tasks that they may maintain a sense of control and independence. We specialize in customizing home care and personal care for each client's individual needs. Our caring, professional staff is available for 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. All our carefully screened home care providers are licensed, bonded and insured. Our nurses are available to employees for consultation around the clock.
P.S. By the year 2010, the U.S. will see a three-fold increase in veterans older than 75.

Due to the actions of the Natural Resource Police & Department of Natural Resources over the post several weeks, I am compelled to address their motivation to sensationalize the events on January 15th through radio announcements, newspaper articles, and public discussions. On the evening of the 15th I was leading a group of snowmobiles out of the Kings Run entrance of Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management Area. I had my daughter, who had been injured minutes before when her snowmobile hit a tree, as a passenger on the sled. As we approached the gate, I saw NRP Officer Thomas get out of his vehicle and approach me. I immediately stopped and shut off my engine, as he went down the line of sleds requesting engines to be shut off. No one in the group was disrespectful to the Officer. My wife and I then informed Officer Thomas that our daughter was injured and we were trying to get her home, which is only minutes away, to assess her situation. We offered our name and address and suggested he contact us at a later time, so we could get our daughter home. He was more interested in issuing citations to the group than allowing us to move on. After repeatedly communicating our situation, Officer Thomas agreed to us leaving. The next morning we were issued citations carrying a fine of $250 each. Not arrested, as the article titled "NRP Charges Five Persons for Illegal ORV Usage" in the Jan. 31st Republican embellishes. Typically, we do not travel the route through the Kings Run gate. However, with our concern for our daughter and the fact that the regular route was impossible due to water, we opted for the most direct route home.

I share this situation because it is a prime example of the how the Department of Natural Resources approaches the issue of snowmobiling in Garrett County, as an adversary, not as a possible ally. I acknowledge the regulation against snowmobiles in Mt. Nebo and the current issues with the use of snowmobiles in Garrett County. Over the last two years several local snowmobile enthusiasts and I have made phone calls, sent letters, and sat down with Local Authorities to discuss the currently imperfect snowmobile situation. The Authorities have been willing to communicate, but unable to help facilitate any change in the situation. It is left to the citizens of Garrett County, who are powerless to make any real, regulatory changes. 99% of the snowmobilers in Garrett County value/respect the ability to ride wherever they have the opportunity. They have a strong desire to work with property owners and authorities to promote a network of trails that minimizes the impact on land, property owners, and local resources.

As a group, we consistently hit road blocks to institute any real change or progress with how the County and State regulations address snowmobiles. With permission, we ride on private land, farms, nurseries, and lawns, but are not allowed to ride on a dirt/gravel road on state land. I can not understand why the local Department of Natural Resources can not make a judgment call, and allow the use of an established road/trail through a Wildlife Management Area. All that needs to be asked in the spring is, "Has anything been damaged?" As someone who frequently enjoys Mt. Nebo, under my own power, I can tell you that my bicycle leaves more lasting effects than the snowmobiles. How can the Department of Natural Resources entertain the decimation of 1,000s of acres of forest to accommodate Wind Turbines, but not allow managed use of state land by snowmobiles/ORVs? It is inconsistent! I realize that Mt. Nebo is a Wildlife Management Area supported through the sale of hunting licenses, and sincerely support that use and its mission. However, there are plenty of examples of privately managed hunting land, complete with food plots for habitat, where these two uses, and others, co-exist successfully. Restrict snowmobiling until after the 1st of the year and work around the hunting season. It works for Pennsylvania, and host of other states. As a side note, animal tracks are often observed on the snowmobile tracks, because the tracks make it is easier for the fur bearing animals to move in the snow. One could argue that snowmobiles improve the mobility for wildlife to feed and mate. One Natural Resource Official replied that "snowmobiles disturb the mating of fur bearing animals" when asked why snowmobiles should not be allowed in Mt. Nebo. The established roads/trails within the 500± acres of Mt. Nebo are a perfect place for snowmobiles to operate away from homes and public roadways without damaging the land or disturbing the natural habitat of the wildlife.

The DNR frequently references the DNR designated ORV trails available in Garrett County. According to the DNR map, there are 72.7 miles of ORV trails scattered in increments throughout the County. The 9 trails range in length from 2.1 miles to 11 miles long. At a moderate, 15 mile per hour pace it would take 44 minutes to complete the longest 11 mile segment. Under current circumstances, you would then need to re-load your snowmobile and trailer it to the next section, repeating the process 9 times to complete all of the DNR sanctioned trails. The Maryland DNR web site and numerous other publications promote snowmobiling as a winter activity in Garrett County. Our current offering of official trails is substandard and embarrassing. Our neighboring State of Pennsylvania Department of Conservation & Natural Resources has a whole section of its web site dedicated to information on snowmobile trails, regulations, and opportunities. 30 miles to the north of us there is access to hundreds of miles of trails. Pennsylvania recognizes the economic benefits that numerous other states enjoy. Pennsylvania works with the snowmobiling community for the benefit of its citizens and businesses. It is well documented that snowmobile tourism is very profitable for area businesses, and could be a source of additional revenue for Maryland, as well.

The problem is that from the State of Maryland's perspective this is an issue in only one County of the State. A tremendous amount of time and effort would be required to organize the citizens of Garrett County to get the floor (and ear) of state officials that could actually facilitate any change. Why can't we solve the issues locally, right here in Garrett County? Throughout the County there are already many examples of snowmobilers and property owners working together to mark trails, build bridges, and manage use. It's a great start, but there is a huge need to expand who is involved, and work together to make it better for all. I commend the Garrett County Recreational Trails Committee for the work they have done to begin to develop a network of bike trails. They are a prime example of the time and effort required to achieve any progress and cooperation between users, property owners, local government, and the State. They have spent 5+ years just to get to the point where they are designating & negotiating potential areas for trail development. Why does it have to be so difficult? Why can't local Authorities, ORV users, and property owners sit down together and figure out a network of trails that do not adversely impact property owners, utilize existing resources, and explore/open up new options?

As proven in PA, NY, VT, NH, & ME, if a portion of the man power, resources, and money spent monitoring recreational hooters & ORV users with helicopters, boots and vehicles were re-allocated to working with the snowmobiling community to build a network of trails in Garrett County, all citizens, as well as the State of Maryland, would benefit. The trail network would complement the vision of Garrett County being Maryland's winter playground. Businesses could prosper from additional patrons coming to snowmobile. Property Owners would be less hassled by the snowmobiling scene, due to a more structured environment. The DNR & the Natural Resource Police could benefit from additional registration fees, the structured environment, and a new ally, the snowmobilers, assisting them with their mission to "preserve, protect, enhance, and restore Maryland's natural resources for the wise use and enjoyment of ALL citizens."

America First !

Dear Friends in Garrett County:

The only Republican presidential candidate who is for peace is Ron Paul. All others want to continue to send our kids to foreign countries (120 now) to be killed or maimed in battles where we should not be.

Ron Paul is for peace, lower taxes and closing our borders. While he will not be elected, isn't it our obligation to stand for principles? Ron wants to end our financial dependence on China. Don't you?

He has never voted for higher taxes in Congress, nor for a raise in pay in Congress! Ron is a statesman! Please consider voting for someone who is for America, not for special interest groups.

Please vote for America– by voting for Ron Paul in the coming primary.

Thank you, Thomas E. Doyle

THREE LITTLE WORDS!

There are three little words that can make buyers very anxious: Offer To Purchase. However, there need not be any mystery or fear attached to that phrase. With an experienced professional guiding the process, feelings of trepidation can quickly turn to excitement and enthusiasm.

While many terms and conditions may be attached to an offer, the real biggie, of course, is price. While you may have heard that your offer should be a certain percentage below the asking price, or even a percentage below what you are willing to pay, consideration of your offer will always be affected by the laws of supply and demand.

When buyers compete, sellers often see full-price offers. However, when inventories are high and demand is lower, an offer below asking price could be in order. Typically, your offer will be presented to the seller(s) and/or their representative(s). The seller may accept or reject the offer, but it's quite common for the seller to reply with a counter-offer.

Since it's often not a simple Yes or No answer, it is absolutely critical for you to hire a professional REALTOR®, so that negotiation is handled smoothly and in a timely manner. Take heart that a counter-offer is not a rejection. As long as the offer is on the table, you can nearly always negotiate your way to SOLD!

Schlosnagle To Seek Re-Election As F'ville Mayor

Spencer R. Schlosnagle, the mayor of Friendsville, has announced his intention to seek another term as the community's chief executive. Elected in the mid-1980s at the age of 21, Schlosnagle was the youngest mayor ever elected in the state of Maryland.

During his career, he has served on numerous boards and committees. He is the past president of the Governor's Youth Advisory Council, and has served as Garrett County's municipal representative to the Tri-County Council of Western Maryland Inc. He is a member of the Grace Lutheran Church and past president of the church council.

The mayor has served on the American Red Cross board of directors, the American Heart Association, the Democratic Central Committee for Garrett County, and the Friendsville Town Council.

He currently serves as an advisory member of the Garrett County Development Corporation and is a member of the Garrett County Municipalities Inc. board of directors.

In Schlosnagle's tenure as mayor, a number of projects have been completed. The mayor cited cooperation of the town council, citizens, and various organizations, as well as county and state agencies, as major components in achieving many of the goals.

The local water and waste water treatment plants, which were once owned and operated by the town, were improved and upgraded with more than $1 million in state and federal grant money.

"This accomplishment would not have been possible without local letters of support and a local lobbying campaign, during which I hand-delivered information to Annapolis and Washington in support of our community," the mayor said.

He said state and federal grants have been obtained for the development and construction of the Friendsville Head Start Center and at the Friendsville Community/Senior Center. He said local senior citizens traveled to Annapolis to lobby legislators for support of the grant funding.

"We have one of the most beautiful community parks in the tri-state area, which was purchased and developed with Program Open Space funding, as well as through a lot of volunteer labor," Schlosnagle said. In the past year, the town was awarded $177,100 for new projects in the park, through grants written by council members. A new tennis court and eight "life trail wellness stations" were added.

"Despite our relatively small size, the fact that our town has received these numerous grant monies should be a source of pride and accomplishment for all the citizens of Friendsville," Schlosnagle said. "We are building hope and prosperity in our town, and as the mayor, I promise to continue what we have begun."

The mayor played a role in establishing the Friendship Heights apartment complex, which he said increased the town's population, making it the fourth largest municipality in Garrett County. The local tax rate has lowered 8% since Schlosnagle took office, he noted. He said the town's general revenue fund is the strongest it has ever been, and it is his goal to keep the community fiscally sound.

Each year Schlosnagle appoints a committee to oversee tree beautification projects, which are done in conjunction with the Department of Natural Resources. Last year the town received the DNR PLANT (People Loving and Nurturing Trees) Green Level Award. This year the town will be applying for the Tree City USA Community Award.

The town has a Community Legacy strategic plan in place, the mayor said, which is helping to foster a "vibrant small hometown atmosphere in which a business can thrive."

The Friendsville Area Business Association (FABA) was formed under the mayor's leadership. The group involves local business leaders who meet on a regular basis to support and complement each other in fostering growth.

Schlosnagle noted the biannual "Clean Up, Paint Up Week" in the town, held in the spring and fall and during which residents are encouraged to spruce up their properties.

"Conscientious of both environmental and public health concerns, the town contracts with a scrap metal recycler to collect old appliances and recyclable metal items at no cost to the residents," the mayor said.

During the Christmas holidays, the mayor said that in addition to the work done by the Friendsville Community Watch, the members of which decorated the town tree with bows dedicated to the honor or memory of loved ones, the town helps with decorations, and that there is a Christmas decorating committee now, with plans to purchase new decorations this year. He also noted his support of the many civic and service organizations that all work for the benefit of the town.

"This administration from the very beginning has worked to build, strengthen, and unify our community," Schlosnagle said. "We are headed in the right direction for a bright future for all of our citizens. My desire is to follow through with my goals for the betterment of Friendsville."

Adorable Adoptables

HAS A SWEET DISPOSITION is how a Humane Society spokesperson describes this young female hound, pictured at left. The canine is housed at the Garrett County Animal Shelter and is looking for a new home. Also available for adoption is a grey long-haired male cat and a small Australian shepherd mix that has been at the shelter for two weeks. "Come and meet her and the other homeless pets we have. Also, if you care about your pet, please put an ID tag on it. Only one dog has been adopted in the last two weeks, yet dogs continue to be brought in and never reclaimed. Remember to adopt from a shelter or rescue and give a pet a second chance." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553.

Medicines Prescribed for Psoriasis

Psoriasis is a chronic skin condition in which there is rapid turnover of cells. Health researchers have determined that inappropriate functioning of the immune system leads to this condition. A type of white blood cell known as the T cell becomes overactive, leading to rapid cell turnover. A build-up of skin cells results in thick silvery scales. The scales may cover red patches of skin. Other symptoms of psoriasis may include dry skin, thickened nails, and stiff joints. The severity of this condition may range from only a small affected area to a large area of scaling. Factors that may trigger T cell malfunction include infections, injury, stress, and certain drugs, such as lithium and certain medications for high blood pressure.

Topical steroids are prescribed for the treatment of mild to moderate psoriasis. They work by slowing cell turnover, thereby reducing inflammation. Calcipotriene is a vitamin D analogue prescribed as a cream, ointment, or solution for the treatment of psoriasis. For treatment of severe psoriasis, oral or injected medications may be prescribed. Methotrexate, azathioprine, and cyclosporine are oral drugs that may be prescribed to reduce inflammation. Immune modulator drugs, such as etanercep and infliximab, are sometimes given.

LWV THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Voters' Guide for Maryland's Primary Elections Scheduled For Tuesday, February 12

ABOUT THIS VOTERS' GUIDE

This Voters' Guide is published by the Garrett County League of Women Voters, courtesy of The Republican. The league has a long tradition of publishing the verbatim responses of candidates to questions important to voters.

The league offers this Voters' Guide to assist citizens in their decision-making process as they prepare for participation in Maryland's presidential primary elections, scheduled for next Tuesday, Feb. 12. The League of Women Voters does not support or oppose any candidate or political party.

All candidates were invited to provide biographical information and responses to five issue specific questions. Responses were limited to 50 words and truncated after the 50th word. If a candidate did not respond by the deadline, "No Response Received" is printed.

The presidential candidates who have announced their withdrawals have done so after the deadline for withdrawing in Maryland. Therefore all eight Democrats and nine Republicans who were certified by the Secretary of State will be on Maryland ballots Feb. 12. However, only bios and responses for viable candidates remaining after "Super Tuesday" (Feb. 5) are printed in this guide.

For President...

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE QUESTIONS

1. Fossil Fuels: What should be done, if anything, at the federal level to reduce our use of and dependence on fossil fuels?

2. Iraq and the Middle East: What should be our short-term and long-term goals in Iraq and the Middle East?

3. Health Coverage: What should the federal government do, if anything, to ensure that every American has health coverage?

4. Campaign Spending Limits: Please explain why you do or do not support setting spending limits for political campaigns and providing a set amount of public funding for all candidates who agree to take no private contributions.

Immigration: What should the federal government do about immigration?

HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON

Web Site: hillaryclinton.eom

BIOGRAPHY. Hillary Rodham Clinton. 60, graduated from Wellesley College in 1969 and Yale Law School in 1973. She was the First Lady of Arkansas from 1979 to 1981 and the First Lady of the United States from 1993 to 2001. She has represented New York in the U.S. Senate since 2000.

FOSSIL FUELS: Hillary's plan to move our country toward energy independence has three big goals: to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by 80 percent from 1990 levels by 2050: to cut foreign oil imports by two-thirds from projected levels by 2030; and to transform our carbon-based economy into an efficient green economy.

IRAQ AND THE MIDDLE EAST: Hillary will end the war in Iraq. She will replace our troops with a new diplomatic initiative to restore stability to Iraq and the region. She will ensure that America plays a constructive and engaged role in a renewed Middle East peace process.

HEALTH COVERAGE: Hillary has a plan to ensure quality, affordable health care for all Americans. Under her plan, individuals will get a tax credit to help pay for premiums; insurance companies won't be able to discriminate based on pre-existing conditions; and people won't lose coverage if they switch or lose their jobs.

CAMPAIGN SPENDING LIMITS: Hillary will work to move our country to a public financing system that is both fair and effective. It is the only real solution to reducing the influence of money in politics, and she will help pass and sign into law a meaningful, fair, and comprehensive public financing system.

IMMIGRATION: Hillary supports comprehensive immigration reform that includes strengthening our borders; placing stronger sanctions on employers, supporting family reunification; and providing a path to earned legalization for people who have been living in the United States respecting the law, learning English, and willing to meet a high bar.

BARACK OBAMA

Web Site: barackobama.corn

BIOGRAPHY. Obama began his career as a community organization on Chicago's South Side and headed a voter registration drive. Obama practiced civil rights law and taught constitutional law. He served eight years in the State Senate before his election to the U.S. Senate. He graduated from Columbia University and Harvard Law.

FOSSIL FUELS: Obama supports a bold market-based cap-and-trade system to reduce dependence on foreign oil and combat climate change. Obama will also dramatically increase investment in clean energy technologies and energy efficiency. He proposes increasing fuel efficiency standards, biofuels, electricity from renewable sources, and a low carbon fuel standard.

IRAQ AND THE MIDDLE EAST: Obama opposed the war in Iraq from the beginning. He will end it by withdrawing our combat troops over 16 months, calling a new constitutional convention, and urging Iraq's neighbors to work towards stability. Obama seeks a two-state solution – Israel and Palestine living side by side in peace and security.

HEALTH COVERAGE: Obama will sign universal health legislation by the end of his first term, ensuring all Americans have high-quality, affordable coverage. His plan will save a typical American family up to $2,500 annually, modernize our health care system to contain costs and improve quality; and promote prevention and public health.

CAMPAIGN SPENDING LIMITS: Obama strongly supports public financing of elections and does not accept any campaign donations from federal lobbyists or PACs. Ohama has co-sponsored legislation that would create a voluntary system to provide full public funding for candidates who agree to spending limits.

IMMIGRATION: Obama supports comprehensive immigration reform that strengthens border security; fixes our broken immigration bureaucracy; and creates a responsible path to citizenship that requires undocumented immigrants to pay a fine, learn English, follow the law, and go to the back of the line.

REPUBLICANS

JOHN McCAIN

Web Site: johnmccain.com

BIOGRAPHY: Graduating from the Naval Academy, John McCain began his service to his country as a naval aviator and spent over five years as a prisoner of war in North Vietnam. After serving in the House of Representatives, he was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1986, where he currently serves.

FOSSIL FUELS: I believe that strengthening our energy security goes hand-in-hand with addressing global climate change. I favor a market-based, cap and trade system to achieve appropriate limits on greenhouse gas emissions efficiently and effectively. Under that system, every firm will have clear rewards to diversifying our energy mix.

IRAQ AND THE MIDDLE EAST: Two generations of Americans have fought wars in Iraq; we cannot condemn a third to the same fate by letting that country become a failed state in which we must again intervene. Anchoring Iraq in a stable, prosperous region must be the purpose of American strategy in the Middle East.

HEALTH COVERAGE: The problem with American health care is not one of quality, but one of cost. I have proposed a health care plan that addresses the escalating cost of health care to ensure more American families can afford access to the finest health care system in the world.

CAMPAIGN SPENDING LIMITS: There will always be money in politics, but I firmly believe we need to have a balance that prevents special interests from using their combined billions of dollars to buy influence in a way that undermines the ability of representatives to fairly represent the interests of all their constituents.

IMMIGRATION: If we have learned anything from the recent immigration debate, it is that Americans have lost trust that their government will take the measures necessary to secure our borders. As president, I will secure our nation's borders before addressing any of our additional pressing immigration concerns.

RON PAUL

Web Site: ronpaul2008.com

BIOGRAPHY. Congressman Ron Paul is serving his tenth term in the U.S. House of Representatives. Dr. Paul has delivered more than 4,000 babies as an OB/GYN. He has been married to his wife Carol for over 50 years, and they have five children, 18 grandchildren. and one great-grandchild.

FOSSIL FUELS: I will work to restore a free market in energy and to repeal federal regulations and taxes that impede the development of new energy sources. Erase the federally-mandated advantage, and the alternatives market will flourish. Internalizing the cost of pollution on polluters will result in cleaner, safer alternatives.

IRAQ AND THE MIDDLE EAST: Our goal m Iraq should be immediate withdrawal. I will consult with military officials and let them conduct this withdrawal as safely as possible. Our long-term goal should be trade and diplomacy with all Middle Eastern nations, along with a complete cessation of any interference in their internal affairs.

HEALTH COVERAGE: Government health care means long waiting periods, lack of choice, and poor quality. Many Canadians, fed up with socialized medicine, come to the U.S. to obtain care. By removing federal regulations, encouraging competition, and presenting real choices, we can make our health care system the envy of the world again.

CAMPAIGN SPENDING LIMITS: It is unconstitutional to limit political speech, including capping the amount Americans can contribute to political campaigns or causes. Public financing of campaigns will inevitably lead to bureaucrats deciding which candidates are worthy of public support, thus increasing the government's ability to shut out dissenting views from the political process

IMMIGRATION: My six-point immigration plan is to (1) Physically secure our borders (2) Enforce visa rules (3) Not allow amnesty (4) Provide no welfare for those here illegally (5) End birthright citizenship and (6) Create true reform that is fair for all.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION DELEGATE SELECTION

Maryland has a total of 34 delegates and 34 alternates to the 2008 Republican National Convention. Each of the eight Congressional Districts in Maryland elects three delegates and three alternates to the convention. The State Central Committee selects 10 at-large delegates and 10 alternates. Only registered Republicans may vote in their Primary.

For Congress...

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE QUESTIONS

1. Immigration – What reforms do you support/advocate to deal with immigration problems?

2. U.S. Military – What should be the military role of the U.S. in the world?

3. Deficit – How would you resolve the imbalance between revenues and expenditures?

Frederick

BIOGRAPHY. I have balanced a government budget, improved public safety, completed transportation projects, and passed legislation. I have been a small-business owner for more than 20 years and served four years as mayor of Frederick. I am uniquely qualified to help secure a balanced budget, a strong economy, fair regulations, and fair treatment for residents.

IMMIGRATION: I support stronger border enforcement to include more border patrol agents and technology. I support revising visa process to reward those who have followed the process and increasing targeted work visas. I support a system that allows employers to verify visa status for non-residents. I support immediate deportation of violent... criminals who are here illegally.

MILITARY ROLE: To protect and defend the United States, our citizens and our allies. To complement the diplomatic efforts of the United States and our allies that promote peace and international understanding. To respond to international humanitarian crises.

DEFICIT: Invest in the next generation of economic growth (green technologies). Stop giving tax cuts to people who don't need them (wealthiest 2%). Stop protecting industries that fight common sense reform (insurance, energy and auto). Stop pork-barrel spending and make members of Congress debate the merits of earmarks.

BIOGRAPHY: My experience as a veteran, health care worker, Business System Analyst and current member of Washington County Democratic Central Committee provides me with a strong toolset. My skills of consensus building, listening, problem solving and leadership have been honed in diverse settings, giving me a unique set of qualifications.

IMMIGRATION: I advocate reform that secures all borders, north, south, east and west. Including tracking entry and exit to the country; increasing legal visas while maintaining security; punishing corporations severely who hire illegals; ending document fraud; and creating a path to citizenship with a requirement to learn English and without amnesty.

MILITARY ROLE: The US military role should be fust and foremost to protect the US constitution and its citizens. Its might should only be called upon only if all diplomacy has failed. The military should be available to aid in international disaster relief efforts and assist internationally where democracy is in jeopardy.

DEFICIT: By reexamining federal programs that are currently funded to ensure budget expenditures are in line with the needs of the nation. By ensuring oversight of discretionary spending, tax policies and programs and weeding out ineffective or outdated programs. I would look to reduce spending where possible.

ANDREW DUCK

BIOGRAPHY: I have a Bachelors Degree in Public Administration. Twenty years in the Army, including three deployments to Bosnia and time on the ground in Iraq have given me national security experience. I have worked as a stockbroker and done graduate study in economics, which prepared me to handle economic issues.

IMMIGRATION: We must begin by enforcing the existing law. The current law, which fines employers who hire illegal immigrants, is not being enforced. Enforcing the law would shut off the magnet which is causing the problem. I support improving border security by hiring more border patrolmen and equipping them with appropriate surveillance equipment.

MILITARY ROLE: When I left Bosnia in 2000, we were the world's only remaining military superpower, and the moral leader for the world. We must restore the respect we have lost since then. We should use diplomacy first, and use our military to support diplomatic efforts, not in place of them.

DEFICIT: We must first reduce spending, which has grown 30 percent in the past six years. We should roll back the tax cuts for persons earning over $200,000, not increase taxes on persons earning less than that. Limit the Alternative Minimum Tax to the top two percent of taxpayers permanently.

LARRY SMITH

BIOGRAPHY. B.S. Political Science, B.S. Philosophy, M. Ed. Administration and Supervision, FSU, UNIRC-Harvard University, Public School Teacher, Assistant Principal, and Principal with service to children, families, and teachers. I am the candidate that can and will repair NCLB. Third generation military veteran, testified before MD legislative committees, fought big utilities before MDPSC.

IMMIGRATION: Seal US-Mexican border. Those entering the US legally and overstay their visas, are breaking the law, we must enforce the law. We do nothing to make sure that when visitor's visas expire they leave our country. We must kick out those people who have no right to be here. Period.

MILITARY ROLE: To protect US security interests at home and abroad. Work with other nations for security against aggression; destroy those who have killed our citizens with impunity. Our military strength is not an end but a means to protect the rule of law that will build international trust, respect and hope.

DEFICIT: Reduce tax burden on our hardworking middle class families and small businesses. Close corporate tax loopholes for rich corporate elite and force them to pay their fair share of taxes. End lobbyist written legislation and corporate influence that has made the middle class the target of our lawmakers in Washington.

RICK LANK

BIOGRAPHY. Boston University, George Washington University, including International Health Care Policy Institute. Organized two Aging Events: recognized by the White House Conference on Aging (WHCoa), one in Washington County: 2005. Conducted programs: Heritage Tourism, A/P History in Washington Co. Currently with Grey Goes Green, consultants in renewable energy and retrofitting for energy conservation; active in Sixth.

IMMIGRATION: Follow the recommendation of Senator Dodd, which would impose Tariffs on employers who hire illegals. Would provide incentives (both positive rewards and some punitive actions) to encourage illegal immigrants to seek to become U.S. Citizens. Would tighten the border and strengthen the INS.

MILITARY ROLE: Congress should follow Constitution and declare War before committing troops to the ground (not done since WWII). Policy should not permit pre-emptive strikes. To end Iraqi war, elect a Democratic President or consider reinstating Draft. I will introduce legislation "War Declaration and Appropriations Act" to require third-party due diligence – "so we don't get fooled again!"

DEFICIT: Government can run and thrive with some level of debt. Balanced budgets have rarely existed in recent years. Excessive debt (measured against the GNP) must be curtailed. We must evaluate where we borrow money from (such as China) and evaluate these relationships and "refinance" national debt to more advantageous lenders.

REPUBLICANS

ROSCOE BARTLETT

BIOGRAPHY: I have been re-elected by Sixth District voters because I use my expertise as a scientist, engineer, professor, farmer, and small business owner to support practical solutions. Voters trust my consistent voting record for lower taxes, less spending, fewer regulations, to protect life and Americans' Constitutional rights.

IMMIGRATION: Our immigration system is broken. I have voted against and oppose amnesty for illegal aliens. I support legislation to secure America's borders and improve enforcement of existing laws against illegal immigration. I have initiated innovative collaborative enforcement efforts with state and local governments to identify and deport violent illegal immigrants.

MILITARY ROLE: In an era of global terrorism, ensuring America's national security is the fundamental responsibility of the federal government. If we don't get that right, nothing else might matter. This requires strengthening and modernizing our Armed Forces because history teaches that we can only secure peace through strength.

DEFICIT: Entitlements, such as Social Security and Medicare, make up two-thirds of federal spending. One third is all other "discretionary" spending. I consistently vote for less spending to reduce the deficit which is the amount we borrow from our kids and grandkids to pay for the government we have today.

TOM CROFT

BIOGRAPHY: I am a graduate of Hagerstown Community College and Shepherd University. I was a Business Analyst for Dun & Bradstreet. I owned an Advertising agency in Rockville, MD for 13 years. At present I teach Advanced Web Design & Animation for Frederick County Public Schools.

IMMIGRATION: It does not matter what country you are from France, Germany, Mexico, Canada, England, if you are in this country illegally you should leave. Low paying immigrant wages are hurting our economy. The support thru county services, health care and schools does not come close to matching the goods and services received from illegal aliens.

MILITARY ROLE: At present we are the leading military power in the world and have an obligation to maintain the peace. However, in the years to come this will change as our fortunes and circumstances change and as that happens we will have to scale back and let other share in attempting to keep peace in the world.

DEFICIT: We need to cut back on expenditures. We need a true balanced budget that allows the U.S. to only spend what it takes in without the usual special bookkeeping that Congress uses to balance its books. We need to remove or change the Prescription Drug plan that was forced thru Congress several years ago. The GAO has stated that this plan and not Social Security will bankrupt this country in the next 10 years.

JOHN B. KIMBALL

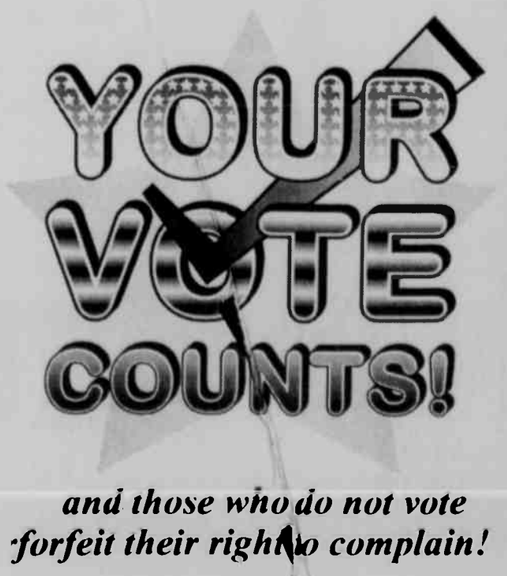
BIOGRAPHY. I am a member in good standing of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America (Also known as the ATLA), the National Rifle Association, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Defenders of Wildlife, the Sierra Club and the Southern Poverty Law Center where Kimble is on the Leadership Council.

IMMIGRATION: I support English as our official language, a Constitutional Amendment that makes only U.S. born citizens able to vote in presidential and congressional elections and I want to send all illegal aliens home. I also propose taxing all income that illegal aliens and aliens send overseas. It is time to... save America from the invasion of immigrants.

MILITARY ROLE: The U.S. military is a mighty force that should be used not as a police force but conquering force that will beat the enemy into total capitulation. The U.S. won the war in Iraq but the occupation is not going well and it has become a religious war.... It is time to bring "them home gracefully."

JOSEPH T. KRYSZTOFORSKI

BIOGRAPHY. My career spans over 30 years in education, healthcare, banking, financial services, the political arena, community service and emergency management. My professional experience transcends disciplines and my management background includes negotiating, budgeting, planning, problem solving, building teams, encouraging cooperation, making tough decisions, and setting goals to achieve results.



IMMIGRATION: We need to define a policy establishing a balance between national security, economic reality and worker protection. Immigrants must understand there are consequences associated with their illegal entry. We must enforce all immigration laws and impose strict penalties on those already in this country Ilegally. Amnesty is not the solution!

MILITARY ROLE: In 2005 reconstruction become a core part of military operations extending the military's role to areas of governance, infrastructure rebuilding, and restoration of commerce. This role, usually the province of the State Department, must be revaluated. The focus of the military must solely be on the defense of the country.

DEFICIT: The only way this can be accomplished is to increase revenue, and inevitably, the only way to increase revenue and reduce the deficit without increasing taxes is to cut government spending on unnecessary programs, departments and excessive irresponsible earmarks. Actions our representatives in Congress are reluctant to act upon.

FRANK NETHKEN

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION DELEGATE SELECTION

Maryland has a total of 99 delegates and 15 alternates to the 2008 Democratic National Convention. Forty-six of these delegates and eight of the alternates are elected by the Congressional District in which they reside, for a total of half each men and women. The State Central Committee appoints the remainder as at-large. Only registered Democrats may vote in their primary.

CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH MONTH

GOOD ORAL HEALTH STARTS EARLY

by Cynthia A. Heselbach, RDH
Garrett County Health Department

Did you know that dental decay is the most common chronic disease found in children – that is five times more common than asthma? Or that more than 51 million school hours are lost because of dental related problems each year?

According to the Centers for Disease Control, more than 40 percent of 5-year-olds in the United States have cavities in their baby teeth. This is a problem because baby teeth are the foundation for healthy adult teeth. And, the poor oral health that can lead to cavities in children can also lead to low self-esteem, and problems with speaking, eating, and concentrating

Good oral health starts early and is important for both mother and child. Pregnant women who have untreated tooth decay are more likely to give birth prematurely and have babies with low birth weights.

"Baby teeth are important and should be cared for from the start; a child should see a dentist when his or her first tooth appears, or by his or her first birthday," said Rodney Glotfelty, Garrett County health officer. "And since children learn their oral health and dietary habits from parents and caregivers, it's especially important that parents lead by example and practice good oral health habits."

Elementary school age children can discover the power of a healthy smile with MouthPower® Online, an entertaining and innovative Web site sponsored by the National Museum of Dentistry and the American Dental Association. Children can explore an interactive online laboratory to learn how to keep their smiles sparkling. They can learn how to brush and floss, make healthy food choices, and steer clear of the pitfalls of tobacco. After completing the program that entails "earning" teeth, children can download a personalized certificate. The program is available at www.MouthPower.org. Check it out!

For more information about oral health programs and services available in Maryland and in your local area, visit the Office of Oral Health's Web site at: www.gha.state.md.us/oralhealth/ or call the Dental Care Center at the Garrett County Health Department: 301-334-7660.

Tips for Preventing Dental Decay in Your Child

•Use a wet cloth to wipe your baby's gums after each feeding.

•Use a soft toothbrush or cotton swab to clean your baby's teeth daily.

•Do not put your baby to bed with a bottle filled with sugary liquids or dip your baby's pacifier in soda or sugary drinks.

•Schedule your child's first dental visit by his/her first birthday.

•Provide your child with healthy snacks like fruit, vegetables, and cheese. Give him/her juice only at meal times, not throughout the day.

•Assist your child with brushing and flossing until he/she is 6 or 7 years of age, using a small pea-sized amount of toothpaste. Encourage him/her to spit out the toothpaste instead of swallowing. Make the routine fun for your child!

•Ask your child's dentist about the use of fluoride supplements.

•Ask about dental sealants when your child's permanent teeth come in.

ACCIDENT

•A public hearing was held on Tuesday, Feb. 5, to hold the first reading of Accident's Bond Counsel Ordinance, as required for the water tank project. The Intent to Reimburse Resolution 2008-1 was also read and passed, as required by Bond Counsel.

•The annual town convention was also held on Tuesday to accept nominations for the upcoming election. Incumbent Kelley S. Fratz and Edward J. Golden will be on the ballot for the annual town municipal election, to be held on Tuesday, March 4. The polls will be open from 4 to 8 p.m. at the town hall. The election is held, according to the town charter, to elect two new council members.

•At the regular monthly town meeting, Clay Riley from Thrasher Engineering was present to report that USDA has given the town the "go-ahead" to advertise for bids for the water tank.

•The bids will be opened on Tuesday, March 11, at the town hall. Clay also told the council that the Phase 1-B plans are ready to be submitted to USDA and MDE. Mayor Carlson signed the needed permit applications.

•Garrett County commissioner Ernie Gregg and county administrator Monty Pagenhardt were present for their annual visit. Several matters were discussed pertaining to the town and county.

•The council held the second reading and adoption of Water and Sewer Rate Ordinance Amendment 2008-1 setting new rates for new water and sewer taps, effective Feb. 5.

•The next town meeting will be held on Thursday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall.

The Arts

THE MARSH FAMILY BAND will present a concert on Sunday, Feb. 10, at Garrett 8 Cinemas, Deep Creek Lake, at 9:30 a.m. The concert is sponsored by Crossroads Church. The Marsh Family has been in the full time music ministry for over 12 years in West Virginia, Maryland, and Indiana. They have recently returned to western Maryland and will be performing a variety of music including inspirational country, contemporary worship, and southern gospel. The concert is free and open to all ages. For more information, persons may call 304-599-2341 or visit www.marshministries.org. Pictured from left are Gary Willmon, Dave Marsh, Patty Marsh, David Marsh, and Gabe Saporito.

• Mountain Mad[e] Artisan [Gal]lery, locat[ed] along [Va]las Road in Thomas, [W.Va.] hosting a photography exhibit by artist Mary Ann Honcharik of Dryfork, W.Va.

After retiring to West Virginia with her husband in 1994, Honcharik pursued her love of the outdoors, the natural sciences, photography and the arts, a spokesperson said. She maps and photographs areas of West Virginia, with an emphasis on the Dolly Sods, Blackwater Falls, and Bear Rocks areas.

Her first photos were sold at the Leaf Peepers Festival in Davis, W.Va., in 2004, where she won first place in three categories.

Using a GPS (global positioning system) and a digital camera, the artist processes each image in Adobe Photoshop CS3. She does her own printing, matting, and framework with acid-free materials.

Honcharik said her goal is "to capture and convey the uniqueness and beauty of this region in all its seasons and moods."

The Mountain Made Artisan Gallery is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, persons may call 304-463-3355.

Writers' Guild To Meet Wednesday

The Wednesday Writers' Guild will meet Feb. 13 from 7 until 9 p.m. in the Oakland Town Hall meeting room.

The group meets the second Wednesday of each month. Members critique each others' poems, short stories, and works-in-progress. New writers and members are always welcome.

For more information, persons may e-mail Tom Pessini at tpessini@qcol.net.

Theatre On The Lake Announces Summer Season

The TOTL (Theatre on the Lake) Theatre Company is gearing up for its third summer season at Garrett College in McHenry, set for July 10 through August 9. Under the artistic direction of Lynn Broderick, the 2008 season will consist of The Taming of the Shrew, a comedy by William Shakespeare; The Miracle Worker, by William Gibson; and Little Women, a musical version by Jason Howland, Mindi Dickson, and Allen Knee.

The Taming of the Shrew, which will open the season on July 10, is a rollicking "comedy of the sexes," said Broderick, a timeless play that centers on the handsome and boisterous Petruchio who, determined to find a wife with an enormous dowry, travels to Padua. There he meets Baptista, a wealthy citizen with two eligible daughters: the beautiful demure Bianca and the strong-willed Kate. Because Baptista will not let other suitors woo Bianca until Kate is married off, Petruchio sets out to tame the feisty yet beautiful Kate. Success is ultimately his, but not without some bumps and bruises along the way. Performances will be presented July 10-12 and 16-19 at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

The award-winning drama The Miracle Worker, set in the 1880s, chronicles the early life of Helen Keller. Deaf and blind following a childhood illness, Helen is thought to be unteachable until the arrival of Annie Sullivan. The Keller family patiently yet skeptically observes the tenacious teacher who "opens" Helen's eyes and ears to words.

"This is a play the entire family will enjoy because it embraces the American spirit full of determination and tenacity," Broderick said. Performances will be July 23-27 at 7:30 p.m.

Little Women, a Broadway musical version based on Louis May Alcott's beloved novel, will be the final production of the season. The musical follows the Marsh sisters through their years of growing up during the Civil War. With their father away tending to wounded soldiers, the women's lives are crisscrossed with family challenges, adoring gentlemen, and a feisty neighbor whose generosity saves them from boredom and insecurity.

"With beautiful soaring music, the story is a timeless piece of America literature perfectly suited for the entire family," said Broderick.

TOTL SUMMER SEASON ANNOUNCED – The TOTL (Theatre on the Lake) Theatre Company has announced its production line-up for the summer season. The Taming of the Shrew, a comedy by William Shakespeare, The Miracle Worker by William Gibson, and a musical version of Little Women will be presented on the Garrett College stage for the 2008 season, which will run from July 10 through Aug. 9. Pictured are members of last year's cast, most of whom will return this summer. From left, kneeling, are: Haley Metz, Meghan Broderick, Adam Sincell, and Sara Sincell. Standing, second row, are: Elizabeth Wotring-Nelson, Rebecca (Wotring) Speakman, Leah Broderick, director Lynn Broderick, Nate Golden, and Kristina Szilagyi. In the back row are: Ryan Hardesty, Evan Hardesty, Josh Adili, and Karlo Gesner. See story.

Performances are slated for July 30 and 31, and August 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, and 9 at 7:30 p.m.

The TOTL Theatre Company comprises professional actors, musicians, and technicians from Garrett and Preston counties, and has been in residence at Garrett College for three years. A full history and biographies of the current company members are available on its web site: totltheatre.com.

All performances are held in the Garrett College auditorium.

Season tickets are $25 and may be purchased by filling out the coupon that appears in today's paper and mailing it to The TOTL Theatre Company, Route 1 Box 69A, Aurora, WV 26705. Season tickets may also be ordered via the TOTL web site: totltheatre.com. Season tickets will be mailed in return with full instructions on how to reserve a specific performance date in July and August with a season ticket pass. Reservations will be taken beginning July 1 by calling the TOTL Theatre Company at 304-680-1002 daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., but first priority seating will be given to season ticket holders. General admission for the musical will be $10, and $8 for non-musicals.

Grant Writing Seminars To Be Hosted By GCAC

The Garrett County Arts Council is currently accepting applications for grants to support arts programs in Garrett County between July 1, 2008, and June 30, 2009. The annual application deadline is March 21. Two one-hour grant writing seminars have been scheduled for potential applicants on Feb. 19 to answer questions and provide tips on preparing effective applications.

Grants are awarded annually to qualifying nonprofit organizations through two categories of funding General Operating Grants are awarded to arts organizations applying for funding for two or more public programs scheduled within a single fiscal year.

Project Grants are awarded to arts organizations applying for funding for only one public arts program each fiscal year or to non-arts organizations presenting one or more arts programs to the general public.

Last year, the council awarded over $35,000 in funding support to 17 qualifying Garrett County organizations, according to Steve Schlosnagle, executive director of the arts council.

Applicants must adhere to established guidelines and submit formal applications to be considered for funding. Guidelines and application forms are available by contacting the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580 or going online to garrettarts@earthlink.net.

Both grant-writing seminars will be held at the Visitors Center in McHenry. Prior registration with the arts council is required.

The first seminar, scheduled to begin at 1 p.m., will address issues and questions pertaining to Project Grant applications. The second seminar, beginning at 2:30 p.m., will focus on the preparation and review of General Operating Grant applications.

Applicants may register by phone or e-mail by contacting the arts council at the contact information.

GLAF Seeking Teen Performers For Talent Show

The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival is accepting applications for participation in its March 14 talent show, sponsored by Total Biz Fulfillment. Auditions for "Garrett County's Best... The Ultimate Teen Talent Show" will be held Friday, Feb. 22, at 5:30 p.m. at the Garrett College auditorium.

Garrett County youth ages 13 to 19 are invited to participate. Acts may include singing, dancing, instrumental, drama, and variety. Bands may also participate.

Application forms are available at the school offices of Northern and Southern middle and high schools. They are also available at the GLAF office and online at www.artsandentertainment.org.

There is a $5 application fee for each act presented. Application forms and fees are due no later than Wednesday, Feb. 20. They may be turned into the school offices or mailed directly to GLAF, 687 Mosser Road, McHenry, MD 21541.

Only the top acts from the audition will be selected to perform at the March 14 talent show. Selection is at the sole discretion of GLAF and the talent show committee, a spokesperson said. A participant's audition performance must be identical to the talent show performance with no alterations. Musical accompaniment (background music only) must be on a CD. No cassette tapes will be accepted, according to the spokesperson.

Acts participating in the talent show will be judged by the audience, with cash prizes awarded to the top-placed performances. The dress rehearsal will be held Wednesday, March 12, at 5:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

For further information, persons may contact the GLAF office at 301-387-3082, or go online at the address noted above.

In addition to Total Biz Fulfillment, GLAF season sponsors are Coldwell Banker Deep Creek Realty, First United Trust and Investments, Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, Herbert H. Leighton, M.D., Sincell Publishing Company, and Wisp Resort. The organization is also supported by gifts and grants from Howard and Audrey Naylor, the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation, National Endowment for the Arts, Pennsylvania Performing Arts on Tour, and other businesses and individuals.

COUPLE INVITES OTHERS TO PROMENADE – Mtn. Lake Park couple Dave and Liz Goldsborough recently graduated as Mountain Top Promenaders. They will welcome other potential new dancers to the group's Fun Night at Broad Ford Elementary School on Monday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. "Fun Night is an opportunity for people to give modern western square dancing a try at no cost," said a group spokesperson. "The idea is to see if they, too, will find this activity a happy evening out with good exercise." For further information, persons may call 301-334-1386.

PUPPET SHOW SPONSORED – Jubilee Junction in Friendsville recently sponsored a children's puppet show featuring J & B Puppets With a Purpose from Community Fellowship Church in Slanesville, W.Va. (pictured above) A freewill offering was taken to help support the team. The diner hosts various Christian music groups and outreaches on Fridays and Saturdays from 6 to 9 p.m. The events are free of charge, but donations are accepted for the groups. This Friday, Feb. 8, the diner will host the Holy Fire Drama Team and Judah's Cry. Other scheduled events include Pressed for Time on Saturday, Feb. 9; Darlene Coddington on Friday, Feb. 15, and Friday, Feb. 29; a family game night on Saturday, Feb. 16; and the Rainbow Gospel Band (Fike family) on Friday, Feb. 22. Rams Outdo Falcons; Use Third Quarter Shift To Beat Huskies

Hard work paid off for the Southern High School girls' basketball team this week as it handed Frankfort a 46-32 defeat, on Monday before upsetting Northern in a Wednesday evening 54-43 county contest.

Southern's Shayna Sweitzer led all scorers in Monday night's win over the Frankfort Falcons with 17 points. She was the only player for either team to move mto double figures.

The Rams held a slight 10-9 advantage after the first quarter before shooting ahead to a 24-14 lead in the second quarter. After three quarters, the score was 35-23.

Diane Dayton and Aria Whiteman each scored eight points and had six rebounds for the Falcons.

Anna Keefer and Claire Wilkinson scored 13 points, respectively, in a 40-33 win for the Southern jayvees. Morghan Snyder had 10 for Frankfort.

Both teams suffered from nerves in the opening quarter of the Northern/Southern contest Wednesday night, as the scoreboard was blank until midway through the first quarter. Southern trailed during the first half, and it may have been Coach Danny Bosley's brief locker room pep talk that sparked a third quarter turnaround for the visiting Rams.

Southern suffered its second loss of the season to the Huskies on Jan. 23 in a 58-56 home court loss. The win moves Southern to 12-3 overall, and 7-3 in the Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference.

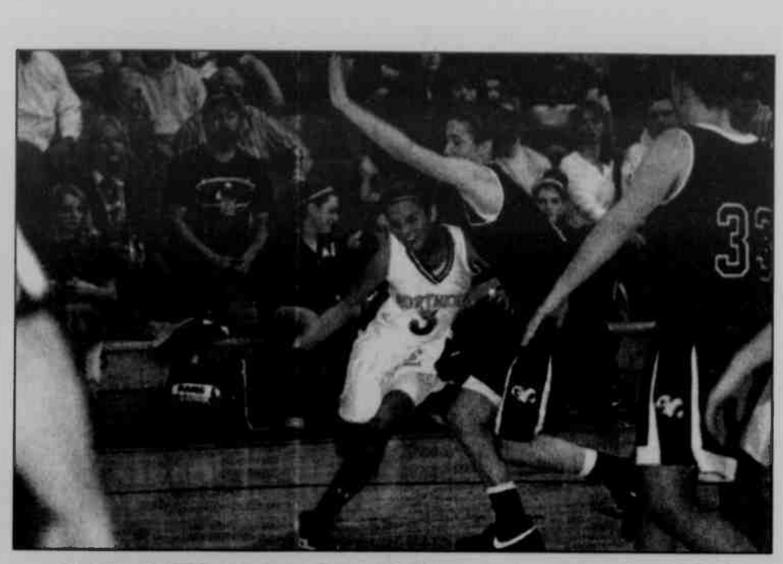
Sweitzer scored the most points for the Rams with 17, and she hit five of her eight foul shot attempts. Brittany Boyce recorded 14 points, and Kerry Conroy contributed 11 in the win. Emillee Bosley had the Rams' sole three-point bucket.

Northern (13-3, 6-3 AMAC) led by five points, 11-6, following one quarter, and was ahead 25-19 at halftime, but the Rams turned the tables and took a 39-35 lead by the end of the third stanza.

Husky Kaitlynn Fratz hit two threes and was 2-for-3 Megan Wiley added 14 from the foul line in getting points, and Justine Harvey, a game high 22 points, six.

Keefer scored 14 points in a 36-20 Southern win in jayvee action. Tarra McKenzie scored 10 for the Huskies.

See the other girls' basketball article in this section for details from Northern's schedule and previous games this week.



Southern will be on the road tonight at Keyser and Monday at Petersburg before hosting Fort Hill Wednesday night. All games have a start time of 6 p.m. for jayvees and 7:30 for the varsity teams.

Northern Girls Record Three Wins, But Fall To Rival Rams

After a sequence of wins this week, the Northern High School varsity girls' basketball team was handed a loss by county rival Southern, which was set on avenging an earlier season loss. The Huskies recorded victories over Union, 64-55 last Thursday, Mountain Ridge, 67-59, Saturday afternoon, and Bishop Walsh, 75-52, on Monday before their 54-43 loss to the visiting Rams.

Northern's successful streak began last Thursday as the Huskies recorded a 64-55 loss to host Union, with 27 points coming from Kaitlynn Fratz. Megan Wiley added 16 in the offensive effort, and Kasie Fratz had 11.

Union (9-6) was led by Brittany Jones with 17 points, Melanie Reynolds with 14, and Julie Streets with 12 points.

Northern led 16-14 after one period and had a 34-21 advantage at the half The Huskies went into the final period leading 54-42.

Kasie Fratz took her turn in leading the Huskies to a 67-59 win over homestanding Mountain Ridge Saturday afternoon with her 25 points and seven rebounds.

Other Huskies scoring in the double digits were Kaitlynn Fratz with 23 and Wiley with 10. Kasie went 8-for-10 from the foul line in the fourth quarter to pull the Huskies out of a 46-46 third quarter draw.

Northern held the upper hand at the end of each quarter, with the exception of the third quarter tie.

Danielle McGinnis and Holly Williams led the Miners in scoring with 13 and 12 points, respectively, and Jenna Delaney added nine

RAMS FINISH UNDEFEATED – The Southern High wrestling team flattened three more opponents this past week to conclude the regular season with a perfect record. Among the victims was Winters Mill High School on Saturday, over which the Rams cruised to a 56-18 victory. Also participating in the tri-match was Allegany, which Southern steamrolled by 78-6 margin. Pictured in action against Winters Mill are some of the Ram grapplers who recorded a pair of individual victories for the day. Above left, Jakob Scheffel pins Alden Chang in the 130-pound bout. Below left, Nick Brant handles Zack Downing and goes on to earn a decision in the 135-pound contest. Above center, Southern's Nick Farmer puts a bear hug on John Wahman and ultimately pinned him to win in the 171-pound division. Rams Record Three More Wins To Complete Perfect Regular Season

Perfection is what coaches and athletes strive to achieve when it comes to win-loss records, and the Southern High School wrestling team achieved regular-season perfection by whipping host Northern last Thursday, 46-15, and then crushing visiting Allegany, 78-6, and Winters Mill, 56-18, on Saturday. The trio of victories gave the Rams and their coach Dave Taylor a 14-0 record for the 2007-08 regular season, reinforcing them as the favorite to win regional and state team championships.

The Rams will host the West Regional Dual Championship next Wednesday, Feb. 13.

Individual perfection for the regular season was achieved by Ram freshman Lex Ozias, who won a close decision against Northern and won both of his matches by pins on Saturday to extend his personal record to 28-0.

Against the 8-3 Huskies, the Rams won 10 of the 14 matches.

Rams getting pins were Matt Armstrong in the 103-pound bout, Josh Arnold at 125 pounds, George Scheffel at 130, Davey Sweitzer at 145, and Sean Sisler in the heavyweight clash.

Winning by decisions for Southern were Davey Stewart in the 112-pound division, Ozias, who moved up to 119 pounds, Jakob Scheffel at 135 pounds, Nick Farmer in the 171-pound class, and Ryan Bennett at 189 pounds.

For the Huskies, Alex Ruff gained a pinfall in the 215-pound battle, while Dylan Day (140), Andy Ganoe (152), and Dustin Stough (160) were all winners by decision.

The Huskies came into the match having rolled over host Fort Hill the previous evening. (See other story.)

In Saturday's match against Winters Mill, Southern grapplers who won via pinfalls were Ozias back at the 112-pound spot, Jakob Scheffel in the 130-pound division, Kody Lewis in the 160-pound bout, Farmer at 171 pounds, Bennett at 189 pounds, and Sisler in the heavyweight division.

George Scheffel recorded a technical fall to win the 125-pound clash, while Arnold (119), Nicholas Brant (135), and Jordan Skipper (145) were all winners on points.

Southern's Armstrong (103) was awarded a forfeit.

Gus Mohlhenrick (140), Willie Sharkey (152), and Joe Camlin (215) recorded pins for Winters Mill.

In the lopsided victory over Allegany, Rams who won on pins were Ozias, Armstrong, Arnold, both Scheffels, Lee Custer (135), Brant, Lewis, Farmer, Bennett, and Sisler.

Skipper and Sweitzer (152) won on forfeits.

Only Jake Twigg earned points for the Campers, as he garnered a pin in the 215-pound division.

Next Wednesday's regional dual tournament will begin at 5:30 p.m. at Southern.

GETTING THE WIN – It took a period of overtime, but when the dust settled, the Garrett College Lakers came out victorious with an 83-81 edge over visiting Rockville Saturday evening. Lakers Hang On To Defeat Montgomery Rockville In OT

A 31-point scoring performance by Montgomery Rockville's Bilal Baisa was overcome by the Garrett College men's basketball team Saturday afternoon, as the Lakers eked out an 83-81 Maryland JUCO Conference victory in overtime.

The victory improved Garrett's overall record to 15-6 and their conference mark to 9-4.

The Lakers led most of the game, holding a 35-27 advantage at intermission and building a lead of as many as 14 points early in the second half, but Rockville wiped out that lead behind the long-range shooting of Baisa and went ahead by two points, 70-68, with less than a minute to play.

Sending the contest into overtime was a two-pointer by Shawn Greenfield with just 10 seconds left in regulation.

ROCKVILLE (81)
Bilal Baisa 10 3-4 31, Tyshon Reid 2 0-0 5, Vertner Aldridge 2 0-0 5, Darren Sheffield 2 0-0 4, Donte Nicholas 4 11-14 20, John Kelly 2 1-2 5, Julian Armstrong 5 1-2 11. Totals 27 16-22 81.

GARRETT (83)
Shawn Greenfield 6 7-8 22, C.J. Glen 3 0-0 7, Dale Taylor 3 3-3 11, Mark Smith 2 0-2 4, Rico Slier 4 7-10 17, Terrance Taylor 2 0-0 4, Myron McGowan 6 0-0 16, Glen Izevbigie 1 0-3 2. Totals 27 17-26 83.

Halftime score - Garrett 35, Rockville 27. End of regulation 70-70.

Three-point goals - Rockville 10 (Briscoe 7, Reed, Aldridge, Nicholas), Garrett 12 (Greenfield 3, Glen, Taylor 2, Siler 2, McGowan 4). Total fouls - Rockville 20, Garrett 21. Fouled out - Reed (Rockville).

Greenfield led the Lakers in scoring with 22 points.

Coach Dennis Gibson's team quickly took a five-point lead in the extra period and held on for the win. Greenfield scored five of his points in the OT, and also provided a key assist, an "alley oop" pass to Dale Taylor for a monster dunk and a foul.

"The story of the game was really the great play of Shawn and also of Reco Siler, who finished with a season high of 17 points," Gibson said.

Also reaching double figures for Garrett were Myron McGowan with 16 points and Taylor, who came off the bench and netted 11.

"C.J. Glen also had his first start of the season and did a credible job running the offense and handling their press," Gibson said.

Missing from the Laker line-up were starters Joe Tressler and J.T. Lewis, both out with injuries.

Reaching the double-figure mark for Rockville besides Baisa were Donte Nicholas with 20 points and Julian Armstrong with 11.

All but eight of Baisa's points were scored in the second half. He had seven three-pointers.

"I am really proud of the way our players responded in this game," Gibson said. "This team can really be good if we can just find a way to mature in how we handle a lead."

The Lakers will host Hagerstown this evening, with the tip-off set for 7:30 p.m. They will travel to Community College of Baltimore County for a game this Saturday, host Cecil CC in a 7 p.m. game Monday, and play at Montgomery Germantown next Wednesday.

Mountain Ridge won the junior varsity game 51-42. Heather Shipe scored 16 points and Janelle Walbert had 12 in the win. Terra McKenzie scored 17, and Hannah Fike, 10, for Northern.

The Huskies built a 19-point halftime lead in Monday's contest against host Bishop Walsh, because of double-digit scoring from four Northern players.

Kaitlynn Fratz and Wiley scored 16 points apiece, Adria Graham recorded 11, and Kasie Fratz contributed 10 points in the win for Northern. Danielle Brenneman added nine points.

Northern led 19-13 after one quarter, 43-24 after two, and entered the fourth boasting a 61-40 advantage.

Taylor Butts led all scorers with 22 points, and Tricia Geiger added 10 for the Spartans.

The jayvee game went in Northern's favor, 46-38, with Morgan Brosnihan and Hanna Fike each scoring 14 points. Bishop Walsh was led by Abby Mathews, who scored 11 points.

See the other girls' basketball story in this section for details about the Huskies' loss to the Rams.

Ask Sheila

Decorating Dilemma?
Sheila offers helpful advice.

Dear Sheila:

My home is situated in the middle of 5 acres. While it is very private and we have beautiful views in every direction, that same window becomes a big black hole in the evenings. Even though we have great insulation and heating, I never get that cozy feeling that draperies can give a room. I would also like to block some of the sun during the hottest part of the day, as I have noticed some bleaching of my floors and furniture. I would definitely NOT want to block my view. Any suggestions?

High on the mountain in Alpine Lake

Dear High:

Actually I have the perfect solution. I have a product called ADO WRAP. It consists of a sheer fabric with a rolled Euro hem, is completely machine washable, and it fits over existing or new verticals. This enables you to have a view while muting the sun. When open they offer the largest view and when closed that cozy feel we all need. I have a working sample of an ADO wrap in the store along with over 200 samples. Stop in and take a look or call for an in-home appointment.

OVERTIME PRESENTS SECOND CHANCE – The Northern High School varsity boys' basketball team took advantage of an overtime period in edging visiting Hampshire, 57-53, Saturday night. The Huskies were down at the end of the first three quarters, but managed a tie in the fourth to force the extra period. Pictured above left, Zak Brosnihan (#10) makes his way up the court after gaining possession of the ball, and in the above right photo, Garrett Gulledge (#32) tips the ball into the basket. Husky Dribblers Upset Trojans, But Get Whipped By Sentinels

The Northern High School boys' varsity basketball team settled for one win and one loss in recent high school ball. It was a close one Saturday night, but the Huskies used an overtime period to edge their way to a 57-53 victory over the visiting Hampshire Trojans, but Northern slipped on Tuesday as the Fort Hill Sentinels charged ahead with an 83-57 win.

Thomas Holtschneider's basket at 13 seconds left in the fourth quarter of Saturday's contest was what forced the overtime period, giving the Huskies another chance at a victory over the Trojans. In the extra period, Northern was 6-for-8 on its foul shots, and Kory Gibson converted on two three-point baskets.

Gibson recorded four threes, 22 points, and seven rebounds over the course of the evening. Garrett Gulledge scored 19 points and grabbed eight rebounds, and Jeff Smith contributed eight points.

The Trojans led 8-7 in the first and had a 22-14 halftime advantage. Hampshire continued to lead at 35-27 going into the fourth before Northern closed the gap and forced a 45-45 tie.

Hampshire got 18 points from J.P. Binotto and 16 from Will Hughes.

Northern upset Hampshire in the jayvee game as Matt Gibson scored 18 points in the 40-35 Husky win. Caleb Hill had 11 points for the Trojans.

The Fort Hill Sentinels used an attack plan of long-range shooting to whip the Huskies, 83-57, Tuesday evening at Fort Hill.

The two teams were neck-and-neck in the first half, and Northern was about to lead with a one-point advantage at the break before Fort Hill's Ryan Brooks made a jaw-dropping, three-quarter court, three-point basket with .6 second left in the half.

Jordan Brooks was dominant in the third quarter for the Sentinels by hitting four threes, and Fort Hill led 64-41 going into the final quarter.

Jordan Brooks finished with a game-high 36 points, adding 10 two-point baskets to his four threes, and hitting four of his five free throws. Ryan Brooks and Darren Graham each finished with double-doubles and 15 points. Graham had 12 boards while Brooks had 10.

Kory Gibson carried the Huskies with 34 points. He hit 11 baskets, including two three-pointers, and converted 10 of his 11 foul shot attempts. He was the only Northern player to score in the double digits.

Matt Gibson scored 17 points to lead the jayvee Huskies to a 47-33 victory over the Sentinels. Daniels Welsh scored seven points for Fort Hill.

The Huskies (7-8) host Mountain Ridge on Friday night, starting at 6 p.m. for the junior varsity team and 7:30 for the varsity team. Northern will be on the road Tuesday at Keyser.

Husky Matmen Crush Sentinels Before Falling To Unbeaten Rams

The wrestling team of Northern High School closed rolled over host Fort Hill on Wednesday, 54-21, before falling to visiting Southern, 46-15, Thursday evening.

The Huskies were slated to have a make-up match Tuesday at home against Fairmont Senior, but no results of that match were reported.

In the easy win over Fort Hill last Wednesday, eight members of the Northern squad recorded pinfall victories. They were Kameron Kamp in the 103-pound division, Andrew Reynolds at 112 pounds, Matt Thomas in the 119-pound bout, Josh Duckworth at 125 pounds, Cory Sebold at 130 pounds, Adam Moranduzzo in the 135-pound contest, Andrew Ganoe at 152 pounds, and Jason Opel in the 171-pound clash.

Winning on points for Northern were Dustin Stough (160) and Alex Ruff (215).

Gaining pins for the Sentinels were Jacob Appel (145), Glenn Vincent (198), and Richard Lowery (285).

Details of the loss to Southern can be found in the SHS results story.

In other recent action, the Huskies placed 18th among 25 teams that competed in the annual Thomas Invitational at Bedford (Pa.) High School.

Top individual finishers for the Huskies were Andrew Ganoe (152) and Dustin Stough (160), who lost only one match and placed third in their weight divisions. Ganoe and Stough have lost only one match each this season.

Northern's Josh Duckworth (119) finished fifth, and Jason Opel (171) was seventh.

On Wed. 6 June 2007 23:35:23 - 0500 Colonel Harry Riley, USA, Ret. Wrote:

SENATORS:

Your vote against an amendment to the Immigration Bill 1348 to make English America's official language, is astounding.

On D-Day, no less, when we honor those that sacrificed in order to secure the bedrock, character and principles of America, I can only surmise your vote reflects a loyalty to illegal aliens.

I don't much care where you come from. What your religion is. Whether you're black, white, or some other color... Male or female... Democrat, Republican or Independent... But I do care when you are a United States Senator representing Citizens of America... and Vote against English as the official language of the United States.

YOUR VOTE REFLECTS BETRAYAL.

Political surrender. Violates your Pledge of Allegiance. Dishonors historical principle. Rejects patriotism. Borders on traitorous action and, in my opinion, makes you unfit to serve as a United States Senator... Impeachment... Recall... Or other appropriate action is warranted or worse.

Four of you voting against English as America's Official Language are Presidential Candidates Senator Biden, Senator Clinton, Senator Dodd and Senator Obama.

Four Senators vying to lead America, but won't or don't have the courage to cast a vote in favor of "English" as America's Official Language when 91% of American Citizens want English officially designated as our language.

This is the second time in the last several months this list of Senators have disgraced themselves as "political hacks"... unworthy as Senators and certainly unqualified to serve as President of the United States.

If America is as angry as I am, you will realize a backlash so stunning it will literally "rock you out of your panties"... and preferably totally out of the United States Senate.

The entire immigration bill is a farce... Your action only confirms this really isn't about America.... it is about self-serving politics... despicable at the best. It has been said:

"Never Argue with an Idiot... They'll drag you down to their level!"

Bayh (D-IN)	Kohl (D-WI)
Biden (D-DE) (wants to be president)	Lautenberg (D-NJ)
Bingaman (D-NM)	Leahy (D-VT)
Boxer (D-CA)	Levin (D-MI)
Cantwell (D-WA)	Lieberman (I-CT) Disappointment here...
Clinton (D-NY) (wants to be president)	Menendez (D-NJ)
Dayton (D-MN)	Mikulski (D-MD)
Dodd (D-MN) (wants to be president)	Murray (D-WA)
Domenici (R-NM) coward, Protecting his senate seat	Obama (D-IL) (wants to be president)
Durbin (D-IL)	Reed (D-RI)
Feingold (D-WI) - not unusual for him	Raid (D-NV) Senate Majority Leader
Fainstein (D-CA)	Salazar (D-CO)
Harkin (D-IA)	Sarbanes (D-MD)
Inouye (D-HI)	Schumar (D-NY)
Jeffords (I-VT)	Stabenow (D-MI)
Kannady - (D-MA)

PRESIDENT ABRAHAM LINCOLN

"Congressmen who willfully take actions during wartime that damage morale and undermine the military are saboteurs and should be arrested, exiled or hanged!!!"

PLEASE KEEP THIS GOING AROUND THE UNITED STATES 'TIL THE ELECTION!

Rams Basketball Team Marks Seventh Consecutive Victory

The Southern High School boys' varsity basketball team has picked up its momentum within the past couple weeks and has gone from more losses than wins to the other way around. The Rams improved their season record to 9-6 after victories over Keyser, 57-56, in a recently played contest, and Petersburg, 63-45, on Tuesday.

Southern capitalized on a fourth quarter foul shot to edge its way past Keyser, 57-56, as Jeff Stem hit the second of two foul shots with 6.8 seconds left in the game to get Southern its sixth win in a row. After a series of timeouts were called following Stem's free throw, Keyser threw the ball away on its possession, and Southern regained possession to win the game.

Stem paced the Rams with 20 points, while Drew Proudfoot added 14, and Dan Shockey, 11. Jordan Pacella had eight in the victory for the Rams.

The Golden Tornados were led by Matt Wilmer with 21 points. Preston Hartman had six field goals, including two three-point goals to score 14 points, and Jeremy Green recorded 11.

Southern won the junior varsity game, 43-37, with Joe Kisselovich scoring 19 for the Rams, and Calvin Hilliard scoring 10. Wes Washington had 10 points for Keyser.

The Rams didn't miss a beat in Tuesday night's 63-45 victory over the visiting Petersburg Vikings. Southern built an early 10-point lead in the first quarter and widened the spread to 17 points by halftime. By the end of the third period, the lead was up to 23 at 50-27.

Stem scored 18 points for the Rams, who had three players score double figures. Pacella used four threes en route to 16 points, and Shockey pulled out 12 points. Proudfoot recorded nine points.

Josh Evans put in an 11-point effort for the Vikings, and Derek Miller contributed 10 points.

The win avenges a 55-43 loss to Petersburg in Southern's first contest of the season.

Southern won the jayvee contest, 41-34, with Kisselovich scoring 14 points, and Hilliard adding 13. Marcus Hahr. had 13 for Petersburg.

The Rams host Allegany on Friday and Mountain Ridge on Tuesday. Both games have starting times of 6 p.m. for the junior varsity teams and 7:30 for the varsity teams.

Pa. Columnist to Speak At Annual Sportsman's Feast

Outdoor writer Steve Sorensen from Russell, Pa., will be the speaker at the annual Sportsman's Feast, sponsored by the Men's Brotherhood at Faith Evangelical Free Church in Mtn. Lake Park. This year's event is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 16, beginning at 5 p.m. in the church's recently completed multi-purpose room.

Dinner is free of charge and will be served at 6 p.m. No reservations are necessary. The event is open to all persons who enjoy hunting, fishing, and the outdoors.

"The feast and program bring out families who love the outdoors," said a church spokesperson. "Hunters, hikers, campers, and anglers are all welcome to come and sample wild game, listen to mountain music, and be entertained by a great hunter and writer."

Sorensen is an award-winning columnist whose work appears in three Pennsylvania newspapers: The Warren Times Observer, The Forest Press, and The Brookville Mirror.

He is also the editor of NorthWestPA Outdoors and has written feature articles for a variety of magazines, including Outdoor Life, Deer & Deer Hunting, Pennsylvania Game News, Fur-Fish-Game, North American Whitetail, and Bear Hunting.

The title for his presentation at the feast is "Breaking All of the Rules For a Double on Moose," which is about "do-it-yourself" moose hunting in Alaska.

Sorensen is also pastor of Pine Grove Christian Fellowship in Russell and is a member of the Pennsylvania Outdoor Writers Association.

"The highlight of the feast is sampling local and exotic wild game dishes, and fresh catch from local waterways served during dinner," said the spokesperson.

Many door prizes will be given throughout the evening. Prizes will also be given to persons wearing the best outdoor gear, including traditional and modern hunting attire, fishing outfits, and bird watching, hiking, and camping clothing.

Last year's feast drew more than 150 persons and featured nearly 50 different wild game dishes that ranged from trout to buffalo and elk, according to the spokesperson.

Faith Evangelical Free Church is located at 1009 Maryland Highway. For further information, persons may contact the church office at 301-334-4172.

AMONG THE LEADERS on the McDaniel College women's basketball team is senior Robbin Gregg, daughter of Fred and Carol Gregg, Oakland, and a 2004 graduate of Southern High School. Gregg is averaging over 14 points per game for the Green Terror, along with four assists, two steals, and 2.5 rebounds per outing. She is hitting over 80% of her free throws. Her team is currently 10-10 overall and 9-5 in the Centennial Conference. Gregg was a key member of the SHS girls' varsity squad that won the Maryland State 1-A championship in 2004.

ASCI Appoints Matt Taylor As New Executive Director

McHenry's Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI), home of the world's only mountaintop man-made whitewater course, recently announced the appointment of Matt Taylor as the center's new executive director, a position responsible for the long-term growth and management of the facility. Taylor, a former U.S. Olympic team member, previously served as ASCI's director of operations.

"We are very excited to have Matt take the reigns of the Adventure Sports Center International," said Jim Hinebaugh, president of ASCI's board of directors. "As a two-time whitewater Olympian, Matt understands how to maximize ASCI's appeal for world-class athletes while making it a place where anyone can take their first steps into the world of paddling and adventure sports."

A graduate of Yale University, Taylor is a whitewater World Cup medalist and a five-time whitewater National Champion who represented the United States in the 2000 and 2004 Olympic Games, competing in the two-person whitewater slalom canoe event. After returning from the 2004 games in Athens, Greece, Taylor and Olympic teammate Scott Parsons participated in the groundbreaking ceremony for what would become the Adventure Sports Center International, a facility that he said shared his ambition for opening adventure sports to the general public.

Taylor and his family moved to Maryland when he was hired as ASCI's director of operations in 2006, and since then he has supervised programming, staffing and day-to-day operations on the facility's state-of-the-art, recirculating whitewater course.

"I'm truly honored to be chosen as ASCI's new executive director," said Taylor. "ASCI's opening season was a tremendous success and I know that our team has the right combination of talent and enthusiasm to carry that momentum into 2008 and beyond."

ASCI opened to the public in May of 2007 and hosted over 12,000 rafting customers during its first year. The facility's opening season included a full schedule of high-profile competitions, drawing top paddlers and rock climbers from around the world. After a winter hiatus, ASCI will kickoff its second season in April.

Northern Youth Wrestlers Vie In Berlin Tourney

Several members of the Northern Youth Wrestling Team competed in a tournament at Berlin, Pa., on Saturday.

Winning first places for the local squad were: Hunter Wilhelm, 50 pounds, age 6 and under; Justin Opel, 70, 9-10; and Zachary Haer, 70, 11-12.

Keegan Broadwater was a runner-up in the 60-pound, age 7-8 division, while Devin Wilhelm, 60, 7-8, placed third, and Ryan Miller, 120, 11-12, won fourth place.

The Northern wrestlers will travel to Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg this Saturday to compete in a state qualifying tourney.

Oakland League Scores Reported

Winners in Oakland Basketball Adult League games played Sunday were the teams sponsored by Mountain Fitness Center, Impact Sports, and Monumental Insurance/Jones Trucking.

Mountain Fitness edged D&L Coal, 76-71, behind a 26-point scoring effort by Justin Liller. George Daily also reached double figures for the winners with 18 points. Dave Helmick and Lance McGreevy each scored 21 for D&L.

Pacing Impact Sports to a 44-40 win over East Preston Tire was Joey DiSimone with 20 points. Shaun Meyers hit a game-high 21 points for East Preston.

Monumental/Jones topped Fox's Pizza, 60-55, with Cory Bosley and Billy Braithwaite leading the winners in scoring with 17 and 15 points, respectively. Jay Tressler scored 15 for Fox's.

D&L Coal will face Monumental Insurance/Jones Trucking in the 6 p.m. game this Sunday, East Preston Tire will take on Fox's Pizza at 7 p.m., and the 8 p.m. game will pit Mountain Fitness against Impact Sports.

Burton Found Guilty On Assault Charge; Jail Sentence Suspended

Assault charges incurred by an Oakland man which stemmed from a July 4, 2007 altercation were heard by Judge H. Jack Price Jr in recent Garrett County District Court.

Robert Bruce Burton Jr., 24, pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree as-sault and was handed 18 months of unsupervised probation and a fine of $350. The entirety of his six-month jail sentence was sus-pended.

Maryland State Police officers were called to a party on Ducky Lane in McHenry for a reported assault. Upon arrival, officers received a statement from a victim of the altercation, who advised Burton had stabbed him in the arm with a knife, leaving a ¾-inch deep, by 3-inch long gash.

According to reports, Burton was allegedly intoxicated and trying to initiate altercations with several individuals at the party, and became irate. After four males held Burton on the ground in an attempt to calm him, Burton pulled a knife out and stabbed one victim in a "slashing motion."

Sometime during the conflict, Burton bit a second male victim on the arm in two places, which left visible bruising.

Burton fled the scene in a vehicle driven by another person, and when officers attempted to pull the vehicle over on Mosser Road, the driver failed to obey orders.

Burton was later located at McDonald's Restaurant in Oakland, where he was arrested.

He was not prosecuted by the state's attorney on a second charge of second degree assault, and he received stet rulings on three driving offenses.

In other unrelated District Court news, Dewight A. Kahl, 23, Oakland, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft of less than $500 in a criminal summons case and was handed a nine-month jail sentence, all of which was suspended, as well as 24 months of supervised probation and a fine of $300. In addition, Kahl was ordered to pay a restitution of $104 to Naylor's Hardware.

Reports were filed in June 2007 by Oakland police officers when an employee of Naylor's reported a theft committed by an employee. Witnesses stated Kahl left the building with a pair of $104 boots that he had not paid for When asked about the boots, Kahl advised he had charged the boots to his account, which was, in fact, nonexistent.

Edwin Hugh Douglas, 39, Brooklyn, N.Y., pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of marijuana and received a one-year jail sentence, all of which was suspended, as well as a 24-month unsupervised probationary period and a $500 fine.

Douglas was arrested in September 2007 after MSP officers conducted an exterior K-9 scan of his vehicle during a traffic stop on I-68. While asking for Douglas's identification, officers noted an odor of fresh marijuana emitting from within the vehicle, as well as spotting a marijuana "stem" next to the gearshift.

A scan of Douglas's license revealed it to be suspended. A search of the vehicle revealed a plastic bag containing marijuana, several plastic bags containing traceable marijuana, and three partially burnt marijuana cigarettes.

Douglas was not prosecuted on a charge of possession of paraphernalia and two other driving violations.

Michael Donnelly, 28, Harrisonburg, Va., received a probation before judgment (PBJ) after pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of marijuana. He was also handed 12 months of unsupervised probation and a fine of $250.

Donnelly was the passenger of a vehicle that was stopped by Garrett County sheriff's officers in July 2007 on I-68. Officers conducted a K-9 scan of the vehicle, which gave a positive alert for the presence of illegal drugs within the vehicle. A search of the interior resulted in the confiscation of four marijuana smoking pipes, 50 Ambian pills, one Ativan pill, and eight Xanax pills.

Donnelly was not prosecuted on two charges of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) other than marijuana, and possession of paraphernalia.

Kyle Ellis Kashner, 20, Greenwood, Del., pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of paraphernalia and was handed a $150 fine.

MSP officers conducted a traffic stop on Kashner's vehicle in July 2007 because one of his tail lights had a broken cover. A K-9 scan of the vehicle indicated a positive alert for the presence of drugs within the vehicle. A search incident to arrest revealed a marijuana smoking pipe, and a search of his person resulted in the confiscation of a plastic bag containing marijuana.

Kashner was not prosecuted by the state's attorney on a charge of possession of marijuana.

Robert Lee Kirtley, 21, Harrisonburg, Va., received stet rulings on three charges of possession of a CDS other than marijuana, possession of marijuana, and possession of paraphernalia. The arrest was filed by sheriff's officers in July 2007.

DUI/DWI CASES

Among the several driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases heard in recent Garrett County District Court were the following:

Charles French Stinson, 52, Md., was found to be in violation of probation for DUI per se and was sentence to two days in jail. According to court documents, the violation date was January 2006.

Gayle Lynnenterli Meyers, 50, Pa., pleaded guilty to a charge of DUI stemming from an October 2006 arrest, and was handed a six-month jail sentence, all of which was suspended. She also received three years of unsupervised probation and a fine of $250. Meyers was not prosecuted by the state's attorney on a charge of DWI and one other driving offense.

Yvonne Irene Bazemore, 52, Md., pleaded guilty to a charge of DWI stemming from her June 2007 arrest and received a 60-day jail term, all of which was suspended, as well as 18 months of supervised probation and a fine of $200. She was not prosecuted on a charge of DUI and one other traffic violation.

Luke Jason Vietmier, 40, Pa., pleaded guilty to a charge of DUI per se and received a 30-day jail sentence, all of which was suspended, as well as 18 months of unsupervised probation and a fine of $300. Vietmier was arrested in June 2007. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DWI charges, as well as one other traffic violation.

George Karlo Gesner, 27, Md., pleaded guilty to a charge of DWI and received a probation before judgment, as well as one year of unsupervised probation and a fine of $200. The charges were filed in July 2007. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI, DUI per se, and one other traffic offense.

Strong Academic Record Of Garrett Students Noted

The 2007 fall semester at Garrett College will be academically among the best ever since the founding of the college, according to a release from the office of Ann Wellham, interim dean of academic affairs.

During the fall semester, 20 GC students were inducted into the international honor society Phi Theta Kappa, plus over 200 students from across the country and world were named to various lists for academic excellence.

"We are seeing an increase in the number of students who are excelling academically at Garrett College," Wellham said. "Over the last few semesters, there has been a steady increase in the number of students who have achieved honors and academic recognition."

Phi Theta Kappa is the largest and among the most respected academic honor societies serving two-year colleges around the world, she noted. The society has over 1,200 chapters internationally, and more than two million students have been inducted since 1918.

To be eligible for Phi Theta Kappa, students must have earned at least 24 credit hours at the college and have a grade point average of at least 3.5.

"Students inducted into Phi Theta Kappa have many opportunities to become involved with this honors organization," Wellham said. "Scholarships are available to members, which can assist students in their transition from Garrett College to the four-year college of their choice."

High performing students at Garrett may qualify for the dean's list, for full-time students with a 3.5 or higher GPA; the honors list, for full-time students with a 3.0 to 3.49 GPA; the merit list, for part-time students with a 3.5 or higher GPA; or the recognition list, for part-time students with a 3.0 to 3.49 GPA.

A total of 210 Garrett students were recognized as meeting the requirements for these lists in the fall.

"This can be attributed to the hard work not only exhibited by our students, but also from the very dedicated faculty, who work with students beyond the typical classroom setting," Wellham said.

In addition to the academic excellence lists and honor society inductions, many GC students belong to the college's honors program, which awards students a tuition reduction and enables them to take a more challenging academic track at the college. Furthermore, several GC students are awarded the Bucknell Scholarship each year, which gives them the opportunity to complete their four-year degree tuition free at Bucknell University, a highly recognized liberal arts institution.

"The fact that so many of our students are receiving academic recognition speaks volumes about the education they are receiving at Garrett," Wellham added.

For further information persons may contact Wellham's office at 301-387-3077 or visit the GC web page at www.garrettcollege.edu. Persons may also telephone the office of the assistant dean of academic affairs at 301-387-3077.

On Dean's List At St. Mary's

Three Garrett County students were awarded dean's list honors from St. Mary's College of Maryland for outstanding academic achievement during the fall 2007 semester.

Dean's list honors are awarded to full-time students at SMCM who earn a semester grade-point average of 3.50 or better on 12 or more graded credits.

The local students included on the list are: Erica Janine Maust, Grantsville; Jamie Marie Haydel, McHenry, and Adam Jeffry Sincell, Mountain Lake Park. Maust and Haydel are graduates of Northern High School, and Sincell is a graduate of Southern High School.

Newsweek recently voted SMCM as one of the "25 Hottest Schools" in America. The Princeton Review's 2007 issue of the Best 361 Colleges writes, "St. Mary's College of Maryland offers its 2,000 undergrads the work-intensive, personalized education of a private school at public-school prices – a fact that regularly places the college among the 'best buys' in higher education."

With roots going back to 1840, SMCM is the state's only public honors college, offering the academic excellence of a top private college with the openness and affordability of public education, according to a college spokesperson.

On Dean's List

Caitlyn Skeweris, Hagerstown, has been named to the dean's list at Frostburg State University, Frostburg, for outstanding achievement for the fall semester of 2007.

To be eligible for the dean's list, a student must complete a minimum of 12 credit hours and earn a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.4 on a 4.0 scale.

Caitlyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Skeweris, Hagerstown, and the granddaughter of Isadore Skeweris, Oakland.

Amateur Radio Meeting To Be Held Monday

Members of the Garrett County Amateur Radio Service (ARES) will meet at 7 p.m. this Monday, Feb. 11, at the Oakland Red Cross building, next to Pizza Hut, in order to discuss the preparation of emergency "Go-Kits" for all Garrett County Amateur Radio operators.

A Go-Kit of emergency supplies should be kept in or near a person's car for instant deployment to an emergency location. Food, water, and clothing to sustain an individual for three days should be included in each person's kit. These kits will included individual life support items and appropriate radio equipment, batteries, power supplies, and antennas.

Amateur radio operators in Garrett County and adjacent parts of West Virginia and Pennsylvania are invited to this ARES meeting in Oakland on Monday. Early arrivals may find some ARES members at Pizza Hut at 6:30. Amateurs are also invited to check into the Garrett County ARES net, which meets on the air, 146.805mHz, PL 123, at 8 p.m. every Sunday evening.

ARES members recently attended a meeting on emergency disaster preparedness sponsored by the League of Women Voters, held at the Garrett County Health Department.

W.VA. LEGO LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIPS WON – Isaac Bender, Accident, and the other members of his LEGO robotics team, the "Roboteers," won the middle school division West Virginia state championship held by the FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) LEGO League, and they are now preparing for the world championships to be held in April in Atlanta, Ga. The team is sponsored by the Department of Physics and the Eberly College of Arts and Science at West Virginia University. The competition was held at Wheeling Jesuit University, making it the third consecutive championship held in Wheeling, W.Va. It is also the team's third consecutive year winning the state title. The Roboteers were one of four teams from Morgantown and consist of students from several different schools in the area. Bender has been attending the Morgantown Learning Academy for two years. He is the son of Brian and Kelly Bender.

StoryTails To Be Held At Ruth Enlow, Accident

The Accident branch of the Ruth Enlow Library will hold StoryTails: Children Reading to Dogs on Thursday, Feb. 21, from 3 to 4:30 p.m. with Molly and her owner, Judi Schiff, and on Wednesday, March 5, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. with Teagan and Shamus and their owners, Tom and Susan Hertz.

This program m is designed to help children develop confidence in reading. Each child reads to a dog for 15 to 20 minutes, with the help of the dog's handler nearby to give reading assistance if necessary. All dogs are certified by Therapy Dogs International.

Those seeking more information should call the Accident library at 301-746-8792; or visit the web site at www.relib.net for a listing of all events.

Task Force Backs Having Preschool Available To All Maryland Children

Improving access to quality early childhood education, including making available preschool classes for all Maryland 4-year-olds by 2014, is one of the primary recommendations of a new state task force report.

"Preschool for All in Maryland," released Wednesday during the Maryland State Board of Education meeting, is the work of the Task Force on Universal Preschool Education, a panel required by the General Assembly in 2006. The task force was co-chaired by the late Sandy Skolnik, executive director of the Maryland Committee for Children, and Rolf Grafwallner, assistant state superintendent for Early Childhood Development.

The 46-page report, submitted to the governor and the Maryland General Assembly in December, provides a variety of recommendations for policymakers and educators to consider as Maryland continues to expand its pre-kindergarten access.

"We know that children come to Maryland schools interested in learning, but too many of them, regardless of income, would greatly benefit from a high-quality preschool experience," said State Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick. "This task force of educators, public servants, and parents has provided us with many cutting-edge ideas based on current research, and will serve as an action plan for further work."

The Bridge to Excellence Act, popularly known as the Thornton Plan, paved the way for full-day kindergarten throughout Maryland and added a requirement that pre-kindergarten be provided for all economically disadvantaged children. Some school systems already have gone beyond those requirements, making preschool available to children with learning needs and English Language Learners.

The task force recommended that Maryland expand its existing preschool program and establish the legal framework and funding mechanism to provide preschool in diverse education settings, such as public schools, Head Start, nursery schools, and child-care programs. However, the task force stressed that such an expansion include maintaining the same quality standards found in existing pre-kindergarten programs, such as staffing with a state certified teacher and the use of an endorsed preschool curriculum.

Among the other recommendations made by the task force were the following:

•Define standards for preschool programs to make certain they are of the highest quality. Standards of operation and accountability already exist for preschool programs serving economically disadvantaged 4-year-olds.

•Strengthen the professional development for early childhood education staff. Lead teachers should hold a bachelor's degree and be certified or approved in early childhood education.

The task force directed MSDE to establish a work group to develop a detailed business plan, including cost estimates, which would allow for a coordinated effort to expand the preschool services.

The full report of the task force is available online at: www.marylandpublicschools.org/MSDE/divisions/child care.

KITZMILLER

BOOK SIGNING

Local resident Margaret Michaels, mail carrier for the Kitzmiller Post Office, will hold a book signing at the Company Store in Kitzmiller on Saturday, Feb. 16, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Her first published book is titled Time After Time. The story takes place in 1942 and parallels the lives of two families, one from the World War II era and the other from the Civil War era, and an old plantation house that intertwines the two.

Accompanying Michaels at the signing will be Judith Whitacre, who painted the cover illustration.

BIRTHDAYS

Among Kitzmiller residents celebrating birthdays this week are: Shawn Du[illegible] James Pysell, Hilary [illegible] Tracy Wright, Virginia Dillsworth, Corey Armstrong, Phillip Saville, Faith Ann Harvey, [illegible] Elliott, Crystal Gnegy, Amber Greaser, Andrew [illegible] Witt, Joshua Moon, Brooke Fletcher, Caleb Sherwood, Joey Schofield, Tiffany Roberts, Janet McCauley, and Gary Beachy.

Valentine's Chocolate Could Be Good for Your Heart!

By Abbi Kifer, R.D., L.D.

Good news for Valentine's Day. Chocolate can be good for you — dark chocolate, that is. Dark chocolate (not white or milk chocolate) can lower your blood pressure, according to a study done by the University of Cologne, Germany.

Don't forget: Chocolate originates from a plant, and it is the plant phenols in cocoa that help with blood pressure. Dark chocolate has the most cocoa. This certainly is no excuse to go on a chocolate binge. Dark chocolate can be a source of significant calories, and too many calories can amount to weight gain. Calories should be balanced with exercise to achieve weight maintenance. One bar of dark chocolate can be around 400 calories. Even if half is eaten, there should be a balance with exercise to compensate for the extra calories.

Dark chocolate is also a great source of antioxidants, which protect the body from free radicals that can cause damage in numerous ways. These antioxidants especially protect the heart and can slow the signs of aging. According to many health professionals, a small piece of dark chocolate every day can even reduce LDL cholesterol by 10%. This is not to say that it is okay to replace fruits, vegetables, and exercise with dark chocolate. These foods have antioxidants, too, and exercise certainly helps cholesterol. The key is to mamtain moderation with everything. Chocolate happens to be very complex, and contains over 300 compounds and chemicals. Enjoy it slowly, let it melt, and experience each taste to the maximum.

Another consideration to this treat would be the fat content in dark chocolate. It is a source of fat, but the fat in this food is different than in most typical high fat foods. Dark chocolate has oleic acid, stearic acid, and palmitic acid as its fat sources.

Oleic acid is a healthy monounsaturated fat that can also be found in olive oil. Oleic acids, in high concentrations, can lower blood cholesterol according to the American Heart Association. This saturated fat, however, is one that research shows has a neutral effect on cholesterol. This is because such a high proportion of stearic acid is actually converted to oleic acid. Palmitic acid is also a saturated fat that can raise cholesterol and the risk for heart disease. There are, however, other sources of information that show no ill effect or favorable effect of dietary palmitic acid on blood lipids and heart disease. Dark chocolate is only one-third palmitic acid. The other fats make up one-third each.

This information is not meant to provide an excuse to include more chocolate in the diet, but to give some understanding of the benefits of a highly enjoyable treat. Don't replace healthy food with chocolate. The typical American diet already provides an excess of calories. Keep in mind that this excess can lead to weight gain. But if chocolate is on the menu, remember: The darker the better.

QuickBooks Class Slated At Garrett

A two-session class in "QuickBooks Intermediate Level" will be offered on Monday and Wednesday, Feb. 25 and 27, from 6 until 8:30 p.m. at Garrett College. The class is designed for those with moderate experience using this program.

Topics will include tracking credit card transactions, invoicing customers, creating sales orders, generating customer statements, receiving payment from customers, and making bank deposits.

Also covered will be how to write checks and assign amounts to specific expense accounts, work with asset and liability accounts, enter bills, work with accounts payable, and pay bills using QuickBooks.

For more information or to register, persons may contact Kista Wilt at 301-387-3069 or kwilt@garrettcollege.edu.

Swanton Center To Serve Dinner

There will be a buckwheat cake, pancake, and sausage dinner served at the Swanton Community Center this Saturday, Feb. 9, beginning at 4 p.m.

The cost of the meal will be $6 for adults, $3 for children ages 5-12, and free for those under 5. Proceeds will benefit the various community projects of the center.

Love is an Action

Isn't it wonderful that love is limitless! It seems that the more we give, the more we are able to give.

1 John 4:8 tells us, "God is love." This is the way God manifests Himself on earth. Because God's love for us is boundless, our love for others can be abundant. When we learn to love unconditionally, our heart becomes full of joy, for then God dwells within our soul.

If we love those whose lives we touch each day, they will know love and they will pass it on. Love has a way of ever increasing. Once the cycle begins, it will continue, spilling endlessly on our lives like sunlight from the sky.

Give yourself a valentine this year. Worship God each week. You will learn to give love...and you will receive love that knows no bounds.

Cultivate Virtue

Being virtuous entails always doing the right thing with no expectation of reward, and still doing it happily, and yet without becoming attached to these good deeds. This requires three things: wisdom, character, and the ability to be detached from our deeds. It requires wisdom because doing the right thing is not always a simple matter. We can have a conflict between principles which may make it hard to know which principle should take priority. For instance, we might have a situation when we must decide between telling the truth and thereby hurting someone's feelings or telling a lie to spare their feelings. Wisdom is the ability to judge right from wrong, and then to always do right. Doing the right thing requires doing right to the right person, at the right time and, to the right degree. The cultivation of virtue also requires character, because it requires strength of will as well as good nature to do the right thing even in spite of difficulties and temptations to take the easy way out. Finally, we should be virtuous but without becoming attached to our good deeds. Persons who do good deeds but who are puffed up with pride, tarnish their good deeds by calling into question their very motivation for doing them. However, a person who crowns a life of devoted service to others with a humble countenance, gleams like the sun.

Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show by good conduct that his works are done in the meekness of wisdom.
New K.J.V. James 3:13

Cranberries May Prevent Heart Disease

The cranberry is a shrub fruit found in the Eastern U.S. and in Asia. Cranberry plants grow to a height of one foot, and have been cultivated widely in the U.S. since the 1800s. The fruit is commonly consumed as food and used for cooking. It is the main component of cranberry sauce, which is served during holiday dinners. Cranberry juice is also widely consumed. Cranberry contains several substances including tannins, vitamin C, and flavenoids. These substances are responsible for cranberry's antioxidant activity. Currently, cranberries are used to prevent bladder infections due to their ability to prevent bacteria from adhering to the wall of the urinary bladder.

New research has shown that phenols found in cranberries may aid in preventing heart disease. Phenols have been shown to reduce LDL (bad cholesterol) oxidized in the body, reduce the stickiness of blood platelets, and reduce blood pressure and cholesterol. Most of the research has been performed in animals; however, research in humans is underway. The optimal amount of cranberry needed to reduce the risk of heart disease in humans has not been determined.

'The Hills' is alive – in Europe – for MTV

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Lauren Conrad

Q: Will Lauren Conrad's time in Paris be shown on "The Hills"? –Jessica Wayne, Arlington Heights, Ill.
A: Absolutely. In fact, MTV is so eager to show it, you won't have to wait for the usual summertime season premiere. The music channel is tacking the episodes onto the program's third season as a "bonus," and they'll run in the spring (no specific start date as of this writing).

Q: Will Arnold Schwarzenegger make a guest appearance on the new series based on the "Terminator" movies? –Jeff Crane, Columbus, Ohio
A: Evidently, no. Needless to say, he's a bit occupied with his current career – governing the state of California – and when asked about such a prospect at a press conference for the Fox series, the producers of Fox's "Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles" replied, "He's incredibly busy. And incredibly expensive."

Q: What happened to Angie Harmon's new series "Women's Murder Club"? –Robert Fohrneister, Clearwater, Fla.
A: It'll be back, depending on when the outcome of the writers strike allows for it. Like every other prime-time series on the broadcast networks, it ran out of fresh episodes, so ABC decided to give it a rest – especially since the network ran it twice, on Friday and Saturday, for several weeks. That also was an indication of how well the James Patterson-inspired show has been doing for ABC, so rest assured that you'll see it again. It's just a question of when.

Q: How many "Death Wish" movies did Charles Bronson make? –Steve Barnett, Baltimore
A: Five, though the quality of the vigilante dramas diminished with each chapter. The 1974 original, directed by frequent Bronson colleague Michael Winner, is held in the highest esteem by critics; they reteamed for "Death Wish II" and "Death Wish 3," then "Death Wish 4: The Crackdown" and "Death Wish V: The Face of Death" followed. AMC ran a marathon of all five films on Super Bowl Sunday.

Q: Is the current season of "One Tree Hill" the last one? –Stacey Powell, Everett, Wash.
A: That hadn't been determined as of this writing. Some of the CW drama's cast members had the feeling that the current run might be the show's swan song, but most have changed their tunes, especially since they've been able to play closer to their own ages with executive producer Mark Schwahn's decision to move the characters four years ahead. They now say they'll be on board for a fifth season, should the network order it.

Why Are Dogs Rated by Type?

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I was watching a dog show on television recently. The announcers referred to various dogs on display as "from the working group," "from the sporting group" and so on. What's the difference? — Sarah K., Portland, Maine

DEAR SARAH: Purebred dogs are generally classified as such, and included in a "group," because they have the genetic characteristics of dogs originating from certain breeds that did a certain type of job. (Or, especially in the case of the "working group," often still do a job.)

In fact, let's take the working group as an example. These breeds of dogs — and they include shepherds, Alaskan Malamutes, Swiss mountain dogs, Newfoundlands, etc. — were developed to handle specific tasks that required a hardy, strong dog. Some of them pull sleds, others pull guard duty, and others rescue climbers and disaster victims.

The sporting group, on the other hand, is a group of dogs bred to assist hunters. Retrievers, setters, and spaniels are among the breeds in this group.

So, some may ask, why isn't the hound group a part of the sporting group? The hound is ancient and made up of a diversity of breeds, yet all those breeds — including the Beagle, the Afghan and the foxhound — have similar instincts and take similar action, chasing after their quarry rather than retrieving it or pointing it out to a hunter.

Let's not forget the terrier group, another group of dogs developed to do a distinctive job. Some were developed to hunt rodents and ground-dwelling animals; others, unfortunately, for fighting; and many others as all-around farm dogs and companion pets.

So, to make a long story short (hopefully), the groups into which purebred dogs are classified were developed based on common tasks for which these dogs were originally bred.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• You might not be surprised to learn that, according to market research, the woman's opinion almost always prevails when a husband and wife disagree on clothing for the man.

• The first gasoline superstation opened way back in 1912, in Memphis, Tenn. It had 13 pumps and one ladies restroom, but there was no restroom for men. Incidentally, at that time, the cost of a gallon of gas was 29 cents.

• It was Nobel Prize-winning poet, dramatist and literary critic T.S. Eliot who made the following sage observation: "The years between 50 and 70 are the hardest. You are always asked to do things, and yet you are not decrepit enough to turn them down."

• The name of Alcatraz Island — famed location of a high-security prison that's now a tourist attraction — comes from the Spanish "Isla de los Alcatraces," or "Island of Pelicans."

• The tongue of the alligator is fastened to the jaw all the way around. That's why you'll never see a gator stick out its tongue.

• Noted 18th-century Venetian adventurer, author and (more famously) lover, Casanova, reportedly ate 50 oysters every day. For breakfast. Incidentally, his full name was Giovanni Giacomo Casanova de Seingault — no wonder he shortened it.

• Other than being actors, what do Clark Gable, Jimmy Stewart and James Doohan have in common? During World War II, they were all Allied officers and pilots.

• You might be surprised to learn that the Ohio River carries twice as much tonnage as the celebrated Panama Canal.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 17, 1801, after one tie vote in the Electoral College and 35 indecisive ballot votes in the House of Representatives, Vice President Thomas Jefferson is elected the third president of the United States. The confusing election exposed major problems in the presidential electoral process.

• On Feb. 14, 1842, fans of Charles Dickens organize the Boz Ball, an elite party for the celebrated writer. (Dickens' earliest works had been published under the pseudonym Boz.) Only members of New York's aristocracy were invited, and tickets were priced at the then-outrageous sum of $10.

• On Feb. 11, 1858, in southern France, Marie-Bernarde Soubirous, a 14-year-old French peasant girl, claims to have seen the Virgin Mary. The apparitions, which totaled 18 before the end of the year, occurred in a grotto of a rock promontory near Lourdes.

• On Feb. 12, 1924, the first network radio program to be sponsored by advertising debuts. The show, "The Eveready Hour," was sponsored by the National Carbon Company and broadcast in New York, Washington, D.C., and Providence, R.I.

• On Feb. 15, 1965, jazz singer and pianist Nat King Cole dies of lung cancer at age 46. In 1991, his daughter, singer Natalie Cole, released the album "Unforgettable With Love." Electronic recording and mixing technology allowed her to record duets with her father, using his old tracks.

Quezal Vase

Q. I purchased a Quezal vase at a yard sale for 25 cents. It looks like a Tiffany, and I have several friends who wish to buy it. — Pat, Riverside, R.I.

A. Quezal glass was made from 1901 until about 1924 in the Queens, N.Y., studio of Martin Bach Sr. Other companies made similar art glass, including Loetz, Steuben and Tiffany. Since Quezal vases generally sell for well above $1,000, my advice is to contact a reputable dealer or appraiser in your area and find out if your piece is authentic. If it is, you have a good eye and made a wonderful buy.

Q. I have a bisque Mickey Mouse that is almost 50 years old. It stands about 9 inches. — Lucy, Goshen, Conn.

A. Since you sent no pictures and sketchy information, I'm afraid my answer will also be on the vague side. One of the better price guides is the Official Price Guide to Disney Collectibles, by Ted Hake (House of Collectibles, $29.95). If you suspect your figurine is valuable, it might be worth investing in this book to document your piece and find out for certain. You can order it at www.houseofcollectibles.com.

Q. I have a lamp that first appeared to be glass-leaded. On closer examination, I decided the pieces of the shade might be plastic. I am enclosing a picture for your opinion. — Brenda, Marion, Ind.

A. Your shade is made of capiz shell, a close cousin of the oyster.

SCHEDULING FOR FRESHMEN

Freshmen have started the scheduling process for the 2008-09 school year. Each student will meet with Mr. Martm to review the four year plan and selections for next year. The completed selection sheet must be signed by a parent/guardian and returned to the Counseling Center no later than Friday, Feb. 15.

SENIOR SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

•Forms for the Commissioners Scholarship are now available in the Counseling Center for graduating seniors who are planning on attending Garrett College. This is a one page application that must be completed in order to apply for the Commissioners Scholarship. In addition, an application form for the Howard P. Rawlings Guaranteed Access Grant is attached to the Commissioners Scholarship form because it must also be completed and submitted. Students should complete both forms as soon as possible and return them to the Counseling Center. The Guaranteed Access Grant requires a transcript, so students are reminded to include a $1 fee for the transcript.

•Garrett College Foundation Scholarship booklets are also available in the Counseling Center for interested seniors planning on attending Garrett College. These are scholarships that are independent of the Commissioners Scholarship. The deadline to apply for a GC Foundation scholarship is March 1.

JUNIORS

Applications are available in the Counseling Center for the Somerset Rural Electric Cooperative National Rural Electric Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. This year's tour dates are June 15–20. Applicants should be in the upper 40% of the class and have displayed leadership qualities, strong character, and sound moral principles. Applicants are also required to participate in a selection meeting scheduled for Wed., March 5, at 7 p.m. Detailed information will be mailed directly to applicants regarding this meeting. This is an all-expense-paid trip with only spending money needed by the participant. Winners are determined in competition with other youth of similar age from area schools. Competition involves an oral quiz, personality judging, and an essay contest. The deadline to apply is Tuesday, Feb. 12.

FINANCIAL AID MEETING

Because of inclement weather, the financial aid planning meeting that was scheduled for seniors and their parents was canceled. Parents and students may still plan to attend the College Goal Program at Garrett College tonight, Thursday, Feb. 7, from 6 to 8 p.m. Free assistance and help will be available from financial aid professionals to help parents and students file their Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) forms. This form is required by colleges to determine a student's eligibility for federal grants and loans, as well as most state and private scholarships, including students who are planning on attending Garrett College and applying for the Commissioners Scholarship. Parents and students should bring proof of 2007 income and benefit information to this meeting, including completed or estimated IRS federal income tax returns, W-2 forms or year-end pay stubs, and proof of untaxed income.

Kerala Explored For Garrett ASI Education Potential

At the request of agents in the southwestern Indian state of Kerala, representatives from the Garrett College Adventuresports Institute (ASI) traveled on a fact-finding mission to explore the country's potential to develop an educational program leading to a college degree in adventure sports.

ASI professors Andy Hershey, Mike Logsdon, and Terry Peterson spent 14 days, Dec. 8–Dec. 21, traveling various parts of Kerala, meeting with individuals and groups from the private sector, government officials, and representatives from several colleges and universities in an effort to gather information on the infrastructure, educational system, and available natural resources that would support such a program.

A presentation on the findings and recommendations regarding their trip will be given at the February ASI Colloquium on Tuesday, Feb. 12, at 7 p.m. in Room 224 of the Continuing Education Building on the campus of Garrett College, McHenry.

The presentation is free and open to the public. Those seeking more information may call 301-387-3333 or e-mail adventuresports@garrettcollege.edu.

NHS Graduates Awarded ACM Scholarships

Allegany College of Maryland scholarships have been awarded to Theresa Brenneman and Bethani Gillum, both of Grantsville, for study in the 2007-08 academic year, the ACM Foundation announced this week.

Brenneman received the Allegany Cardiology Center Scholarship. She is earning an associate's degree in nursing to become a registered nurse. Currently a licensed practical nurse, she works at the Lions Center for Rehabilitation and Extended Care, Cumberland.

Brenneman, who graduated in 2005 from Garrett College with an associate's degree in general studies, is a 2002 graduate of Northern High School. She and her husband Travis are the parents of a son, Nathan.

Gillum received an ACM Presidential Scholarship. She is pursuing an associate's degree in radiologic technology. A 2007 graduate of Northern, she also took courses at Garrett College.

Guillum has worked at Paula's Cafe, the Comfort Inn, Hen House, and Wings of Challenge. She is the daughter of Greg and Ramona Gillum.

Eight Taken To GCMH After One-Vehicle Accident

Garrett County sheriff's deputies were called to Pysell Crosscut Road just east of Sand Flat Road for a motor vehicle accident Saturday.

Jeffrey Haseler, 46, Fairfax, Va., was traveling eastbound on Pysell Crosscut when he lost control of his 2005 Ford Excursion and skidded into a tree.

Haseler and seven passengers from within the vehicle were all taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the accident for further assessment. Haseler was charged with failing to maintain control to avoid a collision.

Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department and Southern Rescue Squad also responded to the 3:41 p.m. incident.

Driver Eludes Police, Crashes At Rest Area

John Ryan Richardson, 22, Gassaway, W.Va., was incarcerated early Sunday morning after he eluded Oakland City Police officers attempting to pull him over for traveling at a high rate of speed.

Officers observed Richardson's vehicle traveling north on Garrett Highway near Denny's restaurant at a high rate of speed at 1:45 a.m., and when officers attempted to pull him over, Richardson fled, according to reports.

Richardson eventually crashed the vehicle (which was found to have been stolen earlier in the night from an Oakland residence) in the area of the Mount Nebo rest area, north of Oakland.

He was taken to the Garrett County Detention Center, where he was charged with theft of a motor vehicle, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, fleeing and eluding, driving while under the influence, driving while impaired, and speeding.

Oakland police officers were assisted at the scene by Garrett County sheriff's officers, Maryland State Police, and the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force.

Man Driving On Revoked License Arrested, Charged

A traffic stop for a moving violation was conducted on Gorman Road early Wednesday morning, which led to the arrest of a West Virginia man for driving on a revoked license.

Marshall Neil Evans, 24, Elk Garden, was stopped by Garrett County sheriff's deputies at approximately 3:40 a.m.

After a record check revealed his license to be revoked in the state of West Virginia, he was arrested and taken to the GC Detention Center to await an initial appearance before a District Court commissioner.

Terra Alta, W.Va., Man Charged With DUI And DWI

A Terra Alta, W.Va., man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies for driving under the influence and driving while intoxicated.

Deputies made a traffic stop early Sunday morning for an equipment violation on Hutton Road, Oakland. Gregory Allen Simmons, 36, was discovered to be the driver. Field sobriety tests were given, which resulted in his arrest.

He was charged with DUI and DWI and was taken to the detention center to await an initial appearance before a District Court commissioner.

Charges Incurred After GC Citizen Reports Hunter

A Swanton man was charged with two hunting violations in the 3000 block of Swanton Road on Thursday, Jan. 24, by the Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP).

NRP charged Troy D. Liller, 41, with failure to wear orange and hunting on private property without written permission. NRP officers responded to the area after a concerned citizen reported that an individual entered a wooded area dressed in camouflage and carrying a rifle.

A court date of April 24 has been scheduled for Liller in Garrett County District Court.

Home Disturbance Results In Arrest For DUI And DWI

A residential disturbance reported to Garrett County sheriff's deputies led to the arrest of a Terra Alta, W.Va., man.

Jonathan Lee Lewis, 19, was charged with driving under the influence and driving while intoxicated after it was discovered by police that he had driven from Terra Alta to a Mason Street, Oakland, residence. His purpose for driving to the residence was reportedly to fight an individual located in the home.

Deputies asked Lewis to take a field sobriety test, the results of which were not performed to the satisfaction of the deputies. He was arrested and later released pending trial.

SECRETARY MEETS VETERANS – James Adkins, secretary of the Maryland Department of Veteran Affairs, recently met with a small group of Garrett County veterans at the Grantsville Post 214, the American Legion. This was the first of many meetings with veterans planned by Secretary Adkins, mainly in those counties farthest from his office in Annapolis. He discussed the legislative agenda currently proposed concerning veterans, the benefits offered through the state, and the assistance offered to all Maryland veterans as they attempt to enroll in the federal Veteran Affairs (VA) health system, and he emphasized the need for each veteran to begin that enrollment process as soon as possible after separation from active duty. He also expressed a desire to have a day-long veterans' muster in Garrett County with representatives from the state and federal veteran service programs to offer assistance and answers to questions local veterans may have concerning benefits. Adkins said veterans may contact his office at any time to keep him notified of any problems they encounter, or they may contact to contact Lynn R. Patton of the Maryland Veterans Commission. Pictured from left are Adkins; Jerry Fritz, Post 214 Commander; Patton; and Kenneth Wilson, Garrett County Commander, the American Legion.

Brenda Butscher Is Candidate For Convention Del.

Brenda Butscher, Mountain Lake Park, has announced that she is a candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention. She has been endorsed by Republican candidate for president Mitt Romney.

In announcing as a candidate, Ms. Butscher stated that she is "honored" to be endorsed by Governor Romney.

"He is a conservative and a successful business man," she said. "Conservative Republicans believe the economy is our number-one problem. I strongly believe that Governor Romney has the experience and the leadership skills to turn the economy around."

Butscher has been active in the Maryland Republican Party for many years. She has served on many state and national committees. She has attended seven Republican National Conventions as a delegate or an alternate delegate. She was elected the first and only female Garrett County commissioner and has been elected six times to the Republican Central Committee.

She currently serves as executive director of Hospice of Garrett County Inc., is a member of the Hospice and Palliative Care Organization, St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland Civic Club, Garrett County Farm Bureau, Northern Garrett County Republican Women's Club, Lonaconing Republican Club, and the National Rifle Association, and is an associate member of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge #99.

STUDENTS ATTEND LEGISLATIVE SESSION – Students from Garrett and Allegany counties recently joined students from around the state at the 2008 Legislative Session sponsored by the Maryland Association of Student Councils (MASC). After departing at 3:30 a.m., students and advisors traveled to Choptico High School. During the day, students were informed about educational bills, as well as those pertaining to teens. They then prepared arguments for and against positions on these bills to further pursue in upcoming Lobbying Day on Feb. 20. They also reviewed parliamentary procedure and attended workshops. During the first general assembly, students listened to speeches from candidates for the position of Student Member on the State Board of Education (SMOB), as well as officer speeches. Students then voted on their selection for state SMOB. The day ended with a second general session during which time students debated positions on bills and voted to support legislation. The state SMOB candidates were announced and will be presented to the governor at a later date. Pictured above are students and advisors who attended: Krista Hollingsworth, Kaitlyn Swift, Vicki Stevens, and Sara Harvey, all from Southern Garrett High; Jennifer Feaster, Rebecca Flinn, Bryson Holler, Emily Huxford, Tricia Sherrard, and Elizabeth Sines, all from Southern Garrett Middle; Blake Harman, Zack Lipscomb, Sierra Pitman, Tanya Devine, Ashton Carr, and Linzi Sisler, all from Northern Garrett High; Taryn Brenneman, Heather Vincent, Emily Vincent, Sydney McFarland, Kiersten Butler, Elizabeth Green, Allison Yommer, and Tori Devine, all from Northern Garrett Middle; Alex Shin, trainer for legislative session, and Danielle Cross both from Allegany County; and advisors Lowell Leitzel, SHS; Michelle Harman, NHS; and George Lander, NMS.

• 11:30 a.m. – Critter Encounter. Meet in the Discovery Center to watch (and maybe help) the naturalist feed some worms to toads, turtles, and fish, and then head to the aviary and watch as park personnel care for and feed the red-tailed hawks and owl. (30 min.)

generations.

"As for private property, there is no zoning [countywide in Garrett County], and it's the private property owners' decision," he said about the construction of wind turbines.

Director John Nelson, Department of Planning and Land Development, indicated that the county may pursue legislation to regulate and license the use of wind energy in the county. But, he quickly added, the regulations could not be applied to state lands.

The commissioners informed O'Malley about their position in a letter on Tuesday. A copy was also sent to DNR Secretary John R. Griffin.

"We are aware that your administration has a strong interest in looking at alternatives to augment [and] increase the Maryland electric production," the commissioners wrote. "We believe that wind generation is a significant supplement to not only the state of Maryland's energy independence but also nationwide.

"Having said this, we are writing to voice our opposition to constructing wind turbines on state of Maryland property in Garrett and Allegany counties. The board of county commissioners has supported and will continue to support the construction of wind generation turbines by Clipper Windpower and Synergics Energy."

Those two companies have proposed projects for private lands in Garrett County.

"By far, the majority of public opinion received by this office and conveyed at both public hearings is in opposition to the construction of wind generation turbines on state land," the commissioners continued in their letter to the governor. 'This opinion is shared by those parties who support wind energy on private property."

County administrator Monty Pagenhardt said the commissioners "took some heat" for not announcing their position on the state forest project earlier. The county attorney and other staff members had advised them to wait until after the hearings, Pagenhardt noted.

"I feel it was appropriate," said Director James Hinebaugh, Garrett County Department of Economic Development, about the commissioners' decision to defer their announcement. "They let the public process run its course. They allowed the proponents to have their day in court, so to speak."

In doing so, Hinebaugh added, the commissioners did not give into public pressure or attack the governor and state.

Glotfelty stressed the importance of keeping an open relationship with the governor and DNR secretary.

"We have to work with them," he said.

Gregg said it is standard protocol to wait until after a public hearing is held before rendering an opinion on an issue. If the commissioners had presented an opinion before the hearings, Gregg said, they would have been accused of making up their minds before members of the public had a chance to present their views.

The DNR will accept comments about placing turbines on state land until March 3 at dnr.state.md.us.-sustainability/wpm.

Secretary Griffin will review the public hearing and online comments and make a recommendation to O'Malley and the Maryland Board of Public Works, which is comprised of the governor, treasurer Nancy Kopp, and comptroller Peter Franchot.

"It's up to those three whether it goes or not," Holliday said about the turbine project.

The chief defect of a democracy is that the only political party that knows how to run the country is always the one that's out of office!

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

BITTINGER LUTHERAN PARISH

Midweek Lenten services for the area are scheduled as below:

Feb. 13 – Taize service followed by light meal at 6:15 p.m. at Emmanuel.

Feb. 20 – Taize service followed by light meal at 6:15 p.m. at St. John's (Meadow Mountain).

Feb. 27 – Taize service followed by light meal at 6:15 p.m. at Emmanuel.

March 5 – Taize service followed by light meal at 6:15 p.m. at St. John's

March 12 – Taize service followed by light meal at 6:15 p.m. at Emmanuel.

March 19 – Taize service followed by light meal at 6:15 p.m. at St. John's

March 20 – Maundy Thursday with Communion and stripping of the altar at Emmanuel at 7 p.m. There will be no meal.

March 21 – Tenebrae service at 7 p.m. at Zion (Jennings). There will be no meal.

Taize services are quiet, contemplative services with prayer and singing. Scripture and short monologues will also be incorporated into the worship time. Make plans to attend any or all of these services, and bring a friend.

Bible study is held at Cherry Hill Assisted Living on Aiken-Miller Road every Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Bring your Bible, your insights, and a brown bag lunch.

The youth group of the parish will meet this Sunday, Feb. 10, at 6 p.m. at the parsonage. Plans will be made for a summer mission trip. Cindy will provide dinner, and there will be games and planning time.

Camp Luther will be held June 15–21 this year. Applications are available, and registration deadline is May 1.

Our former pastor, Louise Knotts, was hospitalized on Jan. 10 because of a small stroke. She has now started therapy and has returned to where she was physically prior to the stroke. Cards will be appreciated and can be sent to Rev. Louise Knotts, 312 58th Street Vienna, WV 26103.

Bud Railey of the Garrett County Historical Society requests that Garrett County residents help preserve the history of old family with photographs, clippings, and events. The people in the photographs need to be identified. The Historical Society is interested in them. The Garrett County Historical Museum is located at 107 S. 2nd Street in Oakland.

When I was a child I often poured over the old photographs, pictures, and scrapbooks of my grandfather and his brothers in World War I. Of course, my favorite pictures were the ones with horses in them. My family, the Glotfelty clan, had intensive archives. The same kind of box was in the attic of my other grandparents, Charles and Linnie Buckle. All four families represented in my grandparents' archives have been published in genealogy books. They are the Glotfelty, Buckle, Brenneman and Miller families.

Last Friday, the first day of February, was a nightmare of all kinds of winter with a lot of sleet, and my deck was covered with ice. Then came more freezing rain, and it started to snow in early afternoon. I could imagine the conditions of the roads. We got several inches of snow on top of the ice. The air was filled with big floppy wet flakes. The branches of the trees are white, but thank goodness there was no wind.

I predict that the ground hog will see his shadow tomorrow, but either way we are bound to have six more weeks of winter. However, the day after Groundhog Day was spring-like, and the forecast calls for 60-degree temperatures this week. I wish I could believe that winter is over. The ice on my deck is about four inches thick, and I am afraid to step outside.

It looks like we will have an interesting primary presidential election coming up, with a moderate Republican, McCain, against two liberals, Hillary and Obama. A friend told me last election that she was supporting Bush because "he knew how to run a business." I wonder what she thinks now as the economy is on the brink of a recession. Bush does know how to run a business into the ground. He didn't have much better luck with his baseball team. Back then we had a choice of one who allegedly knew how to run a business against a candidate who knew the trouble our planet was in. Now years later we are trying to find a way to save our planet. We are in a war that is costing billions of dollars. Are we aware of what a billion is? Well, it is a thousand millions. That is a number too big even to imagine.

Just a note of interest, in an article that was in the Cumberland Times newspaper yesterday said that Exxon made 40 billion, 600 million dollars last year. No wonder we are paying such high prices for gasoline. Some of our top politicians are raking in the profits with their big interests in oil.

The Poholsky family hosted a Super Bowl party Sunday night, even though Lenny s team, the Steelers, were not in the game. But regardless of the teams playing, Lenny is a big fan of pro football. The Giants came out the victor by beating the Patriots, which was a big upset in the history of the Super Bowl. I am sorry that I got bored at halftime and went to bed. It was quite an ending, with a former Steeler catching a touchdown pass to put it away for the Giants.

I am not a person who thinks the commercials are a big deal. But, of course, I loved the Budweiser Clydesdale horses. They are so beautiful. Years ago they were at the Wisp for the Winter Festival. I also won the snow sculpture contest with none other than a horse sculpture.

Among my siblings, two were born in December, with Scott and Carol only a week apart. I have two brothers who were born in February. Barry was born on Feb. 5, and Rodney on the 26th. Cindy Stanton, who is Rodney's age, was born on the 21st. My best friend from the first grade through high school, Linda Bowman Neidelberger, had a birthday on the 4th. So, a Happy Birthday to all those born in February.

Today, Super Tuesday, has strange weather. It is nearly 60 degrees, but very gray and not much sunshine. We are in the ugly period between winter and spring, with lots of mud everywhere and some lingering ice. Of course, snow is pretty, except when you have to drive in it.

I was delighted today to see that Rock Lodge spring is still running. With the rain we will be getting tonight it should be in good shape for a couple months. We only have a few scattered patches of snow in Bittinger, which is somewhat remarkable for February. It is not just Super Tuesday today, but it is also Fat Tuesday, which is the last day before Lent starts on Wednesday.

I feel kind of icky this morning and now I know why, as a thunderstorm is rolling in. One thing I really miss with my disability is running. I will have to go out to the car soon, and I know I will get soaking wet. The other night I dreamed that I ran from Brenneman's Grove to home, but of course, the truth is I can't run a step. Even walking is a real chore for me.

"BUCK-A-CUP" PARTICIPANTS – Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop recently participated in the "Buck-A-Cup" fundraiser. Sponsored by the Cumberland Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, all proceeds from the event supported the Cumberland Scottish Rite Childhood Language Disorders Clinic, which is managed by the League for Crippled Children Inc. A total of $7,000 was presented to the league at a recent Scottish Rite ceremony. Pictured above, from left, are Charles Hout, chairperson for the event; Melinda Elliott of Keyser's Ridge; Howard Platter, owner; Charity Platter of Keyser's Ridge; and Jerome Robinette, secretary for the Cumberland Scottish Rite.

by Derrica Friend, reporter

Snowy Creek 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on Jan. 24 at Friendsville Elementary School. Club members planned their activities for the year.

Old and new business was discussed, and leader Rick Lowdermilk gave several announcements.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Feb. 14, at 6:30 p.m. at Friendsville Elementary.

Child Protection Review Panel To Hold Meeting

The Garrett County Local Citizen Review Panel (LCRP) will hold an open meeting on Feb. 21 from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Department of Social Services, located at 12578 Garrett Highway in Oakland.

The LCRPs in Maryland provide some community-based oversight for the local child protection system through individual case and system reviews, a spokesperson explained.

Members include individuals with interest and expertise in the prevention and treatment of child abuse and neglect. Persons who are interested in attending a meeting or serving on the LCRP are invited to contact Lisa Drummond at the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families at 301-334-1189.

Plant Society To Meet; To Learn About Butterfly

The Western Mountains Chapter of the Maryland Native Plant Society will hold its regular meeting at the Appalachian Lab in Frostburg on Tuesday, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m. The guest speaker will be Pat Durkin, founder and director of the Baltimore Checkerspot Restoration Project, who will give a PowerPoint presentation titled "Saving Maryland's Baltimore Checkerspot Butterfly." Her program will begin immediately following a brief business meeting. The public is welcome to attend.

The mission of the Baltimore Checkerspot Restoration Project is to conserve this dwindling butterfly species, the official insect of the state of Maryland.

THE BALTIMORE CHECKERSPOT butterfly, pictured, will be the focus of guest speaker Pat Durkin, founder and director of the Baltimore Checkerspot Restoration Project, when she addresses the Western Mountains Chapter of Maryland Native Plant Society on Feb. 19. She will give a PowerPoint presentation titled "Saving Maryland's Baltimore Checkerspot Butterfly." See story. Photo by Fran Pope.

'When the beautiful orange-and-black checkered Baltimore checkerspot was named Maryland's official state insect in 1973, the butterfly was common in much of Maryland in its upland, wet meadow habitat," Durkin explained. "Since then, however, the species has dwindled precipitously through the Mid-Atlantic, the consequences of development pressures, deer over-population, gypsy moth control, and other factors. Once known in 15 Maryland counties, the butterfly has recently been found in only five."

Durkin will relate the checkerspot's natural history and what is being done to improve its outlook in Maryland and the region.

Durkin conducts comprehensive baseline surveys of butterflies and their habitats for the National Park Service, and teaches courses in butterflies for the USDA Graduate School, Audubon Naturalist Society of the Mid-Atlantic States, and other organizations. Her field research includes the first systematic observation by boat of the strategic flight tactics of monarch butterflies migrating over large bodies of water. She has led annual July 4th butterfly counts in the District of Columbia for eight years and at Harper's Ferry National Historical Park for four years. She co-founded the Washington Area Butterfly Club in 1997 and has served in all of its leadership positions.

Durkin is also writing a historical novel about 17th century butterfly researcher and botanical illustrator Maria Sybilla Merian. She and her husband Don, also a writer, operate the Chester A. Arthur House Bed & Breakfast in their Victorian-era townhouse in Washington, D.C.

The Appalachian Lab is located along Braddock Road, just off I-68, Midlothian Road exit, Frostburg.

The Maryland Native Plant Society uses education, research, and community service to increase awareness and appreciation of native plants and their habitats leading to their conservation and restoration. Membership is open to all who are interested in Maryland's native plants and their habitats. MNPS sponsors monthly meetings, workshops, field trips, and an annual fall conference. For more information, persons are invited to visit www.mdflora.org.

For more information on the Western Mountains Chapter, persons are invited to contact Liz McDowell at 301-895-3686, via e-mail at info@elkridgenatureworks.com, or by visiting the chapter web site at www.mdflora.org/chapters.

ACCIDENT

by Kara Savage

The North Star 4-H Club met January 9 at the Accident fire hall. The meeting was called to order by Vice President Kevin Haenftling. Kara Savage and Kevin Haenftling led the pledges. There were two members, three clovers, three preclovers, one guest, and nine adults present.

Sharon Custer from the Garrett County Health Department presented a program on spit tobacco, and members took a survey on tobacco use.

Kara Savage reported on the Christmas party and installation of officers. Kevin Haenftling reported on the planning meeting and record book workshop. Club members collected personal care items for the Dove Center.

Members planned to go to the movies to see Alvin and The Chipmunks on Sunday, Jan. 13. Officer training was scheduled for Monday, Feb. 4, at Northern Middle School.

Kara Savage gave a demonstration on her junior leadership project.

The next meeting was scheduled for Feb. 5.

To the Editor:

At our recent meeting of the Western Maryland Delegation in Annapolis, the legislators were briefed on the status of U.S. Wind Force's proposal to place wind turbines on state land along Backbone Mountain. I wish to commend Delegate Wendell Beitzel for his leadership on this issue. He has been at the forefront of the opposition to this misuse of state-owned land.

Representing the area around Antietam National Battlefield, I have long been concerned by proposals to place wind turbines or other large objects along the ridges of our mountains. Up until now, the state of Maryland has had a consistent policy of denying such exploitation of our natural resources.

Again, I sincerely appreciate Delegate Beitzel's leadership on this issue as he diligently works on your behalf.

Sincerely,
Christopher B. Shank

To the Editor:

I am amazed to see the passion over the past few years in the editorial and in the newspaper over the three subjects of the Oakland bypass, windmills, and Allegheny Power light bulbs. I think everyone should have a passion that they believe in so strongly. Whether you are a reporter or citizen, everyone has the right to their opinion on any subject.

I am not saying I am for or against any of the three matters as most likely they help or hinder the exact same amount of people. As a scientist, I know that the given amount of data can be skewed in a positive or negative light, depending on what side is paying for the data. That is a harsh side of science and most of all, reality.

While all three of these subjects may or may not directly influence our future, I do strongly believe in one "future." The fact that our "true" future is our children. Whether the bypass is there or not, or the windmills are put on state land, or whether those dang light bulbs really save us money over the long haul, the true reality is that our future is being stolen right out from under us as we speak.

I read in the paper on a regular basis about child abuse and rarely hear any outrageously passionate, full-page, front headline articles that focus on the proven and completely sad statistics of child abuse. While completely sickening and unbelievable to read, the statistics are that 1 in every 4 children is abused and 90% of the victims know their abuser. Now those are some statistics and disturbing data that I would like to see people passionate about. Most of all I wish everyone would educate themselves on the facts of sexual and physical abuse because the saddest fact of all is that you – yes, you – know an abuser.

The next time you take your child to school, do the math. Out of my daughter's class there are 15 students and statistics prove that at least three are being abused on a regular basis. Put your passion, opinion, arguments and money into educating and protecting the true future of this county.....our children.

Jennifer Rephann-Dwyer

To the Editor:

I read in The Republican today that a Jack Edmiston, resident of the town of Friendsville, is running for mayor. I asked myself, why does Jack Edmiston believe he should be elected by the people of Friendsville to be our official town representative for all county and state responsibilities, to be elected public servant of the people of the town of Friendsville, to be our mayor? I tried very hard to list all of Mr. Edmiston's contributions made to, or on the behalf of, the town of Friendsville. I am unable to recall a single contribution.

It is my understanding that Mr. Edmiston has been living in Friendsville for some 30 years. I have only lived in Friendsville 19 years. I'm not running for mayor, yet my list of contributions to Friendsville, such as volunteer time, donated goods, and donated monies are numerous. Mr. Schlosnagle, our incumbent mayor, who is running for re-election, has easily contributed many more thousands of hours of volunteer time to our small community over his many years as a public servant than I have. He has shown a true commitment to improving the lives of the citizens of Friendsville.

It is my hope that the voters of Friendsville will elect for their mayor someone who has demonstrated a committed service to the citizens of the town of Friendsville. Who is this Jack Edmiston? And what has he ever done for Friendsville?

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter from Brenda Glotfelty in the 1/31 issue. Sister, I don't know who you are, but you have hit the nail square on the head. I grew up here too, right at the foot of Marsh Hill. I now live on the back side of Marsh Hill with the new slopes and chairlift right in my front yard. You want to talk about ugly! The lights are so bright at night we can count our cattle in the field at night. Do you know the lights from the Wisp can be seen all the way over on Backbone Mountain?

I have to agree with every thing you said – it's all about drawing tourists or potential home sites. They are not worried about the timber and impact on wildlife, they are only worried about pleasing the tourist, not the locals. You know, it's funny the people who come here to get away from the city, talk about elegant beauty, not disturbing the landscape, and how this could result in financial "death." Well, I want to see them try to keep a modest home and family going on what the "local people" make. Our prices are higher than surrounding areas, even Wal-Mart's. Why? Because this is a tourist area. Well, folks, we are not all tourists.

Now let's talk about the impact on the environment. If you cut massive amounts of timber off a mountainside, there will be an impact. Do it with nothing at the bottom to catch the runoff and, boy, we are having fun now. Don't believe me? Drive back Hoyes Run Road on a warm rainy winter day, like Feb. 4 and 5. Water and mud will be rolling across the county road off the slopes. The water rolls down our driveways and across our yards, leaving behind mud and debris. Talk about declining property value! I would rather see windmills. At least they have a peaceful quality to them.

Sincerely,
Colette Savage

To the Editor:

Although I did not see it for myself, I understand that the wind industry's representative, Frank Maisano, arrived wearing a Sierra Club hat at the DNR hearing at Garrett College.

Sierra Club hats have been available to the general public in times past, and our membership is open to anyone, as we are a volunteer-driven, democratically oriented organization.

I want to clarify that the Sierra Club was not on the side of the wind industry developers that night. Indeed, several of our volunteers were in the audience and some even spoke.

It was great to see the number of folks who came out to speak against this poorly planned proposal. Wind speed data suggests that the only areas suitable for wind power during the summer months (when it is really needed) are in the southern Chesapeake Bay and off the coast of Ocean City.

Legislator Would Give Drug, Alcohol Tests To Minors Wanting Licenses

by Laura Schwartzman
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – A Democratic lawmaker wants to drug test all driver's license applicants under 21 and vows to "fight like a tiger" to push the legislation, which he hopes will save lives.

But opponents say the policy is unconstitutional, ineffective, and prohibitively expensive.

The legislation, introduced by Delegate Marvin E. Holmes Jr. of Prince George's County, would require the Motor Vehicle Administration to test the breath and blood of driver's license applicants under 21 for alcohol and controlled substances. A positive test would result in the suspension of driving privileges for six months, although the applicant would be entitled to a hearing.

About 65,000 individuals under 21 applied for driver's licenses in Maryland in 2007, according to the bill's fiscal policy note, which estimates an annual cost increase of at least $945,500 in the first year and more than $1.2 million annually by 2010.

Holmes said he was spurred by reports of drunk driving and youth drug abuse in his district.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 3,467 drivers age 15 to 20 were killed nationally in 2005. Of those, 28 percent had been drinking.

Holmes plans to revise the bill in light of criticism it received Tuesday at a House Environmental Matters Committee Hearing.

John Kuo, administrator for the Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration, said the policy could lead to severe customer service delays and pose "very serious operational problems." The MVA would have to equip its locations with drug testing equipment and additional personnel at an enormous cost.

"The intent of the bill is good, and we need to remove more people who have drugs or alcohol in their systems from our roadways," said 1st Sgt. Tom Woodward of the Maryland Department of State Police, who also testified in opposition. "It's just the logistics that are going to be a problem."

Woodward said that because of the level of evidence required and other legal issues, the testing might be defaulted to the state police.

"We don't have the personnel or equipment to do that testing," he said. "We're talking about tripling what we already do."

Maryland has no appropriate in-state blood testing labs, resulting in a cost of nearly $150 per specimen in collection, shipping and testing costs, he said.

The American Civil Liberties Union of Maryland denounced the bill in written statements, writing that general drug testing is costly, unconstitutional, and has no proven effect on young people's drug use.

The Maryland Office of the Public Defender was also opposed, raising concerns over positive results from legal alcohol consumption, such as with family, and the confidentiality of test results.

They also wondered if the legislation could eventually lead to drug testing driver's license applicants of all ages without probable cause.

Holmes said the original legislation was intended to drug test all applicants, but he redirected it to target minors after constitutionality issues were raised.

"This is an effort to help prevent young persons [who abuse drugs] from getting driver's licenses in the very beginning," he said.

THE Garden Patch
by Master Gardener Suzanne Carol

I WISH YOU A BLUEBIRD ON YOUR SHOULDER

It's that time of year when the garden plan is completed or well under way; warm, balmy days that make us yearn to get out and work in the garden are followed by snow and freezing weather, and even the seed catalogs get boring. I start really longing to see sunny days, the first crocuses, and the first flocks of birds coming back from their winter retreats in warmer climates.

One of my favorite birds is the bluebird with its beautiful blue top and orange underbelly. It's a joy to have them nest close enough to watch the process. I was researching them and found some wonderful information to share with you.

Bluebirds are members of the thrush family related to the American robin. This pretty little bird is very beneficial to us because it eats huge quantities of insects such as cutworms and grasshoppers that damage our gardens. In fact, 60 to 80% of their diet consists of insects. They like to perch on fence posts or small trees and swoop down to eat insects on the ground. Bluebirds don't usually eat at the birdfeeder, but they love berry or insect suet. They were once very common in the United States, but have diminished over the last century because of loss of natural habitat, overuse of pesticides, and predators.

They are solitary nesters, but will use an empty nest nearby if they can't find a site they like. They make their nests in natural or manmade cavities such as old woodpecker holes, cliff holes, dirt banks, old swallow nests, and manmade nest boxes. It takes them from a couple of days to a little over a week to build their nest. They use stems, grass, pine needles, rootlets, and bark, and line the nest with soft materials like wool, hair, feathers, or twigs.

They will reuse old nesting sites especially if they were able to raise a brood successfully there. They will use the nest to produce a second brood during the same season and sometimes return to the same site the next season. They get "attached" to a site and even to a specific nesting box.

Bluebirds start building their nests during the beginning of the breeding season which begins in the first part of April or May. The female chooses the site and builds the nest. The male stays close and keeps guard while this process is happening. He will sometimes bring nesting material to the female but does not actually place it in the nest. That job is left to the female. A pair of bluebirds usually raises two broods each breeding season.

If you want to attract bluebirds when they are ready to start building their nest, fill an empty suet cage with soft grasses, pine needles, and small pieces of wool cloth. Make sure there is a water source near the nesting site. If you're into bluebird watching for the long term, plant some fruit and berry trees and bushes. They like the fruits and berries from red cedar, Virginia creeper, blueberry, elderberry, dogwood, sumac, bayberry, and holly. You can also place chopped fruit, berries, and chopped peanuts on a platform feeder for them.

Put up a bluebird box. There are plans for building them on the Internet, in the library, and places like Lowes or Home Depot. If you don't want to build one, buy one. They are reasonably priced and can be used over and over.

In my research I found a quote by "anonymous" that reads, "May you always hear the flutter of wings." I wish that for you.

"Friends Of The Cheat" Holding Drawing, T-Shirt Design Contests

The Friends of the Cheat group is sponsoring drawing and T-shirt design contests for the 2008 Cheat River Festival to help educate and create awareness about the watershed.

Students in grades kindergarten through 12 are invited to submit a drawing that portrays the mission statement of the Friends of the Cheat: "To restore, preserve, and promote the outstandmg qualities of the Cheat River Watershed."

"These entries should reflect the beauty, the inhabitants, the benefits, or the problems that can affect the aquatic life in the watershed," said a group spokesperson.

There will be one winner from each of the following grade categories: kindergarten-2, 3-6, 7-9, and 10-12.

All drawings must be received by noon on Friday, March 7, at the Friends of the Cheat office: 119 S. Price St., Kingwood, WV 26537. Participants are asked to include their names, addresses, phone numbers, e-mail addresses (if applicable), and grade category with their submissions.

Winners will receive two passes to the 2008 Cheat River Festival, plus a Clay Art by Gail watershed token.

The T-shirt design contest is open to anyone with graphic design or photography skills.

"One winning design or image will be chosen that best represents the mission statement of the Friends of the Cheat," said the spokesperson. "Other judging criteria would include the quality of the design for screen printing, creativity, and artistic merit. Only digital artwork or good quality photos would be accepted for this contest."

Detailed contest information, including rules and artwork requirements can be found online at cheat.org or by calling the Friends of the Cheat at 304-329-3621.

One winner will be chosen, but the judging committee is reserving the right not to use the design or photo for a T-shirt.

Entries for this contest must also be received at the Friends of the Cheat office by noon on March 7.

The winner will receive a free one-year membership in Friends of the Cheat, a free Cheat River Festival T-shirt, two passes to the festival, and recognition for the best design or photo entered.

All drawing and T-shirt design entries will be displayed in the Friends of the Cheat booth during the festival, scheduled for May 3.

Michael Neale Will Perform At Mountaintop '08

The annual getaway weekend conference, Mountaintop 2008, will be held March 7-9 at Wilson Lodge, Oglebay, in Wheeling, W.Va. A highlight of the weekend, according to co-founder and Garrett County native Anne Robinson, will be the Saturday evening "Festival in Celebration of God's Glory," featuring Dove-nominated recording artist Michael Neale. Along with his band, Neale will also lead musical worship throughout the weekend.

Neale has recorded several projects as a writer, artist, and producer with Integrity Music. His latest endeavor, a live modern worship recording titled No Greater Audience, features 12 new songs. Bigger Than Life, recorded with the 150-member Christ Fellowship Choir in Palm Beach Garden, Fla., was nominated for a 2006 Dove award in the Choral Collection of the Year category.

Neale also serves as worship arts pastor for the People's Church in Franklin, Tenn. He leads worship, directs the creative arts team, and serves on the executive strategic development team of his church. He is also a featured communicator and worship leader for various conferences around the country, including Integrity's Seminars4Worship.

"Michael Neale is an amazingly gifted artist," Robinson said. "His passion for the Lord is clearly evident in his music, in both his writing and performing. Whether seeing him in person or listening to his CDs, one is always drawn into worship, and his appeal reaches all generations. We're very excited to offer the opportunity to experience the music of a musician of Michael's caliber at Mountaintop."

Also featured will be Dr. Mark D. Futato, Orlando, Fla., an author, former pastor, and seminary professor at Reformed Theological Seminary in Orlando. Having studied and taught the Psalms for nearly 30 years, his five-session topic will be "The Psalms: A Manual for Abundant Living," focusing on "the Happy Life, the Holy Life, the Purposeful Life, the Confident Life, and the Majestic Life."

"Mountaintop is one of only a handful of similar conferences in the country in that it is not affiliated with a particular denomination and is for men and women of all ages," Robinson said. "Our goal is to provide an atmosphere away from the rush and strain of life, where folks can be challenged to grow spiritually. It's been said that when you spend time at Mountaintop, you see life from a different perspective. Sometimes it takes getting away from the ordinary to allow that to happen."

Over 3,000 men and women have attended this event throughout the past 22 years. It is sponsored by Living for Christ Conferences and co-sponsored by WTRF-TV7. For more information or to register, LFCC may be called at 304-455-5322 or contacted online at mountaintopconference.org.

AURORA/EGLON

LENTEN SERVICES

Lenten services for the coming week will be Feb. 13 at the Aurora United Methodist Church, with Rev. Robert Klier bringing the message. This year's theme, "Encounter with Christ," will be carried out in the sermon themes. All services begin at 7 p.m.

The next week's speaker will be the Rev. Marjorie Lauver. She will be at the Brookside Church of the Brethren.

ROTH DEATH

Relatives here were notified of the Jan. 28 death of Mary Catherine Schlossnagle Roth, who died at a Santa Rosa, Calif. nursing home.

She was born Nov. 30, 1929, at Oakland, Md., a daughter of the late Walter and Pearl Schlossnagle. Also preceding her in death was her husband, Roland Samuel Roth; a sister, Eleanor Moon; a son, James Roth; and a granddaughter, Erica.

Sam and Mary lived in Aurora, Ohio, until her illness required more help.

She is survived by her daughter Janice (and Mark) Golik of Santa Rosa; one son, Jeffrey (and Tracy) Roth, Westerville, Ohio; four grandchildren; two sisters, Jean and Linda; and two brothers, Dale and David.

Services will be at a later date. Memorials may be made to the Alzheimer's Association or a charity of the donor's choice.

LANTZ EMPLOYED

Joshua Lantz of Aurora has moved to Indiana, where he is employed by Cummins. He will be using his degrees earned at West Virginia University, a double major in aerospace engineering and mechanical engineering. Joshua is the son of Mark and Chris Lantz and the grandson of Maynard and Bonnylin Lantz, all Aurora.

WILES BIRTH

A daughter was born January 31, 2008, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital to Robbie and Crystal Wiles of Aurora, Lantz Ridge. Named Kinsey Elizabeth, the little girl weighed 6 pounds, 14.5 ounces.

Paternal grandparents are Kevin and Kathy Wiles, Lantz Ridge, Aurora. The paternal great-grandparents are Keith and Carol Wotring, Aurora, and Robert and Edna Wiles, Lantz Ridge.

Maternal grandparents are Kenneth Reckart Sr., Crellin, and Terry and Patsy Tracey, Aurora.

TERRA ALTA

CRIME WATCH

Corinth community residents are invited to a meeting with the Neighborhood Watch Committee of Terra Alta. It will be held on Feb. 12 (snow date: Feb. 19) at the Corinth United Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m. Information about how to arrange a watch will be given by Debbie Parsons.

Residents are encouraged to attend the informational meeting. A spokesperson said studies prove that signs, symbols, and cautious individuals looking out for one another can stop criminal activity.

DONATION

Thanks were expressed to the Cranberry Garden Club for its recent donation toward the landscaping project of the proposed senior center.

IS YOUR HEARING DELAYED?

The age-related hearing loss known as "presbycusis" is characterized by difficulty hearing high-pitched frequencies. This may pose a significant problem during conversation because it may be difficult to distinguish between high-pitched consonants such as "b" and "p." Each sound has a "base frequency" as well as "higher harmonics." "B" and "p" have similar base frequencies but different higher harmonics. When those with presbycusis experience difficulties distinguishing between the words "bop" and "pop," they are forced to process language at a slower pace than people with normal hearing. This auditory processing delay places them at a distinct disadvantage. They must play catch-up while conversing rather than verbally interacting spontaneously. Fortunately, a hearing instrument may correct this problem.

We believe an unaddressed hearing impairment is actually more noticeable than a hearing instrument, and we urge you to get help if your hearing isn't what it once was. Our methods at AUDIBEL include using the most sophisticated technology available today in the hearing industry. This, coupled with the astonishing hearing aids now manufactured and our professionalism and personal attention to your needs, ensures your complete satisfaction with your hearing device.

P.S. A delay in responses to questions due to a hearing impairment causes some people to assume that the person answering is mentally deficient rather than hearing impaired.

Farmers Urged To Begin Process For Mgmt. Plans

"Farmers interested in having a Comprehensive Nutrient Management Plan (CNMP) developed for their ag operations need to go to their local USDA Service Center as soon as possible to begin the application process," said Jon F. Hall, state conservationist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) in Maryland.

NRCS Maryland has already received its Fiscal Year 2008 funding for the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP), and funds, although limited, are still available to assist in the development of a CNMP. NRCS Maryland is accepting and ranking applications on a continuous basis.

The next ranking and funding of applications will be on February 29. Farmers are advised to visit their local USDA service centers now to apply for assistance. Farmers who apply after February 29 may experience a delay in receiving available financial assistance.

EQIP funds can be used to provide farmers with an incentive payment to hire a technical service provider (NRCS-approved private consultant) to develop a CNMP, which serves as a guide for farmers who combines their skills with the science-based knowledge of conservation partners.

A CNMP contains several components, including a nutrient management plan, a conservation plan, an animal waste handling and storage plan, and an emergency action plan. A CNMP is designed to address a farmer's entire operation as he manages all nutrients on his farm to include crop and livestock production, Hall explained.

The state of Maryland is considering implementing a new Maryland Animal Feeding Operation (MAFO) permit, which may require some livestock farmers (including poultry) to have a CNMP developed for their operation. Although this new permit policy has not been enacted at this time, now is the time for farmers to request technical and financial assistance in developing a CNMP and installing required conservation practices before NRCS experiences a higher demand for this service, Hall said. When a final MAFO permit policy is enacted by the state of Maryland, NRCS will continue to assist producers with their compliance with the new regulations.

In addition to CNMPs, 23 other conservation practices that cover livestock, grazing, forestry, wildlife habitat, and agronomy are now eligible under EQIP in the 2002 Farm Bill. EQIP sign-up information is on the Internet on the NRCS Maryland homepage at www.md.nrcs.usda.gov in the Programs Section, and is also available from local NRCS offices.

In addition to the program application form, there is additional application information, a list of practices and costs, and specifics on Maryland's ranking process, including criteria used to evaluate applications.

NRCS is USDA's lead conservation agency and has worked with farmers and landowners for more than 70 years to conserve natural resources on private lands. Maryland's landowners can learn more about conserving natural resources by contacting NRCS Maryland through USDA service centers collocated with their county's soil conservation districts, or by visiting the NRCS Maryland homepage at www.md.nrcs.usda.gov.

Farm Service Agency Reports

FSA RESCHEDULES SIGN-UP FOR DAIRY DISASTER ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Eric M. McCartney, executive director for USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Preston County, has announced that the agency is postponing sign-up for the Dairy Disaster Assistance Program (DDAP-III) until the agency publishes final regulations in the Federal Register. Sign-up for DDAP-III resumed Monday, Feb. 4.

Unlike other disaster programs, FSA was forced to delay DDAP-III sign-up because of Paperwork Reduction Act and other regulatory requirements mandating the issuance of a proposed rule to receive public comments on the program, McCartney explained. FSA is currently finalizing its review of the numerous comments received from the proposed rule and expects to publish final regulations for DDAP-III as expeditiously as possible in the next few weeks.

FSA TARGETS LOANS FOR WOMEN AND MINORITY FARMERS

Matt Briggs, farm loan manager for USDA's Farm Service Agency, serving Preston County, announced this week that women and minority farmers interested in buying and operating family-sized farms may be eligible for loans from FSA.

"The Farm Service Agency is interested in promoting greater involvement in farming and ranching by women and minorities," said Briggs. "Each year, we reserve a portion of our farm loan funds especially for socially disadvantaged applicants."

The loans available to women and minorities are the same as those for other borrowers, as are the eligibility requirements. Applicants must be primarily and directly engaged in farming and ranching on family-size operations. A socially disadvantaged applicant is one of a group whose members have been subjected to racial, ethnic, or gender prejudice because of his or her identity as members of the group without regard to his or her individual qualities. For purposes of this program, socially disadvantaged groups are women, African Americans, American Indians, Alaskan Natives, Hispanics, and Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders. In addition to being members of a socially disadvantaged group, applicants under this program must meet all requirements for FSA's regular farm loan program assistance.

Farm ownership loan funds may be used to purchase or enlarge a farm or ranch, purchase easements or rights of way needed in the farm's operation, build or improve buildings such as a dwelling or barn, promote soil and water conservation and development, and pay closing costs.

Farm operating loan funds may be used to purchase livestock, poultry, farm equipment, fertilizer, and other materials necessary to operate a successful farm. Operating loan funds can also be used for family living expenses, refinancing debts under certain conditions, paying salaries for hired farm laborers, installing or improving water systems for home, livestock, or irrigation use, and other similar improvements.

Persons may telephone farm loan manager Matt Briggs at the White Hall USDA Service Center at 800-707-1298 or 304-363-8861 to obtain detailed information about the Socially Disadvantaged Applicant loan program. Persons may also access information on all FSA programs on the Web at www.fsa.usda.gov.

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, will accept sealed bids for the replacement purchase and installation of one (1) new 4 ton 13-seer Air Conditioning and Heat Unit for the Roger P. Glotfelty Sr. Building located at 1916 Maryland Highway, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, and one (1) new 3 ton 13-seer Air Conditioning Unit for the Board of Elections Office located at 2008 Maryland Highway, Suite 1, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, as specified. Bidders will be responsible for removal of old units and any debris.

Bid documents and specifications may be obtained in person from the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 316 East Alder Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550. A copy of the bid documents can also be downloaded from the Garrett County Purchasing Department's web site at www.garrettcounty.org/Purchasing/CurrentBids.aspx. Inquiries may be made by calling 301-334-5003.

Sealed bids must be submitted to the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 316 East Alder Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550, on or before Thursday, February 28, 2008, at 1:30 p.m. (local time). Sealed bids will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Commissioners' Meeting Room at 2:00 p.m. on February 28, 2008. All bidders are required to submit three (3) copies of their bid documents at the time of submission. All bids submitted should be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be clearly marked "Air Conditioning/Heat Unit Replacements Bid" on the outside of the envelope. Any bids received after the time due will not be considered for award and shall be retained as documentation for the bid file.

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, to cancel this invitation to bid and to waive technicalities in any part deemed to be in the best interest of Garrett County.

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION
Notice of Applications Received for State Permits and Opportunity for Hearing

Issue Date: February 7, 2008, in The Republican

The Water Management Administration is reviewing the application for the State Permits listed below. The application and related information are on file at the Administration; arrangements may be made for inspection and copying. Opportunity is afforded individuals to provide written comments, to request a public informational hearing or to be placed on an interested persons list for the listed application. Any further notices about actions on an application will be provided only by mail to those Individuals on a mailing list of interested persons. Comments or requests for an informational hearing must be received in writing by the Administration on or before February 21, 2008. All inquiries and requests should include the permit application number; your name, address and telephone number; and should be addressed to John Grace, Chief, Source Protection and Appropriation Division, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd., Baltimore, Maryland 21230. Telephone: 410-537-3590.

GARRETT COUNTY

GA2006G010/1 – Thousand Acres Developments, Inc., 8 Sky Valley Road, Swanton, MD 21561, has applied for a Water Appropriation and use Permit to take ground water from 500 wells in the Jennings and Hampshire Formations, to supply 500 single-family homes in the proposed Thousand Acres Subdivision. The Administration is considering an appropriation of an annual average of 29,900 gallons per day (gpd) and 50,100 gpd during the month of maximum use from 150 wells to supply 150 individual residences. The wells are to be located within 0.8 mile (in all directions) of the junction of Thousand Acres Road and Shoreline Drive, three miles northwest of Swanton, Garrett County, Maryland.

The proposed production wells, installed in a leaky fractured rock aquifer, will be drilled to various depths up to and, possibly, exceeding 500 feet. Impacts to the resource and nearby users were evaluated using data from geological reports and investigations available to the Water Management Administration and two, on-site, aquifer-pumping tests. Pumping of the wells during periods of maximum use may lower the water table more than 10 feet in the well of the nearest other user. In making this evaluation, water withdrawals were modeled with the wells pumping continuously at the maximum monthly rate for 90 days with no recharge to the aquifer.

GA2007S013/1 – Thousand Acres Developments, Inc., 8 Sky Valley Road, Swanton, MD 21561, has applied to appropnate an annual average of 27,000 gallons per day (gpd) of surface water and a maximum of 308,000 gallons in one day for irrigation at the proposed Thousand Acres Golf Course from Deep Creek Lake. The withdrawal will be supplemental to GA2006S108/1 (20,000 gpd avg/308,000 gallons peak day from an on-site sediment control pond). The water will be taken from Green Glade Cove on Deep Creek Lake, 0.6 mile southeast of the junction of Thousand Acres Road and Crows Point Road, two miles northwest of Swanton, Garrett County, Maryland.

Impacts to the resource and nearby users were evaluated using data from geological reports and investigations available to the Water Management Administration. The total of the two withdrawals is expected to lower the lake level by about 0.1 inch during the summer and is equivalent to about ½ hour of hydropower generation over the course of a year. The intake will be screened and designed to produce a minimal intake velocity (0.42 ft/sec) to protect aquatic species. Water is to be taken from the on-site pond, before any water is withdrawn from the lake.

GA2006S108/1 – Thousand Acres Developments, Inc., 8 Sky Valley Road, Swanton, MD 21561, has applied to appropriate an annual average of 20,000 gallons per day (gpd) of surface water and a maximum of 308,000 gallons in one day for irrigation at the proposed Thousand Acres Golf Course. The withdrawal will be supplemental to GA2007S013/1 (27,000 gpd avg / 308,000 gallons peak day from Deep Creek Lake). The water is to be taken from an off-stream, sediment control pond, located 0.5 mile east of the junction of Thousand Acres Road and Crows Point Road, two miles northwest of Swanton, Garrett County, Maryland.

Impacts to the resource and nearby users were evaluated using data from geological reports and investigations available to the Water Management Administration. The pond will be located off stream and capture storm water run-off, but not stream base flow. Water is to be taken from the pond before withdrawals are made from Deep Creek Lake.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the instant proceedings, the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, has sought declaratory relief and a decree by the Court that the provisions of Chapter 708 of the Laws of 1955, purporting to establish the Bauer Line as the boundary line between Garrett and Allegany counties, is unconstitutional and further seeking to establish that the boundary line dividing Garrett and Allegany counties is as described in a Report of Daniel Chisholm, dated October 8, 1972.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 1st day of February 2008, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland,

ORDERED, that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in Allegany County, Maryland, where the action is pending, and in Garrett County, Maryland, notifying all persons who have an interest in the subject proceedings to appear in this Court by the 15th day of April 2008, to answer the Complaint. Thereafter, a final judgment will be entered for closing the rights of the parties, pursuant to the Maryland Rules of Procedure.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
ACCIDENT, MD 21520

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Nilda Joseph, dated April 20, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1345, folio 90 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., at the Court House Door, Oakland, on

FEBRUARY 27, 2008, AT 11:00 AM

ALL THAT fee-simple LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $16,500 by cash, or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett Co. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement within ten days of the ratification, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Sub. Trustees and all of the expenses of this sale (including attorney fees and full commission on the gross sale price of the sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. Purchaser(s) acknowledge the obligation to settle within ten days of ratification of the foreclosure sale. In the event that settlement does not occur within ten days, the purchaser(s) shall be in default. Upon such default, Sub. Trustees shall file a Motion and Order to resell the property at the nsk and expense of the defaulting purchaser(s). Purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice. The defaulting purchaser(s) shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water and all public charges including electrical, sanitation and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, are to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 of outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the nsk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents. (Matter #537687)

A two envelope system will be used.

Envelope No. 1 must have the following information presented on the front:

Name and address of Bidder Bid on Contract #1 - 256,000 Gallon Water Storage Tank with Well Pump Controls and Radio Controlled Telemetry Equipment Received by the Town of Accident

Envelope No. 2 labeled "Bid Proposal" shall also be placed inside of Envelope #1.

Enveiope No. 1 will be opened first and the Bid Opening Requirement items checked for compliance as outlined on the Bid Opening Checklist on page BOR – 1 of these contract documents. If such documents are found to be in order, Envelope No. 2 "Bid Proposal" will then be opened and will be publicly read aloud. If the documents required to be contained in Envelope No. 1 are not in order, Envelope No. 2 "Bid Proposal" will not be opened and the Bid will be considered nonresponsive and will be returned to the Bidder.

A Bidder may not withdraw his bid for a period of ninety (90) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

Bids shall be accompanied by a certified check or Bid Bond payable to Town of Accident, in an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the base Bid.

Bidders are advised that the Contract awarded under this Advertisement for Bids is to be funded (entirely/or in part) by a grant from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Neither the United States nor any of its departments, agencies, or employees is or will be a party to this Advertisement for Bids or any resulting Contract.

Bidders on this work will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246 and "HUD Section 109," which prohibits discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex, or national origin.

The Work to be performed under this Contract is subject to the requirements of Section 3 of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, as amended, 12 U.S.C. 1701 u (Section 3). The purpose of Section 3 is to ensure that the employment and other economic opportunities generated by HUD assistance or HUD-assisted projects covered by Section 3 shall, to the greatest extent feasible, be directed to low- and very low-income persons, particularly persons who are recipients of HUD assistance for housing.

The parties to this Contract agree to comply with HUD's regulations in 24 CRF part 135, which implement Section 3. Bidders' attention is directed to the Section 3 "clause" set forth in the Contract Documents.

Bidders shall also comply with "HUD-Section 3" requirements for the training and employment of lower income residents of the Project area. HUD-Section 3 also requires that if possible, Contracts for Work in connection with the Project be awarded to small business concerns which are located in or owned in substantial part by persons residing in the area of the Project.

"Notice is hereby given that this is a Section 3 project of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, and must, to the greatest extent feasible, utilize project area businesses located in or owned in substantial part by project residents. If you are a qualified Section 3 business, you will, upon written request to the project director, be supplied a list of all potential bidders who meet the City pre-bid qualification test in order to facilitate your ability to make your services known to potential bidders."

Bidders must comply with the requirements for Affirmative Action and Minority Business Enterprise participation as described in the Federal Specifications insert to the Contract Documents. Special provisions must be made by the Bidder to show what portions of the Bid within each Division are supported by Minority Business Enterprise work. In addition, the Project Administrator, the Town of Accident, will supply each Bidder, upon request, with information concerning local MBE firms.

Disadvantaged Business Enterprises – Each bidder must fully comply with the Disadvantaged Business Enterprise and Affirmative Action requirements, as identified in the Contract Documents. The Bidder agrees that he/she shall make "positive efforts" to subcontract a portion of the total value of the contract to a DBE. Failure to demonstrate positive efforts to do so may lead to rejection of Bids. For the purpose of this program, the term "subcontract" includes all construction, modification, and service work contracted for by the Bidder in the execution of the Work under this Contract.

Bidders must comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Davis-Bacon Act, the Copeland Anti-Kickback Act, and the Contract Work Hours Safety Standards Act.

Bids received after the scheduled closing time for the reception of bids will be returned unopened to the bidders.

The Town of Accident reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

A pre-bid conference will not be held. Questions may be submitted in writing to Thrasher Engineering at P.O. Box 1532, 30 Columbia Blvd., Clarksburg, WV 26302, and also via fax at (304) 624-7831, Attention: Clay Riley.

Conference On Kidney Disease Slated In March

The Independent Dialysis Foundation (IDF) and Allegany College of Maryland (ACM) will be hosting a conference on kidney disease featuring a nationally known specialist, Dr. John Sadler, on Wednesday, March 12, at ACM's Continuing Education Center. Sadler currently is the chairman emeritus of and an associate professor of medicine in the Division of Nephrology at the University of Maryland.

A nephrologist, he is an honorary life member of the Renal Physicians Association, a recipient of the FDA Commissioner's Award, a fellow in the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, and a winner of the Beneficiary Services Certificate of Merit, Health Care Financing Administration for end-stage renal disease (ESRD) Consumer Workgroup.

He chaired the Maryland Commission on Kidney Disease from 1981 to 1990 and has served on numerous other health boards and panels for the Food & Drug Administration, the National Academy of Science, and the University of Maryland. Sadler will be speaking at the morning session "Renal Refresher" for health care professionals.

Dr Joseph Kariyil, a local nephrologist, will speak on the prevention and management of chronic kidney disease, and Andrew J. Thorpe, Ph.D., will speak on the importance of early diagnosis. There is a modest fee for this session.

YG GATORS, MATHEMATICIANS, AND GYMNISTS OF THE MONTH NAMED – Students at Yough Glades Elementary School were recently recognized as Gators, Mathematicians, and Physical Education Students of the Month for January. Above left are Gators of the Month who have displayed the characteristic of fairness throughout the month. From left, beginning with the first row, are Jeremiah Sines, Zach Beckman, and Brandon Collins. Second row: Chase Mason, Jordyn Sines, Brooke Davis, Jacob McCroble, and Zach Slaubaugh. Back row: Joe Mousch, Austin Graham, Dylan Moon, Andrew Martin, and Jordan Swank. Not Pictured: Nathan Sweitzer. Above right are those who showed fairness in gym class, and followed all class rules. From left are Shannon Tasker and Aaliyah Tasker. Back row: Travis Newton, Ty Miller, Dalton Miller, and Joni Gnegy. Not pictured: Jacob Schrock. Below are those who shined in math class as Mathematicians of the Month. From left are Daniel Myers and Lauren Helbig. Second row: Tailor Mayne, Courtney Sanders, Jacob Swartzentruber, and Greta Ball. Back row: Casi Hughes, Emily Rolf, Chiese Grace, Jacob Dilley, and Brady Alexander.

A free afternoon session from noon until 4 p.m. for patients and caregivers will feature Kariyil, who is medical director for IDF's Allegany dialysis center, and IDF's Garrett dialysis center, and also serves on the staff of IDF's Lion's Center dialysis center and Western Maryland Health System. He is also board certified in internal medicine and is an associate professor at the George Washington School of Medicine. He was formerly the director of the dialysis unit of the Washington, D.C. VA center.

Kariyil will be available to answer individual questions after the session. Registered dietitian Susan Scarpelli will present information about eating healthy with kidney disease, and licensed clinical social worker Mary Ann Reinhard will speak about resources to pay for dialysis and other health care needs, as well as mamtaining a happy lifestyle.

The National Kidney Foundation of Maryland will be at the conference from 9:45 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. to provide free kidney screenings. There is no charge for this.

Those seeking more information or wishing to register for the conference should contact the Center for Continuing Education at Allegany College of Maryland at 301-784-5341. Four continuing education units are offered for registered dietitians, social workers, and nurses for the morning session.

Mock Presidential Caucus Set By GC Democratic Club

In anticipation of Maryland's upcoming Democratic Primary, scheduled for next Tuesday, Feb. 12, the Garrett County Democratic Club will be holding a mock presidential caucus tonight, Thursday, Feb. 7, during its monthly meeting.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. and will be held at the Oakland Town Hall. The public is invited to attend and participate.

Beitzel Introduces "Share The Bear" Bill Once Again

Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R-Garrett and Allegany counties) introduced HB 762, "Natural Resources – Black Bears – Establishment of Population in Each County," this week in the Maryland General Assembly. The bill, which seeks to establish a bear population in each county in the state, is in response to Del. Barbara Frush's (D-Anne Arundel and Prince George's) filing of HB 657.

Frush's bill seeks to classify the black bear as a non-game mammal and to put a moratorium on bear hunting in Maryland.

A similar bill to Beitzel's HB 762 was originally introduced by then-Del. George C. Edwards in 2005. The Edwards bill was also in response to a bill submitted by Frush to ban bear hunting in Maryland. Edwards is now a senator in the General Assembly.

Beitzel's bill will be heard in front of the House Environmental Matters Committee and has been scheduled for a hearing at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 27.

Former GC Man Dies Following Accident In Fla.

A former Garrett County resident was killed Sunday morning, Feb. 10, when the motorcycle he was riding struck a car on a Florida highway in Ocala, according to the Star-Banner.

Darren Todd Ream, 47, of Ocala was driving his Harley Davidson motorcycle eastbound on Maricamp Road. As he approached an intersection, a car turned into his path.

Ream was ejected from his motorcycle, flying 61 feet east of the crash. He was rushed to Munroe Regional Medical Center, where was he was pronounced dead shortly before noon, about an hour after the accident.

Gina Marie Hoffman of Bethel, Pa., was driving westbound on Maricamp Road when she attempted a left turn onto another road in front of Ream's motorcycle, according to the Star-Banner.

Ream grew up in Garrett County. He was a 1979 graduate of Southern High School and the son of Lois Elaine Bowser Ream, formerly of the Oakland area.

Garrett County Voters Choose Hillary Clinton, John McCain

Garrett County voters preferred Hillary Clinton over Barack Obama and John McCain over Mike Huckabee during Tuesday's presidential primary election. Clinton received about 56 percent of Democratic votes, compared to 34 percent for Obama, according to unofficial results from the Garrett County Board of Elections.

Statewide, however, Obama won the majority of the votes, about 59 percent, compared to Clinton's 37 percent.

In the GOP race for president, locally, McCain received about 46 percent of the votes, with Huckabee getting 44 percent. McCain won Maryland by a wider margin, garnering about 55 percent of Republican votes, compared to Huckabee's 29 percent.

In the District 6 congressional race, GOP incumbent Roscoe Bartlett easily defeated his challengers. Statewide he received 78 percent of Republican votes. In Garrett County, about 84 percent of voters favored Bartlett. Tom Croft had about 6 percent of the local votes.

On the Democratic side, Andrew Duck received about 48 percent of local votes in his bid for Congress. Jennifer Daugherty got 30 percent, and Larry John Smith received 12 percent. Statewide, however, Daugherty received 44 percent of the votes. Duck received 37 percent, and Smith, 7 percent.

Only about 33 percent of eligible Garrett County voters cast a ballot in the primary. About 34 percent of locally registered Democrats and 33 percent of registered Republicans voted for a presidential candidate on Tuesday. The Maryland Board of Elections extended the polling site hours across the state from 8 until 9:30 p.m. that day because of

by Glenn Tolbert

Remember spring in Garrett County?

Start off with your senses being gently stirred by the warm wind. There's a fragrance in that breeze. It comes wafting from the tips of trees in bud and early wildflowers in bloom. Your very essence feels a calming contentment. It is one of those moments that make you glad that you stayed here, despite the dark, cold winter.

Now imagine that it's 1863 – Sunday, April 26, to be exact. Your neighbors are strolling through downtown Oakland, paces lolled by the serenity of the day.

There is no sound of automobiles or trucks. Instead, the occasional hoof beats of a prancing horse pulling a surrey with friends and neighbors. (Yes, go ahead. Imagine that the surrey has fringe on the top, because there is a good chance that you are right.)

All of this movement is caused by church goers either heading into or coming from worship. It is so calm, so pleasant to be here on this day.

At first, the crack of a rifle isn't recognized for what it is. It's merely a sound that doesn't belong. But within seconds the serenity has been fatally punctured. Couples no longer stroll. Their steps are quickened. The prancing horses are forced to trot. And on the once-contented faces there is a sense of questioning and anxiety.

It is appropriate to feel anxious and even fearful. War has come to Oakland.

The warning shot from a union sentry posted at Weber's Crossing foretold of the dangers to come. Suddenly, as if on cue, all motion stopped. There was no conversation. Couples turned to listen for the sound of cavalry. A sudden gasp from a woman brought eyes to focus on a point where the first of many horsemen appeared. The men were wearing gray, not blue. Once again there is movement, hastened by worry and despair. All sought the safety of their homes.

Their worst fears were realized, as the long line of Confederates made their way through town.

But if war had come to Oakland, it did so in a gen

Local Storytelling Teenager Earns National Title

Joanna Guy, 11th grade student at Southern High School, was recently awarded first place and the title of "Grand Torchbearer" in the 2008 National Youth Storytelling Showcase (NYSS), held in Pigeon Forge, Tenn.

Guy's winning story, an original 10-minute tale titled "Give My Regards To Broadway," combined her passion for music and her love for storytelling. The story describes a teenage girl's madcap adventures in New York City, and features song snippets from 10 familiar musicals and cameo appearances from famous Broadway characters, all of whom share the teller's curious quirk for "spontaneous singing."

Guy was one of 20 finalists chosen from among hundreds of youth storytellers nationwide.

While in Tennessee, she attended workshops led by professional storytellers, and performed to a full house at the American Jukebox Theatre.

For more information about the storytelling showcase and how to enter, persons may contact Gail N. Herman, the storytelling showcase state representative for Maryland, at 301-387-9199. Herman is currently looking for youth storytellers for next year's showcase.

Fairview Church House Destroyed By Fire Tuesday

A problem with a fireplace was deemed the cause of a fire that destroyed a two-story, wood-frame house located at 1235 Fairview Church Road off U.S. Rt. 50 near Gorman on Tuesday

Volunteers from the Gorman, Oakland, Deer Park, Aurora, Bayard, and Mt. Storm fire departments were summoned to the residence of the Eric Geroski family at 12:35 p.m. after family members discovered a fire in the basement. The family escaped the house uninjured.

Some 25 firefighters responded to the scene and brought the blaze under control in about 15 minutes, according to a report filed by state fire investigator Jamie Rodeheaver.

Damages to the house were estimated to be $35,000, plus an additional $15,000 in losses to contents.

Rodeheaver determined that the fire was a result of a malfunction in the fireplace

Zoning Only Way To Regulate Height Of Structures, Garrett Co. Official Says

The only way to restrict the height of structures in Garrett County would be through zoning, Planning and Land Development director John Nelson told the county commissioners this week. Some residents have suggested that local officials could regulate the construction of wind turbines through height restrictions in the county's building ordinance.

The commissioners met with Nelson on Tuesday to review the issue further.

"I felt we needed to clarify that," said Commissioner Ernie Gregg. "Because the wind turbine opponents have misconstrued this, that we can apply a height ordinance and/or a building codes ordinance."

Nelson said the authority for controlling height is a zoning regulation. "Article 66B [of the Annotated Code of Maryland] gives the authority to counties to adopt zoning, and zoning is the only mechanism to control heights," he said.

Building codes, Nelson explained, will allow structures to be built to any height, as long as they meet the code's design and engineering requirements.

"You could build a building 100 stories high, as long as the structural integrity is met under the building code," he said.

To enact some type of height restriction would restrict the height of all types of structures being built in the county, such as hotels and communications towers, not just wind turbines, county officials said. They also noted that the county cannot enact a moratorium on wind turbine construction, as suggested by the Planning Commission last week. According to the county attorney, doing so would halt all local building projects.

It is only through zoning that the county would have the authority to regulate heights, Nelson reiterated.

"Under 66B, you can't choose a single use and attempt to regulate that use," he added. "It has to be a comprehensive zoning plan where you apply zoning to all kinds of uses throughout the whole jurisdiction that you choose."

Nelson noted, however, that zoning could be adopted "piece meal" by geological or political boundaries. Currently, the only area in Garrett County with zoning is the Deep Creek Lake watershed. Article 66B was used to adopt zoning in the watershed back in 1974, as residents in that area advocated for zoning.

"It was always felt by the governing body [at that time] that if zoning were to be expanded beyond that geographical boundary, the citizens would need to illustrate or show the county

NOT A TORNADO? Although no official determination was made or announced this week, photographic evidence of the weather events of Feb. 6 seem to indicate the possible touch-down of a tornado, or at least a "micro-burst," in Garrett County that evening. In this aerial photo of the Youghiogheny Mountain Resort (YMR) area, taken by Bob Browning, rows of large trees are shown clearly uprooted. Browning said from the air, it looked as if the powerful wind, or probable tornado, touched down at the northeast corner of the YMR, went across the Youghiogheny River, and over Oakland-Sang Run Road, and then touched down again near the Garrett County Airport, and again about three miles beyond the airport toward Grantsville. Browning took several photographs of severe damage to forestland throughout this area.

FORT ALICE was supposedly the name of a Civil War military outpost that stood just west of Oakland near the B&O railroad bridge across the Youghiogheny River. The outpost was staffed by Union soldiers, whose assignment was to guard the bridge from potential attacks by Confederate troops. In a surprise raid, the Confederates did indeed attack the bridge, apparently capturing and/or sending the Union soldiers running. The property on which the fort stood was recently annexed by the town of Oakland, and it is the hope of Mayor Ase McCain that an archeological dig will take place there, followed by restoration of the outpost. Pictured above is local historian John Grant reading about the fort. See story for details.

Primary-Tested, Former Frederick Mayor Daugherty Guns for Bartlett

by Ben Meyerson
Capital News Service

Former Frederick Mayor Jennifer Daugherty shocked two-time candidate Andrew Duck in Maryland's 6th District Democratic congressional primary Tuesday, relying on her government experience to carry her to victory.

Daugherty was chipper the morning after defeating Duck with 44 percent of the vote to his 37 percent.

The experience and leadership from Frederick that made her the best Democratic candidate would translate well to November's showdown with eight-term Rep. Roscoe Bartlett, R-Frederick, she said.

"I don't have to change who I am or what my message is," for the general election, said Daugherty. "I was the only person who balanced a budget and also created jobs in the private sector."

Daugherty thinks she'll get a big boost in November from voters dissatisfied with what she said is a disconnect between Bartlett and 6th District voters.

"He says he hasn't changed in 16 years – well, everyone changes and it's important," she said. "We're not changing our moral code here, but we're evolving to the world as it is. If you're not looking at the way the world is now, you're clearly not representing the district well."

Keith Haller, president of media polling company Potomac Inc., said a Daugherty victory in November is certainly a possibility.

"There's no question, there's an undercurrent of change and questioning of the status quo," Haller said. "If you're an incumbent member of Congress, you'd be smart to watch your backside – voters are not just going to roll over for two more years."

The effects of this are showing – in Tuesday's primary, Maryland voters ousted two incumbent members of Congress: Al Wynn, D-Mitchellville, and Wayne Gilchrest, R-Kennedyville.

This trend is going to be particularly hard on Republicans, Haller said.

"I'd throw out all the playbooks Bartlett has used in previous re-elections – he'll have to fight for every vote," Haller said. "You don't want to get whipsawed by an Obama candidacy with a turnout of voters you've never seen before in a 6th Congressional District race."

However, Haller said it'll still be a very steep uphill battle for a Daugherty win, since she's unlikely to convince many conservatives.

"The basis for a Daugherty victory will require her generating large support among independent voters," he said. "But number one, she's got to get the maximum Democratic vote – that's her tried-and-true credential."

Mike Cryor, chairman of the Maryland Democratic Party, said he sees "a great opportunity" for Jennifer Daugherty in the 6th District.

"The possibility we could actually win in two districts in the same year is absolutely amazing," Cryor said, referring to the 6th and 1st District, where Gilchrest, a moderate Republican, was unseated in his primary by more conservative state Sen. Andrew Harris. The lack of an incumbent and the slight edge Democrats have in registration there present an opportunity for the Democrats.

Cryor said the state party hasn't decided how it will allocate its funds this year, but its strategy will likely involve the 6th District.

Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee chairman Chris Van Hollen, D-Kensington, said the district will be on its watch list of races to fund.

"We will very closely monitor the 6th District and there's certainly potential there, so it is an opportunity," Van Hollen said.

In the 6th District, Democrats are excited to see their party is registering more people than the Republicans are. Between the 2006 general election and the registration deadline for Tuesday's primary, Democrats registered 4,425 new party members, compared to 3,364 new Republicans.

This could be attributable to increasing urban sprawl from Washington – particularly the resulting boom in Frederick.

However, registered Republicans still outnumber Democrats 4-to-3. Because of this, former Maryland Democratic secretary of state John T. Willis said he thinks Daugherty still has a serious battle going into November.

"That's the hardest district," Willis said. "She'll make it very interesting, and

Reported Assault In Bloomington; Woman Arrested

Deputies from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office responded to North Branch Ave., Bloommgton, for a reported assault Sunday.

Jeanne Lee Wilcox, 44, Bloomington, had reportedly assaulted her husband, Robert Cavey, 44, Bloomington. She was arrested and charged with second degree assault, and she was taken to the detention center to await a bond hearing.

Former Oakland Resident Receives Sentence For Theft

A Buckhannon, W.Va., man pleaded guilty last week in Garrett County Circuit Court to felony theft. Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Gilbert Wesley Arnett to three years in the Division of Corrections, suspending all but six months of the sentence.

Those months will be served consecutively to an 18-month sentence Arnett is currently serving for a burglary conviction. Upon his release from both sentences, Arnett will be on probation and will have to make restitution of $715 to the victim.

Arnett, 32, a former Oakland resident, was arrested and charged by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in August after an Oakland man reported a number of music CDs and fishing rods and reels were stolen from his Water Street residence while he was visiting at a nearby home in July. Neighbors reported a person, later determined to be Arnett, was seen entering the victim's residence and carrying items away.

In other court proceedings from last week, David Lavane Thomas, 30, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to manufacturing marijuana. Sherbin then sentenced Thomas to three years in the Division of Corrections, with all of that sentence suspended but six months.

A $3,000 fine was imposed. Thomas will be on probation upon his release.

His wife, 30-year-old Amie Jo Thomas, also pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana. She was sentenced to six months in the Garrett County Jail, with all of that sentence suspended. She was also fined $1,000 and is on supervised probation.

The couple were arrested and charged by officers with the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force in October after a search and seizure warrant was executed at their residence along Old New Germany Road. Officers located 12 marijuana plants growing behind a shed on the property, as well as various quantities of marijuana and drug paraphernalia in the house occupied by the Thomases, according to the state's attorney.

Oakland Main Street Winter Festival Altered

The date and format of the 2008 Oakland Winterfest, which includes an ice carving event, has been changed, according to Jack Cougle, the Oakland Main Street manager.

The date has been changed to Saturday, March 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Sunday March 2. The ice sculptures may be viewed all day Sunday, and if the weather remains cold, the sculptures will be visible around town until they melt.

In terms of the new format of the ice carving event, instead of a competition, a major ice company, which supplies its own ice carvers, will do the sculpting, with sponsorship from individuals and businesses.

The sponsorship fee is $225 for a one-block sculpture approximately 2'x2'x4'. This includes the cost of the ice block itself, as well as a solid base display, the carving, and a specialized sign noting the sponsor. Each additional block of ice added to the sculpture will cost $225. The deadline for the sponsorship is Monday, Feb. 25.

For more information, persons may contact Jack Cougle at 301-334-5095 or by e-mail at jcougle@atlanticbb.net. Sponsorship fees may be mailed to Oakland Main Street, 117 E. Liberty Street, Oakland, MD 21550. Sponsors are asked to note specific location for the sculpture, such as in front of the sponsor's business.

Nearly 50 Tons Of Materials Diverted From GC Landfill

The Solid Waste and Recycling Division of Garrett County Department of General Services has announced the year-end totals for its Swap Shop program. Between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 2007, approximately 44.82 tons of materials were "swapped" at the county's landfill and six refuse and recycling sites, according to Kim Madigan, the division's recycling coordinator.

In this recycling program, residents may leave items that are in good condition for others to pick up or they may take items for themselves. In 2006, nearly 40 tons were recycled through the Swap Shop.

"These items would have otherwise come to the landfill for disposal," said Madigan. "Diverting materials from the landfill is very important, and the Swap Shop is a big part of our source reduction efforts."

She noted that the Grantsville refuse and recycling site swapped 17.36 tons of materials, the highest yearly amount recorded since the inception of this program in 2003. The Kings Run refuse and recycling site came m second, by swapping 5.57 tons of materials.

"Source reduction is the design, manufacture, purchase, or use of materials or products to reduce the amount of waste generated," Madigan said. "It includes reuse, waste elimination, package reduction, and substitution. Examples would include using rags instead of paper towels, packing lunches in reusable containers, buying in bulk, buying products with less packaging, composting, and donating usable items to those in need."

She added that source reduction pre-empts the need to collect, process, and/or dispose, which results in lower costs, less traffic congestion, and less air pollution.

Garrett County provides no guarantees or warranties (written, expressed, or implied) and disclaims any and all liability for the condition, working order and/or safety of any item left at or taken from the Garrett County Swap Shop.

All items are "as is" and are taken at the recipient's own risk. Recipients are responsible for determining the safety and suitability of any item for any purpose and/or use thereof

A resident permit is not required to enter the landfill or refuse and recycling sites to recycle, which is free to residents, businesses, and anyone visiting the area.

Persons with questions or comments with regard to the Swap Shop or any of the county's other free recycling programs may call the Solid Waste and Recycling office at 301-387-0322.

Election Results For Friendsville Are Announced

Among the results of the general election for the town of Friendsville held Tuesday was the re-election of Mayor Spencer R. Schlosnagle.

A total of 150 voters turned out for the election. Schlosnagle was re-elected for another term of two years by receiving 87 votes. Challenger Jack L. Edmiston received 55 votes.

Council members elected for two-year terms included incumbents Julia Sines with 76 votes and Thomas L. Fike with 65 votes. Also elected to council was James R. Spear, who received 72 votes.

Others running for town council seats were: incumbent Lois Kahl, who received 57 votes, Frances E. Friend with 48 votes, and Barry A. Savage with 43 votes.

BPW Approves Funding For Local Projects

Gov. Martin O'Malley announced Board of Public Works (BPW) approval yesterday of local-side Program Open Space (POS) funds for improvements at 24 local park and recreation facilities in eight counties across Maryland, including Garrett.

The county received $5,850 to upgrade playground equipment in Grantsville's town park.

Additionally, the BPW approved a local state-side POS acquisition to "expand and protect Maryland's state forestlands."

A 10-acre forested property located in Garrett County adjacent to Potomac-Garrett State Forest will be purchased for $100,000.

Acquisition of the property will help safeguard wildlife habitat and provide essential forest buffers to protect water quality of Tolliver Run, which is home to two state endangered species and several rare plants, according to the BPW.

A 33.9 acre forested property located in Dorchester County and within Chesapeake Forest Lands will also be purchased for $180,000. Acquisition of the property will extend sustainable forestry management practices and protect the forested property from development.

"Local parks are often the heart of our communities," said O'Malley. "Investing in a more sustainable Maryland by expanding and improving neighborhood recreation areas enables working families and children of all ages to participate in active recreation and live healthier lives."

Since 1969, Program Open Space has provided funding for acquisition of more than 321,000 acres for open space and recreation areas. Most Maryland residents live within 15 minutes of an open space or recreational area funded by this program, according to the BPW.

Chaired by O'Malley, the Board of Public Works comprises Treasurer Nancy Kopp and Comptroller Peter Franchot. The board is authorized by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, and property transactions.

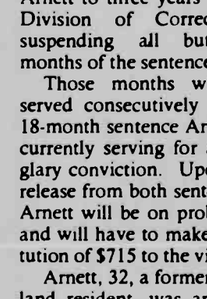
I think she'll get some national interest and support that Andrew (Duck) did not have, and some of the past candidates did not have."

Duck was thought to be the front-runner going in to the race, having campaigned non-stop since the 2006 congressional election cycle, when Roscoe Bartlett defeated him 59 percent to 38 percent.

However, that was the closest any candidate had gotten to Bartlett in some time. In the 2004 general election, Bartlett defeated the Democratic nominee, Kenneth Bosley, 67 percent to 29 percent.

But when Daugherty entered the race last fall, her record apparently overshadowed his three years of grassroots campaigning.



Last week, Duck said that he was "not focused on Jennifer Daugherty," instead saying he was concentrating his resources on preparing for a showdown against Roscoe Bartlett – apparently confident in a primary win.

Duck could not be reached for comment following the election, but Daugherty said she spoke to him and he planned to support her candidacy.

As for Bartlett, it seems he's prepared for a battle in the general election. In an e-mailed statement, he said voters were familiar with his record and could count on him.

Daugherty, he said, was just another Democrat, and voters had already rejected her once – as an incumbent trying to retain Democratic nomination for mayor of Frederick.

"The Democrats who know Daugherty best rejected her re-election after one term in office. Now, Democrats have rejected that reflects dissatisfaction their 2006 nominee. I think with their leaders among trict.' Bartlett said.

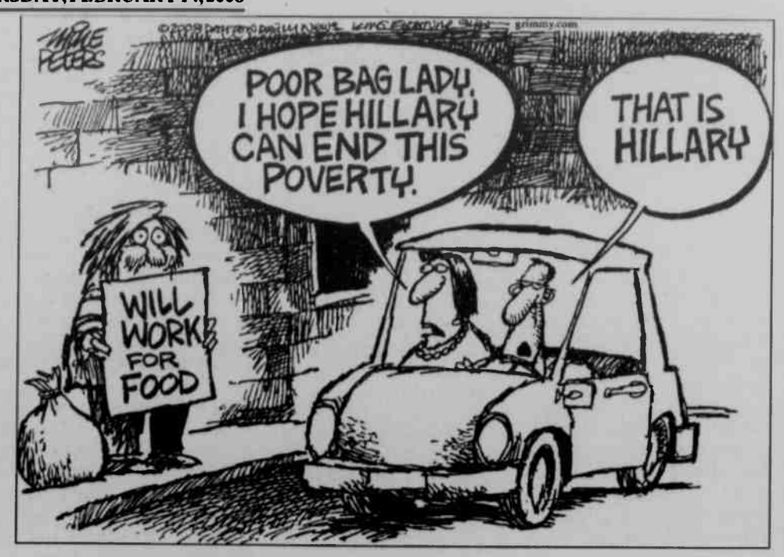
Privacy Already Invaded...

Among the pieces of legislation drawing attention at the Maryland General Assembly right now is one that is being pushed by Governor Martin O'Malley, and while the writer of this column disagrees with a lot of what our current governor supports, this particular proposal has merit.



The governor is urging passage of a bill that would require DNA samples to be taken from persons arrested for about 15 different violent crimes, as well as for burglary. Note that the words are "arrested for," and not "convicted of." The state already takes such samples from convicted felons. This is the part of the bill that has the undergarments of the American Civil Liberties Union in knots. The union and other opponents say that taking samples from those who are arrested would constitute an invasion of privacy, and thus violate their constitutional rights.

Proponents note that fingerprinting of persons arrested is, and has been for ages, part of the standard booking procedure, and taking a DNA sample would be no different, to which the union retorts that a DNA sample gives far more information about a person than does a fingerprint.

There seem to be far more good reasons to support this measure than to oppose it. First of all, the numbers show that a large majority of persons arrested for violent crimes are ultimately convicted. Second, the recidivism rate of those arrested for violent crimes is also high, and if a repeat offender can be more easily convicted for a repeat offense, then good. Third, access to the DNA record of a person arrested, but later found not guilty, could be kept secure from public scrutiny. Fourth, 11 other states already have similar DNA sampling requirements, and 22 others are considering it. Fifth, it is possible that this could serve as a deterrent to a person thinking about engagmg in then additional violent behavior. Sixth, and most importantly, having these records would likely keep future would-be victims from harm and probably save many lives.

A seventh reason might be that the government and most of the general public – thanks in large part to the Internet – already has almost total access to our privacy anyway. Like it or not, it's already been invaded to the nth degree.

To the Editor:

There was an omission in last week's Voters' Guide that should be brought to readers' attention. Mike Huckabee, Republican presidential candidate, was among the viable candidates still on the ballot, but he did not respond to the questionnaire sent by the League of Women Voters of the US by the deadline. His web site is www.mikehuckabee.com. Hopefully, with all the media attention on the candidates, everyone had the chance to listen and learn enough to make informed choices.

Respectfully,
Donna Aspinall

To the Editor:

If you have followed the news recently, it seems our area is plagued with two problems. The one problem is the location of the wind turbines in our state forests, and the other is the crows in downtown Oakland.

My friends and I feel where there's a problem, there's also a solution. According to some sources, wind turbines kill birds, so we have come up with the following recommendation: Put a wind turbine at Pizza Hut, one at Burger King, and one atop the courthouse for the high flyers. This would rid the town of the crows, and the turbines wouldn't be on state forests.

The problem solvers,

To the Editor:

Oklahomans will long remember 2007 as the year in which our state faced the worst natural disaster in its history. On Dec. 9 and 10, a devastating ice storm hit Oklahoma, downing power lines, severely damaging countless trees, and presenting enormous challenges for our company's electric customers and dozens of the communities we serve.

At the storm's peak, Public Service Company of Oklahoma (PSO) had more than 250,000 customers without power in northeastern Oklahoma – over half of all our customers. Almost 80% of the Tulsa metro area was without power in the aftermath of the storm.

Fortunately, help was soon on the way. More than 5,000 utility workers from across the country — including the fine workers from Allegheny Power — traveled to Oklahoma and worked side-by-side with our crews to get the lights back on. The Allegheny Power employees worked long, hard hours for several days, helping us to restore electric service to virtually everyone by Christmas.

Every Allegheny Power employee has our profound gratitude for his/her assistance during this crisis. We simply couldn't have restored service without their help and the help of so many other dedicated, committed utility professionals. The fact that they spent so many days away from home, just before the holidays, makes us appreciate their assistance even more.

All of us at PSO thank the workers from Allegheny Power for coming to our aid during this difficult time. Each of you has our heartfelt thanks and very best wishes for a safe and happy 2008.

Editor's note: The writers of the following letter to John Griffin, secretary of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, requested that it appear in this column.

Dear Secretary Griffin:

We, the undersigned members of the Western Maryland Delegation, would like to voice our adamant opposition to the placement of wind turbines on state property. Although wind technology may have a place in Maryland's energy portfolio, we do not believe the location of commercial wind power facilities on state land is appropriate.

It has been pointed out in the Maryland Energy Administration's recent report, "there is no silver bullet" in dealing with Maryland's energy concerns. As such, the exploitation of western Maryland's pristine forests for private gain must not be permitted.

Therefore, we stand with the many citizens of western Maryland who have voiced their strong opposition at the two public hearings held by your department. We hope you will listen to the people who make western Maryland their home and establish a policy prohibiting wind turbines on public lands.

Sincerely,
Western Maryland Delegates Wendell R. Beitzel, Joseph R. Bartlett, Kevin Kelly, Paul S, Stull, LeRoy E. Myers Jr., Donald B. Elliott, Robert A. McKee, Tanya T. Shewell,, Christopher B. Shank, Nancy R. Stocksdale, John P. Donoghue, Susan W. Krebs, Galen R. Clagett, C. Sue Hech, Richard B. Weldon; and Senators George C. Edward, David R. Brinkley, Donald F. Munson, Larry E. To the Editor:

One evening in December I was watching the NBC nightly news with Brian Williams. I was amazed with a news story about unused gift cards. He was reporting that an estimated eight billion dollars of Christmas gift cards would never be used. A national survey that had been done in October 2007 by Consumer Reports revealed that 27% of the people surveyed that had received gift cards never used them.

Why am I explaining all of this to you in a letter to the editor? I came up with a great idea. I have been the executive director of Hospice for nearly 19 years. I am always looking for ideas for fundraising to raise money for Hospice to care for the terminally ill in Garrett County.

I am asking your readers to not throw away their "not-to-be-used" gift cards. Donate the cards to Hospice. You can use the dollar amount as a tax deduction. Most people can use a tax deduction.

We could use the gift cards to buy patient supplies, office supplies, prizes for our Walk for Hospice, raffle prizes for Hot Dogs for Hospice, gifts for our volunteer Christmas lunch, groceries for our families, and many more items. Our needs are many.

I ask you to think about this if you have a card that you won't be using. In advance, I want to thank you for your consideration of Hospice. We serve all of Garrett County, and all money received stays in Garrett County.

Please call if you have any questions at 301-334-5151. Our mailing address is P.O. Box 271, Oakland, MD 21550.

To the Editor:

Sometimes you just don't want to go there. That is where Sam White of the local Sierra Club made his mistake in last week's letters to the editor.

While White implies in his letter last week that he speaks for the entire Sierra Club opposing wind projects, as a card-carrying member since 2003, in fact, I am in the majority of the club's 1.3 million members when it comes to support for wind turbines. Like vast majorities in the country, nearly every poll taken shows large majorities favor wind as a means to advance clean energy and reduce global warming. In Maryland alone, the two largest and most influential environment groups – the Chesapeake Climate Action Network and Environment Maryland – support wind overall as well as responsible case-by-case project development on public lands. Just because a loud few in western Maryland oppose much-needed projects in their community, it doesn't make their rhetoric, loose facts, and rude, irrational attacks acceptable or right.

The Sierra Club has long advocated support for cleaner technologies and renewable energy like wind power. While I respect Garrett County residents' right to oppose wind turbines, your facts are wrong, your case is poor, and your concerns are selfish. Public lands belong to all Maryland residents, and as our political leaders consider this week upping the renewable energy the state must use to 20%, it seems like we ought to responsibly develop renewable projects – whereever possible.

By the way, I'm for them off the coast of Ocean City, too.

Sincerely,
Frank Maisano

To the Editor:

I am currently lodged in the Garrett County jail and must admit upon coming into the jail I had a pretty bad opinion of the whole judicial system here in Garrett County. But after seeing the difference that is being made by Mr. Berkebile, our elected sheriff, whom I did have a very low opinion of, I have certainly changed my mind after being lodged in jail even for a short time. I see young people from the local area have been hired as jailers and am truly surprised by what I see.

The younger people being given a chance at a fairly underpaid career and never getting much credit for what it is they do. To name a few, I see a Parks boy who is employed at the jail, a Blum boy from the Swanton area, as is the Parks fellow. I see a couple of fine ladies whose names I didn't get, but are to be commended for doing such a fine job. I also saw and met a Fitzwater fellow from 135 area – a very nice young man in my opinion.

Then there was Tim Gnegy, whom I have known for quite a while, and Mr. Alexander. All fine decent people from our area who could very well make a big difference in making our local judicial system one we can all be proud of – not the shameful system it has been for years.

While I'm on the subject of local fellows doing well, I must mention Rodney Wayne Titchnell, a foreman at I.C.G. Coal Co. in Barton. And his brother who has received a fully paid scholarship to one of the 3rd or 4th noted colleges in the nation. He is studying mining engineering, a very highly responsible major and one for which you have had to carry top grades through school to receive a fully paid scholarship to such a respectable college. Way to go, fellow.

I'm certainly proud to have had the pleasure to know such fine people who have learned from their parents to be responsible citizens of our local community.

Thanks to the Editor,
Donald G. Duckworth

P.S. Mr. Berkebile, you have certainly changed one bad opinion of you to a very different opinion now. You are doing a fine job. Keep up the good work. It could be rewarding for you.

Editor's note: Mr. Duckworth died recently, but his wife Cathy submitted this letter, which he wrote just prior to his death.

To the Editor:

The expansion of the sales and use tax to include computer services is one of the most egregious examples of the get-it-done-quick attitude of the 2007 Special Session. It was pushed through in the dark of night with minimal public input. The haphazard process that surrounded the passage of the measure makes if difficult, if not impossible, to implement. The members of the House Republican Caucus pointed out all of these issues during the floor debate and worked to remove the expansion of the tax; however, our efforts were soundly rejected.

What is most troubling about this expansion of the sales and use tax is the devastating consequences it will have on Maryland's knowledge-based economy. This is a sector of the economy that Maryland has tried to cultivate, but it is also a very mobile sector that could easily do business in another state. Therefore, leaders in our caucus – including Delegate Wendell Beitzei support a repeal of the computer services sales tax.

The Democratic leadership in the House and Senate would have you believe that the only way to responsibly repeal this tax is to pass new taxes to make up the revenue. This simply is not the case. Moreover, it illustrates how out of touch they are with Maryland's taxpayers. The citizens of Maryland are already struggling with high utility and grocery bills, combined with the large tax increases that have recently become effective. Enough is enough, Marylanders cannot afford any more new taxes. Maryland has a spending problem, not a revenue problem, so additional taxes are not necessary. The computer service tax can be repealed without trading it for other taxes and without shifting the burden to local governments.

The House Republican Caucus has identified $203 million in budget reductions that would cover the revenue lost from repealing the computer services tax. We have reached across the aisle and offered these reductions to the House leadership in good faith. We are hopeful that our proposal is seriously considered so we can reach a bipartisan consensus to repeal the tax without adding additional burden to Maryland's families.

Sincerely,
Anthony J. O'Donnell
House Minority Leader
Christopher B. Shank
House Minority Whip

To the Editor:

All the animal welfare organizations in Garrett County are constantly working to ensure that domestic animals, whether pets or work animals, are safe, sheltered from the elements, and treated in a humane manner.

On behalf of the Garrett County Humane Society (GCHS), PAWS, and HART, I would like to express our appreciation for the pet owners who – during a very cold day in January – either had taken their animals indoors or under shelter, with sufficient hay to insulate them against the cold. This information was provided by the GCHS members after one of their regular inspections.

However, the Humane Society reports that this past week, it received a number of calls about animals without shelter: one dog in particular was so emaciated that he needed immediate medical care!

As we all know, February is the coldest month of the year and one that can be fatal to warm-blooded animals. I would like to ask your readers to keep in mind the following recommendations from the Humane Society of the United States:

• In extremely cold weather, do not leave dogs or cats outdoors without shelter. No matter what the temperature, wind chill can threaten a pet's life. Outdoor dogs must be protected by a dry, draft-free doghouse large enough to allow the dog to sit and lie down comfortably.

• Pets that spend a lot of time outdoors need more food in the winter because keeping warm depletes energy. They should also have fresh and unfrozen water.

• Warm engines in parked cars attract cats and small wildlife. Bang on your car's hood to scare them away before starting the engine.

• Antifreeze is a deadly poison, but it has a sweet taste that may attract animals and children. Wipe up spills and store antifreeze out of reach.

• If you own horses, remember that fresh water is the horse's most important daily nutrient – but frozen water is useless.

• Most healthy horses will be fine if they are provided a windbreak and a dry, clean place, with access to plenty of good, clean hay. However, do not neglect a horse's hooves during the cold winter season. Remember, "no hoof, no horse."

By continuing to be responsible animal owners, Garrett County residents will not only be helping their animals, they will also be enriching the moral fiber of our community.

commissioners that that citizens group supported zoning," Nelson said.

He noted, however, counties cannot have exclusionary zoning, meaning they cannot exclude all types of uses.

"You have to set aside and provide an area where uses, such as wind mills, would be permitted under certain parameters," Nelson said.

He said it has been suggest that the zoning issue be placed on a referendum for voters to decide on a district by district basis, much like the Sunday alcohol sales issue. Nelson noted that citizen groups such as the board of realtors, chamber of commerce, and watershed associations would have to first demonstrate their support for the issue.

"So far, our citizens have opposed countywide zoning," Glotfelty said, adding that the groups would indeed have to come forward and indicate their support to justify putting spot zoning on a referendum.

"You start using that Z word, and people's hair starts standing up on end," he said.

Two-Car Crash Results In Three Injured Persons

Three persons were transported by Northern Garrett Rescue Squad to Garrett Memorial Hospital after a two-vehicle accident that occurred on Garrett Highway at Ryland Court in Accident on Feb. 12 at 4 p.m.

Investigation by Maryland State Police determined that a 1997 Chevrolet Lumina driven by Amanda Lynch, Oakland, was headed northbound on Garrett Highway when Lynch failed to maintain control of the Lumina on the snow- and slush-covered roadway. The Lumina crossed over the center line and into the southbound lane, where it was struck by a 2006 Chrysler 300, driven by John Borkowski, Mount Airy.

Lynch, her passenger, Nolla Blake of Accident, and Borkowski all received injuries in the collision.

Accident Volunteer Fire Department and the Maryland State Highway Administration also responded to the accident scene.

A HISTORIC SITE – Oakland mayor Asa McCain stands in front of the railroad trestle across the Youghiogheny River just west of Oakland, the predecessor of which Confederate soldiers attacked and heavily damaged during the Civil War. Local historians relate that, after damaging the trestle, the soldiers reportedly rode to Altamont, where they fired up a steam engine and sent it on a westerly course toward the damaged structure, hoping the weight would cause it to collapse into the river. But the engine ran out of steam just short of the bridge and the plan failed. Fort 88, or "Fort Alice," which was staffed by Union soldiers who guarded the bridge, was located approximately ¾-mile west of the Oakland B&O Train Station, just across the river and behind Mayor McCain in the photo. Below, Mitchell Cathell of Oakland, a retired railroad employee, stands atop a mound of dirt where it is believed the outpost stood. Cathell said that, in the not too distant past, items such as belt buckles and buttons were found at the location. Photos by Glenn Tolbert.

tlemanly manner. The Confederates waited until worship services were over and then "captured" the local Union soldiers as they made their way out of church. The stunned soldiers in blue agreed to declare themselves "paroled," and with promises that they would fight no more against the Confederacy, were allowed to continue their lives. It was a tradition older than the Napoleonic wars in Europe, but brought to the level of a legal codification during those engagements.

Much the same story came from nearby Fort Alice. Located between Oakland and Crellin, the fort consisted of some ramparts made of earth and wood. There were 19 men guarding the fort which overlooked a railroad trestle that spanned the Youghiogheny River, still in existence today.

The men at the fort saw how badly outnumbered they were and quickly surrendered. The same "paroling" agreement apparently was offered to them and they hastily accepted. The Confederates left the area, but only after burning the now unguarded trestle.

Oakland merchants were luckier than those in nearby Preston County, where as if to remind citizens that this was indeed war, the Confederates looted the goods inside local stores and dumped what they couldn't carry into the street. Reports are that many local people readily availed themselves of the sudden loot.

A few hours later and two miles away near Cranberry Summit, a small squad of 12 men, accompanied by local townsmen, set up an ambush for the approaching Confederates. According to an article by John Wolf in the April 1976 edition of Mountain Heritage magazine, two citizens, M.F. Stuck and Benjamin Shaw, fired their rifles into the approaching column.

"The column faltered for a moment, then charged at a gallop," Wolf wrote. Everyone escaped except for Shaw, who refused to throw down his weapon. Shaw was soon apprehended and, tied by the hands, was led to the Confederate leader.

"If my hands weren't tied and I had a gun, I'd blow your heart out!" Stuck screamed at the gray-clad colonel. It was decided that Stuck would be shot, but he refused to mount a stump for the execution and demanded that his hands be untied. Telling all proudly that he was a deputy sheriff in Preston County, it was decided that he be taken to Richmond and tried for treason for holding an office under the government of West Virginia.

Put on a horse that galloped back toward the colonel, Stuck complained bitterly about how tight his hands were bound behind him. Faced with dealing with Stuck's personality all the way back to headquarters, the colonel decided instead to let the man go.

Also concerned about his welfare were some Confederates who knew him as friends and neighbors from the area. Included in this group was a Confederate lieutenant who was allegedly hit in the shoulder by Stuck's rifle fire. This was the only wound recorded in the all Civil War related incidents in Garrett County.

Let's go back to imagining. It is the date that you are reading this account in your newspaper. This time you are walking through the woods just west of Oakland and along the railroad tracks near the trestle, now called the 88 bridge.

It is a pleasant place, lorded over by a mix of evergreens and deciduous trees. It is like many forest walks in the area. Littered with leaves browned and rotted by winter, the forest floor is spongy to your shoes. Rising up before you there is a sizable hill. To the untrained eye it is just a mound covered with leaves and a second or third generation of trees.

But to someone who knows his history and geography, this is a special place.

Just how special will be determined as plans are underway to have the mound dug up by archeology students from West Virginia University. What they will be digging for is remnants left from Fort 88, or Fort Alice. The "88" comes from the fact that it is the 88th trestle between Oakland and Baltimore. The fort and its soldiers were guarding that trestle. No one today seems to know where the name Fort Alice came from. Some historians are calling it Fort Alice 88.

No matter its true name, the location of whatever is excavated there will be the center piece of a new development that will be wrapped around it. The town of Oakland has recently acquired the site, and Mayor Asa McCain, well known for his successful exploits at preserving Oakland historical sites, sees the future of the location as being an educational draw for residents and tourists alike.

The fort that was so readily given up to the enemy 145 years ago is now scheduled to be on the frontlines of the area's tourist industry.

"We don't know what we're going to find there." says McCain. "There have been things like buttons and belt buckles found in the past, and that just makes the whole thing more tantalizing."

Southern High School Receives Accreditation Through MSCSS

The Garrett County Board of Education recently announced that Southern Garrett High School has received accreditation through Middle States Commission on Secondary Schools (MSCSS).

Based in Philadelphia, the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools is the internationally recognized leader in the accreditation of schools, universities and colleges in the mid-Atlantic region and around the world. The MSA Commission on Secondary Schools accredits public, non-public and charter middle, intermediate and secondary schools, as well as non-degree granting career and technical postsecondary institutions, special purpose schools, supplementary education centers, educational service units and distance education institutions.

Southern High School was named one of America's best high schools by U.S. News & World Report. The school earned accreditation following an intensive three-year process, culminating with a 3½-day visit to the school by a volunteer validation team of educators appointed by Middle States.

During the visit, the Middle States team met with and interviewed stakeholders of Southern High made up of teachers, students, parents and administrators, as well as representatives of the Board of Education. Team members toured the facilities, and they studied the district's strategic plan for improvement and other documents related to the school's work. They also took the opportunity to observe the teaching and learning in classrooms.

"Southern joins thousands of other Middle States accredited institutions who uphold our standards of excellence," said association president and executive director, Henry Cram, Ed.D. "The school takes a holistic approach to its students' learning environment, focusing on each aspect of the school with a vision toward continual improvement. These are goals for which the entire community should be proud."

To become accredited through an MSCSS protocol, a school must meet the association's standards for mission/beliefs/objectives, governance and leadership, organizational design and staff, educational programs, learning media services and technology, student services, student life and activities, facilities, health and safety, finances, assessment of student learning, and planning.

According to Cram, school quality is best measured by individual student growth over time and the value added to each child by the educational experience the school provides.

"Accreditation can help a school and its community to better understand not only how it is doing, but more importantly, learn what it needs to do to improve, a key element of most state assessments," said Cram.

DARREN T. REAM

"It's not the years in your life; it's the life in your years."

This saying exemplified the life of Darren Todd Ream, 47, who rode from this life on Sunday, Feb. 10, 2008.

Born on Jan. 3, 1961, in Kingwood, W.Va., he was a son of Lois Elaine Bowser Ream.

He grew up in Garrett County, where he spent his youth playing Little League, snow skiing, and riding cross country motorcycles and four wheelers. He loved the outdoors and was a talented sportsman. He later became a Harley Davidson motorcycle enthusiast and was one hard-core NASCAR lover.

Darren had the ability to make everyone smile. He was a master prankster and storyteller. He was devoted to his wife, Rose Marie, his mom, Elaine, and his sister, Dale. He never hesitated to lend a hand.

He recently logged the most miles for one year on his soft-tail Harley Davidson and received an award from Harley Owners Group of Ocala, Fla. He had ridden over 16,000 miles for the year with his favorite riding buddy, wife Rose Marie.

Darren was employed by Hilliard Air Condition of Ocala. He loved working for the Hilliards and with his co-workers.

"Every day is a good day, some are just better than others," Darren often said.

He is survived by his wife, Rose Marie; his mother, Elaine; one sister, Dale Sue Wade, her husband Ken, and son Kenny.

Friends will be received at the Arthur H. Wright Funeral Home, Terra Alta, W.Va., on Sunday, Feb. 17, at 10:30 a.m., one hour prior to the service, which is scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

Interment will be held in the Terra Alta Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Personal condolences may be sent to arthurwright funeralhome.com.

Interment was held in the Grantsville Cemetery.

DWIGHT T. SCHENK

Dwight T. Schenk, 88, Bethany Beach, Del., died peacefully on Thursday, Feb. 7, 2008, at his home surrounded by family.

Dwight served in the U.S. Army during WWII and spent his 30-year civilian government career with TECOM (Test and Evaluation Command) at Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

After he retired in 1972, he and his wife Velma spent the next 25 years traveling. As a tour director, he led caravans of motor homes through Mexico, Central America to Panama, and as far north as Alaska.

Originally from Oakland, he owned and operated Lake Forest Campground at Deep Creek Lake from 1969 to 1989. He founded the Maryland Association of Campgrounds (MAC).

He moved to Bethany Beach in 1989 and recently to his new home in South Bethany.

He is survived by his wife of 68 years, Velma B. Schenk; four daughters, Carole Lindes and Donna Wade, both of Bethany Beach, Ellie Garrison, Aberdeen, and Vickie Frazier, Ocean City; nine grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren; and his brother, John Schenk, Aberdeen.

A memorial service will be held at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, at a later date.

Donations may be made to: Compassionate Care Hospice, 31038 Country Garden Blvd, Dagsboro, DE 19939.

Melson Funeral Services, Ocean View, Del., was in charge of arrangements.

Time After Time

By

Margaret Michaels

Briar Cliff was once a majestic plantation house – a sparkling home filled with the life and laughter of a happy family, and a sprawling mansion that hosted parties for the rich and powerful.

Years later, the house is nothing more than a sorry reminder of its golden heyday, a grim edifice shrouded with sadness and a dark past.

In 1942 Joanna and her young daughter, Elizabeth, moved into the Briar Cliff, not knowing of the former residents' tragic history. Before long, the two are haunted by mysterious voices and shadows as the past pains and heartaches refuse to rest. Through a journal, Elizabeth discovers a unique connection to the original owners of the house. A paranormal connection that grows stronger as the present events begin to mirror the past.

In a debut novel of extraordinary depth and scope, historical fiction author Margaret Michaels weaves an unforgettable tale of two families – one from the World War II era and the other from the Civil War era – and an old plantation house that intertwines their lives together.

Richly set in 1942, Time After Time is a powerful tale of mystery, drama and romance, one that impressively showcases the immense talents of a rising force in the historical fiction genre.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Army Pvt. Joshua Aaron Donoghue graduated from basic training on Feb. 8 at Fort Jackson, Columbia, S.C., with Delta Company, 2nd Platoon. He is the son of Anna Donoghue, Oakland.

During his nine weeks of training, Donoghue studied the Army mission, history, tradition and core values, military courtesy, and military justice.

He received instruction and practice in physical fitness, combat skills, military weapons, chemical warfare and bayonet training, rifle marksmanship, map reading, field tactics, and basic first aid.

Donoghue also participated in armed and unarmed combat, drill and ceremonial marches, foot marches, and field training exercises.

He will now receive advance individual training at a yet to be determined Army base.

Total Of 88 Students From Southern High Registered To Vote

Students at Southern High School were recently visited by Robert Boal and Carmen Tressler from the Garrett County Board of Elections. Students who would be 18 years old by Nov. 4, the General Election, were given the opportunity to register as voters.

The results of the registration are below and were reportedly the best turnout the school has ever seen.

- A total of 43 males and 45 females registered.
- 27 males and 25 females registered as Republican.
- 13 males and 14 females registered as Democrat.
- Three males and six females registered as unaffiliated.

"We are very excited by the interest and commitment the young people of Southern High School have taken in the political future of our country," stated history teacher Dave Bender.

Education Board To Hold Special Budget Meeting

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold a special meeting on Monday, Feb. 25, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is for board members to review and take action on the 2009FY proposed operating budget, which was drawn up by superintendent Dr. Wendell Teets.

Dr. Teets presented the budget to board members and the public at the February monthly meeting.

Charged With Two Additional Local Burglaries

A current inmate in the Garrett County Jail was charged by sheriff's office detectives with the burglaries of two Oakland area businesses.

Andrew Ray Gardea, 26, Grantsville, who was already charged with the burglary of Sams' Agway, Oakland, was further charged with the burglaries of Grand Central Furniture Store and Garrett Mine Supply. These incidents occurred during the early morning hours of Jan. 10.

Detectives were able to connect Gardea to burglaries of both businesses by using forensic evidence linking him to each crime scene. He was served two arrest warrants with each charging him with second degree burglary, destruction of property, and theft.

Gardea was later seen by a District Court commissioner, who added an additional $15,000 bond for each burglary, bringing his current bond to $40,000.

Man Driving On Revoked License Arrested/Charged

A Garrett County man was arrested Wednesday after a sheriff's deputy stopped his vehicle on Pysell Crosscut Road, Deer Park.

The deputy observed Darrin Eugene Smith, 39, driving when it was known to the deputy that Smith's driver's license was suspended and revoked. When the deputy made contact with Smith, it became apparent that Smith was driving his 2002 Dodge truck under the influence of alcohol.

He was arrested and charged with driving under the influence, driving while intoxicated, violation of court ordered alcohol restriction, and driving on a suspended and revoked license. He was taken to the GC Detention Center and held on $50,000 bond, which was set by a District Court commissioner.

We extend a compassionate helping hand.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

Well, primary voting day for Maryland turned into a small disaster in the morning at the Bittinger fire hall. My mother Ruth, who has never missed voting in many years in an election, wanted to vote before the weather got too bad, but it so happened it couldn't have been much worse. This was the first time in her whole lifetime that she voted Democratic. Somebody asked her why she changed parties and she said she didn't want to die a Republican. She wasn't happy with the last election and that was the "straw that broke the camel's back."

She was ready to step into the Bittinger fire hall where we vote, slipped on some ice right outside, and down she went. She went to Garrett County Memorial Hospital and found out she suffered from a broken fibula in the left leg. Now it is another six weeks getting that to heal. She is not to put any weight on it for at least 10 days.

So it was a question of whether this column would make it this week as she types it for me on the computer. Likewise, I thought I had better get out and vote early before the snow turned into sleet. It was terribly cold and snowy that morning. The roads were about as bad as any day this winter. I was so glad to get home without falling myself. The kids have been off from school all week. Wednesday it is still snowing when this is getting typed. I don't know why I went out in this weather, as both of my candidates are OK. Caitlin had planned to come home to vote, but I discouraged her from coming, as the weather was too bad.

Last week on Wednesday it was pure bliss, with the weather at 60 degrees. But the next day was a different story when we got a little bit more of snow and, according to the forecast, we are in for another cold snap. Hopefully, I don't have to get more fuel oil, but we are in for more of what we have been having, so who knows. I can't wait for more hours of daylight. This winter hasn't been all that bad, as I have seen many worse ones here in Garrett County. So far I haven't had to have my lane plowed open.

In the last couple of days I learned more about the power of prayer. A couple days ago I forgot to unplug my percolator and then I discovered it was very hot. The next day I tried to make coffee and it would not start. I really can't afford a new percolator and I don't like drip coffee makers, so I prayed hard for several hours. Then I tried again and it worked.

Then my furnace would not run, and I prayed to God to give me some heat. I finally heard the roar of the furnace. Perhaps you prefer to think my coffee maker was not really dead, and maybe my furnace had a piece of sediment clogging it and worked it free by itself. However, I prefer to believe it was my prayers that worked, unlike the many prayers to God that I prayed to save my marriage. Apparently that was not God's will.

I can't understand how the birds winter here in Garrett County. Their feathers are not thick enough for the very cold. The cardinals are appearing at my mother's feeders now and they are so beautiful to watch. She has about every kind of bird at her feeders.

I can't help but think about my forebearers who traveled in a sleigh to church during the winter months. They were very brave and strong people.

I hate to see prime farmland get developed, and I can't help but be amused about the many lots available that aren't being purchased. I know how bad it can be here at our farm in the winter. It is almost too bad to a person who lived here almost their whole life as to one choosing to build in a more windy lot.

Cindy Kolbe reported that two trees were down up in the woods behind her house. I see some of the old maple trees in Brenneman Grove did not survive. It was a small miracle we didn't lose our electric because the wind was so strong.

Many people have asked me, "What about your surgery?" A member of my family thinks I should go into rehabilitation. I hope to meet soon with my surgeon and ask a lot of questions. My local therapist, Mike Voelkel, thinks if my girls are around to help out and I get some home health nurses, he is sure my life could be much better after the surgery, recovery period, and some good physical therapy. The way I walk would affect my negativity about my life and the things I used to do.

I might be wrong, but I think more Americans could accept a black man over a woman for president. They wonder who would be the First Lady. That is a pretty trivial reason to vote for that person. I think whoever is elected will bring a big change in a lot of things. Throw out the Electoral College and replace it by the one vote for each person.

Whatever change comes about, it will be better than the current administration.

Just after I stocked up with some 41-cent stamps, the U.S. Postal Service announced it will raise them to 42 cents. So I guess I will have to get lots of one-cent stamps.

Adorable Adoptables

WILMA, A BLACK AND TAN COONHOUND, pictured above left, is a big girl with a big personality and available for adoption at the Garrett County Animal Shelter, according to a Humane Society spokesperson. Also looking for new homes are Shadow, a male black chow mix; Shannon, a playful black/white female Australian shepherd; and a lovable longhaired female orange cat. "All three of these dogs belonged to one owner who had 11 dogs," said the spokesperson. "Most of them had been dumped off at her house, and then she just had too many to afford having them vaccinated and spayed/neutered, so she signed them over to the shelter. All of the dogs were previously tied out. So if you are interested in any of these dogs, they will not be adopted to anyone who wants to tie them back outside, where they will not get the love and attention they need. There are other dogs and cats available. It seems new animals are brought in weekly, if not daily. Last week's adoptable medium husky mix has been adopted, and one dog was reclaimed from the full-to-capacity shelter." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553.

F'ville Church To Host Dinner

The Friendsville United Methodist Church will be hosting an "all you can eat" homemade noodle soup and hot rolls dinner on Feb. 22 from 4 to 7 p.m.

The cost is $5 for adults, and $3 for children, and includes soup, rolls, a drink, and dessert. Quarts and lunch orders will be available, and the church will also deliver meals on request.

For more information, persons may call 240-321-3818.

Special Events

The births of two babies were announced this week, one girl and one boy.

A son was born to Jason and Kristen (Hanft) Beitzel, Accident, on Feb. 3 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

A daughter, Hailey Lyn, was born to Joseph and Amber (Upperman) Whitacre, Kitzmiller, on Jan. 13 at Cumberland Memorial Hospital.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TIMMY

"WHO YOU'D BE TODAY"

SUNNY DAYS SEEM TO HURT THE MOST
I WEAR THE PAIN LIKE A HEAVY COAT
I FEEL YOU EVERYWHERE I GO
SEE YOUR SMILE, I SEE YOUR FACE
I HEAR YOU LAUGHING IN THE RAIN
STILL CAN'T BELIEVE YOU'RE GONE

IT'S NOT FAIR YOU DIED TOO YOUNG
LIKE A STORY THAT HAD JUST BEGUN
BUT DEATH TORE THE PAGES ALL AWAY

GOD KNOWS HOW I MISS YOU
ALL THE PAIN THAT I'VE BEEN THROUGH
TODAY

THE ONLY THING THAT GIVES ME HOPE
IS I KNOW, I'LL SEE YOU AGAIN
SOMEDAY

MISS & LOVE YOU VERY MUCH
HAPPY BIRTHDAY IN HEAVEN

GEAR-UP

East Preston Middle School eighth grade students and their parents are invited to the third annual GEAR-UP (Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs) Family Math Night, slated for Tuesday, Feb. 19, from 6 to 8 p.m. A math teacher of the school's faculty will sho v guests some math games, and there will be refreshments.

GEAR-UP's "Leap Into Fun" for eighth graders will be held on Friday, Feb. 29, from 7 to 9 p.m. at East Preston. The students and their parents are invited to participate in karaoke, basketball, and other activities. There will be refreshments and door prizes.

Carol Wilson is the GEAR-UP liaison at the Terra Alta East Preston Middle School. She can be reached at 789-2344.

NEWSLETTER

The town of Terra Alta is reportedly required to send the newsletter to all town residents. Anyone who does not receive a water bill in town, post office boxes included, and anyone who does not receive a newsletter in the 26764 ZIP Code are asked to send their e-mail addresses to Tachato@hotmail.com.

VFW FOOD DRIVE

The VFW is collecting non-perishable foods during February for the Aurora/Terra Alta food drive to benefit the Terra Alta Food Pantry. Donors may drop off foods at the VFW or Arrowhead Machine Shop, both located along Washington Street, or call 789-2672 or 789-6490 for Saturday pick-ups.

The VFW and the Terra Alta Betterment Inc. organization (TABI) will soon start work on the Veterans Memorial Park. All contributions to the project are tax deductible. Donations can be made at the Veterans Memorial Fund account at the Clear Mountain Bank.

Terra Alta has been awarded $3,000 in a Governor's Community Participation Grant. This is a grant that has to be matched with $3,000 from TABI and the VFW, so persons are urged to help by contributing to this venture.

HOSPITALIZED

Ceci Brandner, formerly of Alpine Lake, is currently a patient at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

CIVIC CLUB

The Terra Alta Civic Club's next meeting will be Monday, March 10. The February meeting was canceled because of severe weather.

Lakers Have Busy Week; Drop Three Of Four Games

It's been a busy, and somewhat disappointing, week on the basketball court for the Garrett College men's basketball team, as the Lakers have played four Maryland JUCO Conference games in the past seven days, going 1-3 for the run.

The Lakers dropped an 81-67 contest to visiting Hagerstown last Thursday, handed host Baltimore City CC a 72-64 loss on Saturday, fell to undefeated Cecil CC on Monday, 86-73, and finally concluded their conference schedule on the road last night by falling to Montgomery Germantown, 73-63.

The results gave the Lakers an overall record of 16-9 and a JUCO mark of 10-7. They will play again Sunday at West Virginia Wesleyan, and then enter the JUCO Championship tournament next Tuesday.

In last Thursday's loss to Hagerstown, the Lakers jumped out to a 16-4 lead in the early minutes of the game, but the Hawks calmed down and trailed by just one, 40-39, at intermission.

Hagerstown wasted no time taking the lead for good, going on a 9-0 run in the first two minutes of the second half The Lakers cut the lead to four points with about eight minutes to play, but back-to-back turnovers halted the rally.

Glen Izevbigie, a 6-9 sophomore, led the Lakers in scoring with a season-high 17 points, while freshman post Terrance Taylor finished with 14 points and Shawn Greenfield netted 12. Pulling down nine rebounds was Dale Taylor, and J.T. Lewis recorded six assists.

Leading the Hawks with a game-high 21 points was Kevin Bright. Lewis Lambert had 13, and Q'Monte Matheny, William Taylor, and John Long each contributed 10 points.

"I try to emphasize to our team that every possession counts and that we have to show maturity in how we handle adversity if we fall behind," said GC coach Dennis Gibson. "Our inside play was great, strong and aggressive, and our defense was good for most of the game, but we allowed them to get comfortable in their offense in the second half, and they are too good offensively to do that."

Gibson added that this was the first time in the last 12 games that any team had scored over 80 points against the Lakers.

Coach Gibson missed the game against Baltimore on Saturday because of a family issue, and assistant coach Harv Speicher was at the helm.

The Lakers took an early lead, and expanded the margin to nine points before the host team cut it to three by intermission, 37-34.

Deseau Antoine scored most of his game-high 20 points for Baltimore in the first half, as a defensive adjustment by Speicher shut him down for most of the second half, paving the way for the Laker win.

Izevbigie led a balanced scoring effort for Garrett, finishing with 16 points, while Greenfield and Joe Tressler each hit 12 points, and Taylor added 1.

Also reaching double figures for Baltimore were Derrow Daynard with 15 points, and Abi Torres and Laysean Hall with 10 apiece.

"Joey (Tressler) had a big game for us," Speicher said. "He was able to take advantage of the shots that were opened for him by our inside game.

"As a team, the kids really responded well, especially without Dennis being there on the sidelines," he said.

Even though Monday's game against Cecil CC ended in defeat for the Lakers, Coach Gibson was nonetheless pleased with his team's effort since Cecil is not only undefeated, but is also the top ranked NJCAA Division II team in the United States.

Some effective long-range shooting by the Hawks in the first half ultimately put the Lakers down by 14 points, 45-31, at intermission.

"They shot incredibly well early in the game," Gibson said. "They were taking shots as far away from the basket as we could keep them, but they were still hitting them.

"But overall, we played pretty well in the first half, and for all but one stretch in the second half," he said.

It was during that "stretch" in the second half that the Lakers fell behind by as many as 25 points, but they did not quit and cut the lead to 70-59 with 4:45 left in the game. Then the Lakers missed on their next three opportunities to pare the Hawks' lead down any more.

Rob Lowery was the major problem for the Laker defensive unit, as he poured in 28 points, including 21 via three-point goals.

Antonio Heymen connected for 18 points, Jabril Bailey finished with 17, and Jabari Whitehead scored 14.

Kevin Palmer is the Hawks' leading scorer, but he was limited to seven points by the Laker defense.

Taylor paced Garrett's scoring with 16 points. Reco Siler was right behind with 15 points, and also had four steals. Izevbigie finished with 11 points, and Greenfield recorded 14 points, seven rebounds, and four assists.

"This is certainly one of the best teams that I've ever faced," said the long-time Laker coach. "Definitely one of the most athletic and best shooting teams."

In last night's contest at Germantown, the Lakers had an opportunity to turn things around late in the game, but could not capitalize on turnovers, nor at the foul line.

Germantown had a 36-30 advantage in the waning moments of the first half, but then went on a 7-0 run to close the half and take a 43-30 lead.

Garrett battled back in the second half, cutting the lead to three points about halfway through the second half Then they made four straight defensive stops, but could not convert, and hit only one of six shots from the foul line during the rally.

Terrance Taylor paced the Lakers in scoring with 15 points, while Dale Taylor finished with 13.

Leading Germantown was Nick Sefcik with 16 points, Robert Pettis netted 13, Tariq Ugdah hit 12, and Tyrone Roach chipped in with 11.

A LITTLE TOO LATE – The Garrett College men's basketball team was knocked down by top-ranked Cecil Community College, 86-73, Monday evening as the Seahawks displayed some of their hot-shooting skills. Garrett rallied late in the game, but the Lakers were too, little too late in making up for a 14-point halftime deficit. J.T. Lewis (#21) is pictured above left nabbing a nearly missed pass in the first half, and shown in the above right photo is Shawn Greenfield (#3) going for a bucket from behind the key, while Glen Izevbigie (#35) attempts to block a Seahawk defender. Oakland League Results Reported Teams sponsored by Monumental Life/Jones Trucking, Fox's Pizza, and Mountain Fitness Center were all victorious in Oakland Adult Basketball League games played Sunday.

Cory Bosley poured in 40 points for Monumental/Jones in an 81-53 whipping of D&L Coal. Teammate Maverick Nelson recorded 16 points, while Danny Wiles led D&L with 17 points.

Fox's topped East Preston Tire, 56-40, with Ricky Reams and Bryson Paugh netting 16 and 14 points, respectively, to lead the winners. Shaun Meyers hit a game-high 20 points for East Preston Tire.

Justin Liller scored 28 points for Mtn. Fitness in a 69-64 victory over Impact Sports. Mike Harvey also reached double figures for the winners, finishing with 15 points. Leading Impact Sports were Joey DiSimone with 22 points and Mike Fazenbaker with 19.

Games slated for this Sunday will pit Fox's against Impact Sports at 6 p.m., Mtn. Fitness vs. Monumental/Jones in the 7 p.m. game, and East Preston Tire against D&L Coal at 8 p.m.

Oakland Youth Football League To Elect Officers

The Oakland Youth Football League (OYFL) has announced it will hold elections for open positions of vice president and secretary. The election will be held at Southern High School in the cafeteria on Sunday, Feb. 24, from 5 to 6 p.m.

Any card-carrying member in good standing may, after nomination, run for either position or cast a vote. A card-carrying member is any member; parent, coach or guardian who had a child who participated and met all financial obligations in the previous season. Members may cast a vote by paying a $2 fee the day of the election. Only one member per household will be allowed to vote. A vote can be cast by either parent of a player or cheerleader who participated in the organization last season.

Anyone interested in nominating an individual for either position is asked to contact Eric Cvetnick by calling 301-334-1891 or 301-616-0057, or via e-mail at ecvetnick@verizon.net. The nomination deadline is Friday, Feb. 22. Nominations received after February 22 will be write-in candidates.

An OYFL board meeting will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. following the election.

Understanding Home Health Care

by Kristine Graber, RN

TAKING YOUR FIRST STEPS TO CARE FOR ELDER PARENTS

If you are taking care of an elder friend or relative, you may need some instruction. Unfortunately, there is no one place you can call that will tell you what to do at which point. You can, however, take some important first steps. Start by making sure you have written down the friend or relative's name, Social Security number, and address. Make a list of the names, addresses, and phone numbers of all medical care providers, including doctors, dentists, and pharmacy. Obtain a copy of his or her health insurance policies and medical cards. Compile a list of all the medications, dosages, and instructions for all medications the person is taking, and take that list with you to every medical appointment.

Caregivers should be aware of the challenges faced by the elderly or infirm when performing everyday tasks. Here at TENDER LOVING HOME CARE, INC., we offer a full range of home care to the elderly, the infirm, and adults recuperating from surgery. We are dedicated to the care of the patients and families involved. Call us for more information. Long- or short-term care is available, whenever it's needed. Since 1987, Tender Loving Home Care has provided in-home personal care services to adults throughout Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties. We are family owned, licensed, bonded and insured.

P.S. The Internet is a good tool to use when gathering information for caring for an elder relative.

Husky Girls Make Third-Quarter Rush, But Lose To Hampshire

The Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team trailed slightly after the first two quarters, and had a third quarter surge, but was ultimately overpowered by the homestanding Hampshire Trojans in a 54-45 Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference game played on Monday.

Hampshire got the win in the fourth quarter as Rana Conneway went for all 12 of her points in the final stanza. She hit five field goals, one being a three-pointer, and a foul shot.

Northern (13-4, 6-4 AMAC) trailed 25-21 at halftime, but pulled it together in the third to carry a 37-32 lead into the fourth quarter. The Trojans outscored the Huskies 22-8 in the final eight minutes for the win, and Hampshire went 9-for-13 from the free-throw line down the stretch.

Kaitlynn Fratz hit two threes, recorded five field goals, and was good on both of her foul shot attempts in getting a game-high 18 points for Northern. Megan Wiley contributed eight points, and Brittany Stein finished with seven.

Lesley Swisher had a team-high 17 points in the win for Hampshire. She also did her share on defense pulling in eight rebounds and recording three blocks. Cah Alkire added 11 points.

Hampshire edged Northern in the jayvee game, 43-40. Ashley Davis had 14 points for the Trojans, and Terra McKenzie finished with 22 for the Huskies.

Northern will entertain Frankfort tonight with the varsity tip-off at 7:30. The Huskies will then host Mountain Ridge in a make-up game on Monday night before traveling to Fort Hill on Wednesday for their last scheduled game.

Ram Girls Nipped By Keyser, Take Vikings By The Horns

The Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team fell to the Keyser Golden Tornados by a 47-46 margin last Thursday, then rebounded to whip Petersburg on Monday with a 62-37 runaway victory.

Kacee Whetzel scored 13 points, sinking three field goals and going 7-for-10 from the foul line, to fuel Keyser to a 47-46 defeat over the Rams last Thursday at Southern.

Last Thursday's loss was a surprise to the Rams, who at that time were 12-3, compared to Keyser's then 3-13 season record.

The Golden Tornados also received 11 points from Julia Ludwick, and 10 from Kourtni Roby. Keyser converted on 15 of its 20 free throws.

Southern was edged despite Shayna Sweitzer's 14 points, and Brittany Boyce and Emillee Bosley's respective 11 points. Emillee Bosley netted three of Southern's six three-point baskets.

Southern led by five after the first quarter, but Keyser played catch-up to tie the score at halftime at 24. The Golden Tornados led 38-35 entering the fourth before holding off the Rams, who outscored them in the fourth, 11-9.

Southern won the junior varsity game, 39-36, after two periods of double overtime. Claire Wilkinson put 15 points on the board for the Rams, and Abby Wildesen added 12. Bri Teets scored eight for Keyser.

The Rams used last Thursday's defeat to fuel their fire as they whipped the homestanding Petersburg Vikings, 62-37, Monday evening.

Southern's Emillee Bosley recorded 12 points, which included two three-point baskets, and was joined in double figure scoring by Brittany Boyce and Shayna Sweitzer, who each scored 10 points. Kerry Conroy contributed nine points, and Alex Barnard added eight.

The Vikings were paced by Alisha Webster, who recorded 10 points. Webster was the only Petersburg dribbler who reached double scoring figures.

Petersburg, 37-31, in the junior varsity game, but no further information was received, and the Rams' game against Fort Hill was canceled when school was called off on Wednesday.

Southern's game against Tucker County previously scheduled for this evening has been rescheduled for Friday, Feb. 16, and will be played at Northern High School. The Rams will then finish up their regular season after hosting Frankfort on Monday and Bishop Walsh on Wednesday. All games have starting times of 6 p.m. for the jayvees and 7:30 for the varsity teams.

Southern Dribblers Get Rustled From Foul Line By Campers

It was a last-minute pair of foul shots that ultimately sank the Southern High School boys' varsity basketball unit Friday night, as the Rams were upset by powerhouse Allegany, 69-67. The Rams' Tuesday night clash against Mountain Ridge was postponed because of Garrett County school closures.

Southern just barely lost Friday night's home contest to Allegany, as the Campers moved ahead with a pair of foul shots in the fourth quarter to get the 69-67 win.

The two Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference opponents entered the contest ranked back-to-back, with the Campers holding the No. 2 spot and the Rams at No. 3. Allegany improves its record to 15-3 overall and 10-3 in the conference, while Southern slips to 9-7 overall and 8-7 in the AMAC.

After the Campers built a 17-7 first quarter lead, Southern got seven points from Drew Proudfoot and six from Jeff Stem in the second quarter as the Rams carried a 22-21 lead into the half. Allegany regained control going into the fourth, leading 41-38.

It was Dustin Wharton's fourth quarter free throws at 6.1 seconds left that gave the Campers the winning points. Wharton only scored six points, but was good on all four of his foul shot attempts. Travis Dordevic scored 17 points and collected 15 rebounds for Allegany. Cameron Butler scored 21 points, and Casey Roberts finished with 16.

Stem led all scorers with 25 points, while Proudfoot added 17 points and six boards for Southern. Jordan Pacella recorded 11 points, and Dan Shockey finished with eight points and seven rebounds.

The junior varsity game was won by Allegany, 50-38, with Adam Boor recording 20 points and Aaron Smith, 14. Calvin Hilliard put 11 points on the board for Southern.

Southern will entertain Fort Hill Friday evening before hitting the road to Bishop Walsh on Tuesday. Both games have tip-off times of 6 p.m. for the jayvees and 7:30 for the varsity teams.

DCWST Skiers To Vie In State Championship

Local youth skiers and members of the Deep Creek Winter Sports Team Cara Stough and Taylor Havens recently qualified to participate in the J-3 Pennsylvania Alpine Racing Association State Championships this weekend at Seven Springs Resort. Callie Vernon of McHenry also qualified, but is unable to compete because of a knee injury.

Stough is a freshman at Northern High School and resides in Friendsville, and Havens is a freshman at South River High School and resides in Davidsonville.

The format of the race consists of a one-run Super G on Friday, a three-run Slalom on Saturday, and a three-run Giant Slalom race on Sunday.

The top eight finishers of each discipline will be awarded at the end of the day. Qualifying racers from all of the various Pennsylvania ski teams will be competing alongside the Deep Creek Winter Sports Team, and the top competitors will advance to the 2008 Eastern Junior Olympics.

Derek Burger and Dave Butler are the head coaches of the DCWST's traveling team.

PAPERWORK AND PERSONALITY!

As you prepare to sell your home, you must begin by making a choice: to seek the services of a professional or to proceed without representation. You realize that your home is probably your biggest financial investment, with a value that could be hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Now imagine if you had a legal problem involving that kind of money - would you prepare and present your own case to the judge without an attorney? Not surprisingly, managing legal issues is just one of the top reasons that most sellers seek the representation of a qualified real estate professional.

On the paperwork side, there are offers to purchase, sales agreements, inspection reports, title investigations, and more, all leading up to the final closing. On the personal side, there is the experience and skill required to successfully negotiate between parties, as well as to anticipate and resolve the myriad issues that can arise from listing to offer to sale.

Considering the size of your investment, why would you put any of your stake at risk by forgoing the assistance and advice of an experienced professional? Maximize your returns with a minimum of hassle and cost. You wouldn't go to court without an attorney, and you wouldn't operate without a surgeon. It's easy to see that some things are just too important to handle without an expert.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Gibson Reaches Season-High Scoring; Northern Goes 8-9

The Northern High School boys' varsity basketball team was surprised by a 55-47 loss to visiting Mountain Ridge Friday night, but used the loss as motivation and advanced to a Monday evening 75-49 roasting of Union. Husky senior standout Kory Gibson dropped a whopping 73 points over the two nights of play.

Northern's Kory Gibson was hot handed at the basket and recorded a season high 40 points in Friday evening's Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference game against Mountain Ridge, but the Huskies came up short in the end and were handed a 55-47 loss.

Gibson was the only double-figure-scoring dribbler for Northern (8-9 overall).

MOUNTAIN RIDGE (55)

Cody Morton 1 0-0 3, Ryan Delaney 1 2-2 4, Brian Legge 0 0-2 0, David Hobel 4 21-22 29, Sean Fazenbaker 1 0-2 2, Sammy Brackett 4 5-5 13, Chris DeRosa 2 0-2 4. Totals 13 28-34 55.

Three-point goals - Mountain Ridge 1 (Morton), Northern 6 (Gibson 5, Gulledge 1). Total fouls - Mountain Ridge 20, Northern 28. Fouled out - Smith, Gulledge, Brosnihan, Holtschneider (Northern).

Mtn. Ridge	7	21	31	55
Northern	4	10	26	47

The two teams were called on a combined 48 fouls – 28 from Northern and 20 from Mountain Ridge – in a physical game since the tip-off.

David Hobel led the Miners with 29 points and was nearly automatic from the foul line, going 21-for-22. He was good on his first seven throws, missed one, then hit 14 consecutive tosses.

Sammy Brackett finished with 13 points for Mountain Ridge after hitting all five of his foul shots.

Gibson, who is the leading scorer in the area and conference, protected his averages with his 40 points, which included 10 field goals, five three-point baskets, and 15 of his 19 foul shot attempts. Gibson recorded eight points in the first half and accelerated to 32 points in the second half.

NORTHERN (75)

FREE THROWS FOUL UP THE HUSKIES – In a very physical contest between the Northern High School boys' varsity basketball team and the visiting Mountain Ridge Miners, the Huskies were whistled for 28 fouls, and lost the game, 69-67, despite a 40-point effort from senior Kory Gibson (#21), who is pictured above in the act of committing one of those fouls. Northern's Dustin Platter is also visible in the photo. Platter (#12) is pictured below, dribbling head first toward the basket. See story. Photos by John McEwen.

The Miners led 7-4 after one quarter, 21-10 after two, and 31-26 after the third.

The Huskies picked up a victory in the junior varsity game in overtime, 41-35. Garrett Rayner had 14 points for Northern, while Keinan Harper had 15 for Mountain Ridge.

Gibson caught fire and bombarded Union with 33 points, and the Huskies left the Tigers in the dust in a recent 75-49 make-up game.

Northern jumped out to a 30-8 opening quarter lead behind Gibson's hot hand, and the Huskies took a 46-23 advantage into the locker room.

Other Huskies scoring in double figures were Dustin Platter with 16 and Garrett Gulledge with 10. Gibson made 15 field goals, including both of Northern's three-pointers, and a foul shot for his 33 points.

Jeff Smith scored 12 points to lead Union, and Brad Davis recorded a double-double with 11 points and 11 boards. Chris Donnelson also had 11 points.

The Huskies were scheduled to travel to Keyser Tuesday evening, but no game results were received.

Hampshire will entertain Northern Friday night, and the Huskies will be on the road again Saturday at Bishop Walsh. Both games have a start time of 6 p.m. for jayvees and 7:30 for the varsity teams.

Former SHS Dribbler Gets District Honors

Former Southern High School basketball player Justine Pagenhardt recently received first team women's basketball honors in District IV, as released by the College Sports Information Directors of America in its 2008 ESPN the Magazine Academic All-District team list. Pagenhardt is currently a senior at Marietta College in Ohio.

The honor makes Pagenhardt eligible for Academic All-America honors, which will be announced later this month.

Sports information directors from the district (all NCAA Division II, II, and NAIA schools in Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Alabama) nominate and vote on selections, with first team all-district selections moving onto the national ballot. In order to qualify, a student-athlete must achieve at least a 3.20 cumulative grade point average and be a starter or key reserve.

Pagenhardt, a four-year letter winner, is currently averaging 16.4 points, 4.3 rebounds, and 2.2 assists and entered the week as the Ohio Athletic Conference's leading scorer. The guard recently became the fourth Lady Pioneer in school history to score 1,300 points. She sits fourth on the all-time list with 1, 357 career points.

During her college athletic career, Pagenhardt has received Academic All-OAC in 2005 and 2006. She was also named second team All-OAC in 2006 and given honorable mention All-OAC as a freshman in 2005.

Off the court, Pagenhardt maintains a 3.92 GPA as a biology major. She is a member of the athletics director's honor roll and high dean's list. Pagenheardt, who has also played tennis for the last two seasons, is active in Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, serving as secretary.

NHS Matmen Crush Fairmont Sr., University; Nipped By East Fairmont

The wrestling team of Northern High School wrapped up its regular season this past week by crushing Fairmont Senior, 69-4, last Wednesday, and then splitting a make-up tri-match, flattening University High of Morgantown, 72-6, but being nipped by East Fairmont, 37-36.

The great majority of points accrued by the Huskies against Fairmont Senior were awarded via forfeits, as Fairmont had no one to wrestle in 10 of the 14 weight divisions.

Huskies who received forfeits were Andrew Reynolds in the 112-pound division; Josh Duckworth, 119; Matt Thomas, 125; Corey Sebold, 130; Adam Moranduzzo, 135; Dustin Stough, 160; Ryan Finzel, 189; Alex Ruff, 215; and Zach McCrobie, 285.

189 - Ryan Finzel, N, won by forfeit.
215 - Alex Ruff, N, won by forfeit.
285 - Zach McCrobie, N, won by forfeit.

Earning victories for the Huskies on the mats were Kameron Kamp, who won via a pin in the 103-pound bout, and Dylan Day (140) and Andrew Ganoe (152) both by decision.

The only winner for Fairmont was Anthony Secure (145), who also won on points.

There was no match in the 171-pound class.

There were also a lot of forfeit wins for the Huskies in the romp over University, as Kamp, Duckworth, Thomas, Sebold, Day, and Chad Wilburn (145) were awarded forfeits.

Southern Mat Club Continues To Win Trophies

The Southern Mat Club has been garnering numerous trophies in recent matches, including its own tournament held January 26 at Southern High School, followed by the Tri-County, Williamsport, and Region I events held Jan. 27, Feb. 2, and Feb. 9, respectively.

In their own annual tournament, SMC members who won individual first places were: Hunter Park, age 5/6, 75 pounds; Josh King, 9/10, 65; Austin Sines, 9/10, 85; Austin Shaffer, 11/12, 65; and Coy Ozias, 11/12, 80.

Runner-up honors were captured by Jeremy Hoalcraft, 5/6, 40; Alec Horner, 7/8, 60; Erik Fike, 7/8, 65; T.J. Hooks, 9/10, 75; Dalton Cooper, 9/10, 100; and Gavin Murphy, 13/15, 90.

SMC members placing third were: Devan Hamrick, 9/10, 60 and 65 pounds; Ty Simpson, 9/10, unlimited; Tanner Massey, 11/12, 95; Scott Cooper, 11/12, 126; and Dakota Pritt, 13/15, 105.

Placing fourth were John Pelland, 5/6, unlimited; Erik Fike, 9/10, 65; and Gavin Murphy, 13/15, 98.

In the Tri-County tourney held Jan. 27, the following SMC members gained individual championships: Hunter Park, 6 and under, 80 pounds, Erik Fike; 7/8, 65; Caleb Hawk, 11/12, 80; and Tanner Massey, 11/12, 95.

Earning third places were Jacob Sweitzer, 7/8, 60, and James Schwab, 7/8, 65.

In the Williamsport event, Alec Horner (7 and under, 60 pounds) placed second; Devan Harick (8/9, 60) placed third; and finishing fourth were Hunter Park, 7 and under, 75, and Josh King, 10/11, 65.

Placing among the top three in their respective divisions at Sunday's Region I tournament, and thus qualifying for this weekend's state youth championships in Baltimore, were the following SMC members: Austin Shaffer, 11/12, 65, and Scott Cooper, 11/12, 122, first place; James Schwab, Devan Hamrick, Josh King, Austin Sines, Brandon Uphold, Tanner Massey, and Dakota Pritt, all second places; and John Pelland, Erik Fike, T.J. Hooks, and Brad Clary, all third places.

SHS Will Host Regional Dual Meet Tonight

The Maryland Class 1A-2A West Region dual wrestling tournament, which was originally scheduled for last night at Southern High School, was postponed until this evening because of inclement weather yesterday, which forced cancellation of Garrett County schools.

Southern will face Williamsport in the semifinals, beginning at 5:30, while Mountain Ridge will vie against South Carroll. The winners will then meet in the championship rounds at 7:30.

OTHER POSTPONEMENTS

Also, the Southern-Tucker County girls' basketball games have been moved to Garrett College for this evening, with the junior varsity clash to tip off at 6 p.m., and the varsity game to begin at 7:30.

The Southern-Mountain Ridge boys' basketball games have been rescheduled for Feb. 26.

Northern Mat Club Members To Vie At States

A number of Northern Mat Club members qualified to compete in the Maryland state youth wrestling tournament by virtue of their finishes in the MSWA Region 1 wrestling tournament held at Mountain Ridge High School, Frostburg, on Saturday.

The state event will be held this Sunday, Feb. 17, at Loyola Blakefield High School in Towson.

As a team, the NMC received a third-place trophy. Individuals who finished among the top three in their respective age and weight divisions qualified for the state meet.

First-place finishers for the local club were: Hunter Wilhelm, division I, 50 pounds; Justin Opel, div. III, 65; Zachary Haer, div. IV, 70 and 75; Kody Osselburn, div. IV, 85; and Hunter Baer, div. V, 80.

Finishing second were: Josh Thomas, div. I, 40; Jordan Day, div. II, 55; Ryan Weimer, div. II, unlimited; Kelly Wilt, div. IV, unlimited; and Brandon Minnich, div. V, 115.

Hunter Baer also placed third in div. V, 85 pounds.

Placing fourth for the NMC were Bryson Day, div. III, 80; and Keygan Broadwater, div. II, 60.

GEARING UP FOR BIG SOMD WEEKEND – The members of Special Olympics of Garrett County (SOGA) wished to express their thanks to all those getting ready to jump in the lake — that is, those willing to take part in the 10th annual Deep Creek Dunk, slated for Feb. 23 and hosted by the Maryland State Police. The proceeds of the popular event go to the Special Olympics of Maryland, which hosts not only the Feb. 24-26 Winter Games at Wisp, but also a wide variety of sports activities statewide and year-round. "The Deep Creek Dunk is a wonderful way to show the athletes in this community and the rest of the state that they really matter," a SOGA spokesperson said. "We all work very hard with Special Olympics activities, serving as volunteers, coaches, and staff. The athletes work especially hard to prepare. It is an honor to serve together." Pictured at last fall's Autumn Glory Festival parade are several members of the Special Olympics of Garrett County, both volunteers and athletes. In the front row, from left, are Eric Robison, Roger Uber, Stacey Geroski, "The Bear" (Matia Vanderbilt, area director), Wendy Seymour, Karen Broadwater, Krista Beller, Robert Broadwater, Tiffany Gank, and Bill Thomas. In the back, same order, are Craig Robison, Virginia Simon, Henrietta Lyons, Robin Fife, Brody Robison, Mike Lewis (behind the bear), Jerry Swietzer, and Linda Murphy. See related story about the Deep Creek Dunk and the 2008 Winter Games.

Md. Special Olympics Slated At Wisp; To Open With 10th Deep Creek Dunk

Nearly 300 Maryland athletes are preparing to compete in the 2008 Special Olympics Maryland (SOMD) Winter Games at Wisp Resort in McHenry, slated for Feb. 24 to 26.

The event will once again be kicked off with the 10th annual Maryland State Police Deep Creek Dunk, set for Saturday, Feb. 23, with registration beginning at noon and the dunk to happen at 2 p.m. The event will take place at the shore behind Uno restaurant. Dunk organizers expect 500+ "dunkers" this year to run into Deep Creek Lake while an additional 1,000 spectators watch and cheer.

A minimum of $50 in pledges is required to participate in the dunk. Persons may visit www.dunkmd.-com for more information.

Throughout the weekend, athletes from all around the state and about 35 from Delaware will "go for the gold" in alpine skiing, cross country skiing, and snowshoeing.

In addition to the action of the sports competitions, the SOMD Winter Games also include the pageantry of the regular Olympics with an opening ceremony on Sunday evening, featuring the Parade of Athletes, the slope-side lighting of the Special Olympics cauldron, and the official awards presentations each day.

Through the sponsorship of Legacy Partners Aerotek and the Willow Spring Sanctuary, the winter games activities are open to the public at no charge.

The schedule is as follows, with all times approximate and subject to change:

Opening Ceremony: Sunday, Feb. 24, 7 p.m., in the McHenry House at Wisp Resort.

Competition events: Monday, Feb. 25, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Tuesday, Feb. 26, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Closing Ceremony: Tuesday, Feb. 26, 3 p.m. at the McHenry House.

"Whether you are coming as a family member, a volunteer, or a fan, we invite anyone who wants to experience sport in its purest form to come out and celebrate the 2008 SOMD Winter Games with us," said Patricia Fegan, president and CEO of Special Olympics Maryland. "The athletes who are competing deserve nothing less than total support as they showcase their incredible abilities on the slopes."

Special Olympics of Garrett County will host a Pre-Dunk Party and Dance. The event will take place at the Oakland Community Center (the former armory), located along 8th Street, on Friday, Feb. 22, from 6 to 9 p.m.

All athletes, families, friends in the Garrett Community are welcome to attend. For more information, persons may call the Oakland office of SOGC at 301-334-3990 or contact the area director, Matia Vanderbilt, at 240-321-6494.

In order to prepare for the Winter Games, competitors are required to train for a minimum of 8 weeks, which includes "dry land" ski training for many athletes around the state, and particularly those on the Eastern Shore. About 100 coaches will accompany the athletes to the competition. It takes another 200 volunteers to help run the events, by doing such things as staging athletes, timing, scoring, officiating, presenting the awards, and staging the opening and closing ceremonies. While housing is not provided, volunteer opportunities are available. Persons may visit www.-somd.org for more volunteer information.

SOMD is a year-round sports organization dedicated to providing quality sports training and competition opportunities to Maryland's children and adults with intellectual disabilities and/or closely related developmental disabilities. SPECIAL OLYMPICS BOWLING SEASON COMES TO A CLOSE – Special Olympics of Garrett County celebrated its last night of the fall/winter bowling session with a pizza party on Jan. 11. The high game bowlers were Roger Uber with a score of 161 and Wendy Seymour with a score of 122. Recognized for perfect attendance were Joey Sizemore, Chris Kensinger, and Jerry Sweitzer. A drawing was held among the athletes for the prize of a new ball, shoes, or free games (winner's choice). The winner of the drawing was Chris Kensinger, who is shown above with coach Jeff Sizemore and area director Matia Vanderbilt. The local organization's spring bowling session will begin on April 18 and will continue through June on Fridays from 6 to 8 p.m. For more information, persons may call the Oakland office at 301-334-3990 or write to Special Olympics Garrett County (SOGA) at P.O. that allowed hot ashes to come into contact with the combustible framing of the house.

The house was equipped with smoke alarms, which functioned properly, the report said.

Also responding to the scene were the Southern Rescue Squad and personnel from the Garrett County Roads Department. There were no injuries reported.

The family was displaced from the house and is being assisted by friends and relatives.

Bear Bill

"Del. Frush and several of her colleagues do not want a bear hunt in Maryland," Beitzel said. "If they are successful in their efforts, then something must be done to control the bear population in western Maryland. My plan does just that.

"Under my legislation, the Department of Natural Resources can distribute the bears throughout the rest of the state so that everyone can experience the 'joys' of living with bears," Beitzel said.

The provisions of the his bill would require the DNR to capture bears that live in over-populated areas of western Maryland, and distribute them throughout the state. The DNR has determined that all counties in Maryland have locations that are suitable for bear habitat, according to Beitzel.

"Many people who aren't from western Maryland think that bears are cute and friendly, but this isn't always the case," said Sen. Edwards. "There are nuisance bears that not only destroy property, but also potentially pose a serious threat to people and pets. We need to make sure that people down here know that it is essential to manage the bear population, whether it's by a hunt or the plan we presented."

According to a report by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, 51 bears were taken during the 2007 bear hunt in Maryland. In addition to those bears, more than 40 bears were reported to have been hit by vehicles on the highway statewide.

Until the 2004-2005 hunting season, a ban on hunting black bears had been in effect since 1953. The bear hunt has received national attention and has since been a source of controversy.

During the most recent bear hunt, a black bear weight record was established for Maryland. Coty Jones, a 20-year-old woman from the state's Eastern Shore, harvested a black bear that weighed more than 600 pounds.

"This bill is important to not only the people of Garrett and Allegany counties, but also should be a concern for those who genuinely have an interest in the preservation of the bear population in Maryland," Beitzel said about HB 762.

He encourages anyone wanting more information on this subject to contact him in Annapolis at 1-800-492-7122, ext. 3435.

Garrett College Offers Insight Into International Film Course

A "WINDOW TO THE WORLD" – The World View International Club, comprising the international students at Garrett College, who represent more than 18 countries, will be hosting a series of international movies at Garrett College as part of the course "Windows To the World." Andisiwe Sicwebu (left) and Unathi Mahlati (right), both of Butterworth, South Africa, are pictured above promoting the movie Yesterday, the South African movie to be shown on Feb. 21 in the Garrett College auditorium. See story.

The World View International Club (WVIC), comprising the international students at Garrett College, who represent more than 18 countries, will be hosting a series of international movies in the Garrett College auditorium. Movies will be shown on four Thursdays between Feb. 21 and March 13 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Conducted as a class through the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division of Garrett College, the "Windows To the World" noncredit course offers an opportunity for viewers to learn about the world through international movies. The lifestyles, culture, and history of each country represented on campus are portrayed through each movie.

Registration for the course is free to Garrett College students, and local residents and other nonstudents may register for the "Windows To the World" course through Continuing Education for $15. Maryland seniors may register for $5. The cost of the class covers all four movies, and will not be pro-rated for any missed classes.

The first movie, which will be shown on Feb. 21, is titled Yesterday, and is a 2004 South African film that will be presented by Andisiwe Sicwebu and Unathi Mahlati, both of South Africa. After falling ill, the film's main character Yesterday learns that she is HIV positive. With her husband in denial and a young daughter to tend to, Yesterday's one goal is to live long enough to see her child go to school. The language of the movie is Zulu, but has English subtitles. It is rated R for violence.

Shigeki Shirakawa of Japan will introduce Shall We Dansu? (1996). Shohei Sugiyama, a successful accountant with a wife and child, has reached all of his life goals, but still fmds himself depressed and unhappy. After spotting a beautiful Japanese girl in a dance studio window one day, Sugiyama gathers his courage to sign up for dance lessons in hopes of ridding him of his depression and helping him get his life back in order. Note: An American version of this movie was more recently made starring Jennifer Lopez and Richard Gere. Shall We Dansu? is shown in Japanese with English subtitles and is rated PG for mild language.

Martina Parra of Ecuador will be presenting the 2004 movie Maria, Llena Eres de Gracia (Maria Full Of Grace) on March 6, which is also when International Women's Day is observed. In a story fitting for the day's observation, 17-year-old Maria lives in a small village in Colombia and supports her family by working in a floriculture facility. After she is fired and unable to find a new job, she accepts an offer to work as a drug mule, flying to the U.S. with 62 pellets of cocaine in her stomach, even though she is pregnant. Once in New York, things do not happen as planned. The film is in Spanish with English subtitles, and is rated R for drug content and language.

The Legend of Jonny Lingo (2003) will be introduced on March 13 by Sharon Sarowa of Papua New Guinea. This New Zealand film is about an infant boy who is washed ashore on a small South Pacific island during a storm. At first, he is well-received as a gift from the heavens, and the tribal chief adopts him as his successor. With time, however, hardships are blamed on Tama (as he is named), and he is fmally outcast to live with the poorest people on the island. When he is old enough to build a craft to sail away, Tama vows to return for the girl he loves, Mahana. This movie will be shown in English, and is rated G.

The first three movies are not recommended for children, and all are subject to change depending on availability of the films and other factors.

The WVIC has partnered with Jearbryo's Restaurant, located across from the college on Bumble Bee Road, to offer a meal from the country portrayed in each movie. Persons interested in dinner and a movie may purchase dinner starting at around 5 p.m. on the evening of each film.

Current plans, while also subject to change, are to serve South African roti and braised steak mince on Feb. 21, Japanese okonomiyaki (also known as Japanese pizza) on Feb. 28, Colombia arepa and black bean soup on March 6, and Papua New Guinean meat curry on March 13.

For more information or to register for the "Windows To the World" course, persons may call 301-387-3069 or 301-387-3046.

TOTAL BIZ GIVES SECOND INSTALLMENT TO GLAF – Total Biz Fulfillment recently presented the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF) with its second installment of $2,000, reaching the company's 2007 pledge of $4,000. The company's donation came in part from its community supported warehouse sale proceeds. Total Biz's associates and GLAF volunteers worked to organize the sale and man the tables at the sale. The TBF Warehouse Sale took place in part through the efforts and donations of manufacturers Corolle Dolls (France), Briarpatch (USA), Winning Moves (USA), Malte Haaning (Denmark), Prat Paris (France), Enesco brand, Our Name Is Mud (USA), Harmony Hills (USA), J&D Designs (USA), Nexus (USA), and Calypso (USA). Pictured from left are Elaine Hager, mass merchant relations manager, Total Biz; Rhonda Winebrenner, human resources manager, Total Biz; Willetta Mateer, fundraising chairman and board member of GLAF; Skip Case, GLAF executive director; and Luanne Ruddell, vice president of sales, Total Biz.

Our Town Theatre To Present Night Watch, A Mystery

The next stage offering at Our Town Theatre in Oakland will be the presentation of a mystery titled Night Watch. The play, featuring a nine-member cast, will be given on Wednesday, Feb. 27, through Saturday, March 1, at 8 p.m., and Sunday, March 2, at 2 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 301-334-5640.

According to director Erin Peacock, suspicion and intrigue are the themes of the play, written by Lucille Fletcher. Actors are Tammy Beitzel and Matt Taylor as Elaine and John Wheeler, Kieran Cannistra as their friend Blanche, and Donna Miller, Jack Spencer, Sue Lisantti, Chuck Hoffeditz, Christie Hamilton, and Bill Meade.

The play is being produced through a special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service Inc., and is funded in part by grants from the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council.

"Night Watch conveys the chaos that erupts at the Wheeler household when Elaine reports seeing frightening sights in the window of the house next to her Manhattan home," Peacock said. "Only Mr. Appleby, the eccentric next-door neighbor, seems to believe her or share her desire to solve the mystery."

Tickets for the weeknight and matinee performances are $5 each, and are $8 for the Friday and Saturday shows.

Garrett Artists Organizing New Studio Tour

A group of local artists have been meeting since late December conceptualizing a new Garrett County Artist Studio tour. The tour will take place Saturday and Sunday, June 28 and 29.

Artists around the county will open their studios to demonstrate their artistic processes and to sell their work. A map of studio locations and descriptions of artwork will be available in May. The public will be invited to take the tour.

Artists who have already committed to the project include painters, photographers, jewelers, printmakers, wood workers, potters, and others. Artists who have not registered but wish to participate may learn more by calling Julie Turrentine at 301-387-4624 or the Gallery on Alder Street at 301-334-6580.

Participating and prospective artists are also invited to attend an informational session and planning meetmg on Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 10 a.m. at the Visitor Center in McHenry. The meeting agenda will include registration as well as a discussion about publicity for the event.

Marching Band Week Taking Place Feb. 18-22

Marching Band Week, sponsored by the Southern Band Boosters, will take place throughout Garrett County from Feb. 18 to 22. The purpose of the week is to promote recruitment in the marching bands at both Southern and Northern high schools. The week was officially proclaimed by the Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday.

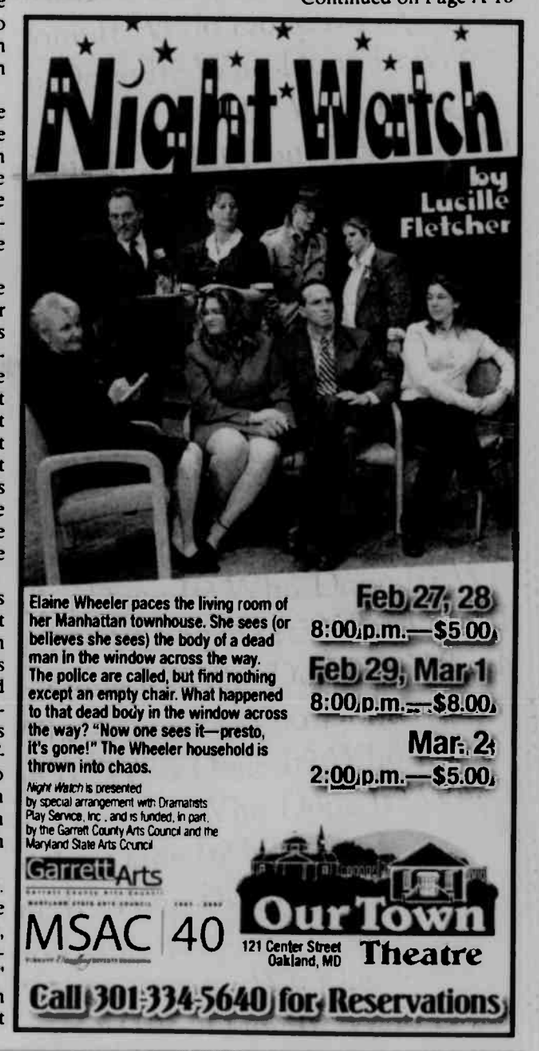
"Both the Southern and Northern marching bands have represented Garrett County with excellence and distinction for decades," a band booster spokesperson said. "The number of members has dwindled over the past, so we are hoping to boost enrollment through this week of information and encouragement."

The boosters will provide information throughout the week to middle and high school students about the experience of being in the marching band, what is required of students, the time involved, and the benefits.

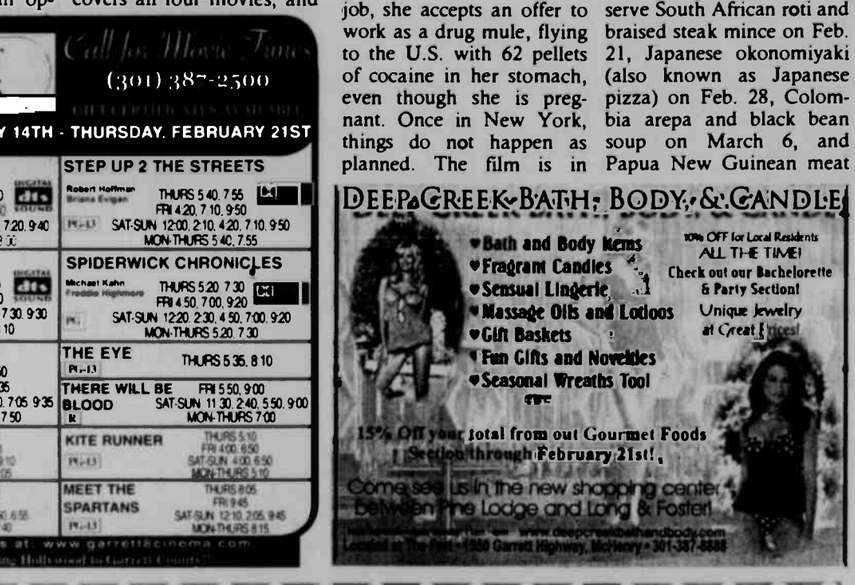
"We're not trying to take students away from other programs, such as sports teams or other extracurricular activities," the spokesperson said. "But we'd really like to recruit those students who are not involved in anything right now. Being in the band has more benefits and positive results than many people realize. And the benefits are lifelong."

Booster representatives met with the Garrett County Board of Education in January to discuss Marching Band Week, and the board members and Superintendent Wendell Teets were supportive of the effort. The boosters wished to dispel the misconception that a student cannot be in the honors program and in marching band.

"This is simply not true. Several band members are honors students, and in fact, most band members consistently make the honor roll," the booster spokesperson said. "If we can dispel that myth, we will accomplish a lot."



The Northern Garrett Marching Band is under the direction of Duane Salisbury. The group was unable to compete on the field during the past fall marching season because of low membership. But Salisbury said he feels confident that Northern will be back on the field next fall.



Southern's longtime director, Richard Clever, has announced he will be retiring at the end of the year, having served since 1966. The education board, the LOCAL ROCK BAND BRAESIDE, formerly known as Fading Doubt, will perform in the Garrett College auditorium as part of the group's CD release tour on Wednesday, Feb. 20. The show starts at 7 p.m., and the doors open at 6:30 p.m. Other bands scheduled to perform are StorySide B and Redefined in Red. BraeSide will begin its third national tour in the past year, visiting more than 20 cities in the next month. The group's musical style has been compared to Third Eye Blind, Lifehouse, and Jimmy Eat World. In addition to becoming a national touring act, BraeSide will take part in the Third Eye Blind tribute album, due out this spring on Victory Records. For more information about the GC concert, persons may call Jason at 301-616-7001.

Stopping By Woods

Neil T. Krebs

KREBS CUTS INSTRUMENTAL CD – A CD of instrumental music has been compiated by local musician Neil Krebs. Stopping By Woods is tha title of the compilation, which covers several ganres, from baroque to classical, Celtic to contemporary. A variety of orchestrations are used, all done on the Roland keyboard at St. Peter's Catholic Church, where Kreba is tha director of music. "'Roland' dragged me kicking and screaming into the 21at century," Krebs said. He is the band and chorus director/teacher at Southern Middle School. The CDs may be purchased at St. Peter's gift shop, and downloads may be purchased online at CDBaby.com, among other internet sites. MARCHING BAND WEEK PROCLAIMED – The Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday proclaimd Feb. 18 to 22 as Marching Band Week in Garrett County. The purpose of the celebration, sponsored and organized by the Southern Band Boosters, is to foster interest and recruit new members to the marching bands at both Southern and Northern high schools. The marching band programs have dwindled in membership over the past few years, a result of a variety of factors, and the boosters are working all next week to inform and cultivate interest in the program with the hope of revitalization. The commissioners were shown a DVD of the Southern band's award-winning performance at the 2007 Chapter 13 Championships, at which Southern won first place in its division. Members of the band attended the Tuesday morning proclamation, and are pictured in the front row. The document states in part that whereas the Southern and Northern bands "have represented Garret County brilliantly for decades by working hard to learn and present stunning, rousing field shows," whereas the "positive experience of marching bands should be afforded to all teenagers willing to join," that studies prove students in quality music education programs consistantly outperform their non-music peers in academics, and because the "positive results of being in a marching band are far-reaching and immeasurable," the commissioners encourage local teenagers and their parents to consider becoming part of either high school's marching band, and proclaim Feb. 18 to 22 as Marching Band Week. The commissioners are pictured seated, and are, from the left, Ernie Gregg, Denny Glotfelty, and Fred Holliday. See related story. Photo by John McEwen.

administration of the high school, and the band boosters have all expressed the assurance that the marching band will continue as a competitive group under new leadership next season.

"We hope there are some kids out there who will consider joining the band next season," the booster spokesperson said. "They won't regret that important decision."

People who would like more information about the Southern marching band may contact Richard Stevens, president of the Southern Band Boosters, at 301-334-1711, or Mary McEwen, recruitment, at 301-334-1679.

Persons wishing for information about the Northern Garrett Marching Band may call Northern High School at 301-746-8668 to speak with Salisbury.

"Color My World" Exhibit Now On Display At Gallery

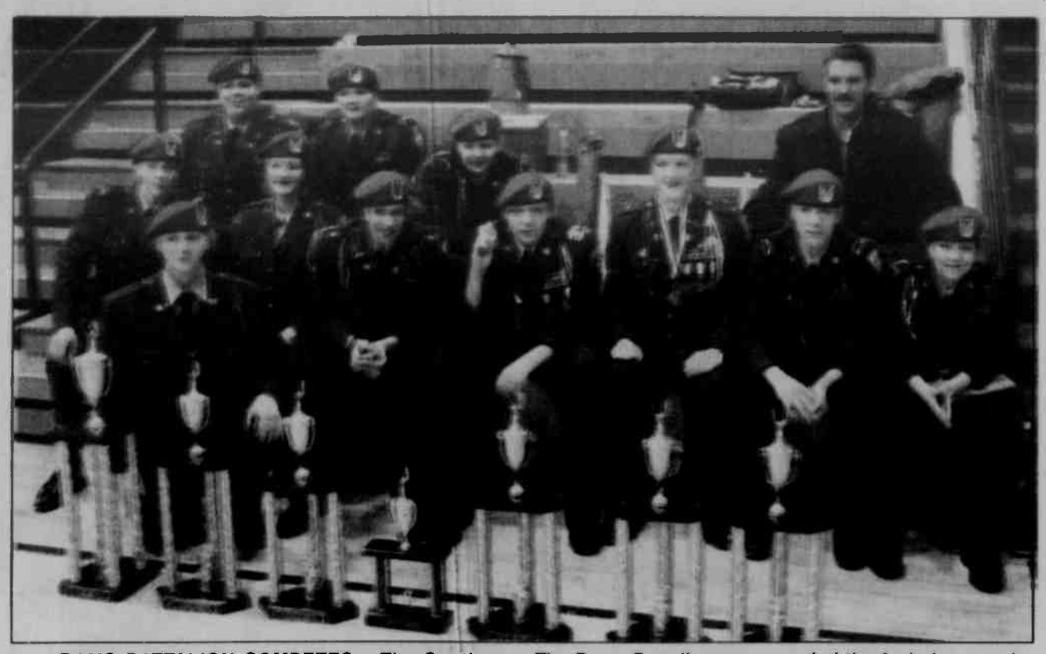
"Color My World" is the title of a new exhibit of artwork by elementary school children currently on display at the Gallery of the Garrett County Arts Council in Oakland. The public is invited to a reception for participating young artists at the Gallery on Saturday, Feb. 23, from 1 to 3 p.m.

"This exhibit is a bright, bold celebration of color, design, and playful creativity," said Steve Schlosnagle, executive director of the arts council. "It's a sweet remedy for gray winter days."

"Color My World" consists of 50 imaginative works of art created by students attending six Garrett County elementary schools: Accident, Broad Ford, Dennett Road, Friendsville, Grantsville, and Route 40. Local teachers contributing work to the exhibit are Diane Bateman, Melinda Bishoff, Carolyn Collen-DuBose, and Bonnie Frederick.

"Color My World" will be on display through March 1. Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Additional information about the children's exhibit and the Feb. 23 reception is available by calling the arts council at 301-334-6580.



"COLOR MY WORLD" is the title of an exhibit now on display at the Gallery of the Garrett County Arts Council. The exhibit features 50 imaginative works of art created by students attending six Garrett County elementary schools. The "profile" above was made by Laura Haynes, a second-grader at Rt. 40 Elementary School. At right is a piece created by Colton Peck, who is in the fifth grade at Broad Ford Elementary. Shown below are several construction paper weaves made by fifth graders at Dennett Road Elementary. The display will be up through March 1, and a reception for the contributing artists will be held at the Gallary on Saturday, Feb. 23, from 1 to 3 p.m. See story.

RAMS BATTALION COMPETES – The Southern Garrett High School JROTC Rams Battalion recently competed against seven other JROTC high school programs from Pennsylvania and West Virginia at the Preston High School JROTC Drill Invitational Competition. Preston High hosted the event, with Lincoln County, Albert Gallation, Petersburg, Nicholas County, Pike County, and Southern Garrett high schools as the other schools in attendance. The Rams Battalion Cadets participated in five different drill team events and two individual events. After the score sheets were tallied the Rams Battalion cadets were rewarded for their precision and teamwork with the following team trophies: Matthew Jordan, 1st place for armed squad drill team; Matthew Broadwater, 2nd place for armed platoon drill team; Jesse Paugh. 2nd place for unarmed squad drill team and 2nd place for unarmed platoon drill team; and Tommy Wilson, 2nd place for color guard team. The Rams Battalion was awarded the 2nd place trophy for the Best Overall JROTC Drill Unit that day out of all the teams that competed. During the two separate individual drill events, several Ram cadets scored well in the top 10% out of approximately 200 cadets participating; most notably was Tommy Wilson, who won the 3rd place trophy in the individual armed knockout event. Five of the cadets were presented a Command Sergeant Major Coin by CSM Riggs for excellence in leadership. The cadets awarded coins were Jesse Paugh (two coins), Matt Jordan, Tommy Wilson, and Matthew Broadwater. CSM Riggs is the command sergeant major for the 99th PSC located at Oakdale, Pa. Smiling for the camera are the winning cadets from Southern. In the front is Cadet Wilhelm. Second row, from left: Cadets McCroble, Jordan, Compton, Wilson, Jordan, Paugh, and Oliver. Third row: Cadets Broadwater and Miller, and SFC Mike Kulcsar, the SHS AI.

SUV Overturns, Renders Female Passenger Injured

A Grantsville woman was injured in a motor vehicle accident last Thursday morning when the SUV she was riding in flipped over.

Don McFetridge, 65, Grantsville, was operating a 2000 Chevrolet Tahoe southbound on Route 219 south of Sand Flat Road at 7:09 a.m. when he lost control of the vehicle on the icy roadway, according to Maryland State Police reports.

The Tahoe crossed into the northbound lane and struck a culvert before rolling onto the passenger side, injuring Betty Byron, 61.

Byron was transported by Northern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she was treated for unknown injuries.

This accident was one of four that happened within a half-hour of each other last Thursday morning. High winds and black ice were said to have caught many drivers off-guard.

Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and State Highway Administration also responded to the mishap.

THE CHRISTMAS TRIM-A-TREE PROJECT RAKED IN FUNDS for Club 21550 Community Planning Group to present to Brian Boal and Crystal Roberson-Boal for Landon's Library. From left are Linda Lewis, Kendra Todd, Boal, Roberson-Boal, Janet Mosser, Gail Dever, and Clarissa Harris. Not only was the club able to donate a total of $557 to the organization, but a Christmas tree, donated by Jay Rice, was displayed in the town gazebo for the entirety of the holiday season. "When people found out that the proceeds from our project were going to Landon's Library, the donations started rolling in faster than we could keep up with," stated group member Mosser. The ribbon used for the project was donated by the Garrett County Historical Society, and the bows were made by Mary Lou Stemple of the Party House. Those seeking more information about Club 21550 should call Todd or Dever at 301-334-7730. Those seeking more information on Landon's Library should call 301-334-2560.

This class is an offering of the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division of Garrett College.

Red Cross Notes Appreciation For Fundraiser Help

As another season of Mountain Reflections is completed, the Western Potomac Chapter of the American Red Cross (Allegany, Garrett, and Mineral counties) is extending appreciation for the amount of assistance and support they received from volunteers and from numerous local work release programs this year.

The fundraiser is a themed lighting display at Rocky Gap State Park.

Chapter officials extended thanks to the hundreds of volunteers who made this year's event a success.

"We first of all want to thank the volunteers who staffed the ticket booth every night for 51 consecutive nights," said Bill Crawford, executive director of the local agency. "We also want to thank the dozens of board members, staff members, and leadership volunteers who worked so tirelessly behind the scenes to make this fundraiser work."

The officials are also recognizing the work put forth by several teams of workers from area youth centers and the federal prison.

"Without the help and endless effort of these groups, we would have never been able to have our set-up and tear-down completed as smoothly as it was," said Wendy Durst of the American Red Cross. "There were teams from Green Ridge Youth Center, Meadow Mountain Youth Center, Savage Mountain Youth Center, and the work release program from FCI in the park almost constantly from October through last week when the tear down was completed and the trailers were put away for the summer."

This year, the majority of the physical labor and hours of effort involved in preparing the show for opening, keeping it running, and tearing it back down for storage were completed by the work teams, with an added commitment from ABATE (American Bikers Aimed Toward Education) of Western Maryland.

The young men of the youth centers were given the opportunity to work on the project from beginning to end. Durst noted that they were able to appreciate the amount of hard work it took to make the show successful when it was completed. Several of the same teams involved in set-up returned for tear-down of the show and were able to go through it quickly because of having the experience of set-up.

"The positive experience of the teamwork, following directions, and sincere appreciations were the only payment these kids received, but we didn't hear a complaint out of them," said Troy Streiby, board member for the American Red Cross. "They worked right beside us and kept up every step of the way. We couldn't have done it without them, and we hope to work closely with them again next year on this project, among others."

SNACKING AND TOOTH DECAY
by Cynthia A. Heselbach, RDH
Garrett County Health Department

Many parents across the country will issue a common refrain at dinnertime tonight: "You'd better eat that – it's good for you!" There's another old favorite in the parental arsenal of dietary admonitions: "Don't eat that – it'll rot your teeth!"

Now more than ever, kids are faced with a bewildering array of food choices – from fresh produce to sugar-laden processed convenience meals and snack foods. What children eat and when they eat it may affect not only their general health, but also their oral health.

Americans are consuming foods and drinks high in sugar and starches more often and in larger portions than ever before. It's clear that "junk" foods and drinks gradually have replaced nutritious beverages and foods for many people. For example, the average teenage boy in the U.S. consumes 81 gallons of soft drinks each year!

Alarmingly, a steady diet of sugary foods and drinks can ruin teeth, especially among those who snack throughout the day. Common activities may contribute to the tendency toward tooth decay. These include "grazing" habitually on foods with minimal nutritional value, and frequently sipping on sugary drinks.

When sugar is consumed over and over again in large, often hidden amounts, the harmful effect on teeth can be dramatic. Sugar on teeth provides food for bacteria, which produce acid. The acid in turn can eat away the enamel on teeth.

Almost all foods have some type of sugar that cannot and should not be eliminated from our diets. Many of these foods contain important nutrients and add enjoyment to eating. But there is risk for tooth decay from a diet high in sugars and starches. Starches can be found in everything from bread to pretzels to salad dressing. Be sure to read labels and plan carefully for a balanced, nutritious diet for you and your kids.

Tips for reducing your children's risk of tooth decay:

•Sugary foods and drinks should be consumed with meals. Saliva production increases during meals and helps neutralize acid production and rinse food particles from the mouth.

•Limit between-meal snacks. If kids crave a snack, offer them nutritious foods.

•If your kids chew gum, make it sugarless – chewing sugarless gum after eating can increase saliva flows and help wash out food and decay-producing acid.

•Monitor beverage consumption. Instead of soft drinks all day, children should choose water and low-fat milk.

•Help your children develop good brushing and flossing habits.

Maryland Fire Deaths Increase
55% During '07

Maryland State Fire Marshal William E. Barnard reported that 93 Marylanders died in 66 fatal fires during 2007. Those fire deaths represent a dramatic 55 percent jump from the 60 fire deaths that resulted from 56 fatal fires in 2006, and a significant 27 percent rise over the 73 deaths in 64 fires reported in 2005.

The majority (59) of the fire deaths occurred during the first half of 2007, with 23 persons dying in just six fires. Once again, smoking-related fires resulted in more fire deaths than any other cause, accounting for 37 percent of the deaths where the cause of the fire was determined.

Over 90 percent of all fatal fires in Maryland in 2007 occurred in residential structures.

"Marylanders are most likely to die from fire in the place they hope to feel most safe – their homes," Barnard said.

Last year, steps were taken to reduce the number of fire fatalities when Governor Martin O'Malley signed House Bill 785, the "Cigarette Fire Safety Performance Standard and Firefighter Protection Act," into law on May 17, 2007. This law, which will go into effect July 1, 2008, mandates that all cigarettes sold in Maryland meet specific fire-safety, reduced-ignition standards.

"A review of fire death data indicates that our citizens must become more personally involved in fire safety," Barnard said. "Far too many times, fire investigators find that smoke alarms are either not present or did not operate. Every Marylander should exercise personal responsibility for themselves and their families, and ensure that they have smoke alarms in their home and that they are working."

Persons building a new home are urged by Barnard to consider installing residential fire sprinklers. When used in combination, fire sprinkler systems, working smoke alarms, and home fire escape plans, citizens are better able to protect themselves from the perils of uncontrolled fire, he said.

"Even the best equipped, trained and staffed fire department is no substitute for this life-saving combination of safe practices," he said.

Grant Writing Course Slated In Grantsville

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development division has scheduled a course titled "Introduction To Grant Writing," which will be held on Wednesdays, March 12 and 19, from 6 p.m. until 9:15 p.m. at the Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville.

"Writing a grant for the first time can be a frustrating and overwhelming experience," said a spokesperson for the division. Using common grant development formats, the course will provide step-by-step instructions for the development of a grant proposal, with emphasis on the following steps: completing the application, writing the grant, developing the budget, and submitting the final copy.

The course will be instructed by Loring Young, who is active in community development programs such as homeownership, rehab, IDA, Section 8 Voucher Choice, weatherization, economic literacy, LMI rental housing, work force housing, and micro-business plans. He has also prepared numerous grants to federal, state, private, and special programs. These such grants have raised funds for housing, AMD reclamation, bridge construction, flood mitigation, rehab projects, and start-up business programs.

In addition to the above mentioned courses, the following courses will be available in April: watercolor painting, "Finding Your Way With GPS," conversational German, forklift training, a hands-on grant writing workshop, medical coding specialist I, "The Internet and Web Literacy," and "A Guided Tour Of Microsoft Windows Vista."

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or via e-mail at tbeachy@garrettcollege.edu. To register for courses, persons may call Kista Wilt, Continuing Education and Workforce Development, at 301-387-3069 or e-mail her at kwilt@garrettcollege.edu.

December Bird Count Results Are Announced

Results of the 2007 Garrett County Christmas Bird Count (CBC) for the National Audubon Society, held Dec. 15, were announced this week by count compiler Connie Skipper. Seventeen field observers participated in this year's event.

"The big news is that we had a species count of 77, which is one less than our highest total of 78. That was in 1973," Skipper said. "Adding the five species seen during Count Week, we surpassed that total."

Count Week included the three days before and after Dec. 15, but only those birds observed on Dec. 15 were included in the count totals, she noted.

During the 2006 CBC, 71 species were observed. The local event is held annually in December in a 15-mile diameter circle, the center point located at the intersection of Mayhew Inn Road and Lake Shore Drive.

Skipper said the large number of species in the 2007 CBC was mainly because of the diversity of waterfowl. There were high counts for 11 species: Canada goose, northern pintail, redhead, lesser scaup, hooded merganser, red-breasted merganser, common loon, horned grebe, ring-billed gulls, and common ravens. Skipper noted that 10 bald eagles were also spotted, up from the previous high of two.

Other unusual sightings were the white-winged scoter, red-throated loon, red-necked grebe, northern shrike, common redpoll, and turkey vulture, which was the first ever to be seen during the local CBC.

"Everyone is important on a bird count," noted Skipper. "Many times new birders apologize thinking they've not found anything special. Nearly always they find a bird the rest of us miss."

For example, Jessica and Kyle Klotz found the only common redpoll and great blue heron on Dec. 15. Caroline and Neal Blizzard and Becky Wilson tallied the only ruffed grouse and purple finch of the day.

Significant observations from other parties included Courtney Englar, who spotted the lone northern harrier hawk and belted kingfisher. Kevin Dodge, Aaron Holochwost, and Andrew Frazee spent numerous hours counting waterfowl, totaling 692 individuals. They also spotted four different bald eagles.

Barbara and George Gaffney located the lone horned lark, and Skipper saw the only snow goose.

Fran and Bill Pope came up with the only canvasback, redhead, long-tailed duck, red-throated loon, turkey vulture, fox sparrow, and brown-headed cowbird.

Mikey Lutmerding and Jo Anna Leachman spotted such species as the red-necked grebe, greater scaup, surf scoter, red-shouldered hawk, eastern screech owl, American robin, swamp sparrow, and evening grosbeak.

Several bird feeder watchers also participated in the count.

"Land birds, such as black-capped chickadees, American goldfinches, and northern cardinals were pretty hard to locate," Skipper noted about the feeder counts. "Bill Meagher said his children watched their feeders for their first bird count, but only two birds showed up, and they felt it wasn't worthwhile turning in the results. Most of the feeder watchers were disappointed with their sightings."

The Garrett County data and hundreds of other Christmas bird counts are available online at audubon.org/bird/cbc.

TRYING OUT THE NEW EQUIPMENT – Employees at First United Bank and Trust have been given a new fitness room at their worksite as a result of the company's ongoing wellness efforts. In partnership with the Garrett County Health Department, First United made numerous nutritional and physical activity opportunities available to its employees over the last year, with fitness rooms being the most recent. Trying out the new equipment are, left to right, George Evans, HR administration manager; Linda Lewis, Community Outreach worker with GCHD; Hailey Kelley, First United Insurance associate; Amy Ritchie, dietitian at GCHD; and Margo Butler, customer service officer.

Local Student Graduates From Virginia Tech

Michael Guard, a 2003 alumnus of Northern High School, was among those honored at Virginia Tech's fall commencement ceremony held Dec. 14, 2007, in Cassell Coliseum in Blacksburg, Va.

Approximately 2,500 bachelor's and master's degree, and Ph.D. candidates, along with their families and friends, attended the on-campus ceremony presided by Virginia Tech president Charles W. Steger.

Guard, a resident of Friendsville, received a bachelor of science degree in dairy science from the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

He has also been named to the fall 2007 semester dean's list at Virginia Tech. To qualify for the honor, students must attempt at least 12 credit hours and earn at least a 3.4 grade point average during the semester.

First Aid, CPR Class Scheduled At Garrett Coll.

A two-session class, "Heartsaver First Aid with CPR," will be held Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 25 and 26, from 6 until 10:15 p.m. at Garrett College. This is an American Heart Association video-based course and includes peer and manikin practice and case discussions.

Although the course information can be used in any setting, it is designed specifically for emergencies in the workplace, according to a college spokesperson.

Upon successful completion of the course, the American Heart Association will issue two-year first aid/CPR cards to the students.

For more information or to register, persons may call Kista Wilt at 301-387-3069 or kwilt@garrettcollege.edu.

Kidney Foundation Appoints Director For Western Md.

The National Kidney Foundation of Maryland has appointed Carolyn Smith-Kennedy as director of western Maryland services and the West Virginia panhandle. Kennedy recently relocated from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where she managed Delmarva services for the NKF, to Berkeley Springs, W.Va.

In her new position, Kennedy will be the spokesperson for the NKF in Allegany, Garrett, Frederick, and Washington counties in Maryland and Hampshire, Morgan, Berkeley, Mineral, and Jefferson counties in West Virginia.

The National Kidney Foundation of Maryland is dedicated to preventing kidney and urinary tract diseases, improving the health and well-being of individuals and families affected by these diseases, and increasing the availability of all organs for transplantation.

The National Kidney Foundation of Maryland is a nonprofit, voluntary health organization that was established in 1955 by Harriet G. Guild, a well-known Baltimore physician. Originally known as the Maryland Nephrosis Foundation, the organization became one of the original affiliates of the National Kidney Foundation in 1964.

With 51 affiliates nationwide, NKF is the major voluntary health organization in the nation dedicated to easing the impact of kidney and urinary tract diseases on society. Founded in 1950, the national organization is headquartered in New York City and has satellite offices in Kansas City, Mo., and Washington, D.C.

Programs and services provided by the NKF include free health screenings for groups, patient emergency assistance, free medical ID jewelry for kidney and transplant patients, educational materials, and funding for kidney disease research.

For questions about kidney disease and information about the programs, services and fundraising events of the National Kidney Foundation of Maryland, persons can contact Kennedy at 1-410-533-3075 or at caro lynkennedy9@aol.com.

Support Group To Learn About Respite Services

The Alzheimer's Association, Greater Maryland Chapter Western Maryland Region, will hold an evening family/caregiver support group meeting on Monday, Feb. 25, from 5 until 7 p.m. at the Garrett County Health Department, 1025 Memorial Drive, Oakland.

The featured speakers will be Leonard Terry, Area Agency on Aging, and Tamara Canfield, Garrett County Department of Social Services. They will address the availability of respite services in the county.

The support group meets the last Monday of the month, September through November and January through June. Meetings are free of charge and open to the public.

In case of inclement weather persons are advised listen to radio stations WKHJ or WFRB for cancellations.

KITZMILLER

BOOK SIGNING

Local resident Margaret Michaels, mail carrier for the Kitzmiller Post Office, will hold a book signing at the Company Store in Kitzmiller on Saturday, Feb. 16, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Her first published book is titled Time After Time. The story takes place in 1942 and parallels the lives of two families, one from the World War II era and the other from the Civil War era, and an old plantation house that intertwines the two.

Accompanying Michaels at the signing will be Judith Whitacre, who painted the cover illustration.

BIRTHDAYS

Among Kitzmiller residents celebrating birthdays this week are: Jim Dropplemman, Doug Tasker, Flossie Conley, Bailey DeWitt, Chad Lucas, Seth Stonebraker, Ashley Davis, Steve Davis, Jeremy Rhine, Bryson DeWitt, Quing Hua Phillips, Kathy Savage, and Franklin DeWitt.

NOTICE
GARRETT COUNTY TAXPAYERS!

According to the laws governing my office (Section 14-808/Tax Property), the Tax Collector must advertise and sell properties for delinquent County, State, Town and/or taxes due to other taxing agencies.

Delinquent notices were mailed Feb. 1, 2008. We have included all taxes on the property as required by law. However, only delinquent taxes (2006-2007 and prior years) must be paid to avoid a tax sale on the property. Also, personal property taxes for 2003-2004 and prior years are delinquent and become a lien on the real estate (Section 14-808). (If you are involved in a bankruptcy proceeding, please contact our office as soon as possible). TAX BILLS MAILED JULY 2007 ARE NOT DELINQUENT!

According to legislation (Annotated Code 14-809), the county collector shall proceed to advertise and sell any real property located in any municipal corporation in the county on which municipal corporation taxes are delinquent. Unpaid amounts for municipalities or other taxing agencies were shown at the bottom of the notices. After March 3, all delinquent town taxes must be paid at the County Tax Office in order to guarantee collection of additional costs.

Property taxes may be paid at the Tax Office with Discover Card Only. Also, we accept payments by credit card on-line. To pay by credit card, call 1-800-2PAY-TAX or visit www.officialpayments.com (Use Jurisdiction Code 3014). There is a nominal fee charged for this service. Cards that can be used are: VISA, MASTERCARD, DISCOVER and AMERICAN EXPRESS.

The annual tax sale will be held on May 9, 2008. Additional fees for attorney costs will be assessed after March 3, 2008. Please contact our office for the correct figures. After approximately April 7, 2008, additional fees for advertising will be included in the total amounts due.

If you should have questions or if we can be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call anytime between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Local Student Nominated For HOBY Program

Southern High School's Jacqueline Fries has been chosen to accompany nearly 190 sophomore student leaders representing all Maryland counties to the 30th annual Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Maryland Leadership Seminar at Mount St. Mary's University in Emmitsburg from May 23 to 25. This 3-day seminar brings together a select group of students, also called HOBY ambassadors, to interact with distinguished leaders in the business, governmental, and educational arenas to discuss relevant present and future issues.

The event is organized solely by volunteers, three quarters of whom are HOBY alumni who offer leadership training, one-on-one mentoring, and financial sponsorship.

ACCIDENT ELEMENTARY KICKS OFF CHARACTER TRAIT CELEBRATION – December was the kickoff for Accident Elementary School's Character Celebration event. The event will be held at the end of every month to recognize those students who display that month's character trait. Also at that time, the following month's character trait will be announced. Children's names (one per grade level) are drawn to receive a gift certificate. A grand prize winner is then drawn out of the entire student body. Finally, a teacher's name is drawn for participating, by giving S.T.A.R. slips to students to recognize their good character. The character traits for January were equality and fairness, and for February, honesty. The winners for last month are pictured above. In the front row, from left, are Autumn Hackett, Kaleb Dauberger, Sarah Smith, Tyler Schlossnagle, and Hunter Bowser. Second row: Lindsey Shields, Samantha Hensley, Larissa Savage, Audrey Harris, Caiyb King (grand prize winner), and Reba Hensley. Third row: Anita Maust, Brody Monahan, Ashley Murphy, Emily Clinton, and Miranda Neals. Back row: Sharon Caple, winner of the teacher's award, and Amy Grimm, school counselor/coordinator. Below is Keith Stahl, grand prize winner for December and principal Karen DeVore.

"The goal is to provide a stimulating forum for HOBY ambassadors to learn more about the American incentive system and the democratic process, while gaining a broader understanding of their leadership potential and quest for self-development," said a spokesperson for the seminar. Topics for discussion include global education, volunteerism, media literacy, entrepreneurship, world hunger, goal setting, and leadership and motivation.

Following the seminar, HOBY ambassadors are encouraged to return to their respective home towns and participate in community service projects where they are to perform at least 100 hours of community service within the year.

Sophomore students are nominated to the program by their high school principals or advisors.

"These students must be seen as leaders within their high schools and in their communities," said the spokesperson. "Only one student per school is nominated, so it is quite an honor to become a HOBY ambassador."

HOBY was established by veteran actor Hugh O'Brian following a visit to Africa, where he was inspired by a meeting with Dr. Albert Schweitzer in 1958.

"One of the things Schweitzer said to me was the most important thing in education was to teach young people to think for themselves," O'Brian quoted. "From that inspiration, and with the support of others who believe in youth and the American dream, I started HOBY to seek out, recognize, and develop outstanding leadership and potential among our nation's youth."

Further information about HOBY activities and sponsorship opportunities is available at the Maryland HOBY web site www.hobymd.org or by calling the International Office of Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership at 310-474-4370.

Outreach Center To Host Classes

The Continuing Education and Workforce Development division of Garrett College has scheduled two hands-on computer classes at the Northern Outreach Center in March. The courses scheduled are titled "Computer Skills II," and "Managing and Maintaining Your Computer."

Computer Skills II will be held from on March 4, 6, and 11 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. This course is designed for individuals who wish to obtain additional skills and knowledge of basic computer operations. Topics to be covered include Windows operations, files folders, accessing the Internet, web pages, and e-mail.

Managing and Maintaining Your Computer is set for March 25 and 27 from 6 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. This 5-hour course is designed to teach the fundamentals of maintaining the personal computer. Topics to be covered include the following: system maintenance, trouble shooting, managing files and folders, dealing with common error messages, and cleaning the computer inside and out. Students will learn tips and tricks to improve performance and how to stay up-to-date with their computers.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or via e-mail at tbeachy@garrettcollege.edu. To register for courses, persons may call Kitty Will, Continuing Education and Workforce Development, at 301-387-3069 or e-mail her at kwilt@garrettcollege.edu.

Class B CDL Course Slated In Grantsville

The Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute, a division of Garrett College, has scheduled a Class B commercial driver's license (CDL) course for March 10-28, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Training will be held at the institute, located in Grantsville.

A Class B license allows drivers to operate any single vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds, with any such vehicle towing a vehicle not in excess of 10,000 pounds.

To qualify for the training, an individual must have a valid, full driver's license; be at least 18 years of age in order to obtain a learner's permit for CDL intrastate license; and be at least 21 years of age for an interstate license.

To register for the course, the student must already possess the following paperwork: a current Maryland Department of Transportation physical that cannot expire during the training period; a drug screen fewer than 60 days old; and a Class B CDL learner's permit.

The course will cover the essentials to obtain a license, including the following: pre-trip inspections, various skills in the yard, and over-the-road instruction, along with a basic overview of map reading and log books.

Students will drive a dump truck and will have practice time with a 10-speed transmission using Class A tractors.

At the completion of training, the student will demonstrate at his or her local Motor Vehicle Administration office to obtain a Class B license.

For further information, persons may contact Terry Beachy at 301-895-4700 or at tbeachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Will O' The Wisp Joins Relay For Life "Dine Out" Program

Will O' the Wisp has joined the Relay For Life "Dine Out" Program, by agreeing to donate a portions of its sales to the Garrett County fundraiser. The restaurant will donate 10% of its sales from two consecutive Tuesdays, Feb. 19 and Feb. 26.

The theme for the 2008 relay is "United as One Community Against Cancer." This year's event will be held on June 13 and 14.

Those seeking additional information may contact Linda Murr, chair, at 301-387-8027 or Rick Layton, co-chair, at 301-533-0133. Persons may also visit the web site at www.events.cancer.org/rflgarrett.

Good golly, Molly! Is a baby really on board?

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: Is Molly Sims really pregnant, or is it just her "Las Vegas" character who's expecting? –J.P. Smith, Greenwood Village, Colo.

A: It's only for the cameras, and only for her NBC show's alter ego, Delinda. The actress and model isn't "with child" in real life – at least, she wasn't at this writing.

Q: What are the actors who played Mulder and Scully on "The X-Files" currently doing? –Stace Webb, Wenatchee, Wash.

A: They're actually making another theatrical movie based on the long-running Fox show. David Duchovny and Gillian Anderson will be together again when the film hits screens in July. Series creator Chris Carter is back as director and co-writer; Amanda Peet and music's Xzibit also have been cast, reportedly as fellow FBI agents. Duchovny also is gearing up for a second season of his Showtime series "Californication," and Anderson is one of the hosts of PBS' newly revised "Masterpiece" franchise.

Q: I'm a big "24" fan, and I would like to know when the seventh season will start. Does it depend entirely on the writers strike? –Dwight Esau, Huntley, Ill.

A: Pretty much, though at the point we're writing this, it's anyone's guess when the next year of the Fox suspense series will begin. Only about a third of the season's episodes had been finished at the point the strike began in November, and it soon became clear Fox wouldn't be able to maintain a production schedule guaranteeing that the show's well-known format could be upheld for year seven.

Molly Sims

Unless the strike is resolved soon – and even then, unless Fox decides to extend the television year beyond its usual May conclusion so all 24 episodes could air – it's very likely viewers will be without new exploits of Jack Bauer (Kiefer Sutherland) this season.

Q: I got hooked on the series "Dead Like Me" and purchased the first two seasons on DVD. Can you tell me if there will be another season, and what can you tell me about the actress who plays Georgia? –Donna Raymond, Largo, Fla.

A: Created by Bryan Fuller, also the talent behind "Wonderfalls" and ABC's current "Pushing Daisies," the show completed its two-season Showtime run in 2004. However, there's some good news nevertheless: A made-for-video sequel is being produced, and it's expected to be released later this year.

Send questions of general interest via e-mail to tvpipeline@tribune.com. Writers must include their names, cities and states. Personal replies cannot be sent.

SCHEDULING FOR FRESHMEN

Freshmen have started the scheduling process for the 2008-09 school year. Each student will meet with Mrs. Martin to review the four-year plan and selections for next year. The completed selection sheet must be signed by a parent/guardian and returned to the Counseling Center no later than Friday, Feb. 15.

SENIOR SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

•Forms for the Commissioners Scholarship are now available in the Counseling Center for graduating seniors who are planning on attending Garrett College. This is a one page application that must be completed in order to apply for the Commissioners Scholarship. In addition, an application form for the Howard P. Rawlings Guaranteed Access Grant is attached to the Commissioners Scholarship form because it must also be completed and submitted. Students should complete both forms as soon as possible and return them to the Counseling Center. The Guaranteed Access Grant requires a transcript, so students are reminded to include a $1 fee for the transcript.

•Garrett College Foundation Scholarship booklets are also available in the Counseling Center for interested seniors planning on attending Garrett College. These are scholarships that are independent of the Commissioners Scholarship. The deadline to apply for a GC Foundation scholarship is March 1.

CHARLIE STRAUSS EARTH DAY ESSAY CONTEST

Students in 5th, 7th, and 9th grades are eligible to enter the Charlie Strauss Earth Day Essay Contest, with the deadline for submission being Friday, April 18. Points that should be covered in the essay include: the history of Earth Day; the importance of Earth Day to the environment; and what Earth Day means to the writer. Fifth grade essays should not exceed 250 words; and 7th and 9th grade essays should not exceed 500 words. To conserve paper, both sides should be used. Student name, school name, and teacher name should be included. The entries do not have to be typed but must be legible. Entries are due at Mr. Taliaferro's office by Friday, April 18. Those seeking more information may contact the Hickory Environmental Center.

LIVE WEB STREAMING

Live broadcasts of the Husky boys' varsity basketball home games are now available to watch online. To access the broadcasts, persons can visit www.nh.ga.k12.md.us and follow the directions below.

•Click on the "Athletic" link.
•Select boys' basketball from "drop down" menu.
•Click on the link for "live streaming" for further directions.

Those with questions may use the link on the live streaming page. Broadcasts will begin at approximately 7 p.m., with tip-off at 7:30. This service will provide an opportunity for out-of-area friends and relatives to see live games from their homes.

ACTIVITY BUS

The Activity Bus is available after school every day at 6 p.m. for both Northern middle and high school students. For more information, persons may contact the main office of either building.

Home Repair Info Available On REL Web Site Database

A new home improvement database is now available on the Ruth Enlow Library web site: the Home Improvement Reference Center (HIRC).

"This EBSCO database is designed to assist the homeowner in do-it-yourself home repair, maintenance, and remodeling," said a library spokesperson. "Step-by-step instructions for thousands of projects in the areas of decorating, electrical, maintenance, outdoor, plumbing, remodeling, and woodworking are provided in high-quality PDF files."

The database also includes articles from magazines and reference books that give tips and suggestions.

To access the database, patrons can go to the library's web site at relib.net and click "Online Databases."

"If you are accessing the site from outside the library, you must enter your library card number in the "Patron ID" box (no spaces) and click the login button," said the spokesperson. "Scroll down until you see 'Home Improvement Reference Center' and select it. At the HIRC home page, select a subject to browse and then continue to choose topics from those displayed. The time required for items to display is dependent upon the speed of your Internet connection."

This database is provided by the Western Maryland Regional Library, which is the regional resource center for Allegany, Garrett, and Washington county library systems in western Maryland.

For questions, persons may call the information desk at the Oakland library at 301-334-3996, ext. 100.

Order Deadline For Daffodils Set For Feb. 20

The American Cancer Society's 2008 Daffodil Days campaign is scheduled for March 10-16; however, the last day to place an advance order is next Wednesday, Feb. 20.

This long-standing fund-raising campaign celebrates the society's mission to eliminate cancer as a life-threatening disease by offering daffodils to donors in appreciation of their contributions.

For a minimum donation of $10, persons will receive a bouquet of 10 fresh-cut blooms or a pot of mini bulbs. This year's campaign also marks the addition of Bea R. Hope, a Boyds™ Bear, designed exclusively for the society's "Bear and Bunch™" line. The bear comes with 10 fresh-cut blooms for a donation of $25. Items will be delivered March 10-16.

Dollars raised through the Daffodil Days campaign will help the ACS fund cancer research, provide up-to-date cancer information and education, advocate for public health policies that benefit the community, and provide services that improve the quality of life for patients and their families.

For more information about Daffodil Days or to place an order, persons may contact Tenna Taylor at 301-722-2145 or tennat@cancer.org.

MTN. LAKE PARK WATER SYSTEM
NOTICE OF VIOLATION
Surface Water Treatmant Technique

The Garrett County Department of Public Utilities is providing the following notice regarding the Mtn. Lake Park Water System. The springs for the water system have been evaluated for protection against surface water influence as required by the Surface Water Treatment Rule (SWTR), as adopted in the Code of Maryland, COMAR 26.04.01, Quality of Drinking Water in Maryland. The springs were determined to be under the direct influence of surface water by the Maryland Department of the Environment. As a result, this source requires additional treatment, such as filtration, or replacement with a protected water source. Federal and state regulations require that the Mtn. Lake Park Water System install filtration.

What is the Department of Public Utilities doing?

The Mtn. Lake Park Water System disinfects the drinking water that is produced from the spring. The drinking water is tested monthly for coliform bacteria and results have met state and federal standards.

The Department of Public Utilities is in the process of testing the design for a new water treatment facility

What should I do?

People with severely compromised immune systems, infants, and some elderly may be at increased risk. These individuals should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. General guidelines on ways to lessen the risk of infection by microbes are available from EPA's Safe Drinking Water Act Hotline (800-426-4791). If you have specific health concerns, consult your physician.

What does this mean?

This is not an emergency. This notification is provided to advise Mtn. Lake Park Water customers of the treatment requirements for their water system. Any questions or concerns should be directed to Allen Festerman at 301-387-0141. Please share this information with others who may find it useful.

Forty three, they number, in the march through time ... the celebrated parade of Presidents of the United States of America. Differing in physical stature and personality, possessing their own distinctive style of leadership and political agenda...each of our Presidents, however unique, has shared one common goal, to lead our country.

Each has shared in the guidance of our nation and in furthering the democratic process on which our nation was built. They gave of their ideas, their energies, and in some terrible instances their very lives.

This year on Presidents' Day, let's reflect on our history...on "God and Country"...and pray for the future of our nation as we continue to support our Commanders-in-Chief in their march through time.

Valentine's Day and the Power of Love

The history of Valentine's Day is clouded in myth and legend. There are at least three people named Valentine who are mentioned in early church documents, quite interestingly, all of whom are thought to have been martyred. One was a priest who supposedly married people despite the ban on marriage by the Emperor Claudius. (This ban on marriage was in effect because Claudius believed that single men made better soldiers.) In one of those legends about St. Valentine, we are told that Valentine refused to renounce Christ before Emperor Claudius in the year 280 AD and was thus, sentenced to death. However, before being executed, St. Valentine supposedly restored the sight and hearing of the jailer's daughter. And, some accounts even tell of St. Valentine sending a letter to the jailer's daughter signed, "From your Valentine," and this story is sometimes used to explain the custom of sending love-inspired cards on this day. Whatever the truth about St. Valentine, there is little doubt that love triumphs over all. Love of God, gave countless martyrs the faith to accept their deaths with equanimity. Love also gives people who are wronged, the power to forgive their oppressors. And love inspires all of us to simply be better people. One has to wonder if Emperor Claudius didn't actually have it backwards. Perhaps instead of banning marriage, he should have required it, because those who are fighting for someone or something they truly love, fight much harder than those who are only doing it for money or honor.

Many waters cannot quench love, neither can floods drown it. If a man offered for love all the wealth of his house, it would be utterly scorned.

Olive Leaf Extract for High Blood Pressure

The olive fruit of the olive tree, along with oil from the leaves is used as a food source and in food preparation. Traditionally, olive leaf extract has been used to treat wound infections, heart problems, malaria, and promote overall health. A group of substances called triterpenoid saponins are the main components of olive leaf extract. This group is made up of oleuropein, oleasterol, oleanolic acid, ursalic acid, and oleic acid. Olive leaf extract also contains substances called phenols, which are thought to have antibacterial, anti-inflammatory, and blood sugar lowering activity.

Currently, olive leaf extract is used mainly to treat high blood pressure. It may lower blood pressure by dilating the walls of blood vessels in the body. Olive leaf extract may be taken in capsules or ingested as a tea. As a tea, two teaspoonsful of leaves may be steeped in one cup of boiling water for twenty minutes and drunk three to four times daily. No side effects have been reported with the use of olive leaf extract. The extract should not be used by people with gallbladder problems, as it may worsen this condition.

Paw's corner

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I saw a news report last week about some Chihuahua puppies that were all born without front limbs. While the solution to their dilemma — custom-made wheelie carts — was heartwarming, I wondered how three puppies from the same litter could all have the same problem? — Tara G., Daytona Beach, Fla.

DEAR TARA: Careless breeding was the likely cause of this unfortunate event — a breeder creating too many litters of Chihuahua pups without much knowledge or research into the parents' histories. Profit — a fast buck — was purely the motive in the actions that led up to these pups being born.

It's not known how common such an event is, but careless breeding can lead to generations of pups from the same sire/dame carrying genetic deformities. This is a danger in all purebred dogs, but careful, knowledgeable practices lead to healthy dogs with few negative incidences of genetic deformity or behavioral problems.

The best way to combat this issue is to educate yourself and others about the pitfalls of buying a particular breed "just because it's popular." Keep warning others about buying puppies from the flea market, or through classified ads. Remember that "this dog comes with papers" is a meaningless sales pitch — such papers would need to be certified by the American Kennel Club, and its standards are very high.

In fact, the AKC Web site — www.akc.org — can help you take the first step in learning about good and bad breeding practices, and can guide you, or anyone you know who is thinking of getting a dog — on the best ways to select a purebred dog.

Collecting

by Larry Cox

Q. I have a very old coin, a 2-cent piece dated 1864. I understand that it might be quite valuable depending on whether it has a soft motto or a hard motto. What does this mean? — Dorothy, Council Hill, OK

A. I consulted my 2008 U.S. Coin Digest: The Complete Guide to Current Market Values, edited by David C. Harper (Krause Publications, $14.99), and discovered there was a modification of this coin during the year of its issue. The motto "In God We Trust" was changed, resulting in a small motto and a larger motto. The coin with the small motto appears to be the more valuable of the two. I recommend you contact a reputable coin dealer, since value will depend on various factors, including condition and demand.

Q. I have acquired a collection of about 35 video discs, including features that were issued by both RCA and 20th Century Fox. How much do you think they are worth, and where can I sell them? — E.L., West Chesterfield, N.H.

A. Capacitance Electronic Discs or CEDS were popular during the 1980s and were first marketed by RCA. CEDs were grooved vinyl discs that allowed consumers to watch feature films in their homes. The quality was fairly good, but the system soon was overshadowed by tape formats. Video discs quickly became yet another dinosaur of our technical age. A quick check revealed that video discs are of little interest to collectors, probably due to the fact that special equipment is required to view them. I found several hundred discs available on eBay, most selling in the $3 to $10 range.

Q. I have an unopened bottle of Wiser's Oldest Canadian Whisky, bottled sometime during the early 1940s. How can I find a collector to determine its value? — Rene, Mesquite, Nev.

A. Phil Greenwood is a Canadian collector who might be able to help you. His address is 6 Wildrose Place, Sherwood Park, Alberta T8H 1H1 Canada.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

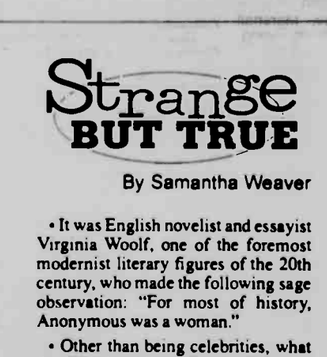
• It was English novelist and essayist Virginia Woolf, one of the foremost modernist literary figures of the 20th century, who made the following sage observation: "For most of history, Anonymous was a woman."

• Other than being celebrities, what do Woody Allen, Farrah Fawcett, Stanley Tucci, Glenn Close, Richard Attenborough and Kevin Spacey have in common? They're all pigs. In the Chinese zodiac, that is.

• At 6 feet, 4 inches tall, Abraham Lincoln is the tallest president in the history of the United States.

• In a study of 28 women, it was found that screaming has a therapeutic effect on the physiology of the body. After bouts of screaming, the test subjects showed slower heart rates, lower blood pressure and lower body temperature.

• The Netherlands is well-known for picturesque photos of windmills, dikes and, of course, the ubiquitous tulips. The flowers have been an integral part of the culture of the country for hundreds of years. In fact, in the 17th century, it was possible to purchase a house with just a few tulip bulbs. Very special tulip bulbs, I would imagine.



• The bread-slicing machine was invented by a jeweler, not an engineer.

• Psychiatrists who study such things claim that many deep thinkers share the habit of talking to themselves. You might want to mention that next time you get odd looks from strangers for muttering under your breath.

• Great Britain's Queen Elizabeth II reportedly enjoys putting together huge jigsaw puzzles.

• Scientists say that Niagara Falls will only last another 2,400 years.

• On Feb. 20, 1725, a posse of New Hampshire volunteers comes across a band of encamped Native Americans and takes 10 "scalps" in the first significant appropriation of this Native American practice. The posse received a bounty of 100 pounds per scalp from the Colonial authorities in Boston.

• On Feb. 22, 1732, George Washington is born in Westmoreland County, Va. Part of his success in the Revolutionary War was due to his shrewd use of an "ungentlemanly," but effective, tactic of "guerrilla" warfare, in which stealthy "hit-and-run" attacks foiled British armies.

• On Feb. 24, 1786, Wilhelm Karl Grimm, the younger of the two Brothers Grimm, is born in Hanau, Germany. The brothers' collection of oral folktales includes "Hansel and Gretel," "Snow White," "Little Red Riding Hood," "Sleeping Beauty," "Rapunzel" and "Rumpelstiltskin."

• On Feb. 18, 1885, Mark Twain publishes his famous — and famously controversial — novel "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." Twain (the pen name of Samuel Clemens) first introduced Huck Finn as the best friend of Tom Sawyer, hero of his novel "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" (1876).

• On Feb. 19, 1914, Pittsburgh movie theaters are required to establish a seating section for unaccompanied women. Some women attending movies alone had complained of harassment.

On Feb. 23, 1940, folk singer Woody Guthrie writes one of his best-known songs, "This Land Is Your Land." Guthrie died in 1967, having lived long enough to see the tune become a rallying song for the civil-rights movement.

• On Feb. 21, 1994, CIA operative Aldrich Ames is arrested for selling secrets to the Soviet Union. At least 10 men were killed after Ames revealed their identities, and more were sent to Russian gulags. Both Ames and his wife were later convicted. Ames was sentenced to life in prison, while his wife, as part of a plea-bargain agreement, received a five-year sentence.

SAL Donates To New Grantsville Firehouse Fund

Another Grantsville organization recently presented a $500 check to the Grantsville Firehouse Committee for the new GVFD firehouse. Frank Davis, commander of the Sons of the American Legion, gave the check to Renee Bittinger, committee secretary

Members of the club are either children or grandchildren of military veterans. The Grantsville SAL has about 135 members, and has the goal of helping the community. Its biggest fundraiser is a meat and cheese raffle, which is held in the spring and fall. The next one is planned for Saturday, March 22, at the Grantsville Legion starting at noon.

Previous SAL donations include money toward several Eagle Scout projects, Grantsville Days band sponsorship, flags for the Avilton Community Center, and equipment for the Northern High School football and basketball teams.

Other officers of the SAL include Jon Platter, sergeant-at-arms; Lynn Patton, adjutant; and Gary Layman, finance officer. The club meets on the first Tuesday of the month at the Grantsville Legion. They encourage other groups and businesses to support the new firehouse, and hope to be able to donate more money in the future.

Donations can be sent to Grantsville Firehouse Fund, P.O. Box 189, Grantsville, 21536, with "new firehouse fund" written in the memo section of the check.

Deer Park Woman Awarded Second Nat'l Designation

Deer Park resident Kathleen D. DeSelms was awarded the second of three possible community association management designations last Friday. She is the assistant general manager of Alpine Lake Resort and holds two directorships: human resources and motel operations.

DeSelms joined the staff of the Alpine Lake Property Owners Association, Terra Alta, W.Va., in August 2004. She achieved her first designation of CMCA (certified manager of community associations) from the Community Association Institute in March 2005.

Her most recent designation, AMS (association management specialist), was attained through continuing education and "rigorous" testing, according to an Alpine Lake spokesperson.

The top industry designation, PCAM (professional manager of community associations), remains for DeSelms to achieve. This requires submission of a case study, which she is scheduled to begin this fall.

Prior to joining the Alpine Lake association, DeSelms (formerly Daniel) completed 26 years in the food and beverage industry with restaurants in the Deep Creek Lake area. She then decided to hone her accounting skills.

This led to the beginning of a second career with the southwest Florida division of Lennar Homes. The company is the largest builder/developer of communities in the country, according to its web site.

DeSelms is a member of Deer Park United Methodist Church and actively supports several charitable organizations. Those include participating in the annual Walk For Hospice fundraiser, helping Warm the Children, and continuing to support the Maryland Special Olympics Deep Creek Dunk, in which her late husband participated.

Military Family Support Group Slates Meeting

The Military Family Support Group's next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 6:30 p.m. at Oak Park Church of the Brethren, located across from Southern High School. This voluntary organization helps families meet the challenges of military life.

"If you have family members or friends who are serving in any branch of the military, we invite you to come to this meeting," said a group spokesperson. "We involve the entire family, as well as people from the community. Families get together through the group and share many types of practical and emotional support."

For more information, persons may call Mel or Cathy Menker at 301-334-5906 or Sheila Shaffer at 301-616-6712, or visit online at supportlocalmilitary.com.

GC Forestry Board Preparing For Natural Resource Careers Conference

The Garrett County Forestry Board is already preparing for the Natural Resources Careers Conference (NRCC) that will be held at the Hickory Environmental Education Center in northern Garrett County the week of July 20–26 this summer.

Above are former students who attended the NRCC, Marie Perrin (left) and Hannah Eccard, displaying posters announcing the event. The posters are being placed in both Northern and Southern high schools, post offices, libraries, and several other business locations across the county. Forestry boards in each county across the state and in the city of Baltimore will be selected to attend the conference. The fee for the weeklong conference is $300, but that fee will be covered by sponsors.

The posters will have tear tags at the bottom of them identifying the web site that provides more information as well as an application. Applications are due as soon as possible, and no later than the end of April.

The web site also has a link to a video that was recorded last summer. Those seeking more information or an application may visit www.gcforest.sailorsite.net and click on "Natural Resources Careers Conference"; or may contact the local DNR Forest Service office at 301-334-3296.

LEGO CHAMPS PRESENT WINNING PROJECT AT BOE MEETING – Members of the state champion FIRST LEGO League (FLL) team attended the February Board of Education meeting to give their winning presentation. The team, along with many others from across Maryland, attended the tournament, which was held at the University of Maryland, Baltimore Campus (UMBC), where it managed to bring home first place for the second year in a row. This gives the team the opportunity to represent Garrett County at the FLL World Festival to be held in Atlanta, Ga. Above are the students presenting their project, which focused on the efficiency of turning manure into methane gas to heat Swan Meadow School and other possible methods of heat control in the building. From left are coach Arlen Lantz, and members Stephanie Shreve, Colin Lynch, Aaron Lantz, Sam Thomas, Emily Huxford, and Nick McGettigan,

THE ECLIPSE OF THE MOON

Q. We haven't had an eclipse of the moon in quite a while, but there is supposed to be one on February 20. Is there anything special I should look for?

A. This coming eclipse will be an easy one to see, because it occurs during the evening hours. It will be all over by midnight. The big unknown is always "will it be cloudy or clear?" – but if it is clear, it can be an excellent learning opportunity, especially if you have young children in your household.

Nowadays, every child is taught that the earth is a round sphere, which spins on its axis and orbits the sun. But that wasn't obvious a long time ago. The ancient Babylonians, Druids, and Greeks observed eclipses of the moon and kept very precise records. They figured out that the earth must be a sphere. The big breakthrough came when they realized that, as an eclipse begins (or ends), they must be seeing the shadow of the earth falling upon the moon. The curved edge of that shadow meant that the surface of the earth must be curved, and in turn that meant that the earth must be a sphere.

Today all that makes perfect sense to us, but it took quite a while for the ancient people to understand it. Nevertheless, over a thousand years before Columbus set sail, anybody with any education knew that the earth was a sphere. (Statements about people fearing that Columbus would fall off the edge are totally fanciful; a cute tale, but incorrect.)

Of course, way back in the old days, any astronomical observation was subject to soothsayers attaching some "omen" to the event, but that sort of thing was associated more with eclipses of the sun, which are much rarer than eclipses of the moon. Also, an eclipse didn't tell you which object was orbiting which. Both lunar and solar eclipses were fully compatible with the notion of the earth being the center and everything else revolving around the earth.

The really neat way to observe a lunar eclipse is to imagine yourself living in ancient times. In the absence of lights (or even torches), there was nothing to do at night except look up at the sky, and dream up stories about what you saw. (That's how the "signs of the Zodiac" came to be.) Imagine your land lit up by a full moon, so that you can see fairly well that night. Suddenly that bright light gets cut away, gradually more and more over an hour or so, until it's all gone and you're in darkness. What would you think the first time you saw this happen? It would really be frightening! Most people without understanding tend to be gullible, so they heeded the soothsayers.

Today we can look at the moon with a much better scientific understanding, and doing so takes away the scary drama of an eclipse. But there are still interesting things to watch for, which you can only see during an eclipse.

One really interesting thing that happens during "totality" is this: The moon glows a dull orange-brown (copper) color. For about an hour you'll be looking at the surface of the moon with no sunlight striking it. It's dark, but that surface has been heated by constant sunlight (for about two weeks) and therefore it is hot. It radiates in the infrared. At that time, the moon is giving off infrared heat-radiation of its own, but that is mostly invisible to our eyes. There is a little "tail" of light in the visible part of the spectrum (red and orange), and so we can make out the moon against the blackness of the night sky. As a result, the eclipsed moon appears a very dim copper color.

Because of that, NASA knew not to choose a landing site for the astronauts that had been baking in intense sunlight for two weeks. At the time of the first moon landing, the Sea of Tranquility was adequately illuminated by the sun, but not yet heated up excessively. Measuring instruments subsequently left on the moon had to be able to withstand temperatures of several hundred degrees.

Enjoy the view next Wednesday evening!

SADD TO HOLD REC NIGHTS

Kitzmiller's SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) group is sponsoring recreation nights at the fire hall for Kitzmiller youth ages 12 to 18. Two adult chaperons will be available during this time, and volunteers are needed.

Persons desiring more information may telephone Kathy Elliott at 301-334-7730 or 301-453-3587.

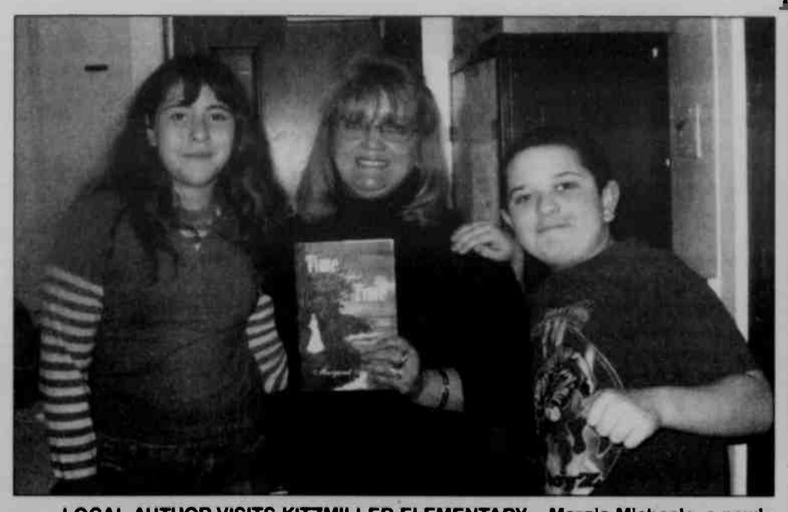
Appreciation was noted by the group to the Kitzmiller VFD for its support.

PLANNING COMMITTEE MEETS

The Kitzmiller strategic planning committee met Monday to discuss utilization of the Company Store. Allowing vendors to display and sell products on consignments was discussed, and a layout of the space was drafted with measured areas for the vendors. The plan will be presented to the mayor and town council with the committee recommendations.

The next scheduled meetmg of the committee is set for April 14 at 6:30 p.m. at the Company Store. The public is invited to attend.

EMPOWERMENT GROUP MEETS



The Kitzmiller Empowerment Group held its regular monthly meeting on Feb. 7. A report was given on the Biggest Loser Program that is sponsored by the group. This 12-week program began Feb. 5, with a total of 21 teams of three participating.

During this time, participants will track weight loss and exercise. The team losing the highest percentage of total body weight will win $300.

Also discussed was the Easter egg hunt that is scheduled for March 8 at noon at Kitzmiller Community Park. Everyone is invited to attend. There will be various age groups, from age 1 to adult. Prizes will be awarded for the most eggs and the prize egg in each age group.

A Breast Cancer Awareness Tea is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 21, at 6:30 pm. at the community building. There will be a talk on breast cancer prevention and screening. Refreshments will be available.

The next scheduled meeting of the Empowerment Group is scheduled for March 4 at 6:30 p.m. at the community building. Anyone who is interested in finding out more about the group and the activities that are sponsored is invited to attend.

LOCAL AUTHOR VISITS KITZMILLER ELEMENTARY – Margie Michaels, a newly published author from Kitzmiller, recently shared the process of writing a book with Kitzmiller Elementary School students. She explained that the process for her book, Time After Time, took her two years to meet her goal. Students were amazed to learn that they too may have the potential to become a writer, and they all asked many questions of this newly published author. Michaels will be conducting a book signing at the Kitzmiller County Store on Saturday, Feb. 16. Above, from left, are Sierra Stiles, Michaels, and Matthew Kifer. Below is Michaels sharing her story with the class.

Kerosene Stolen; Reward Being Offered By Owner

The theft of approximately 200 gallons of kerosene is being investigated by the Maryland State Police McHenry Barrack.

The theft occurred sometime between Feb. 8 and Feb. 11, and it is reported that an unknown person(s) entered a property owned by Humberson Homes, located off Route 219 in McHenry.

A cash reward is being offered by the owner for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person involved in the case.

Persons with information related to this case are asked to call Tfc. Bell at 301-387-1101 or 301-895-1101.

Man Arrested After Driving On Revoked License

A Dodge truck, driving north on Friendsville Road, was stopped by a Garrett County sheriff's deputy because the Maryland registered license plate was partially covered in mud.

It was determined that the driver, Robert Wade Tabor, 34, Friendsville, had a suspended and revoked license in the state of Maryland, and the 1996 Dodge truck he was driving had expired registration plates. Tabor was arrested and given citations for driving on a suspended license, driving on a revoked license, and displaying expired registration plates.

He was taken to the Garrett County Detention Center to await a bond hearing.

DUI, DWI Case Verdicts Heard In District Court

Only two defendants pleaded their cases in recent Garrett County District Court after receiving alcohol-related driving charges.

Mark Andrew Collins, 25, Md., entered a guilty plea to a driving while impaired (DWI) charge that was filed in October 2006, and was handed a probation before judgment, as well as one year of unsupervised probation and a $250 fine.

Collins was not prosecuted by the state's attorney on a charge of driving while under the influence (DUI) and one other traffic offense.

In an unrelated case, Charles William Hensell, 39, WVa., received stet ruling on charges of DUI, DUI per se, and one other driving violation. Hensell was arrested by Maryland State Police officers in November 2007.

CRIMINAL CASES

The following case was heard in recent Garrett County District Court:

Charles Richard Burton, 21, Oakland, pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree assault and was handed a 60-day jail sentence, all of which was suspended, as well as 18 months of supervised probation and a fine of $350. He was also ordered to pay a $763 restitution to the victim of the alleged assault.

Burton was arrested by members of the Maryland State Police McHenry Barrack in July 2007 when Burton struck a person with his vehicle while leaving a party, according to court reports. When officers attempted to initiate a traffic stop on Burton's vehicle after noticing him traveling at a high rate of speed on Mosser Road, Burton "subsequently disobeyed orders, drove by the troopers, and fled," according to a statement filed by a MSP officer.

Burton was not prosecuted by the state's attorney on a charge of first degree assault, or on two traffic violations.

PROPERTY OWNERS, HAVE YOU BEEN APPROACHED TO LEASE OR SELL YOUR GAS, OIL OR MINERAL RIGHTS?

The terms and conditions contained in the leases are drafted by Oil and Gas Leasing Companies and are drafted to protect their interests. You may be giving up important property rights by signing these agreements as presented. The sale of your gas, oil and mineral rights should be carefully considered.

Provisions in the leases are negotiable and include:
•Terms and conditions for drilling
•Location of wells, roads and pipelines
•Protection of ground water
•Storage of oil or gas
•Liability to third parties
•The amount of the lease payment

The Law Offices of Gary C. Harriger, LLC, has had experience in reviewing and negotiating the terms of leases and the sale of oil, gas and mineral rights. We work with the property owner and the leasing company to craft an agreement that protects the interests of the land owner and still permits the land owner to reap the benefits of any oil or gas wells.

Specializing in Deep Creek Lake and Garrett County!

Each office independently owned and operated

Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.

Digital Discounters

Oakland's newest business, Digital Discounters, will hold its grand opening this Saturday, Feb. 16, at 12 South Third Street, beginning at 9 a.m. Those attending the event will be entered in a drawing for a chance to win door prizes.

Digital Discounters is owned by Chris Feller and Mark Proulx of Merging Technology Inc. Their new venture will offer a variety of brand name products at discount prices, including consumer electronics, batteries, security cameras, computers, and audio and visual equipment.

"Digital Discounters will find and order hard-to-get products for customers with special electronic needs," Proulx said. "If we can get it, we will sell it at a discount price."

The business will have an onsite A-Plus certified technician to handle computer repairs, maintenance, and service, plus computer technicians that can respond to local businesses and homes for personal computer trouble shooting and repair.

Justin Spiker has been appointed manager of Digital Discounters. Spiker has worked for Merging Technology as a PC/security technician for one year. He is in the U.S. National Guard, stationed in Cumberland, and is a veteran of the war in Iraq. Spiker resides in Mtn. Lake Park with his family.

In the future, Digital Discounters plans to offer more products at prices lower than national chain stores.

"We want to be the area's low-price leader for all our customers' electronic needs," Proulx said.

Digital Discounters will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., and on Saturday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. For more information, persons may call Digital Discounters at 301-533-0077.

CNA Course Scheduled By Garrett College

A certified nursing assistant (CNA) training program will be offered by the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division of Garrett College beginning on Tuesday, March 4.

Class is scheduled to meet on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings from 6:30 until 9:45 p.m. at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The clinical component will be held at the Goodwill Mennonite Home in Grantsville in May.

"Unless covered by other regulations, any person providing patient care at the direction of a nurse must be a CNA in Maryland, and this is also the first step to becoming a geriatric nursing assistant to provide service in a long-term care facility (nursing home)," said Tom Kierstead, program director. "Garrett's CNA Training Program is approved by the Maryland Board of Nursing, and is made available through a partnership between Garrett College, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and Goodwill Mennonite Home Inc."

For additional information or to schedule the required entrance placement testing, potential students are asked to call Kierstead at 301-387-3084.

Students should plan to complete registration at the time of testing at least one week before the scheduled start date of the class, he noted.

A WIND BILL OF PARTICULARS FOR COUNTY GOVERNMENT

As the chief lobbyist for the wind industry in the state, Cas Taylor has done a terrific job. Despite knowing virtually nothing about how electricity is produced, he has been largely responsible for getting the legislature to approve "renewable portfolio standards" that obligate utilities doing business in the state to purchase a certain percentage of their power from renewable sources, knowing the overwhelming portion must come from wind turbines. Inspired by Mr. Taylor, Governor O'Malley's RPS proposal in the current legislative session stipulates that renewables must eventually provide 20% of all power produced in the state. If enacted, this could generate demand for 2,000 wind turbines in the region by 2020. Prominent state officials rarely mention their support of wind energy in Western Maryland without mentioning Taylor. As a seller of soap, he deserves a lot of credit. As a salesman for effective energy, however, he leaves a lot to be desired. Energy insiders know full well that even thousands of massive wind machines will provide reliable electricity only in Neverland, not in this world. They also know those who believe wind technology will lower their utility bills, rather than substantially raising them, are delusional.

A number of limited liability wind companies, along with Mr. Taylor, have courted the county's commissioners for the last six years. During the first three of those years, the commissioners quietly endorsed three Public Service Commission expedited reviews for wind plants located in Garrett and Allegany counties, frequently but inaccurately telling concerned phone callers these projects were "done deals." They ultimately entered into a business relationship with Clipper Wind, LLC, via an easement on Sanitary Commission public land, despite knowing what the Commission, in denying the first request for an easement with Clipper, had said a month before:

"The Commission concluded…its water source…must be protected for the long term. The purpose of acquiring so much property in the area years ago was to ensure protection for the springs and wells. The Commission does not want to do anything at this time [installing 400-foot turbines] to disturb land that it owns, which is the single source of water for its water system in Mountain Lake Park and Lock Lynn." (December 10, 2002, letter from Ron Petrella to Clipper's Kevin Rackstraw)

A month later, however, after being pressured by key officials in county government, the Sanitary Commission approved the Clipper easement. Within months, the commissioners disbanded the Commission as an independent agency and soon thereafter took over direct administration of it. The county commissioners did not disclose their business relationship with Clipper to either the PSC or the public. Nearly two years later, when word leaked out about this transaction, the commissioners and their staff denied any involvement with it.

After a six month expedited review, the PSC approved a 67-turbine array for Clipper atop Backbone Mountain and, a few months later, it also approved a 40MW facility, with 462-foot tall turbines, for Savage Mountain, mostly in Allegany County. Several lawsuits followed. The county routinely provided building permits for Clipper, however. Not once did the commissioners investigate the potential for public harm or respond to reasonable concerns about the potential for a range of nuisances and property devaluations these projects might cause, despite repeated requests for them to do so. There has been no inquiry about the consequences of such incompatible industrial development–incompatible with the language in the Development Plan and certainly subversive of the county's Heritage Plan. At the very least, most of the wind turbines proposed for the county would flagrantly violate protections afforded to the miles of scenic highways coursing throughout the area.

In November 2004, 200 frustrated citizens gathered at the Community Center in Pleasant Valley to voice their concern. Though neither they nor their staff chose to attend, the commissioners began to relent somewhat. In December 2004, they stated they would support no new wind projects at that time while pledging their allegiance to the Clipper and Synergics projects they had endorsed. The commissioners also released a letter from the county attorney, which they claimed demonstrated they were powerless to constrain wind development. This remains their position todaymore than three years later.

Under the Maryland Annotated Code, Article 66B, section 4.01, the commissioners have the authority–and obligation as elected officials–to consider land use regulation to prevent any adverse consequences to property values and living conditions for citizens of Garrett County. That authority includes regulation of the height as well as the size, use, lighting, sound, and location of any proposed wind turbines. By ignoring those obligations and the concerns posed by residents from Pleasant Valley and others to the effect that property values would be adversely impacted and quality of life would be reduced, the commissioners placed in jeopardy much this county holds dear.

In immediate response, the commissioners tasked the county's Planning Office "to explore potential options for limiting development of additional wind power projects in Garrett County," and stated their "desire to limit wind power development to the two current projects (Clipper and Synergics)." (December 2004) To date, the Planning Office has produced no such options. Last week, the county commissioners reaffirmed their support for the two wind projects, but did not say anything about their desire to limit future wind development here, evidently unaware that the PSC five-year permit for the Clipper project will expire in March 2008 while the Synergics project at Roth Rock was never granted a PSC permit. The Daily Record recently reported that Clipper is "in deep trouble with its…Liberty machine, which is experiencing quality control and apparent design problems, and with the company's financial performance." Although there will be no Clipper project, Criterion Power Partners, LLC, has submitted an application, under new PSC rules, for 28 Clipper Liberty turbines along some of the ridge Clipper once coveted.

In the last six weeks, the county commissioners have held few public meetings where public comment was accepted, and limited the time for public commentary when it was accepted. In November, they added a pro wind passage to a draft revision of the county's 10-year Comprehensive Plan, which the Planning Commission recently voted to dilute. The county commissioners were the last major institutional voice to oppose wind installations on state lands, doing so only after they witnessed hundreds of people who attended the DNR wind hearing at Garrett College heatedly oppose the proposal. In the wake of that outpouring of sentiment, the county administrator, Monty Pagenhardt, continues to say, "Some people are for them; some are opposed." The commissioners have held no referendum on the issue, nor have they in any way attempted to measure the public's opinion. And they have not attempted to educate themselves or the public to make an informed assessment, relying instead on wind developer propaganda to justify their support.

The county commissioners have rejected the Planning Commission's recent recommendation for an immediate moratorium on wind development, stating such a moratorium must be in force for all development, not just wind projects. This is not the case elsewhere. The county attorney's legal opinions actually give the commissioners much leeway to protect public health and safety and to preserve quality of life, if they so choose.

Meanwhile, the drum is beating for many wind projects here under the state's new wind deregulation bill (secured with the help of Cas Taylor). Our county commissioners have stated they will follow the lead of the Maryland Public Service Commission, led as it is in these matters by the state's Department of Natural Resources. This is the same DNR whose administration presented two commercials for wind developers at each of its recent hearings about wind on public lands, ignored the advice of its own environmental experts at a PSC wind hearing, and implied, falsely, that wind technology could prevent "blackouts" projected in 2011. As for the PSC, it has been a pass-through for the goals of pandering politicians and wildcat wind operators hoping to make a quick buck on the public's dime. At PSC evidentiary hearings, wind developers could not substantiate a single one of their claims, yet the PSC consistently refused to make them accountable. When asked what remedies existed for citizens who experienced unlawful noise and deleterious health effects, for wildlife mortality, for property devaluations, for taxes promised but not delivered, for income promised but not delivered, for energy promised and not delivered, the PSC response was deafening: There was none. The PSC is a political organization, its commissioners appointed by the governor; it is funded by fees collected from the companies it regulates.

That our county commissioners have chosen to hide behind this kind of regulatory "protection" should be a source of grave concern. Deferring to remote state agencies the responsibility of protecting our natural heritage and the community values we share should be alien to our sense of personal responsibility and the desire to govern ourselves.

Neville & Creato United In October 2007 Ceremony

Jim and Jenny Neville, Mtn. Lake Park, and Anthony and Phyllis Creato, Springfield, Pa., announce the marriage of their children, Annie Neville and Anthony Creato.

The wedding took place at St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, Oakland, on Oct. 20, 2007, with Monsignor Martin Feild officiating. The reception was held at Wisp Resort.

The bride wore a white A-line dress with a sweetheart neckline and organza bunched overlay skirt with embroidery and metallic beading. The gown had a chapel train with organza runners.

The maid of honor was Janet Cook, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Heather Creato, sister of the groom; Lauren Neville, sister of the bride; and Amita Patel and Kristine Rushby, friends of the bride. Flowers girls were Tamarin and Trinity Henderson, cousins of the bride. The attendants' gowns were wine-colored T-length strapless dresses with rhinestone buckle belts.

The best man was Andrew Colket, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Jonathan Neville, brother of the bride; and Mark Delrossi, Jim Ginty, and Mark Szilagyi, friends of the groom.

Rebecca Moore and Donna Cook were soloists. Readers were Taylor Henderson, cousin of the bride; and Rebecca Moore, friend of the bride. Program attendants were Alex Rhodes and David Longshore, cousins of the bride. Presenters of gifts were Olivia Longshore, cousin of the bride; and Pat Grandizio, cousin of the groom.

The bride is a 2003 graduate of Villanova University, with a BS in comprehensive science, and a 2006 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine, with a doctorate in dental medicine. She is currently completing a pediatric dental residency with St. Christopher's Hospital for Children, Philadelphia, Pa.

The groom is a 2004 graduate of Villanova University, with a BS in finance. He is currently in his final year of law school at Widener and is working for the district attorney's office in Delaware County, Pa.

The couple were escorted in a horse-drawn carriage. They honeymooned in New Zealand for two weeks before residing in Blue Bell, Pa.

Rhodes-Hartsell Wedding Planned

Robin and Robin Rhodes of Tunnelton, W.Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Kristie Nichole Rhodes, to Allen Nelson Hartsell, son of Claud and Brenda Hartsell, Eglon, W.Va.

The bride-elect is a 2002 graduate of Preston High School, Kingwood, W.Va., and a 2007 graduate of Fairmont (W.Va.) State University with a degree in forensic science. She is currently employed at Sturm Environmental Services of Bridgeport, W.Va.

Mr. Hartsell is a 2002 graduate of Tucker County (W.Va.) High School and is employed by Green River Group in Morgantown, W.Va., in the construction field.

The wedding is planned for July 26 at the Kingwood Christian Fellowship, with Pastor Derek Syruws and Pastor J. Rogers Fike officiating.

Anaphylaxis: A Severe Allergic Reaction

Anaphylaxis is a severe allergic reaction that can be life-threatening. This reaction may occur in response to a certian type of food or drug to which a person is allergic. Insect venom or latex also may cause anaphylaxis in certain persons with allergies. Anaphylaxis occurs when the immune system responds to substances called allergens. Antibodies are normally produced by the immune system when foreign substances, such as allergens, invade the body. During this normal response, chemicals are released which cause symptoms similar to allergy symptoms, such as watery eyes and runny rose. When anaphylaxis occurs, an increased amount of chemicals are released, resulting in a sudden drop in blood pressure, difficulty breathing, or possibly death.

When the offending allergen is known to cause anaphylaxis, it is important to prevent exposure to the allergen. Persons who are aware of a severe allergy may be prepared to respond by carrying emergency drugs at all times. Adrenaline is a drug commonly used to treat anaphylactic reactions. It is supplied in a number of forms including an auto-injector called the EpiPen. This device is a combination of a syringe and a concealed needle that will inject a single epinephrine dose when it is pressed against the thigh.

A Note of Appreciation

We would like to thank everyone for the expressions of love and support we have received following the unexpected death of our daughter, Shannon, on January 29, 2008. The outpouring of sympathy, prayers, cards, flowers, and telephone calls has been incredible. Each act of kindness has helped to sustain and comfort us during this time of profound sadness and grief

We never realized the impact that Shannon had on other people's lives. Constantly, over the last two weeks, people have shared with us "Shannon stories."

We would like to thank some special people who made a tremendous difference in our daughter's life:

- Cheryl, Virginia, and the staff of the Mitchell Manor ALU.
- The staff and waitresses of Oakland Towne Restaurant.
- The staff of Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy.
- The staff of Appalachian Crossroads.
- The members of People First
- The Garrett County Special Olympics.

In particular, we are indebted to her Red Hat group—The Redneck Babes in Disguise. She truly enjoyed every moment she spent with these ladies – having fun, being silly, and socializing.

We offer our heartfelt appreciation to:

- Our family, friends, and neighbors, especially those on Alexander Lane.
- The Rev. Dr. Chip Lee of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and the ladies of the parish who prepared the luncheon following the funeral service.
- The staff of David A. Burdock Funeral Home.
- The members of the Oakland Church of Christ and Laurel Glen Church of the Brethren.

Thanks again to everyone for the love and support given to us. You all are in our thoughts and prayers.

As we were known to many—

PUBLIC NOTICES

BLASTING NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that Maryland Minerals, Inc., of 19746 Garrett Highway, Arrowhead #82, Oakland, MD 21550, will be conducting blasting operations under Mining Permit No. 95-SP-0487 at the Thayerville Quarry located 0.50 mile West of Route 219 on Quarry Road in Garrett County in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws.

Such activities will commence and continue in accordance with the following schedule of dates and approximate times, as approved by the Md. Dept. of the Environment:

Dates: Feb. 1, 2008, to Feb. 1, 2009

7:30 a.m. to 12:00 Noon and 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

No Blasting will be conducted on Sundays.

At least ten minutes prior to each blasting activity, all accesses to the area will be controlled to prevent unauthorized entry, and a warning signal will be audible indicated by three 5-second blasts with an air horn at 2-second intervals. After the blast, the all-clear signal shall be indicated by one 20-second blast with an air horn. These signals are in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.

Also, unless approved by the regulatory authority, blasting activities will not be conducted at times other than those announced without prior notification, or, in the event of an emergency situation where rain, lightning, or other atmospheric conditions, operator or public safety considerations dictate an unscheduled detonation.

Any questions concerning the mining operations should be directed to the Md. Dept. of the Environment – Minerals, Oil, & Gas Division at 410-537-3557.

FEBRUARY 29, 2008 at 3:45 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and improvements thereon situated in GARRETT COUNTY, MD and described as follows:

ALL THOSE TWO LOTS, PIECES OR PARCELS OF LAND SITUATE, LYING AND BEING IN MT. LAKE PARK, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, WHICH ON THE PLAT OF MT. LAKE PARK, AS RECORDED IN PLAT BOOK NO. 1, FOLIO 21, ONE OF THE RECORDS IN THE OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND ARE KNOWN AND DESIGNATED AS LOT 4023 AND 4033.

The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition without either express or implied warranty or representation, including but not limited to the description, fitness for a particular purpose or use, structural integrity, physical condition, construction, extent of construction, workmanship, materials, liability, zoning, subdivision, environmental condition, merchantability, compliance with building or housing codes or other laws, ordinances or regulations, or other similar matters, and subject to easements, agreements and restrictions of record which affect the same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $5,000.00 payable in cash, certified check or by a cashier's check will be required from purchaser at time of sale, balance in cash upon final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court of GARRETT COUNTY, interest to be paid at the rate of 7.30% on unpaid purchase money from date of sale to date of settlement. The secured party herein, if a bidder, shall not be required to post a deposit. The purchaser will be required to complete settlement of the purchase within TEN (10) DAYS of the ratification of the sale by the Court otherwise the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the purchaser. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues whether incurred prior to or after sale, shall be borne by purchaser. Taxes if any, to be adjusted to date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes and all other costs incident to the settlement shall be borne by the purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Purchaser agrees to pay $275.00 at settlement to the seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents. If the sale is rescinded or not ratified for any reason, including post sale lender audit, or the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey insurable title or a resale is to take place for any reason, the purchaser(s) sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the aforementioned deposit. Upon refund of the deposit, this sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustees. The sale is subject to post-sale review of the status of the loan and that if any agreement to cancel the sale was entered into by the lender and borrower prior to the sale then the sale is void and the purchaser's deposit shall be refunded without interest. Broadwater, as grantor, and Craig Ingram, as Trustee for The CIT Group/Sales Financing, Inc., a default having occurred under the terms thereof, the holder of the indebtedness secured by the Deed of Trust having appointed Steven N. Leitess, Esquire, and Gordon S. Young, Esquire, or either of them, of Leitess Leitess Friedberg & Fedder PC, as Substitute Trustees, by Deed of Appointment of Substitute Trustees, duly executed on August 8, 2007, acknowledged, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Liber No. 1326, folio 244, the undersigned Substitute Trustee(s), will sell at public auction, on the steps of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, located at 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550, on:

at 11:00 A.M.

ALL THAT PROPERTY SITUATE IN GARRETT COUNTY, STATE OF MARYLAND, and being more fully described in a Deed of Trust, dated January 23, 1998, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Liber No. 729, folio 270, being described as all that parcel of land situate in Election District No. 3, Garrett County, Maryland, being known and designated as Lot No. 27, Section 2, The Highlands, containing 6.019 acres, more or less, together with an easement for access and utilities along subdivision roads to The National Pike, as said easement is further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber No. 665, folio 498, and Liber No. 673, folio 651. The improvements thereon, including without limitation a certain 1997 Four Seasons model WD9 52' x 28' mobile home, serial number WD400731, being known as 2346 E Westview Crossing, Grantsville, Maryland 21536. The Property will be sold subject to all conditions, liens, restrictions, easements, and agreements of record affecting same, if any.

FURTHER CONDITIONS OF SALE: The Property will be sold subject to all matters known and unknown, in "AS IS, WHERE IS" condition, without recourse, representation or warranty, either express or implied, as to the nature and description or use of the improvements contained herein or the environmental condition of the Property. The purchaser recognizes and agrees that any investigation, examination or inspection of the Property is within the control of the owner or other parties in possession and their agents and not within the control of the Substitute Trustees, their successors or assigns. Purchase of the Property will be conditioned upon waiver of any cause of action against the Lender and the Substitute Trustees, their respective agents, or their successors or assigns respecting the Property, and the environmental condition of the Property as provided by state or federal laws, ordinances, regulations or otherwise.

TERMS OF SALE: A cash deposit or certified check of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) or other form of deposit acceptable in the Substitute Trustees' sole discretion, shall be paid at the time and place of sale, balance in cash at settlement which shall be thirty (30) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, unless said period is extended by the Substitute Trustees, their successors or assigns, for good cause shown, time being of the essence, interest at a rate of ten percent (10%) per annum shall be paid on unpaid purchase money from the date of sale to the date of settlement. In the event that settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of the interest. In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, in addition to all other remedies including but not limited to attorneys' fees, the Substitute Trustees may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorneys' fees and all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages. Taxes, water, rent and all other municipal liens, public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, state and county transfer taxes, document preparation, and title insurance and all other closing costs shall be borne by purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession to the Property. In the event that the Substitute Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit.

The improvements are being sold in an "AS IS" condition with purchaser responsible for any and all housing or zoning code violations and environmental issues. The Property is sold without warranties, express or implied, as to land or improvements or title.

Additional terms and conditions may be announced on the day of sale. The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to accept or reject any and all bids. Further, Substitute Trustees reserve the right to set aside the sale for Purchaser's filing of bankruptcy without notice, reinstatement without notice, and/or inability to convey marketable title. Purchaser shall furnish Affidavit of identification and capacity required by Rule 14-305(b) of the Maryland Rules of Procedure.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
1206 McANDREWS HILL RD.
GRANTSVILLE, MD 21536

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from William W. Evans Jr. dated March 6, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1299, Folio 402 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $252,000.00 and an original interest rate of 10.24% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., at the Court House Door, Oakland, on March 3, 2008 at 3:00 p.m.

ALL THAT fee-simple LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $26,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Mary L. Varner and Alan F. Varner dated December 15, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1277, Folio 250 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $166,000.00, and an original interest rate of 8.750, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on February 15, 2008 AT 1:00 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $17,500.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of sale. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of sale. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorney's fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of sale. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

McHenry, MD 21541

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Michael W. Greene dated September 13, 2005, and recorded at Liber 1169, Folio 0581 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at Main Entrance of the Circuit Court for Garrett Co, located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD 21550, on:

February 29, 2008, at 3:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $24,000.00 by cash or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, MD. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. All public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit without interest. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement, the deposit shall be forfeited, and the property shall be resold at the purchaser's risk and expense. The purchaser agrees to pay attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00 plus costs, which fee does not include attendance at any hearings, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Hearings will be charged at attorneys' hourly rate. Additional terms to be announced at the time of sale. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

DEFENDANTS

NOTICE AND ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District 14, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to Donald and Suzanne Martinek on May 11, 2007.

All that parcel of land situate in Election District No. 14 containing 7.00 acres, more or less, known and designated as Lot 18, Minnetoska Lake Subdivision, and described in a deed from Teisha M. Anthony and Scott A. Anthony dated September 30, 2004, and recorded on May 27, 2005, in Liber No. 1127, folio 177, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than six (6) months and one day from the date of the sale has expired.

It is thereupon, this 6th day of February 2008, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland,

ORDERED that the notice be given in accordance with Rule 2-121 by certified mail requesting: "Restricted Delivery – show to whom, date, address of delivery" on the defendant named in the complaint, warning the Defendant to be and appear in this Court by the 7th day of April 2008, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

ORDERED that the notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for three successive weeks before the 29th day of February 2008, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 7th day of April 2008, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the instant proceedings, the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, has sought declaratory relief and a decree by the Court that the provisions of Chapter 708 of the Laws of 1955, purporting to establish the Bauer Line as the boundary line between Garrett and Allegany counties, is unconstitutional and further seeking to establish that the boundary line dividing Garrett and Allegany counties is as described in a Report of Daniel Chisholm, dated October 8, 1972.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 1st day of February 2008, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland,

ORDERED, that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in Allegany County, Maryland, where the action is pending, and in Garrett County, Maryland, notifying all persons who have an interest in the subject proceedings to appear in this Court by the 15th day of April 2008, to answer the Complaint. Thereafter, a final judgment will be entered for closing the rights of the parties, pursuant to the Maryland Rules of Procedure.

The Garden Patch
by Master Gardener Suzanne Carol

THE BEAUTIFUL, GRACEFUL FERN

Ferns became popular in America during the Victorian era, but they are one of the oldest plants known, dating back to prehistoric times. They can add beauty to any room with their soft, delicate appearance. If you follow a couple of very simple rules they will thrive indoors.

Ferns are unique among non-flowering plants. They have a very unusual life cycle consisting of two distinct generations of two different plants. They don't grow from seeds like most flowering plants, but from a single spore. Next there is an in-between stem (asexual stage). Then the individual spore germinates into a flat leaf-like body called a prothallium. Lastly, the sexual organs develop on the underside of the prothallium and fertilization occurs. It takes from two to six months for the first fronds to appear.

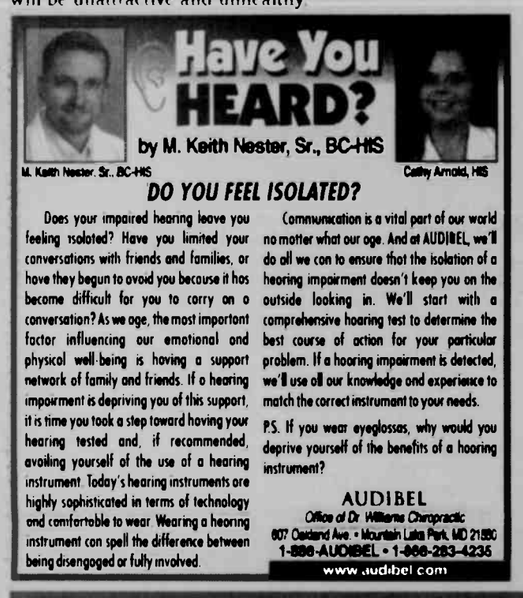
Even though ferns used for indoors are native to the tropics or subtropics, they prefer cool temperatures and high humidity. Nighttime room temperatures should be cool, preferably below 60°F, and not above 72°F during the day. If you put ferns outdoors, they should be located in deep shade or on the north side of the house. Never expose ferns to full sun in the summer (outdoors or indoors).

Ferns need a lot of humidity, which is why they do well in bathrooms and kitchens where the humidity is often high. Indoor ferns need misting. Mist them early in the morning. Apply enough mist to moisten the fronds. If you grow them outside, plant them in a clay pot and put that pot in a second pot with sphagnum moss in the space between the containers and keep it moist. You can also put them in a saucer filled with gravel and water. Don't let the plant sit in the water and either replace or clean the gravel every three months to keep it clean and odor-free. This also keeps diseases down. It's very important to pay close attention to the humidity. Without a fairly high level of humidity, ferns will be unattractive and unhealthy.

As far as light goes, a northern window usually provides ideal light for many ferns. You can use a shear curtain to cut intensity. If you put your fern in an eastern or western window, the light needs to be cut by 50% during late spring and summer. Don't ever put your fern in direct sunlight – you'll cook it.

Ideally, a healthy fern requires just enough room to accommodate the root system with about an inch of space for further growth. You may need to repot several times a year. Wait until the plant seems to be spilling out of the pot before you repot. You will also be more successful if your pot has a drainage hole. Always water your plant before repotting to make it easier to remove.

Often ferns will outgrow their pots and need to be divided. Remove the plant from the pot and use a sharp, long-bladed knife to halve or quarter the root ball. Then, pull each quarter or half apart and spread the roots in the new soil. Be sure to water the roots and new soil thoroughly and to provide a humid atmosphere by misting the first few weeks.



Water is another key to the success or failure of your ferns. The soil should be kept evenly moist but not wet. Over or under watering are the most common reasons for poor results. There are no hard rules. Develop a feel for the soil. That is really the only way to determine when to water.

Remove dead fronds and keep your pot clean. Wash it occasionally with warm water and a soft brush.

Ferns have relatively few pest problems, but when they do occur they can be devastating. The major pests include fern scale, hemispherical scale, and several species of mealy bugs. Many ferns are tolerant of some insecticides, but you will have to experiment to find them. The best way to avoid insect damage is to examine them very carefully to be certain they are free of insects.

Please don't be hesitant to have ferns. Just pay close attention to water and humidity and you will have great plants.

Harris To Speak At Next Garden Club Meeting

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club (MLGC) will meet Tuesday, Feb. 19, at 10:30 a.m. at the Santa Fe Grille, Deep Creek Lake. Guest speaker Clarissa Harris will present a PowerPoint program titled "Gardening While Living with Wildlife." The meeting is open to the public and visitors are welcome.

Having worked for the Department of Natural Resources, Wildlife and Heritage Service, for more than 10 years, Harris is a wildlife biologist/manager. Her job duties include wildlife/people conflict management, information and education, hunter safety and trapper education, responding to sick or injured wildlife emergencies, and collecting biological data for the department's species biologists.

Harris will present information regarding what to plant that wildlife may not be attracted to, how to exclude or repel wildlife, and ways to enjoy wildlife.

She received an associate of arts degree in wildlife management from Garrett College and a bachelor of science degree in wildlife and fisheries management from Frostburg State University. She lives in Oakland with her husband and two children.

Garden Club members will be contacted for lunch reservations. Non-members interested in attending the meeting, making a lunch reservation, or receiving further information about the Mountain Laurel Garden Club may contact Gumi Neff at 301-387-7387 or Sandy Zakaluzny at 301-387-4404.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the National Garden Clubs Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility, a spokesperson said.

School In Session Presidents' Day

Parents are reminded that Garrett County schools will be open and in session on Presidents' Day, Monday, Feb. 18, as a make-up day for school missed because of inclement weather.

This will leave, to date, three days left to be made up for students.

Victims Reported Uninjured From Vehicle Collision

Icy conditions on roadways were to blame for a motor vehicle accident that occurred last Thursday at 7:57 a.m., on Sand Flat Road, according to Maryland State Police at the McHenry Barrack.

Heather Lander, 23, Accident, was operating a 2004 Saturn Ion eastbound on Sand Flat Road near Paradise Point Road when she attempted to negotiate a curve, at which time she lost control of the car.

Lander's vehicle crossed the center line and struck a 1996 Mack trash truck operated by Cecil Martin, 62, Red House.

No injuries were reported, and charges are pending, according to MSP. Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department, Garrett County Sheriff's Office, and Southern Garrett Rescue Squad responded to the crash.

NIGHT WATCH, a story of mystery and intrigue, will be the next stage offering at Our Town Theatre in Oakland. The play features a nine-member cast and will be given on Wednesday, Feb. 27, through Saturday, March 1, at 8 p.m., and Sunday, March 2, at 2 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 301-334-5640. The cast is pictured. Seated from left are Sue Lisantti, Tammy Beitzel, Matt Taylor, and Kieran Cannistra. Standing in the same order are Jack Spencer, Donna Miller, Chuck Hoffeditz, and Christie Hamilton. Not pictured is actor Bill Meade. The play, directed by Erin Peacock, is being produced through a special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service Inc., and is funded in part by grants from the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council. Tickets for the weeknight and matinee performances are $5 each, and are $8 for the Friday and Saturday shows.

AND THE BRICKS CAME TUMBLING DOWN – The event of the day in Oakland last Sunday was the sudden and surprising collapse of a town building's top floor. The structure, located along Liberty Street in and home to MasterCraft Printers, partially crashed to the ground over the span of several hours that day, while emergency personnel, owner Bob Ekholm, and residents stood by watching. The cause of the collapse was most likely age, as the building is one of the oldest in the town, dating back to the 1800s. It was once three floors high, but a tornado in the summer of 1912 took off half of the top floor. Ekholm said this week that a collapse expert was to look at the structure and determine if the building could be saved, and he felt that it could be with the removal of the top half-floor. His printing equipment and other company supplies remain inside the structure. Debris spread out across Liberty Street, which was blocked off until Tuesday. See sequential pictures of the collapse elsewhere in this section of today's issue. There were no injuries in the event. Photo by John McEwen.

Comprehensive Plan Meeting Set At Garrett College

The Garrett County Planning Commission will hold an informational meeting on Monday, March 3, in the Garrett College auditorium, beginning at 7 p.m. to enable the public to review and comment on Chapters 5-11 of the new Comprehensive Development Plan draft.

These seven chapters are Chapter 5, "Water Resources Element"; Chapter 6, "Transportation Element"; Chapter 7, "Sensitive Areas Element"; Chapter 8, "Community Facilities Element"; Chapter 9, "Housing Element"; Chapter 10, "Mineral Resources Element"; and Chapter 11, "Economic Development Element."

The Planning Commission consultant, Environmental Resources Management (ERM), will provide a presentation on these chapters, and a question-and-comment period will be provided immediately following the presentation.

The Comprehensive Plan is the primary policy document used by the county to ensure healthy future growth and development. The plan is widely used and referred to by multiple state and county agencies, economic development offices,

Hearing Set For Garrett Co. Public Facilities Bond Bill

A hearing has been scheduled in Annapolis for legislation that would allow the Garrett County commissioners to bond/finance up to $10 million for capital improvement projects. Introduced by Del. Wendell Beitzel, HB 1338 will be heard by the House Appropriations Committee on Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 1 p.m.

The county commissioners and Financial Services director Wendy Yoder asked Beitzel and Sen. George Edwards during a December meeting to secure legislative authority in the General Assembly to enable the county to borrow funds.

"Over the next couple of fiscal years, we are facing a great amount of capital outlay, capital expenditures, particularly in 2009," Yoder told the local lawmakers.

The 2009 projects include a detention center, animal control center, public works facility, and a sewer system for the Keyser's Ridge Industrial Park.

The county can be classified as a "small issuer" under the Internal Revenue Service tax code, according to Yoder. This means the county will be eligible for the lowest possible interest rate, but the maximum amount that it can borrow is $10 million within a calendar year.

The county introduced a similar bond bill in 1998,

Dr. Teets Presents FY '09 Budget Proposal; Board To Vote Monday

Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of Garrett County schools, presented his proposed budget for the 2009 fiscal year to the board of education at its regular meeting last week, a budget that requests nearly $7.5 million in additional county funding.

The county commissioners allocated a total of $36,978,806 last spring for the current year (FY 2008).

The additional funding is required, according to Dr. Teets, because of increases in expenses such as medical insurance for employees, transportation costs, and meeting the third year of the three-year negotiated contract with all employee groups; for school construction projects; and for post-retirement insurance.

Dr. Teets said that the level of state funding is expected to be less than in the past on a percentage basis since Garrett County is now considered the ninth wealthiest county among the state's 23 counties and Baltimore city.

He added that the county ranks 15th in the level of local funding, and is hopeful that the gap between the level of wealth and current funding by the county can be lessened.

The primary budget goals listed in the proposed FY 2009 budget are to:

•secure additional local funding to improve local rankings in per pupil funding and local education effort compared to all other systems of Maryland;

•fund the third year of the negotiated three-year contracts;

•support and maintain Garrett County's educational programs, services, and facilities;

•maintain staffing levels to support educational programs and services; and •fund the approved capital improvement program.

The proposed budget primarily maintains current programs and seeks additional funding in three main areas: transportation, funding for negotiated three-year contracts, and funding for an employee health care plan.

Delaware's Special Olympians To Compete In Md. Games At Wisp

by Jon Buzby

Three years ago, Delaware's Special Olympics ski teams were all set to head to New Hampshire, to an area famous for world-class ski conditions, but a lack of snow forced the cancellation of those games. So, to avoid not having any place to compete after months of training, Delaware quickly turned to her bordering neighbor for help – Special Olympics Maryland.

Thirty-one skiers and several coaches and family members from Delaware will arrive at the Wisp this Sunday, Feb. 24, for the 2008 Special Olympics Maryland Winter Games. This will be Delaware's third consecutive trip to the games.

"We love the competition and the friendships that have evolved," said Coach Charlie Scrafford. "We have been welcomed with open arms, and that goes a long way."

The ski team will compete in Alpine (downhill) and Nordic (cross-country) skiing events. The fact that they are trekking six hours by bus m the dead of winter is amazing enough, but what makes this team even more special is that its members come from a state without a ski mountain and without any measurable snow accumulation so far this winter.

Starting the first weekend in December, the Alpine ski team meets every Sunday morning at 5 a.m. to catch a bus to Blue Mountain in the Pocono Mountain Region of Pennsylvania. The four-hour drive is long and tedious, but the sight of the snow-covered mountains when they arrive makes it all worthwhile.

Scrafford says the training time on the mountain is very important.

"Since we are a state where the highest point is only about 76 feet above sea level, the trips to the mountain are critical for our training. In the early fall, before we start training on the mountain, we meet at a state park on a weekly basis and hike through the woods, going up and down hills to build our endurance. That way when we do get to the actual snow on the mountain, we can focus more on technique."

The Delaware team is typically the first to arrive at

Deep Creek Dunk Slated This Saturday

The 10th annual Deep Creek Dunk will be held this Saturday, Feb. 23, behind Uno Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake. Registration is at noon, with the Dunk slated for 2 p.m.

Coordinated by the Maryland State Police and local law enforcement, proceeds from the event benefit Special Olympics Maryland (SOMD) athletes.

"The 10,000-plus athletes of SOMD represent the state's largest year-round organization devoted to sports training and competition for children and adults with intellectual disabilities," said a Dunk spokesperson.

Pledges are still being accepted for the fundraiser. Interested persons may take the quick dip in Deep Creek Lake for a minimum of $50 in pledges. The event is free to spectators.

"Dunkers receive a commemorative sweatshirt, group color photograph, and the great feeling of freezing your 'fur' off for a truly worthy cause," said the spokesperson.

For more information, persons may visit www.somd.org, call 410-789-6677, ext. 503.

Norris Rush Trial To Take Place In Washington Co.

The second-degree murder trial for Accident area resident Norris Rush will be held in Washington County Circuit Court in Hagerstown. As reported earlier this month, Rush's public defender, Stephan Moylan of Oakland, had requested the case be moved from Garrett County because of pretrial publicity.

Rush, 52, also faces charges of reckless endangerment and use of a handgun in a violent crime. The charges stem from the shooting death of David Lancaster, 29, at Rush's Accident-Friendsville Road home in the early morning hours of Dec. 3, 2006.

Allegany County Circuit Court judge Gary Leasure granted a change of venue motion on Feb. 5, after Moylan cited numerous news articles, letters to the editor, and radio spots about the case that had been published or broadcast by area media. Leasure said the change of venue motion was "true and reasonable."

Moylan's motion was approved last Friday, but no date has been set yet for the trial.

Garrett County Man Killed When Coal Truck Overturns

A Garrett County man was killed in Barton Wednesday when the coal truck he was operating slid and overturned on the icy roadway, causing him to be ejected from the vehicle.

Dwight Samuel Colmer, 41, was driving a fully loaded coal truck owned by the Western Maryland Lumber Company, when the accident occurred at 11 a.m.

According to Allegany County sheriff's deputies, the vehicle was sliding sideways downhill on Bartlett Road when it struck a guardrail and tipped over on its side. Colmer was not wearing a seatbelt, and he was ejected out the passenger side of the truck. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

SPECIAL OLYMPIANS/SPECIAL GUESTS – The state of Delaware has both Alpine and Nordic Winter Special Olympics ski teams; the only problem is, Delaware has no mountains and very little snow, making it next to impossible for organizers to host their own Olympics. So that's why the teams will be guests at the Wisp in McHenry this coming week, as a special invitation was issued to the team by Special Olympics Maryland to come participate in Maryland's winter events, slated to get under way Monday morning. Delaware skiers pictured above, from left, are: Ashley Tiesle, Brett Semmons (#122), Renee Kaiukitis, Kelly McLain, Bruce Brown (#101), Dawn Flowers (#110), Kyle Ounton, Adriana Cairns (#102), Chris Truono, Gabby Linton, and Michael Linton. See story for details.

THE TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE MOON waa actually visible in Garrett County last night, beginning around 8:30 or so and becoming totally covered and oddly red around 10. It was best to view it from inside, since the temperature was in the frigid single digits. So often the sky is socked in with clouds when these events take place, but last night was the exception, at least until about 10:15, at which time the sky filled up in what seemed a few minutes, and the snow came back. But the show was great while it lasted. The next one will occur in December 2010. In prehistoric days, such an event must have been terrifying to the people as they witnessed the "sentinel of the night sky" slowly swallowed in darkness, and finally turning red. With the weather that is expected tomorrow, snow and the dreaded ice, perhaps people would have believed that the frightening event was a harbinger of harrowing weather. Or maybe they all just slept through it. Photos and composite by John McEwen.

Charged With 2nd Degree Assault

An Oakland man was arrested Sunday when sheriff's deputies responded to Garrett Road, near Loch Lynn, for a reported assault.

David Everett II, 35, was charged with second degree assault and taken to the Garrett County Detention Center to await an initial appearance before a District Court commissioner.

DNR Cautions Deep Creek Lk. Snowmobilers

The Maryland Park Service is alerting snowmobilers of the potential for unseen safety hazards on Deep Creek Lake, particularly at night. An area of ice has been removed near Uno Restaurant to create open water for the Special Olympics Maryland Deep Creek Dunk, slated this Saturday.

"This area will remain unsafe for quite some time and will be marked with reflective traffic cones," said a Department of Natural Resources spokesperson. "Also be aware that lake surface conditions under bridges where road salt and abrasives are plowed from the pavement are often particularly hazardous."

Other conditions that may cause unpleasant situations are unseen snowdrifts or pressure ridges that can act as ramps and cause sleds to become airborne, leading to a loss of control and accidents.

Deep Creek Lake is a part of the designated ORV (off-road vehicle) trail system, permitting use by registered snowmobiles only. Permits are available by mail or at any of the local state park offices during normal business hours. Snowmobiles may operate at night if equipped with working head and taillights.

Access to the lake may be made at Deep Creek Lake State Park or with permission from a private landowner with a permit site adjacent to the lake.

"Ice fishermen, hikers, and cross-country skiers traveling on the lake should also exercise caution," said the spokesperson. "The wearing of or having a readily accessible personal flotation device could prevent a tragedy. If you encounter people, pets, or wildlife that have fallen through the ice, contact either 9-1-1 or the toll free DNR Communications number 1-800-628-9944 for assistance."

For further information on ice conditions at Deep Creek Lake, persons may contact a ranger at the park headquarters office, 301-387-5563, or the Discovery Center on weekends at 301-387-7067.

Farm Tractor And Trailer Jackknife; Two Sent To GCMH

An Oakland couple were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for minor injuries after the tractor they were operating overturned while traveling on Pleasant Valley Road, near Lynndale Road.

Garrett County sheriff's deputies and the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad responded to the 10:40 a.m. accident and found the Ford farm tractor on its side. Alpha Kauffman, Pleasant Valley, and his wife Frannie were pulling a trailer behind the tractor, and while traveling down an icy hill, the trailer began to push the tractor, causing it to jackknife.

The tractor went off the eastbound side of the roadway and rolled onto its side. The couple were taken to Garrett Memorial with reported minor injuries.

Library To Be Unveiled At Grand Opening

A grand opening of Garrett College's new library facility is to be held on Friday, Feb. 29, from 4 until 6 p.m., and will introduce the updated features of the facility.

The 18,000-square-foot library now provides over 30 new computer workstations, a collection of over 28,000 books, audio books, and DVDs, a periodicals reading room, state-of-the-art classrooms with "Smart" technology, five group study rooms equipped with multimedia capability for viewing, listening to, and creating cooperative learning projects, and a testing center that has private testing and tutoring rooms with distant learning support.

Wireless Internet access for laptop computers is offered for use in front of the fireplace or at one of the many study and lounge areas with views of Wisp Mountain.

A reception with light refreshments will be held in the Laker's Café immediately following the grand opening ceremony. Tours of the facility will also be available. Persons attending are asked to RSVP to 301-387-3056 by Feb. 22.

Resident Reveals Origin Of Name Of Fort Alice

The mystery of how Fort Alice got its name has been solved.

The fort, which was an outpost located near the 88 railroad bridge near Oakland, was the focus of a feature article that appeared in last week's issue of The Republican. The writer noted that he was unable to find anyone who knew where the outpost got its name.

To the fellow who solved it, there was really no mystery at all.

John Michael Henderson, a retired county roads employee who lives along Second Street in Oakland, simply remembered an article that he had read many years ago.

"Someone gave me a stack of Glades Stars [published by the Garrett County Historical Society] a while back, and there was a big article on Fort Alice in the June 1956 edition written by Dennis T. Rasche. The fort's name is actually all one word – Fortalice – pronounced 'fort-aleece.' It's a French word meaning 'small outpost or a small fortification,'" Henderson said.

Henderson shared this bit of knowledge with town council member Jay Moyer, who relayed it to Mayor Asa McCain, who in turn shared it with Glenn Tolbert, writer of the article.

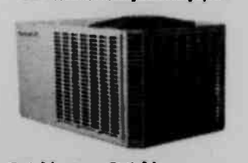
The article told of the fort's history and explained that the site would soon be a centerpiece of a major new development, calling for its excavation and, it is hoped, restoration. The site is approximately a mile southwest of the Oakland train station, overlooking the tracks, the bridge, and the Youghiogheny River.

PERRY'S PRESENTS DONATION – Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation was a recent recipient of a $4,000 donation from Perry's Solid Waste Disposal, Mtn. Lake Park. The money will be used to help fund patient care equipment, according to Kathy Greaser, GCMH director of development. She expressed the foundation's appreciation for the donation. "Without support from organizations like Perry's, the foundation wouldn't be able to fund as many hospital projects," Greaser said. For more information about the foundation, persons may call Greaser at 301-533-4178. Pictured are Earl Williams, Perry's Solid Waste Disposal representative, and Greaser.

Sleds Sink In Lake, Victims Water Bound

Two snowmobilers were injured after four sleds carrying eight passengers hit open water early Sunday morning, according to Maryland Natural Resources Police.

The snowmobilers were traveling near the Route 219 bridge on Deep Creek Lake at 12:10 a.m. when the first sled occupied by Matthew J. Laster, 26, and Anchi Pho, 27, both of Atlanta, Ga., sank in 35 feet of water, Cpl. Ken Turner of the DNR police said. The second sled ridden by Brian M. Haskell, 17, Baltimore, and Alisha A. Laster, 17, Woodlands, Texas, sank near the same spot.



A third snowmobile sank when driver John M. Lancelotta, 40, Westminster, attempted to help the victims in the water. Reports did not specify what happened to the fourth snowmobile.

Lancelotta and Pho were transported to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries, Turner said.

Arson Ruled In Destruction Of Shallmar Trailer

Arson has been ruled as the cause of a fire that destroyed a camping trailer and enclosure off Coal Hall Road in Shallmar.

Area resident Doug Brady discovered the burned out trailer early Monday morning and contacted authorities. No fire departments were sent to the scene, as the fire had occurred much earlier and was out.

According to Deputy State Fire Marshal Ryan Chapman, the trailer was owned by John Shaffer, Cumberland. The area of the fire's origin is currently unknown; however, Chapman has ruled arson as the preliminary cause. He estimated the loss to be $25,000 to the structure and $5,000 to the contents.

Personnel from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office are assisting with the investigation.

Several fire departments did respond to another alarm last Friday morning when the owner of a business along U.S. Rt. 219 just south of Deep Creek Lake discovered heavy smoke in the sales area of his building.

Danny Bosley, owner of Tveck Inc., called 911 at 7:03 a.m. Responding to the scene were units from the Deep Creek, Oakland, Deer Park, Accident, and Bittinger fire departments. The Terra Alta VFD was placed on standby.

The fire, which was quickly extinguished, was caused by stain-soaked rags that had spontaneously combusted, according to Deputy State Fire Marshal Jamie Rodeheaver. He estimated the damages to be $200.

THERE WERE DRAMATIC MOMENTS punctuating long periods of not much happening last Sunday for all those witnessing the building collapse along Liberty Street in Oakland. The first damage occurred around 1:20 p.m. Sunday, as the front portion of the top half-floor suddenly fell onto the street. Emergency personnel were summoned (Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, the sheriff's office, the town council and mayor, and the Oakland police), and after the area was secured, Allegheny Power disconnected the electric lines to the building, which houses MasterCraft Printers, owned by Bob Ekholm. Residents and the crews noted stood for about four hours watching the building give way to gravity. No one was hurt. The sequence of collapse shown goes as follows: above left, above right, below left, below right. Photos by John McEwen.

Several Charges Filed Against Oakland Man

Oakland police officers were forced to use a Taser on an Oakland man while investigating a reported disturbance complaint at 11:30 p.m. Saturday night.

Officers were called to a Water Street residence to remove William Edward Boyce, 42, from an apartment building after Boyce was told numerous times to leave. He refused to comply, according to reports.

When officers attempted to arrest him, Boyce resisted and a struggle ensued. Boyce was subdued by use of a Taser, and was then transported to the Garrett County Detention Center to await a bond hearing.

Boyce received charges of second degree assault, resisting arrest, trespassing, and failure to obey a lawful order. Oakland Police were assisted at the scene by Maryland Natural Resources Police.

Search Of Motel Room Results In Two CDS Arrests

The arrests of two Salisbury, Pa., residents were made Sunday and announced by Sheriff Gary Berkebile, spokesperson for the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force. The individuals were arrested on controlled dangerous substance (CDS) violations following the execution of a search and seizure warrant obtained for the couple's motel room.

After receiving several complaints from concerned citizens about suspicious activity occurring at a motel room in Grantsville, members of the task force initiated an investigation. The search warrant was executed without incident.

Brian Keith Brown, 44, and Nancy Louise Reed, 44, were arrested after deputies recovered a quantity of powder cocaine, crack cocaine, and marijuana. The powder cocaine had an estimated street value of approximately $30,000. A total of $4,072 in U.S. currency and a 1991 Ford Tempo were also seized during this investigation.

Each was criminally charged with possession with intent to distribute cocaine, possession of cocaine, possession of marijuana, possession of CDS paraphernalia, and maintaining a common nuisance.

Members of the Maryland State Police McHenry Barrack and the Garrett County Sheriff's Office assisted with the investigation.

Md. Extension To Offer Gypsy Moth Spraying

The Garrett County office of Maryland Cooperative Extension, in cooperation with the Washington County Forestry Board, recently announced that it will offer a gypsy moth spray program.

"The Washington County Forestry Board has been operating a private spray program for several years, and has developed a good relationship with the aerial applicator," said Willie Lantz, Extension educator.

The Garrett County office of Maryland Cooperative Extension will serve as the local contact for the spray program. All maps, contracts, and payments will be handled through the extension office near Mtn. Lake Park.

In order to participate in the spraying program, all landowners must complete an application, which requires a $100 down payment that will be applied to the total spray cost, and a $20 application fee. The $120 is non-refundable.

The aerial applicator requires a minimum of 20 acres in a spray block. If a single landowner does not have 20 acres that need sprayed, the land will need to be combined with a neighbor's in order to create a spray block.

Many landowners, especially those in residential areas, may be covered by a separate spray program conducted by the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA).

Home owners associations are encouraged to contact the Extension office to determine if the MDA program is covering the development.

The Washington County Forestry Board spray program will only spray the chemical Dimilin.

"Dimilin has the widest window of opportunity for successful suppression," Lantz explained. "The one limitation of Dimilin is that it cannot be applied to open water. Small streams are okay as long as they have a tree canopy."

The other chemical that is available for spraying is Bt, which may possibly be sprayed through a separate contract if required or desired.

The cost of the spray program this year is estimated to be $8 per acre. A final contract price will be determined after the sign-up period.

The Garrett County commissioners are offering a cost share on private spraying. The cost share will be 40 to 50 percent of the total cost. The exact cost will be calculated and sent as a final invoice during the first part of April.

Final payments will be due on April 10. If the final payment is not received, the forest area will not be sprayed. The sign-up period for the cost share program will end on Feb. 29. Applications are available at the Garrett County Extension Office located at 1916 Maryland Highway, Mtn. Lake Park. Persons should call before coming in to make sure someone is available for assistance. Questions may be directed to Sherry Frick or Willie Lantz at 301-334-6960.

WinterFest To Be Held On Main Street

Oakland Main Street will be sponsoring the first "WinterFest," a new town event to be held annually. The fest will take place in downtown Oakland during the first weekend of March, with activities scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

Visitors to WinterFest will have the opportunity to watch the entire process of creating a professional ice sculpture. The carving will take place during the daylight hours. Approximately 20 ice sculptures will be on display throughout Oakland, created by Frozen Assets Ice Company.

Horse-drawn carriage rides will also be offered on Saturday only, escorting visitors on a tour of the town. WinterFest is a free, family-oriented event. Those seeking more information should call 301-334-5095.

Crash Victim Air Lifted To Shock Trauma

Two victims were transported to the hospital, and one was later flown to Shock Trauma after their vehicle went airborne on I-68 Wednesday night, according to Tfc. B. Bond of the Maryland State Police McHenry Barrack.

Edgar Enrique Chirino, 41, and Santos Nilson Argueta, age unknown, both of Woodbridge, Va., were traveling southbound on I-68 near Finzel Road when their vehicle lost traction on the snow-covered roadway. The 1997 Chevrolet Express hit the guardrail, went airborne, and landed on the driver's side, pinning Chirino between the roof and guardrail.

Both victims were transported by Frostburg Area Ambulance to Cumberland Memorial Hospital, and Chirino was later flown to Shock Trauma.

Grantsville and Eastern Garrett volunteer fire departments also responded to the scene of the accident.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF CLIPPER WINDPOWER, INC. [NOW CRITERION POWER PARTNERS, LLC] FOR A CERTIFICATE OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY TO CONSTRUCT A 101 MW GENERATING FACILITY IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND.

BEFORE THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF MARYLAND

CASE NO. 8938

February 14, 2008

NOTICE OF HEARING FOR PUBLIC COMMENT

On January 24, 2008, Criterion Power Partners, LLC, filed with the Commission an application for an exemption to the Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity issued to construct and operate a wind power generating station in Garrett County, Maryland. The generating station would be located on portions of Backbone Mountain and would consist of 28 wind turbines with a combined nominal generating capacity of 70 megawatts. None of the turbines would be located on state-owned land.

An evening hearing for the purpose of receiving public comment in this matter is hereby scheduled for Thursday, March 6, 2008, at 7:00 p.m., at Garrett College, Continuing Education Building, Classroom 224, 687 Mosser Road, McHenry, Maryland 21514. Should the college close due to inclement weather, the hearing will be rescheduled for Wednesday, March 12, 2008, at 7:00 p.m., in the same location. (For college closing information, please call 301-387-3198.)

Written comments may be filed with the Commission at: Public Service Commission, 6 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202 (RE: Case No. 8938) by the date of hearing.

Copies of the application are available for public inspection at the Oakland Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County, 6 North Second Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550.

Reasonable accommodations will be made at Public Service Commission proceedings for qualified persons with disabilities, if requested 5 days in advance of the proceeding. (Dial 410-767-8000 or 1-800-492-0474 or access the prior numbers through the Maryland Relay Service at 1-800-735-2258.)

Zoning is the Answer...

It turns out that our suggestion in this column a few weeks ago to amend the county building code to limit the height of all construction in the county (specifically wind turbines) was not really a viable option. The building code addresses only those requirements that have to do with structural mtegrity; that is, the code guarantees that buildings, from the footers to the roof, are constructed in a safe and sound manner, according to a variety of recognized standards. The code does not include anything that regulates non-safety related things, such as height restrictions.

So this brings us back to the idea of zoning, an authority that is already granted by the state of Maryland to the counties, an authority that to date Garrett County leadership has elected not to utilize, except at Deep Creek Lake. Some of our larger municipalities also employ zoning within their borders.

Those categorically opposed to zoning ride on the claim that private property is just that – private – and that the owner has the right to do whatever he wants with his property. At face value, this seems right, and that any form of "tampering" with someone's private property is a violation of the owner's rights. However, the situation changes when what one decides to do with his own property has negative effects on his neighbors, such as the person who elects to use his front yard as a garbage dump, or to house a tavern, or to take up swine farming. Any one of these choices will take a negative toll on a neighbor in any number of ways, including decreased property values and unsightliness, to name a few.

One's individual rights do not include negatively impacting the rights of others. That's precisely why zoning was "invented." Zoning can be flexible; it does not have to be overly restrictive to the point that it is unfair and oppressive. It can be designed so that it guards property owners against specific uses of adjacent properties.

Implementation of zoning in Garrett County could be accomplished in steps. There are 12 identified watersheds in the county which encompass the entire county. As noted above, zoning already exists in the Deep Creek Lake watershed. It could be implemented in additional watersheds where deemed most necessary, rather than zonmg the entire county in one fell swoop.

In general, zoning works well at the lake, and it works well in Oakland, Mtn. Lake Park, and the other towns that have it. However, without a clear demonstration of public support for zoning, the county commissioners probably will not act in this direction.

The hot topic of proposed wind turbines, especially the notion of placing them on state forestland, has generated more negative response from more organizations and individuals in the county than any other issue in recent history. The commissioners heard, and they acted. Zoning is the best long-term solution to regulating, and/or preventing, the installation of wind turbines in our county, so it seems that all of these same groups and individuals should just as loudly advocate its implementation.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Thank you for the trip down memory lane. How well I remember the 88 bridge. I played on it many times when I was small. It was during the second World War because I can remember the troop trains and the supply trains. Nothing but steam engines. I didn't think of it then, but a lot of those boys on the troop trains didn't get to make the trip back.

We lived on my aunt's farm near the 88 bridge, and we had to walk across the railroad and then cross a swinging bridge to get over to our house. John Grant remembers the swinging bridge and my nephew, Bobby Hoye.

Thank you,
Robert W. Lowdermilk

To the Editor:

To the women of Garrett County, if you've ever wanted to be in a play, but have had cold feet, now's your chance! Our Town Theatre will present Nickel and Dimed as one its productions in April, and I intend to cast any woman over the age of 18 who wants to be in it. Major roles, supporting roles, and minor and walk-on roles are available. Rehearsal times will depend on how many and what kind of role(s) each cast member undertakes.

Nickel and Dimed, which is adapted by Joan Holden from Barbara Ehrenreich's social commentary of the same title, requires an all-female cast who will portray people (male as well as female) who work for poverty-level wages. Auditions are scheduled at OTT for Saturday, March 1, from 2 to 5 p.m.; Sunday, March 2, from 7 to 10 p.m.; and Monday, March 3, from 3 to 6 p.m. The play is scheduled for April 23-27. For questions concerning the play or arrangements for other audition times, please call 301-334-5640 ext. 3.

To the Editor:

This is an invitation to visit the Landon Boal window at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. A display there titled "Heartbreak Oakland" was put together by two civic-minded ladies, Jane Avery and Diana Ashby. It displays adequately the impact the Oakland bypass will have on our community. It will not alleviate the so-called traffic from town, but will impact the truck traffic to Mtn. Lake Park going to the Southern Industrial Park and increase traffic congestion at Deep Creek Lake coming from Rt. 1-68 south.

To the parents of students at Southern High School and Dennett Road Elementary School, are you aware that there will be 11 holding ponds along the bypass to catch the water runoff? This is a perfect breeding ground for mosquitoes in stagnant water, and mosquitoes are carriers of the West Nile virus. This puts all students who participate in the band and outdoor sports at risk.

Please let your elected officials of the town of Oakland, the Garrett County commissioners, Senator Edwards, and Delegate Bietzel know of the concern displayed in the library window and written here.

DeCorsey Bolden
Chairman, Garrett Countians for Smart Growth

To the Editor:

The wind industry in Maryland is not telling you the truth about the proposed industrialization throughout all of Garrett County through the erection of giant 440 foot wind turbines. Neither are the Garrett County commissioners and their staff. The evidence is clear. They are actively promoting the industry, while telling you that there is nothing they can do.

Residents of Garrett County, are you going to stand up and demand the truth, or are you going to do nothing?

John N. Bambacus
Friendsville

To the Editor:

In each of three items – the "Mass of Humanity" photo, the "Huge Majority" news article, and the "Exceedingly Proud' editorial found in the January 31 Republican – it was prominently declared or noted that an estimated 500 citizens "more than filled the auditorium of Garrett College."

Yet the (Baltimore) Sun newspaper article for the same event cited a figure of only 200 citizens!

It is frequently observed that the powers that be in Annapolis and Baltimore give short shrift to, and frequently don't count, the voters, or the opinions of voters, in either western Maryland or "Mountain Maryland."

It brought to mind during this, Black History Month, that when the Founding Fathers sought to form this nation, one of the sticking points was how to allot proportional representation to southern states where slaves formed a major part of the population, hut they had no votes. It was ultimately decided that slaves represented a fraction of a free man, and therefore an agreed ratio was established by which to determine the number of representatives for southern states.

This proportional representation may still be in effect today. It would appear the haughty Baltimore Sun has determined it takes 2.5 Mountain Maryland citizens to equal one Baltimore or Annapolis citizen! No wonder the voices of Mountain Maryland and western Maryland citizens are ignored in Baltimore and Annapolis!

Sincerely yours,
Douglas Scott Arey

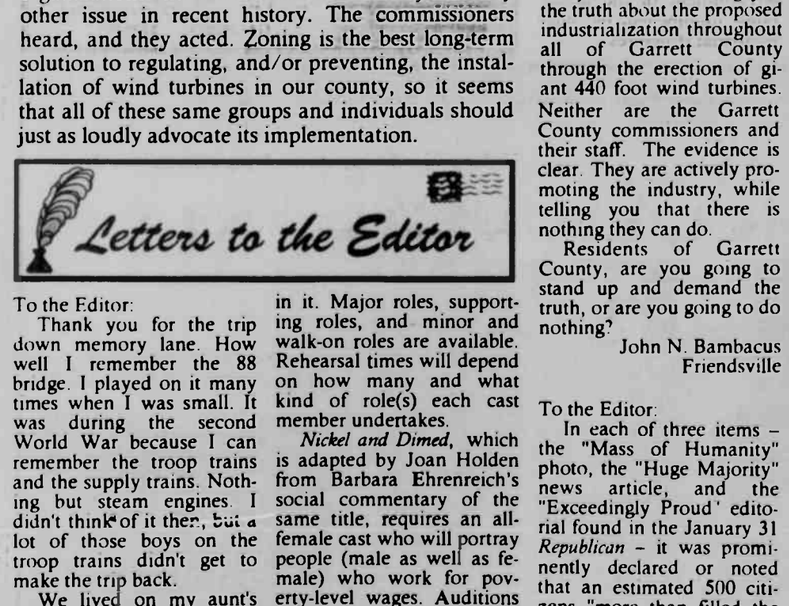
To the Editor:

It has been over a month since the public has been informed of the state of affairs between the local rescue squads and the county. A Request for Proposals (RFP) was put out by the GC Purchasing Dept. in January. Interested parties submitted their RFPs and are still awaiting word as to who will be awarded said proposals. The county-set deadline of February 19 for announcement of award has come and gone with no word from the county regarding the proposals, making yet another delay in the decision as to whether or not NGCRS and SGCRS will still be servicing the needs of the community. Why the delay? How hard is the decision?

In our RFP, NGCRS offered a substantial sum of money to be paid annually to the county to help pay for their personnel, yet the squad received a letter last week stating that the sum "will not cover 50% of the cost of the salary/benefit package of county personnel scheduled to assist NGCRS volunteers during calls," and a revised cost-sharing proposal was requested.

I personally feel that the county is being unreasonable in requesting more money than we can feasibly afford while we attempt to keep the squad alive for another 35 years. How reasonable is it for the county to expect us to pay more money when we have probably submitted the best offer in our RFP? Not only are we offering a substantial amount of money, but we also can offer housing, manpower, ambulances, equipment, supplies, and more. This is reportedly the only county in Maryland that expects the squads to pay the county for services rendered. What is up with that?



This last turn of events leads me to believe that it is more about control than about servicing the community, because the letter also stated, "The county also reserves the right to reject all proposals received and fund the program independently should a cost/benefit analysis reveal this is most advantageous for the county." Surely the county's greed will not get in the way of common sense. Watch out, taxpayers!

GIVE IT A TRY; BENEFITS GUARANTEED

I think I am officially "middle-aged" now, which is more than a little disconcerting, but hey, the alternative isn't all that great, right? So no real complaints. I do spend a fair amount of time remembering experiences of my life, though, like Middle-Aged People do, going over places I've visited, people I've known, activities in which I have been involved, and all that. What often stands out in my memory are the times when I was involved in something musical. Music is a fine way to communicate, it's a handy tool when words don't work, and it can be a connecting force for people of all walks of life. Music is magic, I think, in its ephemeral way, moving people every day, evoking all sorts of emotion and thought. It's a valuable thing we humans can create, perform, experience, and enjoy thoroughly.

One of the most memorable music experiences of my life has certainly been my participation in marching bands. I was in the Southern band all four of my years there, and then went on to march two years at West Virginia University. There are certainly enduring, positive results from those thousands of hours I spent learning music, learning drills, performing, and, of course, laughing until I could not breathe with friends I will never forget. With that in mind, I encourage all kids now eligible for marching band (i.e., those heading into either of the county's high schools, or those who are already there but are doing little to build great memories of those important years) to get off their couches, away from their computers, and to give the texting a rest to take the leap into a great program. It's Marching Band Week, after all, as proclaimed by the Southern Band Boosters and county commissioners.

The numbers of band members have dwindled over the past years, a result of more opportunities offered to all kids, like soccer and other sports, as well as the change at Southern to a four-period day. This forces kids to choose more carefully what classes they will take each semester, and of course band tends to be lower on the priority list, especially for honors students. However, it's relevant and important to note that kids who are in performance music groups consistently outscore their peers on tests such as the SAT. They also on average achieve higher grades in general. Kids who are in marching band have to organize and prioritize in order to work it all in. This has an amazing effect on their performance levels across the spectrum, from doing well in marching band to obtaining high grades in other subjects. Yes, it's a difficult and tiring schedule at times, but it's not impossible. Almost all the kids in Southern's band right now are consistently named to the honor roll, in fact. They are a bright bunch of teens.

It always comes as an annoying and insulting thing to me when an uninformed person will bemoan the small size of the band and say that it's "sad" how small they are. If only those naysayers would go to a single field show competition where Southern (and/or Northern) is represented so proudly and well by the small, tough group of talented kids. It's anything but sad. It's spectacular, the music they can make, the art they produce'— not sad, I swear. Exactly the opposite. More than once I have felt chills go up my arms when our kids step out on the field, so ready to show their talent and make a difference. It's so totally cool. Would it be good to have a bigger group? Of course! That's the point of this recruitment week. But they do wonderful things, no matter how many are on the

RUNNING IN CIRCLES

BY MANDY GEISLER

Everything is going to be okay, is what I discovered after a pair of recent doctor's visits. This pain in my foot, which has impeded my running for 63 days, which is 315 miles missed, is a result of a few bruised bones. I was satisfied with the reports, considering the damage could have easily been a stress fracture, which takes longer to heal than contusions, and with a diagnosis, I at least know why I'm saying "ouch."

I just have to reiterate, "everything is going to be okay," until it is.

Being an endurance...let's say enthusiast, rather than addict, I have in the meantime found other ways of using my body as a machine, although it takes me back to the treadmill days where I had the feeling of working really hard and going nowhere, much like a hamster on a squeaky wheel. I have put all of my energy into the stationary bike.

It's difficult to summon the motivation to run or bike indoors – bathing in the artificial lights and recycling the recirculating air – when the trees are swaying in the refrigerator cold outdoors, but sometimes it takes weeks of mundane workouts to make the outdoor ones that much sweeter, like a breath of fresh air...literally.

In the past I swore up and down that biking gave me nowhere near the same endorphin high as running, and I see now that I just wasn't working long or hard enough. Now I am so eager to get in the saddle that I'm erupting from my bed at 5:30 every morning to spin my legs out.

During one of my doctor's appointments, the orthopedic doctor recommended that I refrain from running if it's causing me pain. He explained further that pain is different from discomfort, and I enthusiastically nodded as though I connected with what he was saying. Later that day, I tried to rate my level of pain on a scale from one to 10, and realized that I couldn't tell the difference between pain and discomfort. According to another doctor, I had been going through a "pain cycle" before I had to stop, which I'm assuming meant that I would have days where I wouldn't notice pain, others where I could tolerate it, and days where I would rather hack off my foot than take another step. Then it would repeat itself.

I came to the realization that pain to me means I'd rather hack off my foot than take another step. All other sensations of "discomfort" are expected. I know I am kidding myself, however, in not thinking that the days when I was tolerating the "pain," I was actually in pain. I have developed a high pain threshold and will push through pain to the point of no return, as so many runners will.

One case in point is that of Ohio high school runner Claire Markwardt, who, in the final 45 feet of the Ohio state high school cross country championship in November, fell to the ground when her left tibia and then fibula snapped. In the video of the race, one can see Markwardt collapse, then stand up and attempt to run the rest of the race. Her lower leg begins to wobble, and she hits the ground for good, only to crawl the remaining distance to

There is no doubt in my mind that Markwardt had been experiencing some discomfort, and even pain, in the weeks leading up to the break, but as a dedicated, headstrong athlete, she endured the pain cycle.

There were days when I would be running through pain when I thought of Markwardt and her dedication to the sport. I thought, "If that girl can break her leg and still finish the race, then I can surely finish this last mile."

Markwardt's endeavor may not be the healthiest motivation to use because she should have stopped running long before the break, but it takes a great amount of mental strength to do what she did after her leg went.

For the first time in my life, I made a New Year's resolution. It wasn't to save money, improve relationships, or read more novels. It was to take better care of myself, specifically my bones, joints, and muscles. I have stayed true to this resolution so far by heeding my doctors' recommendations of not running until the pain is gone, seeking physical therapy, and buying gel insoles designed for a 300-pound man, even though we're only two months into the new year.

Even though I'm totally focused and consumed with biking right now, running still holds the number one spot in my heart. I hate to admit it, but there have been days this winter where the roads were so bad and the temperatures were so chilling that I was thankful for an excuse not to run. There were other days when I did run (a little farther than I should have) and the conditions were so bad they were good.

On one noteworthy evening, the weather was uncharacteristically warm for a Garrett County winter day, and the roads in Limpopo were ankle-deep with slush and standing water that I was doing more swimming than running. As I started out, I tried to keep my shoes dry, but it became impossible once I reached the top of the driveway. I gulped, dove in, and shuddered when the icy foot bath filled my shoes. Not even half a mile into the run, Lux, my trusty steed, laid on the breaks with all four paws in one gallant effort, and halted us both in our tracks. She saw the preposterous run ahead and decided she was too smart for such a excursion, and I had to walk her back to the house before setting out again.

It's usually these days, with the rain pounding on my face, mud splattered up my backside, and wind howling around my ears, that I love running the most, and it's days like that that I miss. The experience of being isolated in the darkness of the night, in the midst of a lightning storm makes me feel like a true human being.

Even though I haven't run in over two months, I know I am still a runner. It's who I am and it's what I do. Hey, what's 63 days out of an entire lifetime? A little bit of positive philosophy paired with some sort of exercise can ease the mind and medicate the nerves.

When the rain starts to fall, I weigh the pros and cons of saying, "the hell with it, I'm going running," but patience will pay off.

Another complaint I've heard is that it's "just too hard" to be in band; too many practices, too many shows. But you don't often hear those folks complain about how hard the football team works. And those kids work very hard. How about the cheerleaders? They are a small and dedicated group, too, who practice until they are exhausted, and represent the school beautifully. I wonder if people complain that their schedule is "too hard." I doubt it. There is absolutely nothing wrong with kids wanting to work hard in order to present something beautiful and well-done. Since when is it wrong to encourage that in our children? Hard work brings wonderful results. That is a lesson we all should learn, and no "bandy" would argue with it. They learn early on that what they put into the experience comes back in multiple ways, and not just in the winning of trophies. In fact, that's the least of the "glory" of band. The experience of doing something well, of being an important and integral part of a great musical group, of relying on one's peers and in turn being relied upon to do well — these are the components for success not just in band, but in life. Kids who are successful in high school music programs are so often successful in their adult lives, on many levels.

Speaking of adults, I have also heard that parents don't want to commit to supporting a child in band because of the work they must offer, in fundraising, picking kids up from late trips, and other responsibilities. It's true that some requests are made of parents, but none of it is all that difficult. In fact, we boosters have a good time together, and are friends. And when all is said and done, our children are with us such a short time. Their childhoods go by in a moment. If we choose to stay uninvolved — to discourage our children from doing anything that might require our assistance — then the people we are depriving of something valuable is ourselves, as parents. Sorry to open up a can of philosophy on you, but it's true. When we look back on our brief years of rearing children, do we want to remember being there for them, encouraging them to try new things, supporting their efforts, or not? Do we want our kids to be glued to the Xbox throughout their teen years, growing large and unhealthy, learning most of all how to defeat the bad guys in Halo, or do we want them to jump into something worthwhile, give of themselves, work hard, and then glean the wonderful benefits of something important? And it doesn't even have to be marching band. Whoops. I've gone so philosophical here, I've veered off the path.

I could go on and on — and have, actually — to encouraged teens and their parents to give marching band a try. Richard Clever, who has led the Southern band for more than 40 years and has done so with excellence, will retire this spring. We will have a new director next summer at Southern, and with that will come new possibilities, of course. In all, it's exciting, and a great time to join. And as for long-lasting benefits, consider the Garrett Community Concert Band — right now, that group has players ranging in age from 14 to 80-plus. Band membership can obviously be a lifelong joy.

Presidential candidate Mike Huckabee has long been a proponent of musical arts. "When I hear people asking how do we fix the education system, I tell them we need to do the opposite of what is happening, cutting budgets by cutting music programs.... Nothing could be stupider than removing the ability for the left and right brains to function," Huckabee said at a National Association for Music Education conference last summer. "Ask CEOs what they are looking for in an employee and they say they need people who understand teamwork, people who are disciplined, people who understand the big picture. You know what they need? They need musicians."

So give it a try, how about? Now is the time.

FOUR FORMS OF PROTECTION!

When you purchase an automobile, what's the first thing you take care of before driving around town? You've got to get insurance, of course. It's no different when you're ready to buy a home, but you have some more options.

First, understand that there are four basic types of insurance, some required, some not. Title insurance protects you in the event that title to the property is found to be in question. You definitely want to purchase title insurance as part of the closing transaction.

Homeowner's insurance provides coverage in cases of theft, damage and liability. Your lender will require this policy, so this is another absolute necessity.

Flood insurance may or may not be required, depending on the location of your new home. The federal government provides this policy to cover replacement value of the home and its contents. Consult with a local real estate agent to determine necessity and restrictions.

Finally, a newer and very popular form of "insurance" is the home warranty, often provided by the seller as "peace of mind" for the buyer. These are often one-year policies that cover repairs to systems and appliances, and more details on this are coming up in my next column. In the meantime, consult with a real estate agent if you have any questions or concerns about any of the insurance policies addressed here.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

posed wind turbines, many concerns expressed about location and impact seem to apply to other development projects in Garrett County, particularly those around Deep Creek Lake

Why was there no outcry when roads were cut and acres of trees removed from Marsh Mountain to allow for unsightly housing across the ridge? Acres of trees have been removed and habitat destroyed for building lots that sit empty, and golf courses and ski slopes that scar the side of the mountain. There was no outcry about the trees removed and habitat destroyed for a water park, that when built will add yet another eyesore to McHenry.

Very few are in favor of the wind turbines. However, it seems ironic that some of those who object are the worst offenders of why alternative energy sources are needed. The excessive waste of energy around the lake by homeowners and businesses can readily be seen at night. The wintertime glow from Marsh Mountain can be seen from as far away as Coopers Rock. Million-dollar homes have industrial mercury or sodium vapor lights, some of which burn dusk to dawn, others 24/7, and far worse, incandescent lights that burn 24/7 regardless of whether or not the buildings are occupied.

Why are there pumps that consume energy at a cost of $400 an hour to push water around a mountaintop, when this area is blessed with rivers that run freely on their own? Why does a boat rental business feel the need have a sign lit at 1 o'clock in the morning after the boats and docks have been pulled and the lake is frozen over? Why does this same business feel the same need to have lighting that advertises its products fully lit at 1 o'clock in the morning, well after business hours?

If the big energy consumers, businesses, and homeowners, which object to the wind turbines in their back yards, would realize that they are part of the problem, then maybe the need for alternative energy sources, such as wind turbines, will go away.

Dee Anderson

To the Editor:

There he goes again! In his latest letter (The Republican, February 14, 2008) Frank Maisano accuses "a loud few in western Maryland" of being "selfish" and using "loose facts" in opposing proposals by the Pennsylvania company he represents to erect intrusive wind turbines along the ridges of Maryland state forests in Garrett County.

Selfish? We who live on the Mountaintop love the Bay. Personally I feel a surge of great civic pride every time I pay my flush tax to save Chesapeake Bay while sending my wastewater down to New Orleans.

Loose facts? Let's look at the record. A few months ago wind proponents were claiming that their proposal was supported by a majority in Garrett County. Funny, I don't hear that argument very often anymore.

Similarly, wind proponents were citing a letter by members of the Western Maryland Delegation as evidence that the latest wind proposal had the political backing of area legislators. But recently, 21 western Maryland delegates and senators sent a letter to DNR Secretary Griffin stating, "The exploitation of western Maryland's pristine forests for private gain must not be permitted." Only two of those members represent Garrett County; I guess the other 19 must have selfish motives of their own.

So, having witnessed the demolition of these earlier arguments, Mr. Maisano's latest revelation is this: "Public lands belong to all Maryland residents." This time he got it exactly right. Actually these public lands are maintained for the benefit of all citizens – including representatives of Pennsylvania wind companies – in their natural state. Whether visitors are hikers, campers, birders, hunters, or lovers of peace and solitude, they come to western Maryland to enjoy the atmosphere and environment of the mountains unimpeded by huge industrial structures.

In a feature story in the Home section of the January 24, 2008, Washington Post a frequent visitor to Meadow Mountain stated, "I couldn't believe it. It's so quiet here at night, you can actually hear birds' wings flapping in the wind." Let's keep it that way – for everyone.

Sincerely,
Bob Lewis

To the Editor:

I find it necessary to respond to the writer of a letter printed in your Feb. 7 issue.

I ran for mayor of Friendsville with the support of my friends, neighbors, and family. I felt, as did many others, that it is a time for change. It is my opinion that special-interest groups are making the agenda for our small town. I feel that the mayor and town council need to review the requests of such groups and citizens to fully understand financial impact to the residents and to the town.

My family moved to Friendsville in 1972. I retired from the Air Force in 1973 after serving for 20 years. For nearly 36 years I have lived at the same address and have tried to be a good citizen and neighbor. I was born in Blandburg, Pa. I met my wife, Carol Jean Fike, a native of Accident, at the Pentagon 50 years ago. We have three children and two terrific granddaughters.

I served in the Air Force with honesty, dignity, and by maintaining high moral standards. I served tours of duty in Korea, Japan, and Germany, plus two tours of duty with the Joint Chiefs of Staff. I transferred to the Secretary of Air Force Office of Information, during which time I was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal and promoted to senior master sergeant.

A few years after retirement, my wife and I opened and operated J&C Offset Printing, which we successfully ran for 20 years.

What have I done for our town? Over nearly 36 years, I have lived in Friendsville as a taxpaying and law-abiding citizen. I have also given much of my time, talents, and financial support to the town civic groups, the local Little League ball team, Friendsville Elementary and Northern High schools. I seek no bragging rights, so what I specifically have done is strictly between me and the groups involved.

I have seen many changes in Friendsville, some good and some bad over the years. Do I think I could have made changes? Yes. Am I capable of being mayor? Yes. My military training and business experience enables me to think

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

Winter has returned to Bittinger. On Monday I saw what looked at first like raindrops, but when I looked out again it was small snowflakes. By Tuesday we had a fresh coating of snow, and we, of course, are having high winds. It was windy enough that it blew my news out of my mother's newspaper box and I had to redo it on Wednesday.

I recently heard that some robins winter over in the milder part of Garrett County, like Sang Run, according to a bird expert, Kevin Dodge. I don't think that they have ventured over to Bittinger as of yet. This morning it has already snowed several more inches, and continues to fly.

My mother's bird feeder is attracting many species of birds. She has a red-headed woodpecker, along with the pair of cardinals, blue jays, doves, and many varieties of the smaller birds. She hasn't been able to get out and refill the feeders, but there must be a small amount in them, as they are still pecking around. Sheila Southerly was good enough to spend the afternoon Tuesday taking her to the doctor. She is able to put some weight on it (her broken leg) slowly and should be good as new in a few weeks.

Lea Stanton Pochet of New Mexico visited in Bittinger and visited her in-laws in Pennsylvania. She had her little son Blake with her and will stay with Ferne when Sally and Lenny go to North Carolina to see Torrey play in a baseball game. Torrey will also be one of our youth from Bittinger who will graduate from college this spring.

I enjoyed a weekend visit from Claire and Caitlin, but they were pretty busy with work at Pine Lodge Steakhouse. In fact, my Meredith recently started there as a hostess.

Caitlin and friend had an enjoyable camping trip, even if it was pretty cold. The highlight of the trip was watching a beautiful sunset around a campfire.

Darryl, Elliott, and Robbie Glotfelty, and Scott and Matthew Bass were also home from college this weekend and were involved in working at Brenda's Pizzeria and practicing for their upcoming show in Towson this coming Friday night.

I once again think of the hard job of driving a school bus, as I saw a news story about a fatal school bus accident in the Midwest, and thought about our expected additional snowfall. Although I drove a very big truck loaded with expensive show horses, it was not in the winter. The route that Wanda Wassell drives to school is very hazardous, including the slope between Meadow Mountain between Brenneman Grove and the new bridge at the bottom of the hill. Every year someone slides off the road. I always shift to low gear and creep down that road. She also has a long downhill slope on the north side of Negro Mountain on the Accident-Bittinger Road, and there are also lots of white-out spots. My hat goes off to Wanda and the many other drivers of our buses. Driving a bus with children, especially in bad conditions, takes a special kind of person.

Winter can't end too soon for me. Driving and getting across my deck to reach my car are equally dangerous. Now I am faced with getting this second writing up to my mother's for her to type. However, thanks to Marci for coming and picking it up and taking it up to her. This is the shortest column ever, but as I said, the first one blew away.

DONATIONS BEING SOUGHT TO SUPPORT SPAY/NEUTER MONTH – The Garrett County Humane Society will sponsor Spay/Neuter Month in March, as it has for the last seven years. Each year donations are requested from businesses and individuals who want to take part in this "life-saving" event. "Since having a pet spayed or neutered stops an animal from reproducing, that directly stops the numbers of unwanted animals from being brought into our county animal shelter," said Lisa Baker, Humane Society president. "Even though there are many ways to 'advertise' what animals are available at the shelter, some weeks only one or two animals are adopted or reclaimed. If a litter of six to eight puppies or kittens comes in, it is impossible to get them adopted out quickly. And since there are only 12 dog kennels there, the shelter can fill up quickly." The Humane Society will be distributing $50 discount voucher to help local residents get their pets spayed or neutered. "We are so thankful for all the persons who support what we do. Without these spay/neuter vouchers, hundreds and hundreds more animals would be homeless and eventually euthanized just because there are so many. We have given out hundreds of vouchers each year and want to continue this important event." Persons who would like to contribute may send their donations to GCHS, 1124 Mary Drive, Oakland, MD 21550. Donor names will be printed on the vouchers. The voucher distribution dates will be announced in next week's paper. For more information, persons may call 301-387-4425. Pictured are nine puppies that were brought to the shelter this year. "Since a lot of people come in looking for a small breed dog or buy a puppy from a pet store, it is difficult to get all the puppies from one litter adopted quickly before they get sick or grow so big that they are not as desirable as a smaller puppy," Baker said.

Potomac Council To Celebrate 98th Year Of Scouting

The Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America will celebrate the 98th anniversary of Scouting in the United States with its annual Scout Show at the Country Club Mall on Saturday, Feb. 23, in LaVale.

Grantsville Pack 49, sponsored by Bethesda Church of the Brethren, and Oakland Pack 70, sponsored by St. Peter's Parish will participate in the event.

This Scout Show will be the 23rd consecutive one sponsored by the mall. The theme this year is "Are You Tough Enough?"

"We are making a challenge to those youth who are not involved in the program," said a council spokesperson. "Are you tough enough to camp in zero degree weather, canoe down the Potomac, hike the entire C&O Canal, or step away from your Wii, Xbox 360, and Playstation?"

There will be at least 20 live-action displays involving more than 350 youth from Allegany, Garrett, Mineral, Hampshire, Grant, and Hardy counties.

The display will be set up to involve visiting youth and their families in the variety of programs available in Scouting for all age groups, including the pinewood derby, survivor skills, games, fitness, skee ball/sportsmanship, camping, miniature golf, rope making, first aid, and pioneering towers and bridges.

The Potomac Council is a participating agency of the County United Way.

the mountain and spends the entire morning skiing. The skiers focus not only on the events they'll participate in at the games – downhill and slalom races – but also on other resort necessities like riding a ski lift, safety awareness, and of course, how to stay warm. They then grab a quick bite to eat and head back to Delaware, always arriving after dark.

The Nordic ski team trains at Brandywine Creek State Park, in the northernmost part of the state. Without snow, practices are spent focusing on technique, including the often overlooked skill of how to get up after you fall. A routine hike around the park at the beginning of each practice builds the necessary endurance for the longer events in which they'll participate, such as the 1-k, 3-k, and relay races.

On the few weekends when there is a light dusting of snow, which has been very rare the past few winters in Delaware, Nordic practices are longer and sometimes more often, much to the delight of the athletes and coaching staff

"We practice the fundamentals, we drill constantly, and the athletes ski their individual races endlessly," said head coach Mike Gunton. "When we find a patch of snow, we practice sliding downhill on it until the snow is completely worn away.

"I am very proud of our skiers, for every one of them can ski well, with and without snow," he added.

"It is always very obvious during the competition that, although we don't have much snow in Delaware, our skiers are well-trained and prepared for any type of elements they will face on Wisp Mountain," said Mark Wise, director of training for Special Olympics Delaware. "This is a real credit to the coaching staff."

There will be hundreds of medals awarded throughout the competition. However, in keeping with Special Olympics tradition, it's not just the number of medals that will decide the success of the trip.

"I'll consider the trip a success and be happy if everyone does the best that he or she can, without any injuries," said Scrafford, before boarding the bus for the final training session of the season. "We have trained hard and the athletes are ready for the games. Of course, they all want to win medals, and I'm sure we'll take our share."

Ann Grunert, Special Olympics Delaware executive director, says that Delaware "owes a huge thanks" to Special Olympics Maryland.

"A few years ago we approached them about allowing our athletes to come compete in their games at the last minute," she said. "They not only enabled us to have a place to compete that year, but the staff and volunteers of Special Olympics Maryland, and the entire Wisp Mountain community, have made us feel like part of their family ever since. For that we are greatly appreciative."

At the Special Olympics Maryland Games, both teams will be part of an elaborate opening ceremony Sunday night, participate in time trials on Monday morning, and then compete through the end of the day Tuesday.

In the late afternoon Tuesday, both teams will join Maryland athletes and participate in the closing ceremonies before boarding the bus for the long drive back to Delaware.

It will be the end of a very long ski season, but the medals won and memories made will make the long trek home go by quickly (that and most everyone will be sound asleep for the entire ride).

Nat'l FFA Week Recognized By Local Members

FFA chapters at both Northern and Southern high schools are celebrating National FFA Week this week (Feb. 16 to 23) with various activities.

The theme this year was "Blue Jackets, Bright Futures." A spokesperson noted that the theme "embodies all the best about FFA members, from the most recognizable symbol of the organization, the blue corduroy jacket, a symbol of pride and tradition, to the bright future of agriculture and the traditions of leadership and hard work."

More than half a million members around the nation are participating in National FFA Week activities at the local and state levels.

Activities in the county included making cookies available to teachers in the lounge, a display in the front lobby, and members wearing their blue jackets to school.

The Future Farmers of America began in 1928. Today, the National FFA organization reaches out to all 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. FFA is committed to developing character and leadership skills and preparing members for a lifetime of civic leadership and career success.

Thank you for your concern about my background and qualifications. I was going to keep this low-key, but I couldn't resist this opportunity to set my record straight. I hope this answers your questions.

To the Editor:

Here they go again! For years, the county commissioners, whenever they don't want to do something, have trotted out the specter of countywide zoning in an attempt to scare people into believing they would somehow suffer from the jackboot of a heartless zoning bureaucracy. In this instance, the commissioners have said they can't apply surgical measures to protect the county and its citizens from industrial wind machines constructed by limited liability companies because they have no authority without a countywide zoning ordinance. They claim to be so impotent they can't even impose a moratorium on wind development, unless that moratorium precludes all other development.

We'll see. Clearly it's time to seek independent expert legal advice about what county government can and cannot do to restrain incompatible development, particularly development that threatens property values and quality of life. For a county that taxes the income of its residents and all property, that regulates the speeds vehicles may traverse county roads, that wisely imposes countywide regulation restricting the behaviors of those who own dogs and cats, and that reasonably restricts – countywide – those who make disturbing late-night noise, it seems more than strange that Garrett cannot also regulate the height of industrial equipment, without resorting to the overkill of countywide zoning. Why do the commissioners need an elephant gun to kill a flea?

Even if everyone agrees countywide zoning is a good idea, the commissioners know such a process would take a year or two to enact, during which wind developers would already have a substantial beachhead here. Keep in mind most of the commissioners live in protected communities, which limit what they can do with their own property, but which also limit what their neighbors can do with theirs. They live secure in the knowledge that some jackass is not going to build a racetrack in the middle of their residential neighborhoods or build a casino along Town Square.

All laws are written not for the majority who respect the community consensus about what is right and proper, but rather for those few who would, for whatever reason – personal gain, settling an old score, just plain contrariness – violate it. Just as we should not allow a few rotten apples to spoil the entire barrel, we should not permit a few property owners to ruin this county and our quality of life. The commissioners should be challenged not to avoid their responsibilities, but to uphold them.

To the Editor:

Almost everyone in the country has learned about football great Terry Bradshaw's ordeal with major depression. It's good that someone with his stature has had the courage to talk to the media in an effort to dispel some of the outrageous misinformation that's been plaguing its victims.

Other depression victims like Sir Winston Churchill complained about the perplexing "black dog," which is what he called the same bipolar depression that I must occasionally muddle my way through somehow. Air Force colonel and lunar astronaut Buzz Aldrin, shortly after returning to Earth, wasn't ashamed to disclose the fact that he had come down with depression.

Depression and bipolar disorder in men take on a whole different meaning to those who are stricken with them. The mindset of many men that begin experiencing symptoms of a depression or bipolar disorder tells them if they ask for help that it may be construed as a weakness. Some also may feel embarrassed to be seen in a mental health clinic or psychiatrist's office. Therefore, they say, " I can handle this," and put off treatment until a crisis erupts. Denial is the first obstacle to overcome on the road to the treatment of mental illness, and the fear of stigma hampers ongoing care.

Men in particular may find it difficult to admit depressive symptoms and ask for help. Many men's first drug of choice in their attempt to control depression symptoms on their own is alcohol. Most men can't experience the "sadness" of depression in the same way women do. They quite often will turn sadness into anger or irritability, which, along with alcohol, can be a very volatile combination. This is especially true of teenagers and young adults.

However, it's important to remember that depression is a real illness and nothing to be ashamed of An estimated six million men in the United States have a depressive disorder. Depression is highly treatable with medications and/or psychotherapy administered by a trained mental health professional. Actually, four times as many men commit suicide as women, although women attempt it more than men. Depression, of course, is linked to suicidal behavior.

A variety of effective treatments, including medications and psychotherapy, are available. If you are feeling depressed contact your family doctor, a psychiatrist, psychologist, social worker, or employee assistance counselor. Asking for help takes courage, but can make all the difference.

ROBERT P. JACKSON

Robert P. Jackson, 77, Westernport, died on Thursday, Feb. 14, 2008, at Moran Manor Nursing Home, Westernport.

Born on July 30, 1930, in Westernport, he was a son of the late Frank F. Jackson and Nannie (Gannon) Jackson. He was also preceded in death by two brothers, Henry and Johnny Jackson.

He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport. He was retired from the Allegany County Board of Education as a chemistry, biology and earth science teacher at Valley High School. He was awarded Teacher of the Year in 1968-69, 1977-78, and 1984-85.

He graduated from St. Peter's High School in 1949 and graduated from Potomac State College and West Virginia University. He taught at Havre De Grace for two years and Southern High School, Oakland, for four years. He was a member of the Maryland Retired Teachers Association, the Ogleby Institute of Wheeling, W.Va., the Ogleby Nature Camps of Terra Alta, W.Va., and the National Geographic Society.

He served in the U.S. Army from 1953 to 1955. He was a life member of Kelly-Mansfield Post 52 American Legion in Piedmont, W.Va. and the SAL (Sons of the American Legion) Post 155, Westernport. He was also a member of the Archeological Society of Maryland, Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge 662, Keyser, W.Va., Nature Conservancy, Nature History Society, St. Peter's Alumni, and Valley Alumni. He was a park naturalist in the summers at Deep Creek Lake State Park, Herrington Manor, and New Germany State Park.

He is survived by his wife of 50 years, Betty L. (Bateson) Jackson; two sons, Tim Jackson, Westernport, and Chris Jackson, Hollidaysburg, Pa.; two daughters, Ann Jackson, Mtn. Lake Park, and Rita Cuthbertson, Keyser; two brothers, Dr. Thomas Jackson, Wooster, Ohio, and Charlie Jackson, Oakland; one sister, Gertrude Tysinger, Keyser; seven grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

Friends were received at the Fredlock Funeral Home, Piedmont, W.Va., where a Christian Wake service was held.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at St. Peter's Catholic Church on Monday, Feb. 18, with Fr. Jim Hannon as celebrant.

Interment followed at St. Peter's Cemetery, where military rites were provided by local veterans' organizations.

Memorials donations may be directed to St. Peter's Catholic Church, 127 Church St., Westernport, MD 21562, for the bell tower/roof fund.

ELOISE MYERS

Eloise Myers, 97, passed away on Thursday, Feb. 21, 2008, at the Asbury Methodist Home, Gaithersburg.

Born in Grafton, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Minnie (Wilhide) and Vaughn Kerr. She was also preceded in death by her husband, William T. Myeres.

Friends will be received at the Newman Funeral Home, Accident/McHenry, from 4 to 6 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 24, where a funeral service will be held on Monday at 11 a.m.

Editor's Note: A full obituary and photograph for Mrs. Myers will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

REV. ERNEST G. LINDNER

Rev. Ernest G. Lindner, 70, Greenwood, Ind., died Sunday, Feb. 17, 2008, in St. Francis Hospital, South Campus, Indianapolis, Ind.

Born April 5, 1937, in Brooklyn, N.Y., he was the son of the late Ernest C. and Elizabeth H. Lindner.

Rev. Lindner was reared in Brooklyn, and graduated from Brooklyn College in 1958, and from Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill., in 1962. He served congregations in South Dakota, New Jersey, Virginia, New York, Texas, and from 1986 to 1995, he served St. John's "the Cove" in Accident. He retired in August of 2002.

He was active in the community. During his time in Accident, he was a member of the Accident Historical Society. He worked on the renovation of the Drane House, and he was member of the Ruth Enlow Library board and the Town View Village board. He was a substitute teacher in the Northern Garrett County high and middle schools.

He is survived by his wife Carolyn R. (Scholz) Lindner, whom he married on Aug. 8, 1971; and one son, Karl E. Lindner, born on Feb. 27, 1974.

Friends will be received at St. John's Lutheran Church from 10 to 11 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 23, where a graveside service will be held in the cemetery at 11 a.m., with the Rev. James Oester officiating.

VIRGINIA L. WATRING

Virginia Lee Watring, 88, Mtn. Lake Park, died Friday, Feb. 15, 2008, at Oakland Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, Oakland.

Born May 1, 1919, in Canaan Valley, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Robert and Laura V. (Day) Davis. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Delmar M. Watring, one stepson, Bill Watring; one stepdaughter, Carol Newsom; four sisters; and one brother.

She is survived by one son, Wickey Myers and wife Patty, Aurora, W.Va.; two daughters, Jacqueline C. Kenner and husband Kenneth, Mtn. Lake Park, and Patricia Ann Schaeffer and husband Bill, Sebring, Fla.; one stepson, Milton Watring, Tenn.; three stepdaughters, Alice Stewart, San Andrea, Calif., Jane DeRock, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Beverly Knotts, Fla.; five grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service was held in the chapel on Monday, Feb. 18, with the Rev. Joe Robinette officiating.

Interment followed in the Flanagan Hill Cemetery, Red Creek, W.Va.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Humane Society or the American Cancer Society.

Online condolences may be sent to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com.

VELMA B. SCHENK

Velma B. Schenk, 85, Bethany Beach, Del., passed away on Monday Feb. 18, 2008, surrounded by her family.

She and her husband, Dwight, had been married for 68 years before his recent passing on Feb. 7.

She worked as a dental assistant for Dr. Walter in Aberdeen for many years before retiring in the early '70s. Velma and Dwight then traveled extensively throughout Central and North America. They also owned and operated Lake Forest Campground at Deep Creek Lake for 20 years.

She is survived by her four daughters, Carole Lindes and Donna Wade, both of Bethany Beach, Ellie Garrison, Aberdeen, and Vickie Frazier, Ocean City; nine grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Elinore Browning, Bethany Beach, and Norma Bolding, Oakland.

A memorial service for Velma and Dwight is being planned to be held at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland.

Throughout her life, Velma enjoyed the companionship of her many pets and always became a trusted friend to any lucky stray animal that happened upon her doorstep. With that in mind, the family suggests that donations in her memory be made to the Worcester County Humane Society, P.O. Box 48, Berlin, MD 21811.

Arrangements are being made by Melson Funeral Services, Ocean View, Del.

Adorable Adoptables

PICKED UP AS A STRAY NEAR DEER PARK recently was this Pekinese mix, above left. He is currently housed at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. "Please call the shelter to claim your dog," said a shelter spokesperson. Still available for adoption is a blue heeler mix, center. "She is very energetic, but sweet!" said the spokesperson. "She has been at the shelter for weeks, waiting for a loving home. A gray/white cat is also looking for you to come and meet him. These and other pets are available for adoption. The shelter has had many calls about animal neglect, particularly about inadequate shelter. If your dog is outside, it must have a doghouse with bedding (straw). You must also provide fresh water daily for all your outside pets." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553.

Storytime Now Available On REL Web Site

The Ruth Enlow Library is making Storytime available online. Children's stories read by staff members will be added periodically to the media section of REL web site.

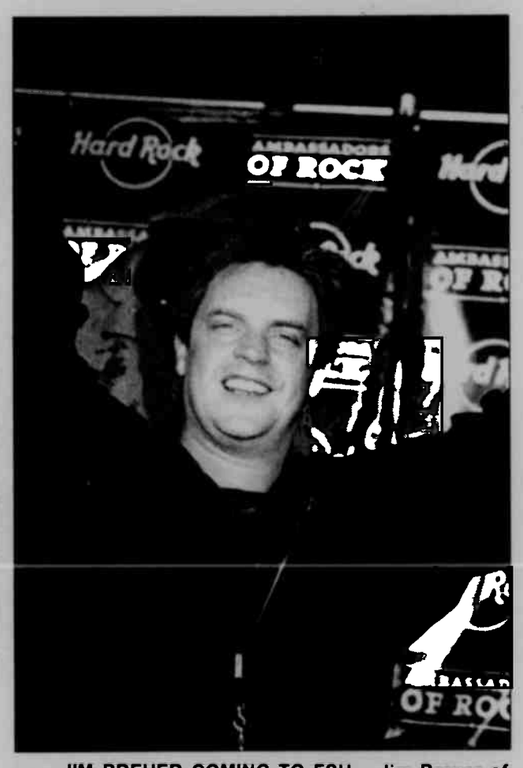
Featured this week is A Frog Thing by Eric Drachman and read by Dorene Rogers. To access the story, young library patrons can click on the online Storytime line at www.relib.net and click the "Audio MP3" button.

"The download time for the file is dependent upon the speed of your Internet connection," said a library spokesperson.

For information about programs and services at the Ruth Enlow Library, persons can visit online or call 301-334-3996.

Backbone Mtn. Review Journal Now Available

Free copies of the 2008 edition of Backbone Mountain Review, a literary journal featuring western Maryland writers, are currently available to the public through the Garrett County Arts Council Gallery in Oakland and at all branches of the Ruth Enlow Library.



The 2008 journal features poetry and fiction with complementary photography by Wini Minerd of Cumberland. Melodee Hill of Oakland, one of six journal editors, wrote the introduction.

The Backbone Mountain Review was initiated in the spring of 2006 as a collaborative project between the Garrett County Arts Council and the Allegany Arts Council, with support from the Center for Creative Writing at Frostburg State University. Manuscript submissions are reviewed each year by a six-person editorial board, with three editors serving on the board from each county.

The public is invited to a reading and reception for journal authors on Feb. 27 at Main Street Books in Frostburg, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

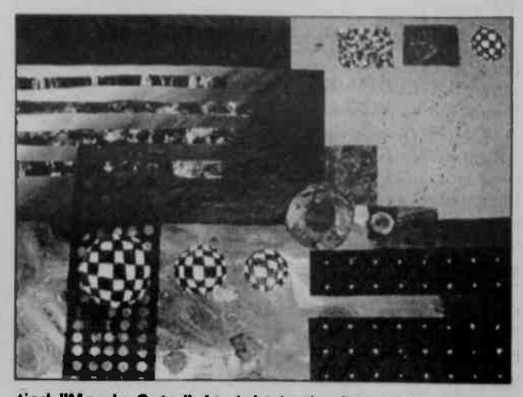
Funding support for this year's edition was made possible by grants and contributions from the Maryland State Arts Council, NewPage Corporation, First United Bank and Trust, and the Allegany/Garrett Community Foundation. Additional funding was provided by the Garrett County Arts Council and Allegany Arts Council.

Additional information is available by contacting the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580 or the Allegany Arts Council at 301-777-2787.

JIM BREUER COMING TO FSU – Jim Breuer of Saturday Night Live (SNL) fame is coming to Frostburg State University Saturday, April 26. The show is to begin at 8 p.m. Breuer has established himself as "one of the most outrageous comedians in the United States through his stand-up performances, stage antics, and impressions," a spokesperson said. The comedian is known for his SNL "Goat Boy" skit and his impression of actor Joe Pescl. Tickets are $10 for FSU students and $20 for general admission, and are available for purchase at the Lane University Center Box Office. All seating is general admission. For more information, persons may call the Lane University Center at 301-687-4411.

Youth Art Show Winners Named By Civic Club

The GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, in conjunction with the Garrett County Arts Council, sponsored its annual youth art show in January at the Gallery on Alder Street. The winners of the show have been announced.



Art by area young people was accepted in three classes: Class 1 was from students in grades 6 to 8; Class 2 included "computer art" and other forms of artistic expression from students in grades 9 to 12.

This year's first place winner in Class 1 was Bethany Moorehead, an 8th grader at Bloomington School. Her piece was titled "Post Impressionism."

The first place winner in Class 2, computer art, was Devynn Brant. Devynn is a 12th grader at Southern High School. The title of his piece was "Mom's Cats."

The first place winner in Class 2 was Carey Rush, a 12th grader at Southern High School. Her artwork was titled "Random Collage."

Local Author Has Children's Book Published

Theresa Helbig-Miller, a resident of Grantsville, recently had her children's book, Benny the Raccoon, published by PublishAmerica, who has announced the scheduled release of the book as April 7.

"The story tells of a beloved family pet that acts very much like a real person," explains Miller. "Readers will get to know this special animal that so briefly shares a family's home and makes unforgettable memories that will last a lifetime."

Miller is employed by the Garrett County government as administrative coordinator for the Roads Department. She holds an associate's degree in business management and office technology from Garrett College, McHenry. She will graduate this summer with a bachelor's degree in business administration with human resources concentration from Frostburg State University.

Helbig-Miller is the daughter of Richard "Butch" and Carolyn Helbig, Oakland. She and her husband Wayne have been married since 1993 and have a daughter, Makayla (pictured above with her).

Helbig-Miller can be contacted at 301-616-0910 or by e-mail at tmwmiller3 @yahoo.com. Benny the Raccoon can also be ordered through www.publishamerica.com. At the actual time of release, the publication will be available in most major bookstores.

SHARP TEETH
by Toby Barlow
c. 2008, Knopf, $22.95, 320 pages
Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Dog lovers are a special breed of people.

We spoil our canines, and give them designer collars, gourmet foods, and boutique-bought toys. We carry our pups in quilted bags, or give them their own spot in the car. They're primped, meticulously groomed, and dressed in tiny clothes.

Why not, we reason. Our dogs are practically like little people.

In the new novel Sharp Teeth by Toby Barlow, you're not far from the truth. But these critters aren't your grandma's lapdogs. These dogs are people who can change at will, and their bites are much, much worse than their barks.

On his first day as dogcatcher, Anthony learned that the work was nasty and the co-workers, nastier. It really wasn't the job he wanted, but when times are tight, a man will take anything. The only thing that makes it all bearable is the woman Anthony met while on the job.

She walked into the pound looking for a job for her "brother" and whispered an invitation for Anthony to meet her at a bar. He took her home that night and she stayed, but even though Anthony loves her very much, he doesn't know everything about her.

Once, she was the woman who held her pack together. Chosen by the leader, Lark, she kept the others in line, part den-mother, part littermate. Months before, Lark found her on the streets, alone, bruised, the victim of abuse, and he showed her the way to turn. That was long before the pack fell apart, some taken in by different groups, some killed by dogcatchers.

But now, as much as she wants a life with Anthony, she can't ignore the war that's simmering quietly in downtown Los Angeles. Another, more vicious, pack is vowing revenge. They're destroying drug dens, killing old enemies, and turning street people, the downtrodden, the troubled into lycanthropes like them. Dog pounds are overflowing with curs that aren't quite canine. Newly-adopted dogs all over the valley are sitting in backyards, in living rooms, in bedrooms, just waiting for a signal.

And in the office of Detective Peabody, a voice whispers into the phone. "Watch the dogs," the thin voice says. "Find the girl and watch the dogs."

It's not the skin-crawling malice in the story that makes this book so great. It's not the wait-'til-you-get-to-the-ending ending that makes it readable. You'll look at your beloved pet in a different way, but that's not what makes Sharp Teeth compelling. What makes this book fascinating is that it's so lyrical. Written in free-verse form like a poem, the lines are almost romantically horrific, like beautiful words loaded with malice. It's as if you almost expect to hear it read aloud at a Poetry Slam for Subversives.

Fans of Stephen King, Chuck Palahniuk, and Christopher Moore, take note: If your favorite writers aren't publishing books fast enough, give this debut novel a try. Author Toby Barlow is someone you'll want to hear from again because Sharp Teeth is "the howl of a new dawg in the literary pound."

YONKE'S WORK FEATURED NATIONALLY – The International Bluegrass Music Association (IBMA) is using a watercolor painting by local artist Robert H. Yonke, Swanton, as the central graphic element for promotion of its World of Bluegrass Spectacular, scheduled for Sept. 29 through Oct. 5 in Nashville, Tenn. The World of Bluegrass is the bluegrass music Industry's key annual gathering and includes the International Bluegrass Music Awards Show at the Grand Ole Opry Hotel. Yonke was commissioned last year by the IBMA to provide art for the 2008 event. The painting will be the graphic foundation for a poster, program, and related items. More of Yonke's art relating to bluegrass music can be viewed online at www.appalachianstudio.com. Yonke, a member of the Garrett County Arts Council and Participating Artists of the Turkeyfoot Highlands (PATH), maintains a studio In Garrett County and his work can be seen locally in several stores and galleries.

bond rating firms, the Planning Commission, and the Board of Appeals.

"Garrett County has experienced many changes since its last Comprehensive Plan was prepared in 1995, especially the rapid residential and commercial growth in and around Deep Creek Lake," said a Planning Commission spokesperson. "These changes have brought the county many opportunities but also many challenges. The new plan will look forward and establish new policies to guide the county through the year 2030 in areas including growth, development, rural preservation, transportation, and protection of environmentally sensitive areas."

A master plan for the Deep Creek Watershed Area is to be a major component of the new Comprehensive Plan, he added.

Chapter 6, 7, 8, 10, and 11 of the draft plan are currently available on the county's web site. Chapters 5 and 9 will be available beginning tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 22, and paper copies will be available in the Garrett County Department of Planning and Land Development office at the courthouse.

Interested parties may go to the county web site at garrettcounty.org and click on Chapters 6, 7, 8, 10, and 11 of the proposed Comprehensive Plan under "Events" on the county's homepage. Chapters 5 and 9 will be added to the same link by Feb. 22.

Further information may be obtained from the planning office at 301-334-1920.

CLOGGERS TO OFFER BEGINNERS' CLASS – A new beginners' class for the Still Kickin' Cloggers will start Thursday evening, March 6, at the Southern Middle School cafeteria. Classes are held each Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Any person curious about learning clogging may visit a class ahead of time. There is a nominal fee due each week of attendance. For more information, persons may call Judy Simpson, the class teacher, at 301-334-3853.

allowing it to borrow up to $1.5 million for an economic development project.

The Senate Budget and Taxation Committee has not yet scheduled a hearing for the bond bill's companion, SB 754, introduced by Edwards.

Hearings for other bills introduced by Beitzel and Edwards include the following:

•HB 148 – "Tobacco Distribution to Minors" will be heard by the Economic Matters Committee on Monday, Feb. 25, at 2:30 p.m.

The proposed legislation would prohibit the distribution of certain tobacco products, cigarette rolling papers, and tobacco related coupons to minors in Garrett County. It would also outline new civil penalties for those who sell the products to minors.

•SB 223 – "Partnership Rental Housing Program Ownership of Rental Housing" will be heard by the Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee on Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 1 p.m.

The bill would add certified housing development organizations to the list of entities that may own rental housing that is financed by the Partnership Rental Housing Program of the Department of Housing and Community Development. The purpose is to help provide housing for lower income residents.

•SB 260 – "Garrett County Agriculture Districts" will be heard by the Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 1 p.m.

This proposed legislation would enable the Garrett County commissioners to establish agricultural districts, and it outlines rules, regulations, and procedures of establishing those districts.

Persons wishing to testify on any bill must sign the witness register by 12:40 p.m. Those with written testimony are asked to submit 20 copies to the pertinent committee staff by noon for distribution prior to the hearing.

Beitzel may be contacted in Annapolis at 1-800-494-7122, ext. 3435. Edwards may be reached at that same number, ext. 3565.

'09 Budget

Teets explained that the need for additional funding for transportation lies in the necessity to further support the transferring of students to and from school, with gas prices continually rising. An additional $152,325 is being requested.

Employee three-year contracts were negotiated in 2006, with 2009 being the third and final year of those contracts. The additional funds required to meet that commitment total $1,856,675.

Teets is budgeting for an expected 10% increase in health insurance premiums. Funds needed to implement this increase total approximately $717,732, but the actual funding will be determined after the bid process has been completed.
